THE POST

Middleburg,.... November 27, 1873.

Prospectus for 1874—Seventh Year.

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not For Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodical. It is an exponent ministrant of pure, light & graceful life at home, and a collection of pure, the choicest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness as compared with rivals of similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and enduring artistic conception—is not and unapproachable—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engraving in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then there are the chromos, beside!

Art Department, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plate," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood cuts of The Aldine possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which The Aldine is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to compare the cost to the people of any other decent representation of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, The Aldine will reproduce examples of the best foreign artists, selected with a view to the highest artistic merit and greatest general interest. These subscribers to THE ALDINE will at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of the art.

The quarterly instalments for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

Premium for 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of The Aldine, by Thomas Moran whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenery offers a striking contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and colouring. The chromos are each worth from thirty distinct plates, and are to sell for $5.00 and upwards. Each impression of the plate has been pronounced by some of the most eminent judges of American art to be the finest production of America's greatest landscape painter in the subject. Every Art Association in the land has pronounced the Moran picture of The Aldine a gem of rare merit, and its success in obtaining such a premium is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are no original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to the subscribers to the first exclusively American art journal. They are better because of all this, as they are decidedly preferred among the productions of foreign skill, and neither are they any the worse for reason of peculiar facilities of production they enjoy as the publishers of a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of The Aldine. Persons of taste will prove these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

To prevent those who should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14 x 20 inches, representing a little Italian belle whose speaking eyes pitiently the longing of her heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromo free.

For 50 CENTS EXTRA, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the facsimile signature of JAMES SUTTON & CO.
