Township Fairs:—The reports of the Fairs of the Jackson and Gibson Agricultural Societies will be found on the fourth page of this paper.

Advertising.—Mr. J. Hungerford, of Binghamton, is among those who understand the benefits of liberal advertising. See his column in this week's Republican.

Headley's Life of Washington.—We are requested to mention that Mr. Judson Mott will assist Mr. Niles is canvassing this County for Headley's Life of Washington.

New Church.—It will be seen by the advertisement in this paper that the Presbyterian Congregation in Montrose have decided to build a new brick church. We understand that the building is to be commenced next Spring or Summer.

Trial List.—We this week publish the trial list for the November Term of the Court of Common Pleas. It should be borne in mind by all interested, that any of these cases are liable to be settled or continued at any time before or at Court, so that a case low down on the list may be the first one tried.

Large Turnip.—Mr. E. W. Burns, of Lathrop township, has raised in his garden this season a flat turnip, measuring 41½ inches in circumference, and weighing 18¾ pounds. He raised another weighing 15½ pounds. Can anybody in Susquehanna County beat that?

Lecture.—The second Lecture of the Young Men's Course will be delivered by Rev. T. K. Beecher, of Elmira, N. Y., next Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, in the Presbyterian Church of this place. Subject, "Getting a Living, and Living." We know that Mr. Beecher will have something to say worth hearing, and we hope our citizens will give him a warm reception in the shape of an overflowing house. Of the Lecturer it is quite sufficient to say that he is a Beecher, "one of the family."

Dedication.—The Baptist Church in South Auburn dedicated their beautiful house of worship to the service of God, Oct. 27th. Sermons were preached on the occasion by Brethren Fox of Abington and Boomer of Montrose. The Church has manifested a commendable degree of liberality in this enterprise, which was greatly needed for their accommodation, but will need some aid from their friends in liquidating a small debt which still rests upon the house.

Another Dun.—"What so soon? These printers are insatiable." Wait a minute, good friend. Do you owe the printer? If not, this is not intended for you, and you may skip it at once. But if you do, then pay, and you will not have to be dunned. We hate to dun, but we hate worse to be dunned. If those who owe us feel as we do about it, they will pay just as fast as they can. November Court will afford an opportunity to "give us a lift." We hardly dare mention how much we have promised to pay during next Court, on the strength of our faith in our friends. We hope they will try to keep our credit good.

Rev. D. K. Lee's Lecture.—Notwithstanding the shortness of the notice given, a very fair audience assembled last week Wednesday evening, to listen to Rev. D. K. Lee's lecture on Astronomy—the first of the Course before the Young Men's Literary Association of Montrose. The lecture was fine, abounding in interesting facts, happy illustrations, and beautiful imagery, the whole set off with no ordinary oratorical powers. The audience listened with rapt attention throughout, and we have heard but one opinion expressed as to the merits of the performance.

We are glad that the success of this first lecture was such as to encourage those who have taken the matter in hand to go on with the Course.

A Knotty Point in Grammar.—"A Student" writes to us as follows:

Messrs. Editors:—Will some of your readers skilled in the English tongue, tell me how to parse the word an in the following examples? I must acknowledge that it is beyond my skill. The first example is from Shakespeare; the others are from the Bible:

"They said they were an hungry; signed forth proverbs, That hunger broke stone walls, &c.—Coriolanus, Act I, Scene I.

"And his disciples were an hungered."—Matthew xii. 1.

"When he was an hungered."—Ib. iv. 3.

In some copies of the Bible, "a hungered" occurs instead of "an hungered;" but the difficulty is much the same in either case. Goold Brown suggests that "an hungered" should be "enhungered," but how would he dispose of "an hungry?" A STUDENT.

Harvest.—It is remarkable, says French, that while Spring, Summer, Winter, have all their Anglo-Saxon names, we designate the other quarter of the year by its Latin title, "autumn;" the word which should have designated it, "harvest," having been appropriated to the ingathering of the fruits of this season, not to the season itself. Occasionally, however, among old authors, as in the passage which follows, "harvest" assumes the signification of autumn:

"There stood the Springtime with a crown of fresh and fragrant flowers;
There waited Summer, naked stark, all save a wheaten hat;
And Harvest smeared with treading grapes late at the pressing vat;
And lastly quaking for the cold stood Winter all forlorn."—Golding.

Fall, the common name in this country for autumn, is scarcely ever used in that sense in England.

Singular Freak.—Mr. James Truesdell, a gentleman of some seventy years, living in Liberty township, has been for over twelve years past industriously engaged, when the weather and his health would permit, in digging over a piece of ground near his dwelling, and carrying the stones and some of the dirt into a pile. Here he has labored, taking one stone or a shovel full of dirt at a time, until the mound has reached the height of thirty or forty feet, and is much larger than his house. He said as a reason for his labors that he lost a sixpence in his garden. He soon after found several sixpences, but continued to dig until his whole garden has been carried to [illegible] the mound. He is peaceful and industrious in his way, so his family let him work. To their offers of assistance he gives a decided negative, and digs away alone. Mr. Truesdell is a well-informed man, and talks rationally on every subject but his lost sixpence.

A Fine Building.—The handsomest store, if not the handsomest building, in Montrose, is that lately built by Mr. Azur Lathrop, at the east end of the brick block. The building is 44 feet front, on Turnpike Street, by 90 feet deep, and three stories high. The first floor, (with the cellar) is arranged for a large store and a banking office, both fronting on Turnpike Street. The second story is intended for a dwelling and office. The third story is to be occupied as a Masonic Hall; the Lodge room being 47 by 32 feet, and 16 feet high. The front of the first story is supported by six cast-iron columns or pillars. The window sills and lentles are also cast iron. The main cornice is wood, painted and sanded in imitation of brown freestone. The roof is covered with rasping tin.

The front is finished after a design by T. Thomas & Son, Architects, New York. Contractors and builders, Boyd & Webster. Mason work by Isaac Hamlin. Iron work by S. H. Sayre & Bro. Painting and sanding cornice by H. Crary, of Binghamton.

Teachers' Notice.—The School Directors of Lenox Township want several school teachers for the coming winter term, both male and female.—Wages liberal, and regulated according to grade of certificate. Teachers wishing to teach schools will please attend the examination for Lenox township, at which time and place the Directors contract with such as procure certificates, and none else. By order B. D. W. M. TINGLEY, Secretary.

Religious Notice.—Elder Post will preach in the Methodist Church, in Montrose, next Sabbath morning, in place of J. K. Peck, who attends a quarterly meeting at Factoryville.

Notice.—Rev. T. K. BEECHER will deliver the second lecture before the Young Men's Literary Association at the Presbyterian Church in Montrose, on TUESDAY EVENING, November 15th, 1859.—Subject—Getting a Living and Living. The public are respectfully invited to attend. Admission, 25 cents. Doors open at 6½ o'clock—Lecture to commence at 7. Tickets may be obtained of A. N. Bullard, H. J. Webb, H. C. Tyler, and at the door.

A. N. BULLARD, President.
C. W. TYLER, Secretary.

Lecture Course.—The following persons have promised to Lecture before the "Young Men's Literary Association:"

Rev. D. K. LEE, of Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1859.
" T. K. BEECHER, Elmira, " " 15, "
GEORGE SUMNER, Boston, Mass. Dec. 26, "
Hon. HORACE GREELEY, N. Y., time not fixed.
WENDELL PHILLIPS, Boston, Mass., "

A number of Lecturers remain yet to be heard from.

A. N. BULLARD, President.
C. W. TYLER, Secretary.

Republican Meeting.

HON. G. A. GROW will address his fellow citizens of Susquehanna County on political topics, at the Court House in Montrose, on Monday evening of the first week of November Court, (Nov. 21st.)

Take Notice.—The New York Observer of Oct. 20 says "The Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine has taken the highest premiums at all the Fairs of this season whenever exhibited. We may instance as already held, the United States Agricultural Fair, the Fair of the St. Louis Mechanical Association, the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and numerous County Fairs. At the U. S. Fair held at Chicago about thirty varieties of machines were exhibited. The award to this machine was the usual medal as the highest premium and a special premium of a silver pitcher valued at $100."

Machines furnished to ministers of the gospel, to schools, and for charitable purposes at a large discount by J. P. W. RILEY, Agent.

Montrose, Nov. 2, 1859.—2w

Grover & Baker's the Best.—"At the late New York State Fair, held at Albany last week, there were premiums awarded jointly to the Grover & Baker and Wheeler & Wilson Machines as the best, and the HIGHEST premium was awarded to the Grover & Baker Machines, over all others, for the best samples of sewing."—New York Day Book.

E. C. FORDHAM,

AGENT FOR

Bartholf's Sewing Machines.

THIS Machine is just what every family wants. No one should think of keeping house without one of BARTHOLF'S NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINES. It makes the lock-stitch, presenting the same general appearance upon both sides of the material sewed, and cannot rip. It is one of the best machines now in use. Persons wishing to obtain reliable machines are requested to call at E. C. FORDHAM'S Furniture Store, Main Street, 3 doors below Boyd & Webster's corner, before purchasing elsewhere. Price from $50 to $125.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.—For simplicity, durability, and exceeding neatness of work, and in fact for every desirable quality, they cannot be excelled.—SUNDAY TIMES AND MESSENGER.

Montrose, April 18th, 1859.—tf

J. P. W. RILEY

AGENT FOR

Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines,

THE BEST IN USE.

MAKES a stitch the same on both sides and that which cannot rip. It works equally well upon Silk, Linen, Woolen and Cotton goods, seaming, gathering, quilting, hemming, &c., with strength and beauty superior to any hand work.

—We prefer Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines for family use.—Tribune.

—We cannot imagine any thing more perfect.—N. Y. Evangelist.

—It surpasses all others.—Ladies' Repository.

—There is but one Sewing Machine and that is Wheeler & Wilson's.—Judge Meacham of the American Institute.

—It has no rival.—Scientific American.

—It is eminently superior.—Dictionary of Mechanics.

—The most satisfactory home reference given as to their superiority and excellence.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES,

495 Broadway, New York.
18 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON.
730 Chestnut Street, Phil.
137 BALTIMORE STREET, BALTIMORE.
58 West 4th St., Cincinnati.

A New Style.—Price $50.

THIS stitching sews from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no winding of thread; it Hems, Fells, Gathers, and Stitches in a superior style, fine silk or coarse cotton, without reference to the Land-needle, as is required by other machines. It will do better and cheaper sewing than a sewing-free can, even if it work for nothing and board itself. SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

It requires no propelling.—N. Y. Evangelist. We like Grover & Baker's best.—Ladies' Wreath. The machine finishes its work.—Northampton Gazette. The best patent now in use.—Boston Write. For our own family use we became fully satisfied that Grover & Baker's is the best, and accordingly purchased it.—New York Tribune.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dissentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system.—Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas, from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied. Sold by all druggists in the world.

"OLD BROWN"

IS at home, as the 21st of December, and Prof. Dougherty will call at the school house in Brooklyn township, on the last day of December, and continue one week, if he can find a place for his board in the meantime. The time is set a little later than last year, that he may spend a little longer time in Brooklyn, who have always been so liberal to him. Perhaps after thanksgiving, I may venture to spend a week in Brooklyn, for the purpose of giving the young folks a chance to learn the fun of all to take place in cold weather, and the only way to enjoy fun in cold weather is to be comfortably clothed; and the only way to be comfortably clothed, is to call on JOHN GROVES, THE COMFORTABLE TAILOR, who studies the comfort of his customers at every turn, and sells the best of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS and SILKS. Not to mention the LATEST STYLES, which I have always on hand and warranted to fellow, I wish to inform the public that I execute

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY

CLASSICAL & NORMAL SCHOOL,

Montrose, Pa., 1859.

THE Trustees are happy to announce to the Public that the next Term of this Institution will begin on Wednesday, Nov. 16, 1859,

under the continued direction of

PROF. H. BRODHEAD, B. A.,

A Graduate of Yale College, Principal, who has consented to remain. It is now probable that there will be no further interruption of the regular session of the Institution. There will be a vacation of ten days, beginning Dec. 24. The term to continue eleven weeks.

The Trustees would refer the patrons of the Institution and others to the following testimonials from the President and Professors of Yale College, to the present prosperity of the School, and to the highly complimentary resolutions passed by the Students commendatory of the successful administration of Prof. H., and expressing their gratitude at the prospect of a continuance of his valuable services:

TESTIMONIALS.

YALE COLLEGE, June 21, 1859.

Mr. Harry Brodhead, a member of this class, has recently graduated in Yale College, held a high rank in the class as a scholar. So far as I am acquainted with it, his moral character is very creditable.

THEODORE D. WOOLSEY, President Yale College.

Mr. Harry Brodhead, who belongs to the graduating class of 1859, has shown himself during the two years of his connection with the College a capable and successful scholar. Should he apply himself to the work of instruction, I have no question of his ability to justify the confidence and satisfy the expectations of any who may avail themselves of his services.

JAMES HADLEY, Professor of Greek.

Mr. H. Brodhead of the class of 1859 in Yale College is a good scholar and has a superior mind. I have little doubt that he will make an effectual and successful teacher, and can recommend him with great confidence that he will not disappoint his patrons.

NOAH PORTER,
Professor of Philosophy and Metaphysics.

Mr. H. Brodhead has just finished his course of Collegiate education and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the last commencement. As he proposes to be engaged for a time in the business of teaching, he is cheerfully recommended by the undersigned as a person well qualified by his scholarship and attainments, by his christian character and deportment, to be successful in the instruction and government of a school.

THOMAS A. THACHER, Professor of Latin.

Students may here be prepared for admission in an advanced class in any of our Colleges, and particular attention will be paid, as heretofore, to the thorough preparation of all who design to become teachers in the Normal Department.

The TEXT BOOKS heretofore used, will be continued in the School.

LECTURES on subjects of general interest will be delivered during the year.

PRICE OF TUITION, per Term of eleven weeks,
