A quantity of paper money, purporting to have been issued by Banks in the District of Columbia, having been put in circulation, which are mere frauds, a gentleman of this place has obtained direct from Washington City, a complete list of the names of the good and sound Banks of the district, and those which are passable, but of doubtful standing, and those which are broken or frauds. The following is the list, and our readers will do well to examine it before taking money from the District of Columbia, as much of the money from that quarter bears the names of Banks that never had an existence, and are, therefore, frauds:—

The Arctic Exploring Expedition.

The New York Journal of Commerce says that active preparations are making to fit out the second exploring expedition proposed to be sent to the arctic regions, in search of Sir John Franklin, bp Henry Grinnell. The date of its departure is fixed at about the middle of April next. It will consist of the Advance, which formed a part of the first expedition, and is still in perfect order, with the exception of her keel, which was knocked off by the ice. It is expected she will be taken into the dry dock in about three weeks. She will be manned by a crew of picked men, under the command of Lieutenant Kane, United States Navy, and be amply provided with sledges and India-rubber boots, with which to penetrate into the frozen regions—using whichever mode of conveyance may most facilitate their progress. Pemican, or dried deer's flesh, will form the essential article of food. On her northerly trip, the Advance will stop at Greenland, and procure a supply of dogs. The sledges, and other details of the outfit, are in course of preparation. The direction to be taken will be the region of Smith's Sound; and as the expedition will be accompanied by a corps of scientific observers, interesting results of a scientific nature are anticipated, even though the expedition should fail of its main object.—Lieutenant Kane (our contemporary adds) is peculiarly qualified for the command of this philanthropic enterprise, and it could not be undertaken under more hopeful auspices.

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN TRADE COMPARED.—Many sacrifices of home industry are called for in the name of foreign commerce. This is undoubtedly of great importance, yet it is well now and then to reflect how it stands relatively to other interests. It will be seen then, that it is not so significant an interest as it appears to those who have never been out of sight of the ocean. An accurate statement cannot be given from the want of sufficient returns of our internal and coastwise trade; but some idea may be formed of its vast extent when it is recollected that the annual value of the agricultural, mineral, and manufacturing productions of the country is no less than three thousand millions of dollars, ($3,000,000,000, as shown by the census; a large portion of which is transported coastwise on our railroads, rivers or canal, changing hands frequently as it moves along, and yielding a profit in an incalculable amount beyond the cost; while the amount shipped to foreign countries is but $150,000,000, being one hundred and fiftieth part of the entire production of the country.

The single article of coal annually transported coastwise and in canal boats is in sufficient bulk to furnish full cargoes to four times the quantity of all the American tonnage employed in foreign commerce; affording probably a livelihood to a greater number of persons than the latter.—Newark Daily.

THE JAPAN EXPEDITION.—The Boston Post publishes the following extract from a letter, received from a gentleman who has just returned to this country from a trip to China, relative to the feelings of the Japanese toward the expedition expected from the United States:

"I was informed by a gentleman, a native of Japan, that the Emperor is ready for the American expedition. He exhibited a letter to me, which he had just received from one of his countrymen, then on the island of Jeddo. The people kept a strict look out all over the coast and their fires were already burning on the mountains at night in order to be prepared in case the squadron should appear at night. One million of dollars are ready at hand. The coast is all set with guns, while in the bay of Jeddo, where the fleet is expected, there are countless war junks; and the whole bay is surrounded with innumerable forts. The expeditioners will find the Japenese much better soldiers than they anticipate. The presents had better had been left at home. A trade will not soon be opened with that country, except by force."

ERICSSON'S CALORIC ENGINE.—The Lynchburg Virginian ascribes the invention to a man by the name of Prouty, born and raised in the city of Richmond; "He learned the gunsmith's business in the armory, removed to Augusta, Georgia, where he constructed and put into operation the very engine about which there is at present so much noise. His machine was publicly exhibited at the Bell Tavern, in Richmond, in 1832, at which late a patent was obtained, and an engine was constructed in Augusta, which drove a pair of mill-stones, but for want of capital the contrivance was temporarily made and had to be abandoned."

Deaths.

In Dundaff, Susquehanna county, on the 22d ult., MRS. MARY D. HAMILTON, relict of the late Sloan Hamilton, Esq., and daughter of Dr. Adam Dennison, dec'd.

In Bridgewater, on the 4th. ult. HENRY G., youngest son of Nehemiah and Sarah D. Scott, aged 14 years. This is the third affliction of the kind, these parents have experienced within the period of thirteen months. Truly they have been bereaved, and deeply are they called to mourn; and yet this is their consolation that they mourn not as without the hope of a happy meeting with those Children from whom they have thus been separated in a better world when the trials and conflicts of this life shall terminate with them. The Lord comfort their hearts in their afflictions, is the prayer of many sympathising friends. Life is certain neither to the young nor the old. How uncertain!

"Let this vain world engage no more:
Behold the opening tomb:
It bids us seize the present hour:
To morrow death may come." COM.

Suddenly, on Sabbath the 6th inst. at Patterson, N. Y., of an affection of the brain MR. GEO. W. STEPHENS, of Susquehanna Co. Pa in the 36th. year of his age. His remains were brought to Great Bend, where they were interred on Wednesday the 9th inst. by the side of his wife and only child, who had preceded him to the grave. His funeral was attended by a large concourse of deeply afflicted relatives and friends, who have been called thus Providentially and unexpectedly to mourn over the loss of an invaluable citizen, an affectionate brother, and a kind, dutiful son, who, for many years, had been the supporter and comforter of an aged widowed mother and family, to whom his unanticipated death, will be an irreparable loss.

"Life is a span, a fleeting hour,
How soon the vapor flies:
Man is a tender transient flower,
That e'en in bloming dies."

Philosophy of saving the Teeth.

IT is simply this: We first carefully and thoroughly remove all the decayed matter from the cavity, then after shaping it properly and wiping it dry, we press into it gold or silver foil which are very soft and maleable, and continue to compress them until we have rendered them as hard as the solid metal. We thus completely exclude both air and moisture, the universal agents of decay, and the consequence is that the tooth decays no more in that part, and rarely does it ever commence in any other part, but should it, the cure must be repeated, and I have seldom seen an instance where it had to be repeated a third time, or even a second. If your teeth are decaying your only hope is in the Dentist. They may be affected and you not know it. A tooth usually decays a long time before it aches and persons are very apt to suppose them "all right" so long as they keep quiet. The fact that they have not "troubled you" is the very reason why you should have them attended to before they do. One fact more: when a tooth has become painful, you are "behind time" in going to get it filled, "the cars are off," you must great and lose it.

Thus, companion reader, I have given you both fact and philosophy, if not with the profoundness of a Seneca, yet truthfully, you may depend, with the hope of inducing you to call on me at "ODD FELLOWS HALL" and submit your teeth to examination and repair, if needed. By so doing you may promote both your own interest and mine.

Yours emphatically and Professionally,

C. D. VIRGIL, Dental Surgeon.

CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS, PREPARED BY
Dr. C. M. Jackson,

At the German Medicine Store, 120 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of disease of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal, safe certain and pleasant.

Read and be convinced.

From the Boston Bee.

The editor said, Dec. 22nd:

Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs with safety, under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.

"SCOTT'S WEEKLY," one of the best Literary papers published, said, Aug. 25—

"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, manufactured by Dr. Jackson are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the faculty as an article of much efficacy in cases of female weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these Bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

More Evidence.

The Hon. C. D. Hineline, Mayor of the City of Camden, N. J. says:

"HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver, and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanate. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at at all indisposed, to give a fair trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit.

Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.

That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver; it is preferable to calomel in all bilious diseases—the effect is immediate. They can be administered to female or infant with safety and eliable benefit at any time.

Look well to the marks of the genuine.

They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper, and his name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.
