JUDGE SCHULTZE, of Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, was in town last week.

ALL the licenses, applied for, were granted at the term of court last week.

THERE will be a meeting of the Alert B. B. Co. at room No. 23, Hyde House, Saturday, April 23d, 1871.

GEN. RORT. HALSEY, of New York, was in town last week looking after his interests in this section.

THE Commissioners of Elk County will meet at their office in Ridgway, on Monday, May 1st, 1871.

C. H. McCauley, Clerk.

IT will be seen by reference to our new advertisements, that Sheriff McCauley has some land which he wishes to dispose of.

NOW would be a good time for our Supervisors to repair the sidewalks. There are several places on Main street that need fixing, and a new walk is needed on Depot street. This matter should receive attention.

JOSEPH K. WHITMORE, of this place, has been appointed, by Gov. Geary, to the position of Associate Judge, vice E. C. Schultz, resigned, to serve until the first Monday in December, 1871. We congratulate Judge Whitmore on his appointment.

WILCOX, this county, has had a taste of Ku-Klux; last week six or seven negroes attempted to tar and feather a negro at that place, but they only succeeded in getting a little tar daubed on his head. Warrants were issued for the Ku-Klux when they made themselves scarce.

THE following notice was found posted in one of our neighboring villages, and handed us for publication:
April 24, 1871.

Of what use are printing offices when anything can be written so plain?

JUDGE SOUTHER—On Tuesday Judge Williams having an important and lengthy equity case before him, left the bench to hear the arguments of the counsel in another room, and Judge Souther, of the Schuylkill District, took the bench and rattled off the cases at railroad speed, to the astonishment of the attorneys, clients and everybody else. He acquitted himself with credit and to the general satisfaction of the bar, although filling a position just vacated by the best Judge in the State.—[Cameron Herald.]

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided (Judge Sharswood delivered the opinion) that a purchaser at Sheriff's sale is not bound to look beyond the judgment docket to ascertain whether the entries thereon are properly made by authority, and that where there is a defective entry of a judgment, or an unauthorized entry of satisfaction, the prothonotary is liable to damages to the party injured. Hence, where the prothonotary, without the authority of the court, entered on his docket against a judgment "satisfied &c." it was held that the entry was perfectly regular and conclusive as to third persons to whom the judgment itself regularly docketed was conclusive notice, and that it was not necessary to search further and ascertain whether there was any record or an order to the court directing such satisfaction.

STATE NEWS.

Berks county is entirely out of debt. A new Sunday paper is to be started in Pittsburgh. Williamsport is called the city of Saw Dust. Sharon is going to have a hotel on the European plan. Huntingdon has nine churches—more than any other county in the State.

The expenses of York county last year amounted to $4 for every man, woman, and child in the county. Joseph Rilend hung himself in Schuylkill county prison last week. He was insane.

The Cranberry oil-field, near Franklin, gives promise of becoming one of the best in the State.

Philadelphia has shipped 6,556,263 gallons of petroleum to foreign ports since January 1st.

Two young men saved their way out of the jail at Columbus, on Tuesday, while the watchman was taking his midday meal.

A big boy has been discovered in Lyncoming county. He is 18 years old, weighs 220 (Fairbanks) and is 6 feet 9 inches in his shoe-pegs.

Philadelphia, according to the returns of the assessors for 1871, has 450 church edifices, more than 100 in excess of any other city on the continent.

The Titusville soldiers' orphan school is to be removed to a new building near that city. The building will stand in the centre of a fine park of 20 acres.

One third of the sugar sold in the world is made from the beet. Wherever in France and Germany the sugar beet is cultivated fat cattle and green fields are the rule.

A final effort is to be made to secure a trial for Dr. Paul Schaepe, under sentence of death for the murder of Steinecke.

Workmen are engaged in putting up machinery in Phoenixville, to saw cold iron. These saws are to be driven at a high speed, to saw the heaviest iron bars.

Nearly 15,000 tons more of bituminous coal have been shipped from the Broad Top mountain this year than during the corresponding time in 1870. Total amount shipped to date, 73,705 tons.

Silver ore is thought to be abundant on the farm of Mr. Christian Hertzler, near Mount Joy, Lancaster county, at least the parties think so who have leased the right of prospecting for it.

The Lock Haven Republic an says lumbering operations have been pretty generally suspended on account of the low water. All the Lock Haven and Flemington mills have begun to saw.

Lancaster meditates a street passenger railway from the centre of the city to the adjoining village of Millersville, a distance of some four miles, with several very heavy grades.

The Petroleum Centre Record gives the amount of oil held in tank on the first inst., by J. S. McBray, at 135,772 barrels. The total yield of the McBray farm from July 15, 1870, to April 1, 1871, has been 346,129 barrels, which at the present price of oil would net the owner $13,500,000.

A foolish man at Landisville, Lancaster county, nearly lost $300 in government bonds by placing them in a window blind for safe keeping. He had previously cut off the coupons. A sale of a portion of his personal effects took place a few days since, and this blind was one of the articles sold. The purchaser saw some papers wrapped up in the blind, and gave them to his children to cut up without ever looking at them. Fortunately it was discovered after a $50 bond had been mutilated. The owner, Jacob Kline, was notified, and with commendable liberality gave the finder 50 cents for his trouble.

SIGNS AND TOKENS.—The Gridiron.—To take down the gridiron from the nail where it is hanging, with the left hand, is a sign that there will be a broil in the kitchen.

The Mirror.—If a mirror is broken it is a sign that a good-looking lass will be missed in that house.

Pocket Book.—To lose a pocket book containing greenbacks is unlucky.

Nails.—If a woman cuts her nails every Monday it is lucky—for her husband.

Roosters.—If you hear a rooster crow when you are in bed and the clock strikes a few times at the same instant, it is a sign of mourning.

An itching ear.—If you have an itching ear, tickle your nose and you will have an itching there, and ill luck will be averted.

APRIL.—This month takes its name either from aperio, to open—because at this time the earth seems to be opening and preparing to enrich us with its bounties, or according to Varro, from aphrodite, (the goddess of love among the Greeks,) because April is especially consecrated to the goddess.

OTHER COUNTIES.

CAMERON. A Hard Case.—About two weeks ago, Sylvester Lane got on to a train and concealed himself on the platform of the front car, next to the tender, for the purpose of getting a free ride from this place to St. Mary's. He succeeded in getting his ride free so far as dollars and cents are concerned; but it proved to be a dear one in other respects. While the train was under way his clothes took fire from sparks from the engine; he could not jump off as the train was going at full speed; calls for assistance were of no avail as the train made so much noise that he could not be heard; and he had no means of extinguishing the fire himself except with his hands. He was terribly burned on his right side, from the ribs down to the knee. Being poor, he did not employ a physician, but got along somehow without having his wounds properly dressed. Since then he has been staying at different places along the road between St. Mary's and Cameron, and on the 6th inst. he came to Emporium, and went to Cook's Hotel. Mr. Layton, who keeps the Hotel, upon finding out what condition Lane was in, very kindly took him into the hotel, gave him a room, and sent for Dr. Craig, who immediately went to his assistance, and upon examination found the burned parts to be in a terrible condition—immense, great patches of rotten putrid flesh filled with thousands of maggots, which were literally eating the man up alive. The Doctor with his usual energy and skill, immediately set at work to cleanse out and dress the affected parts, and says now that the man is in a fair way of recovering. Lane will be remembered by many of our readers, as having been confined in jail here for a long time, upon a charge of robbing Mr. Cross, and that he was finally discharged and a not. proc. entered.—[Herald.]

WARREN. Big Trout.—On Tuesday last Henry Wells caught a trout at the mouth of Arnot Run, on the Tioga Creek, in this county, which weighed one pound and nine ounces. It was on exhibition at the Carver House in the evening. Mr. Wells had another trout which weighed a trifle less.—[Ledger.]

Accident at Irvineton.—On Tuesday morning last, a brakeman on the P. & E. R. R. had his leg crushed in coupling some freight cars. Though the injury was great, his life was not endangered. We have not learned his name.—[Ledger.]

CLEARFIELD. Death of an Old Citizen.—William Rishel, Sr., died at the residence of his son, Wm. L. Rishel, on Saturday, April 8th, 1871, aged 74 years, 11 months and 8 days. Mr. Rishel was among the first settlers in Brady township, having located there in 1827. He was an industrious and hardworking citizen, honest and frugal, and beloved by all who knew him.—[Journal.]

Accident.—On Monday last, Mr. Nelson O'Conner, employed at Paine's Mill, on North Fork, met with a very serious and painful accident. It appears that he was attending to some chores about the barn, and having some cause to pass over the haymow, he fell through the floor, inflicting a painful wound on the head, cutting the scalp about four inches in length.—[Republican.]

CENTRE. Fire.—Saturday night last, the dwelling house of Jacob Barlot, with nearly all his furniture was consumed by fire. Mr. Barlot lived in what, we believe, is called Colvieve, a short distance west of the Fair grounds. To be burned out of house and home, is, indeed, a sad calamity; but there is always some consolation in being insured. We have not learned the full amount of Mr. Barlot's insurance, but rumor places it at $700. Every property owner should be insured in some good company.—[Belleville Republican.]

What is the difference between half a glass of water and a broken engagement? The one is not filled full, and the other is not fulfilled.

A gentleman one day indiscreetly asked a lady how old she was. "Let me see. I was 18 when I married, and my husband was 30; now he is twice 30, and that is 60; so of course I am twice 18, that is 36."

The Boston Post mentions a gentleman who tried to eat three quarts of oysters, and sadly remarks: "The roads were muddy and very few of his friends got out to his funeral."

It is not work that kills men; it is worry. Work is healthy; you can hardly put more upon a man than he can bear. Worry is rust upon the blade. It is not revolution that destroys the machinery, but the friction.

A child three years old, who had seen parched corn, but not the trees in bloom, came in one day in the early summer with her eyes as round as buttons, and said, "Oh, mamma, pop corn is all over the pear trees!"

A Danbury man found something offensive in his last dozen eggs, and took the dealer to task. "What is the matter with them?" asked the dealer. "They ain't good," was the reply. "Well, that isn't to be wondered at," was the apologetic rejoinder. "Hens are drove so now they ain't expected to be as particular as usual."

What an organ is in a vast cathedral in the hands of an ignorant player, that is the soul of man in this life—as instrument of wonderful compass and sweetness badly played, and therefore uttering more noise than music.—[Beecher.]

RELIGIOUS COLUMN.

REV. G. M. HEARD, Editor.

As God Prespers.

We have received a circular which treats the "Ways and Means for the Spread of the Gospel" in a spirit which is both business-like and Scriptural. The constant groaning over the "raising of funds" might be avoided if there was a systematic measurement of one's ability by Paul's rule, "As God hath prospered."

The very first principle in the science of practical benevolence—for it is a science—is that we should give God his own—that is, everything. If we hold our possessions as his stewards, we shall have an abiding antidote to covetousness. But we also need to observe method in applying the Lord's property to its various uses. The circular aptly says: "It will surprise those who have not thought of it, how much money may be raised during the year, without being oppressive to the givers, for the pastor's salary, current expenses, and benevolent uses generally, if a considerable number of members would give each Sabbath even not more than ten cents a piece, and others would give, according to their means, sums varying from ten cents to five dollars, though perhaps the latter amount could be afforded by comparatively few."

A table follows, showing that four hundred persons, thus regularly contributing, could easily raise fourteen thousand dollars a year; a sum sufficient to put an end to all cavils about the support of the ministry. This may not be correctly drawn, but any intelligent person can see that if each person, now an occasional and careless contributor to good causes, gave regularly and according to his income, there would be no "debts" owned by churches, no missions half-manned, no lean and seedy ministers, to proclaim without words the stinginess of Christians.

A Singular Story.

A druggist who keeps a store in the western part of the State, and is more fond of taking jokes than medicine, was recently surprised by the appearance of a thorough Yankee, who asked, "Be you the druggist?" "Well, I suppose so; I sell drugs." "Wall, have you got any of this ere sentin' stuff as the gals put on their handkercher?" "Oh, yes." "Wall, our Sal is gwine to be married; and she's gin me a ninepence, and told me to invest the whole 'mount in sentin' stuff, so to make her sweet, if I could find somethin' to suit; so, if you're a mind, I'll just stroll around." The Yankee smelled around without being suited, until the "druggist" got tired of him, and taking down a bottle of hartshorn, said, "I've got a scenting stuff that will suit you. A single drop on a handkerchief will stay for weeks, and you can't wash it out; but, to get the strength of it, you must take a good big smell." "Is that so, mister? Well, jist hold on a minute ill I git breath; and when I say, 'Now!' you put it under my smeller." The hartshorn of course knocked the Yankee down as liquor has many a man. Do you suppose he got up and smelt again? Holding his sleeves, and doubling his fists, he said, "Yeon made me smell that tarna, everlasting stuff, mister; and now I'll make you smell brimstone." And he gave the druggist a beating which he will remember for years. This is the kind of treatment Mr. Gough would have the drunkard give the drink that knocks him down.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of a writ of Levari Facias, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Elk County, and to me directed, I will expose to sale by public vendue or outcry, at the Court House, in Ridgway, ON MONDAY, MAY 8, 1871, at one o'clock, P. M. The equal undivided half part of two certain tracts or parcels of land, situate in the Township of Fox, County of Elk and State of Pennsylvania, and bounded and described as follows: THE FIRST beginning at a thorn tree on the bank of the Little Toby Creek, thence South 45° East, one hundred and one (101) rods to a post, thence North 45° East, sixty-four rods to a post, thence North 45° West ninety-four rods to a hick-log on the bank of said creek, and thence down said creek, its several courses and distances to the place of beginning. Containing thirty-six acres, and one hundred and thirty-four rods, and allowed, said tract being known as the Helen Mills Property, and being one of the tracts of land sold and conveyed to Joseph E. Gay by P. W. Hays, Sheriff of Elk County, by virtue of writs of execution to him directed as will appear by the records of the Court of Common Pleas of Elk County, and by said Hays deeded to said Joseph E. Gay, recorded in the Recorder's Office of Elk County, in Deed Book "L."

THE SECOND being an other of the tracts of land, conveyed to Joseph E. Gay by P. W. Hays Sheriff as aforesaid: Beginning at a post at the southeast corner of land conveyed to Uriah Rogers by Norris et al., thence West ninety-two rods to a beech, thence North one hundred and thirty-eight rods to a hazel tree, thence East ninety-two rods to a beech, thence South one hundred and thirty-eight rods to the place of beginning. Containing seventy-nine acres and fifty-six rods, and being parts of tracts Nos. 4244 and 4245, together with the buildings and improvements thereon erected.

Selected and taken in execution as the property of William Reed, at the suit of Eaton S. Friebee now for the use of Chemung Canal Bank of Elmira, and to be sold by JACOB McCAULEY, Sheriff.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE. Ridgway, April 17, 1871. vln2t.

RESULT OF CENTURIES OF CULTURE.—The successive editions of Webster's Unabridged are as perennial in interest as in value. Each successive reprint adds the work of our great lexicographer still unrivaled among English dictionaries. In each republication we likewise find a mirror of the scientific progress of the age, a sleepless vigilance which nothing escapes, to catch every new shade of verbal significance, and to retain for our unapproached standard of language, that freshness which preserves it from ever becoming old. In the 1,840 pages before us there are compressed the results of centuries of culture, and the sum of the intellectual contributions of some of the greatest minds of the race. Whether regarded as a whole, or in detail, the book is equally marvelous. Its illustrations are copious, appropriate and carefully executed. The matter in the appendix is of a character indispensable for reference to all who read, and to all who write with serious purpose. The book is, in short, one which neither school nor study, library or office, ought to be without.—[New York Times.]

TO NEBRASKA, CALIFORNIA AND KANSAS, AND THE B. & M. R. R. LANDS. The "Burlington Route," so called, lies right in the path of the Star of Empire. It runs almost immediately in the centre of the great westward movement of emigration. Crossing Illinois and Iowa, it strikes the Missouri river, at three points. These three points are the gateways into three great sections of the trans-Missouri region. The Northern gate is Omaha, where the great Pacific road will take you to the land of gold and grapes, sunny mountains, and perpetual summer. The middle gate is Plattsmouth, which opens upon the south half of Nebraska, south of the Platte river, a region unsurpassed on the continent for agriculture and grazing. Just here are the B. & M. Railroad lands, concerning which Geo. S. Harris, the land officer at Burlington, Iowa, can give you all information, and in the heart of them is Lincoln, the State Capital and present terminus of the road. The Southern gate leads to Kansas, by connection with the St. Joe Road at Hamburg, running direct to St. Joe and Kansas City.

The trains of the Burlington run smoothly and safely, and make all connections. It runs the best of coaches Pullman Palace and Pullman dining cars, and should you take the journey for the journey's sake alone, you will be repaid; or take it to find a home or a farm, and you cannot find either better than among the B. & M. lands, where you can buy on ten years' credit, and at a low price. vln2yl.
