TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Tan cabmen of Liverpool are on a strike.

The internal revenue receipts during January amounted to $14,918,847.

Severe famine prevails at Tangiers and Tetuan in Morocco.

Several buildings in Dayton, Ohio, were burned yesterday. Loss, $20,000.

The North Carolina Convention spent Saturday in debating the political disabilities.

Many lawsuits are expected to result from the act passed by the Tennessee Legislature allowing negroes to hold office in that State.

Governor Fletcher is about to seize the Missouri Pacific Railroad in the name of the State.

Arizona advices say that the Indians attacked Beale Springs Station and Camp Williams, and shot or carried off all the stock.

The Pasha of Egypt, at the request of Lord Stanley, has withdrawn the auxiliary corps which he sent to join the Abyssinian expedition.

The employes of the Memphis, Clarksville and Louisiana Railroad have struck on account of the non-payment of their wages.

St. Xavier's Seminary, located near Latrobe, in Westmoreland, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday.

The Arkansas Convention has passed a resolution disfranchising all who oppose reconstruction and the adoption of the new constitution.

The Georgia Convention has adopted the resolution asking Congress to appropriate thirty million of dollars as a loan to the Southern planters.

Three children were burned, one fatally, by the explosion of an oil lamp, near Norwich, Connecticut, on Friday night. The others are not expected to recover.

In the Missouri House of Representatives a bill to abolish capital punishment, and substitute imprisonment for life in the penitentiary, has been introduced.

General Canby, in compliance with the request of the Louisiana Convention, has issued an order staying for three months executions on real and personal property.

The betrothal of the Crown Prince Humbert of Italy to the Princess Margherita of Genoa, was announced in the Italian Parliament on Saturday.

It is reported in Paris that the government is likely to withdraw the new bill for the regulation of the press, on account of the opposition shown by the Liberal party.

In the Virginia Convention on Saturday, an ordinance was adopted levying a poll tax of one dollar for the schools, and laws were passed for the purposes.

Instead of marching in procession on St. Patrick's day, the Boston Fenian circles have resolved to work during the day, and devote the earnings toward purchasing rifles and ammunition.

In the Florida Convention, on Friday, resolutions were offered making provision in the Convention ineligible to State offices for ten years, and asking Congress to remove the cotton tax. The Convention is represented as inharmonious.

The clergy of Kilburney, in Ireland, who refused to say masses for the souls of Allen, Larkin and Goulah, have received from their parishioners, who refuse to contribute to their support or that of the Church.

In the Louisiana Convention, on Saturday, an ordinance was debated, providing that sheriffs-mortgage repositories and clerks will income exceeding $10,000, shall devote the excess over that amount to the poor.

A fire at Champion, Illinois, on the night of January 30th, destroyed property valued at one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, covered by insurance in Illinois companies, except four thousand dollars in the Firm. of Hartford.

Judson Walcott was sentenced on Saturday, at Wilkesbarre, on three indictments, to three, ten years and three months' imprisonment, with orders that at the expiration of that time he be returned to his former sentence under eight other indictments.

The King of Hanover and the Duke of Nassau have been granted large indemnities by the German Diet. Saxe Meiningen, who was expressed among the members, but Bismarck threatened to dissolve Parliament unless they passed the bill, and the threat had the desired effect.

The Courrier Français, of Paris, has a story that Admiral Farragut, in conference at Naples in designed as a counterpoise to the French forces in Rome, and to encourage the Italian Liberals. It also states that the Admiral has sent to Caprera the promise of his squadron.

James Gibson was arrested in St. Louis, on Saturday, for the robbery of Mr. O'Meara, the gentleman who had his pocket-book stolen the night he arrived in the city. About $5,000 of O'Meara's notes were found on him, but the money and other drafts have not been recovered.

Two room of Major Linton, United States Revenue Agent in Philadelphia, at the Monongahela Hotel, Pittsburgh, was entered Saturday morning, and an attack made upon him by two men. He being an important witness in the Lowenstein whisky cases, it is inferred that the attack was made to prevent his evidence being given.

Captain Long publishes in the Honolulu Advertiser a full account of his discovery of the polar continent, and recommends that a steamer be sent to coast along the Japan, as the country sets out from the land, leaving a wide belt of smooth water ten miles or more in the position where Captain Wrangell discovered the open polar sea.

Benefits in relation to State offices and the judiciary have been made in the Mississippi Convention. Provision is made for a Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, and other officers, to be elected for a term of four years. The Judges are to be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate.

The drawing of wheat has been known as the "South Mill and Farm-Association," a lottery scheme after the plan of the Crosby Opera House, took place at the Mercantile Library Hall, St. Louis, on Saturday night. The mill and ten acres of land, valued at $25,000, were drawn by Abner McCoy, master of market houses of that city, and the farm, valued at $18,000, was drawn by Wm. Veach, a huckster in the Broadway market. Both the lucky individuals are quite poor men.

South America advices, by way of London, report that the Bahadistas of Corrientes, Banda, a large town on the Parana river, in the Argentine Republic, have rebelled against President Mitre and declared for General Urquiza, formerly Chief Executive or dictator of the Confederation. The cholera has subsided to a great degree in Buenos Ayres, but prevails to an alarming extent in the Allied army on the Paraguay. There has been no fighting since the departure of the last mails.

CITY BULLETIN.

The Girls' High and Normal School.—The semi-annual exhibition of the Girls' High and Normal School took place on Saturday evening, at the Musical Fund Hall, in the presence of one of the largest and most fashionable audiences ever gathered in the hall. The stage was occupied by the graduating class and other pupils of the high school, all dressed in a tasty and becoming manner. The president and members of the Board of School Controllers and invited guests occupied seats immediately in front of the platform. Mr. George W. Fetter, principal of the school, called the audience to order at 8 o'clock, and introduced Dr. B. Maddox, who offered up a prayer, after which the pupils read portions of the Scriptures in an impressive manner, and then gave an anthem—the Lord's Prayer. The musical programme, comprising recitations and music by the pupils, was then gone through with.

Mr. Fetter, the principal, in presenting the diplomas said:

Young Ladies: The period has again arrived, when the ties, strengthened by the intercourse of twelve months, between teachers and pupils for three years, are about to be sundered. At parting, if we reflect upon the past, with its pleasant associations and fond recollections, we see all that has made the greatness of the Grecian, Roman and early childhood, the innocent diversions of youth, combined with the graver duties of study and application, which strengthens and stimulates the faculties, the gentle and restraining influences of home, friends and associations which cause the feelings to gush forth in rapturous delight and gratitude. If we consider the present, with its bright and magnificent surroundings, we behold all its offerings of kindness and affection: to-day we are surrounded, with loving friends and those beautiful and fragrant tokens, the memory of which, I trust, will live in our hearts like green spots, watered and nourished by the springs of affection, until the harvest of life comes; and even when the sere and yellow leaf(s) of memory present evidence of having been tinged by the frosts of the autumn of our existence. We contemplate the future, with its pleasant anticipations, which so much upon the mind, and aid so materially in encouraging us, as we go drifting down the rapid current of time to the great ocean of eternity, our thoughts come crowding upon us like a vast avalanche; we look in the distance those bright visions of which we fondly dream, and so often only dream, and which cover the difficulties of life, and give relief to that which would otherwise be gloomy, distract and rob us of much that makes our existence happy.

During the last three years you have been engaged in the amoublime work of self-culture, and while you have been enriching your minds, I trust you have been fully preparing yourselves for a course of great usefulness in the community. I pray you about to enter the busy field of life, as coloborers in works of goodness and human improvement. No doubt you will find the weeds of ignorance and neglect growing there in abundance, and it will be your duty, as you value your happiness here and hereafter, to faithfully hereafter, to uprive the tender plants of virtue, generous and purity, which you may find growing there, and cause them to yield many fold to the glory of "Him who waterth and giveth the increase." Let your light also so shine where you labors draw to a close you can look back upon life through a long vista of noble acts, and nothing to mar the serenity of your last days; and when called to make an exit from life, may the grand balance sheet be largely in your favor; may you be reckoned among the faithful of the "Good Shepherd," as the lambs of the fock.

Most of you design to teach. In accepting this calling, please remember that you are undertaking a work which will make for the great battle of life, and in many cases the future of the rising generation will be more or less influenced by the good or bad impressions made while under your guardianship. Go forth to your sphere of labor, with bright armor, protected by knowledge from the attacks of ignorance, bearing coldness from those are eminently qualified for the great duty before you, and you will not only receive the reward, but a manifold greater one, in the consciousness of having labored faithfully and successfully, and your exertions will ever be held in grateful remembrance by those who have been wisely directed. Labor so that a halo of brightness may surround you here, and hereafter when you receive the crown of the faithful, and a rich inheritance in heaven.

You are about to bid farewell to those with whom you have been associated in the pleasant pursuits, and enter the busy world to act your part in the great drama of life. Permit me to express the fondest hopes and kindest feelings of your past guardians, the Board of Public Schools, and have so kindly surrounded you with all the appliances necessary in your education; of your teachers, who have labored so faithfully with you during the time of your stay, and will ever delight to see you have the school, and