Arthur's Home Magazine FOR 1867.

The HOME MAGAZINE is now so well known to the reading public, that we need scarcely say what has often been said, that its editors regard literature as something higher than a simple art. That its crowning excellence they consider its power for good. And so they will ever seek to make the home Magazine the minister of all things pure and noble, the teacher, whether by song, prose or essay, that only one can live by the "Golden Rule" can they be wise or happy.

In order that our daily readers throughout the country may have true styles of dress, we have placed our Fashion Department in the hands of M'me. Demorest, of New York.

This lady has become the arbiter of fashion in the united States, and it is gratifying to know that her taste s pure and womanly

HARPER'S

NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant. (Baltimore.)

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of Eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 100,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it contains in itself the race of monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. TURNER'S Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading, such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
