THE SO-CALLED UNION DEMOCRATS.

MR. STABLE:—Now that the elections are over, it is eminently proper that we for the last time remind these unfortunate individuals of the unpleasant and hopeless situation into which the people have landed them. I believe without a single exception in the entire State they have received the same fate.

From Forney down they have been repudiated in such an unmistakable manner as to render their defeat one of the deepest mortification to themselves and disgraceful in no small degree.

This was as much to be expected as it was a merited punishment. Democracy stands alone, erect upon its own foundation. It seeks no outside principles to strengthen it, neither will it lend its good name for the purpose of escorting unscrupulous politicians into the ranks of its enemies.

Its true friends will not permit this to take place more than once, and woe be to that man politically who tries the experiment the second time.

Like all traitors to their party, the seal of condemnation is upon them. They are cast out, repudiated by the people, emphatically, actually, terribly, positively, gloriously, shamefully, nicely and rightfully defeated.

We leave them thus, to reflect upon the history of their past conduct in political affairs, and if they can muster up a single crumb of consolation we are satisfied, but for my part I do not envy their situation.

Let the fate of these Democrats with handles to their names be a warning to others. Let it be remembered that the old Democracy cannot be crushed out! It may be overwhelmed for a time, but it only gives way to break forth again with increased power, that its doctrines may convince and convict.

It has the power to reward its devoted friends, as it has to punish its enemies.

DEMOCRAT.

EX-MAYOR WOOD.

In a speech in New York, on the night of the election, Hon. Fernando Wood, member-of-Congress elect, said:

Since the election of 1802, when Thomas Jefferson was elected President of the United States, there have been no such important consequences as will result from this election. It settles the great question whether this country is to be left in the hands of Republican leaders, or whether, through the action of the Democratic party, the Union and happiness of our beloved land is to be restored. It means that this Union is to be restored only by a conservative constitutional course. It means to condemn this administration for swerving from the Constitution. It means that the party in power is fanatical, imbecile and corrupt. It means that if we are to prosecute this war, we are to carry the olive branch in one hand, while we carry the sword in the other. Therefore it is that I say that no election since 1802 has been so important in its results as this.

In conclusion, he said he was not disposed to boast over his fallen foe. Two years ago the people elected Mr. Lincoln President in a constitutional manner. The rebellion immediately followed. We had now fought this battle for eighteen months, and had seen our best blood perish by the criminal errors of those in power. We had decided to day that they had abused the power. As he had said in a former speech, we want a change of measures of a change of men. We will have such a change of policy, or we will follow up this revolution, commenced to-day, by another that will hurl them from the places they have usurped. He thought he could discern a hope, he could see a peace, could see a return of those Southern States now arrayed against us, could see that the South would lay down their arms, at least long enough for a convention to be held, which should arrange the difficulty in a satisfactory manner, guaranteeing to every section of the Union their Constitutional and just rights. If this is not done there would be no peace; but, on the contrary, there would be a still further splitting up of the States—New England going by herself, New York by herself, and the Western States by themselves, &c. Therefore, he would say that it was none too soon that the Democratic party should be restored to power.

Special Notices.

Ayer's Pills.—Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions.—These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again.—What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers.—The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness or Constipation. As a Dinner Pill they are both agreeable and effectual.

Communicated.

MR. EDITOR:—It is Partridge Shooting season now, according to law, but there is a practice indulged in by some of our gunners entirely wrong and inexcusable, and I hope that all who are guilty may read this small epistle for information. Whilst the game law permits any one to hunt between the months of September and January, it prohibits the sending of game to foreign markets. Some lazy individuals in our community who might be more profitably employed, have acquired a proficiency as marksmen, stroll over our fields day after day, destroying these innocent little creatures without mercy, for the purpose of selling them to market men, in order to make a few cents.

Let the law be enforced upon all such persons. We are opposed to furnishing the Baltimore market with our own game.

Important Decision of Commissioner Boutwell.

WHO HAS THE RIGHT TO CANCEL REVENUE STAMPS.

Section 94 of the Excise law requires "That on and after the first day of October," certain "stamp duties" shall be collected on all instruments, matters and things, as described in schedule marked "B."

Section 95 Provides that if any person or persons shall make, sign or issue or cause to be made, signed or issued, any instrument, document or paper of any kind or description whatsoever, without the same being duly stamped for denoting the duty imposed thereon, or without having thereupon an adhesive stamp to denote said duty, such person or persons shall incur a penalty of fifty dollars, and such instrument, document or paper shall be deemed invalid and of no effect.

It seems to me perfectly clear, that by the provisions of section 95, the person who makes, signs and issues the instrument is the only person who is authorized to affix the stamp required by the law, and the person who makes, signs and issues, etc., without affixing the stamp, incurs the penalty as aforesaid, and is liable to prosecution therefor, and the instrument or document is invalid in consequence of such neglect.

Section 99 provides that the person issuing or affixing the stamp shall write thereupon the initials of his name, date, &c. Other portions of the law impose penalties upon persons who receive documents or articles subject to stamp duty from the person who makes, signs and issues them without being duly stamped, etc.

I am therefore of the opinion that a faithful compliance with the requirements of the provisions of the Excise Law demands:—

First.—That all papers subject to stamp tax shall have the stamp affixed before the same is issued.

Second.—That the stamp so affixed must be cancelled in the manner prescribed by the party making, signing or issuing the other words, executing, the instrument, document or paper.

Hence the receiving of an unstamped paper is a violation of the law. The attaching and cancelling of a stamp, or a document so received, is also unlawful, and the cancellation of a stamp on a paper otherwise lawfully issued by other than the party executing the paper, to which the stamp is attached is equally improper.

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL,
Collector of Internal Revenue.

☞ The above extracts from the Excise Law make it the duty of every person using or signing a check or draft, to affix a stamp and at the same time to cancel it, by writing thereon the initials of his name and date. The Bank of Gettysburg, hereafter, cannot receive or pay any check or draft over twenty dollars unless properly stamped and cancelled by the person signing the same. A prompt compliance with the law will save all parties interested from inconvenience and perhaps loss. The stamps can be obtained at the Bank.

Caution.

HEREBY caution all persons against buying an obligation which I held against Francis Eline and John Eline, for two hundred dollars, payable in six monthly payments, the first payment to be made on the 3d of February, 1863—said two hundred dollars to be paid only under certain conditions—dated the 31 day of Nov., 1862; as I have lost the said obligation, and never received value for the same. I hereby caution said Francis and John Eline not to pay said obligation if presented for payment, except by myself or my authorized agent, in case I should recover the same.
