B. C. HUSELTON.

STORM BIRD, Trotting Stallion. 9459.

Record, 2:35 at 4 years. Sired by Lord Russel, full brother to Maud S, 2.08¾.

STORM BIRD is half brother to the mighty Kremlin, 2:07¾, king of trotting stallions. His dam has a trotting record of 2:26¾, and his grand dams are the greatest brood mares that ever lived. Each are the dams of stallions having one hundred in the list. The two together have 614 of their descendants in the 30 list and hold 43 of the world's records. He is a grand individual and a trotting-bred trotter, combining in his pedigree the two most fashionable and intense trotting families in the world. He is a rich cherry bay, 15½ hands high, perfectly sound, strong and handsome.

He will be found at my barn, 3½ miles northeast of Prospect, the three first days of each week, and the last at the Butler Fair Grounds during the season of 1893, at the very low terms of $35 to insure.

For pedigree address,

MOHICAN KING.

Record 2 37¼ in a race on a half-mile track.

Sired by Mambrino King, the greatest living sire of demonstrated race horses, and the handsomest horse in the world. Thirteen sons and daughters of this great horse made records better than 2.30 last season, including the great mare, Nightingale—2.10¾ made in the fourth heat of a race. They are broad winners. They are the handsomest class of horses on earth.

"Mohican King's dam was sired by a son of Hambletonian (10) called Mohican, who was the sire of five great race horses, showing that the blood lines which go to make up Mohican King's remarkable pedigree have and will train on, trot on and win on, besides being famous for their beauty and fine finish.

I started Mohican King in five races last fall getting a piece of the money every time, and won the largest purse and best race he started in, which certainly ought to be a credit to any horse for the first season. He is like his sire, a beautiful dark chestnut, very handsome, heavy boned, well muscled, and has great lung power. His colts are all stamped closely after himself, speedy and fine looking.

This horse will make the season of 1893 in Butler, Pa. Terms, $25 to insure. No accountability for accidents. Will be found in the Scott Barn, in the alley north of the Wick House Livery Barn.

Bogus! Bogus white lead would have no sale did it not afford makers a larger profit than Strictly Pure White Lead.

The wise man is never persuaded to buy paint that is said to be "just as good" or "better" than

Strictly Pure White Lead

The market is flooded with spurious white leads. The following analyses, made by eminent chemists, of two of these misleading brands show the exact proportion of genuine white lead they contain:

Misleading Brand
"Standard Lead Co., St. Louis." Strictly Pure White Lead.

Materials	Proportions	Analyzed by
Barytes	59.36 per cent.	Regis Chauvenet & Bro., St. Louis.
Oxide of Zinc	34.18 per cent.
White Lead	6.46 per cent.

Less than 7 per cent. white lead.

Misleading Brand
"Pacific Warranted Pure (A) White Lead."

Materials	Proportions	Analyzed by
Sulphate of Lead	4.18 per cent.	Ledoux & Co., New York.
Oxide of Zinc	45.04 per cent.
Barytes	50.68 per cent.

No white lead in it.

You can avoid bogus lead by purchasing any of the following brands. They are manufactured by the "Old Dutch" process, and are the standards:

"Armstrong & McKelvy"
"Beymer-Bauman" "Fahnestock"
"Davis-Chambers"

THE CITIZEN

Pennsylvania at Chicago.

SUGGESTIONS TO CITIZENS OF THE STATE WHO VISIT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

First. All Pennsylvanians who attend the World's Fair are advised to first visit the State Building. This they can readily accomplish by entering the grounds at the Fifty-seventh street entrance, near which, and just opposite the great Art Palace, our Building is located. All of the railroads, electric, cable and horse cars lines leading from the centre of the city, have stations at, or within a short distance of the Fifty-seventh street entrance.

Second. The State Building is specially designed and arranged for the comfort and convenience of the citizens of Pennsylvania. It is provided with general reception room, seperate parlors for women and men, ladies' dressing room, smoking room, writing room, newspaper room, press correspondents' room, and ample toilet facilities, etc., etc. Convenient cloak and parcel rooms have been provided upon the first floor of the Building, where all citizens of the State are at liberty to leave such articles as the may not wish to carry around on the grounds.

Third. The Building contains a Post Office to be open during the Exposition hours. Arrangements have been made to collect the mails hourly, and Pennsylvanians who have their mail addressed to the Pennsylvania State Building, World's Fair, Chicago, Ill., will be insured prompt delivery.

Fourth. The newspaper room will contain files of all the State journals that will be sent to the Building.

Fifth. The Bureau of Information is on the first floor, in charge of a competent superintendent, who will be pleased to aid our citizens with advice or suggestions as to how to see the Exposition to the best advantage.

Sixth. a register of Pennsylvanians who attend the Exposition will be kept, with their names and the location of their stopping place, with the probable time of their stay, etc., etc.

Seventh. No fee, unless it be for blacking shoes, will be charged for any service in or about the Building.

Eight. A cordial invitation is extended to all Pennsylvanians, regardless of race, color or nativity to make the Building their headquarters and resting place while at the Exposition, and to avail themselves of the facilities that have been provided. They will find a home and a warm welcome.

A. B. FARQUHAR,
Executive Commissioner.
Board of World's Fair Managers.

The Pennsylvania State Building is one of the most beautiful and striking on the World's Fair Grounds and admirably located, near the Fifty seventh street entrance, directly facing the Art Palace. Style of architecture is Colonial, reproducing the historical clock tower and other features of Independence Hall in Philadelphia. The famous bell which proclaimed "Liberty throughout all the land," will be placed in the rotunda at the main entrance and many historical relics of priceless value, such as Penn's treaty with the Indians, the original charter, portraits of distinguished Pennsylvanians, rare documents, etc., etc., will have a place in the Building.

Our State Building was constructed by Pennsylvania material, the floors are made of marble or of hard woods, the wainscot, panelings, etc., are taken from the handsomest woods of Pennsylvania forests.

This stately and imposing building is surrounded by broad and graceful piazas, upon which several hundred easy chairs are placed; the main entrance opens into a central rotunda thirty feet in diameter and forty feet high.

In the rear is a large reception room extending the entire lenght of the building; to the right and left are the parlors, toilet rooms, etc. etc. Board, easy stair-cases lead to the second story, where the waiting rooms; Governor's rooms, and offices of the Executive Commissioner will be located. The doors and windows of the second floor open out upon broad verandas admirably arranged for promenading and sight-seeing; and, outside stair-cases lead to the roof garden, from which may be had a magnificent bird's-eye view of the grounds and lake.

Surmounting the main facade of the Building are several allegorical pieces of statuary, the Pennsylvania Coat of Arms, the horses developed life size. Flanking this group upon either side are statues of William Penn and Benjamin Franklin. The allegorical groups at the right and left angles of the Building are indicative of the progress and influence developed by the resources of the State, Mines and Mining and others.

The Pennsylvania State Building is the only one in which the kindred arts of architecture and sculpture have been so happily combined. The architect, Mr. Thomas P. Lonsdale, and the sculptor, John J Boyle, of Philadelphia, are entitled the greatest credit.

—Spring medicine and Hood's Sarsaparilla are synonymous terms, so popular is the medicine.

—The photograph sharper is still doing business at the old stand. He has been in Harrisburg and the Telegraph thus speaks of him:

The sharper who recently gathered photographs in this city on a promise that he would enlarge them in Philadelphia and return them free of cost, had an imitator in Buffalo who seems to have gotten a great deal of money from the gullible people, and an accomplice in Erie who caught a great deal of good money on the run of "suckers." The Buffalo fellow was captured and 3,000 photographs taken from him, on each one of which he got 50 cents. In Erie the fakir got a dollar with each photograph, and his victims are waiting to hear from their crayon portraits. The best thing to do is to shut the door in the face of these rascals. They are sure to swindle you.

—The value of silver ore shipped from Creede, Col., in February is estimated to have been $850,000. The silver output of Colorado was increased last year by 3,000,000 ounces. The low price of silver has no effect upon the production of the metal in the mines, where the cost ranges between 15 and 40 per cent an ounce. The output this year will probably be very much larger than in 1892.

How to Obtain Long Life.

Take life easy. Nothing prolongs life like a cheerful disposition.

Make haste slowly. The snail outran the hare and won the race.

Avoid all worry. Care wrinkles the brow and dries up the fountain of life.

Don't get angry. Every burst of passion shortens life's span one inch.

Be moderate in all things and temperate in your habits. Remember, "sleep is nature's kind restorer," and if you would live long, sleep long.

Above all take care of yourself. If you are not feeling well there is something wrong and nature needs to be stimulated in her work. The best physicians in the country recommend Klein's Silver Age and Duquense Rye for such a purpose. They are for sale by dealers generally at $1.50 and $125 per quart respectively. Send to Max Klein, 82 Federal Street, Allegheny, Pa., for a complete catalogue and price-list of all kinds of liquor, mailed free.

The Time to Laugh.

As a matter of fact a boy should never laugh at his father until he (the boy) is 18 years of age at least. Earlier than that is not safe. A boy over near the University has for several evenings stood up to eat his meals, and all because he neglected the above rule of conduct. His father takes great pride in a Hambletonian colt he is raising. The old man fairly delights in pottering around the stable and he can hardly wait until that colt is 4 years old and trots a mile in 2.05¼, as it surely will. The other morning the pater was fussing around in an old silk hat and equally venerable great coat, pitchfork in hand and while he was working about the colt's heels the boy gave the animal its feed.

The colt does not allow any familarities while feeding, and while the old man, in a stooping position, backed up against him, the colt lashed out with both feet. The man stood so near that the kick broke no bones, but he was shot as from a catapult right through the clapboards on the side of the barn. His head was driven through his tile, and when he extricated himself from the splinter the rim of his headgear hung around his head like a ruff. He regarded the whole business as rough, and delivered an oration through his hat which the boy regarded as amusing. The youngster laughed. First he stood and laughed, and rolled over and over and hugged himself and still laughed. But when that devoted father got clear from the wreckage he seized the nearest strap, and the boy has not smiled once since. The boy knows now that he is not big enough to laugh at his father.—Minneapolis Tribune.

The House Doctor.

Fever blisters when they are allowed to develop, are very painful and most disfiguring, and yet they can be easily cured in the beginning by keeping a ball of saltpeter on hand, at their first appearance moistening the ball with water and rubbing it on the spot.

Drunkenness, or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines 'Golden Specific."

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will affect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page book of particulars free. Address, Golden Specific Co., 185 Race St., Cincinnati O.

—There is an opinion tenaciously held by many people that after death and interment the hair of the head, and beard as well, continues to grow; it has been stated that in some cases the coffin has been filled. Such stories are believed by those situated to know the facts without foundation. In talking with a well known undertaker, he explains the origin of such reports by the fact that times the minute roots of some trees will penetrate a crack or slight opening and fill the receptable in which the body is laid with hair-like roots.

—A remarkable fight lately took place in North Carolina. Two men, named Trout and Hutchins, were removing a beehive about which they had wrapped a cloth. Two men, named McDaniel, met them and a quarrel and a fight followed. Hutchins stripped the cloth from the hive, and placing it over his head held the hive in front as he advanced toward the McDaniels. Bees poured out and savagely attacked the latter, who had to retreat. One of them shot Hutchins in the shoulder, but he advanced with his novel Gatling gun, and, aided by the bees, drove the McDaniels over the line into South Carolina.
