LOCAL MATTERS.

The Fairs.—The Premium Lists of the Susquehanna County and Glenwood Fairs will appear in the REPUBLICAN next week.

Large Apple.—Mr. Elijah Brown has presented us with an apple of the variety called Pumpkin Sweets, which weighs a pound and a quarter.

Musical.—Prof. Tillotson proposes to give concerts in the principal towns of this county, this week and next. We bespeak for him a worthy reception. See announcement in our special notice department.

Grand Opening.—F. S. Pauli & Co. advertise in our columns a grand "opening" of Millinery, Furs, &c., at their store in Scranton on the Thursday, the 19th inst. Their establishment is a very large one, and their stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, and Millinery goods undoubtedly the most complete to be found in Northern Pennsylvania.

A Large Lamb.—MR. EDITOR:—In your paper of September 28th, you mention D. C Oakley of Lenox Township, as owning a lamb five months old, weighing one hundred and two pounds. Hiram Ely, of New-Milford, owns a lamb, five months and a half old, weighing one hundred and fifteen pounds.

New-Milford, Sept. 28th, 1865. HIRAM ELY.

The Shooting Affair.—We have been informed from two or three sources that the account of the shooting of young Snyder by Mr. Carey's son, in Greenfield, as published in our paper, was in some respects erroneous. The account was furnished us by I H Burns, esq., and we believe that he, like us, desired to do no injustice to any one We give this week another version of the affair, from the Carbondale Advance.

A Curiosity.—I send you what to me is a curiosity, a specimen of the second growth of the red raspberry, which was and is now to be found on Nelson Benjamin's farm, to all appearance in the same vigor and beauty of first growth. There could be, I think, several quarts picked there. I also found them in bloom as well as the berry in every stage of existence. O. R.

Bridgewater, Oct. 14th, 1865.

Barn Burned.—MR H H FRAZIER—Dear Sir: The barn of Mr. Philip Wicklizer of Auburn was burned to ashes October 13th. It was first seen afire about 6 o'clock, P. M., or about sundown. It is not yet known by what means it took fire. We have found near the haymow what appears in form to be the skull of a man. The barn contained one span of horses, oats, buckwheat, a large mow of hay, wheat, and a large number of tools, which were all consumed. We estimate the loss to be $1,500.

A Successful Fruit-Grower.—Among the exhibitors at the Fairs in this section is Mr. William Clay, of Abington, Luzerne county, one of the most extensive and successful fruit-growers in northern Pennsylvania. He raises many kinds of fruit, but grapes seem to be his specialty. On about half an acre of ground he has raised, the present season, three tons of grapes. As these sell readily, at a high price, he makes his business profitable as well as pleasant. We are pleased to see that the cultivation of grapes is rapidly gaining ground in this county

Schools for the Freedmen.—J. D. Richardson, of Waverly, formerly County Superintendent of Luzerne, has been for some time past employed by the American Missionary Association as Collecting Agent for the educational benefit of the freedmen. His field of labor embraces the counties of Luzerne, Susquehanna, Wyoming, and Bradford. He has recently been nearly over this county, meeting with good success—having collected $100 at Susquehanna Depot and Great Bend in the course of two or three days, and about as much proportionally in other places. The people appreciate the vast importance of the cause in which he is engaged, and, now that the war is over and some of their pecuniary burdens removed, they contribute freely for its advancement

Old Prices.—Occasionally a subscriber asks us if we are not going to put our subscription price down to the old figure before long. The following item from the paper market report of Friday last answers the query very well:

"Printing paper has risen materially within the past week or two. The price to-day is 19½ and 20c. per pound. It is difficult to get an order taken at an. Dealers say there is a scarcity of stock and that water is short at the mills. Letter paper is quoted at 50c., and fine flat paper at 40 and 42½c."

Under such circumstances, with paper at double its old price all the time, and often more than double, it is impossible to furnish the Republican at a lower price than the present one. When paper comes down to 7 and 8c. the question may be asked with some reason.

Soldiers' Aid.—S. M. Walker will thank the editor of the Republican to publish the following extract from Sr. B. Dunlap's letter, received this morning from Philadelphia:

"There is a constant demand at the Lodge for rags and bandages, but more particularly rags, as the discharged soldiers, who come to us, have, in most instances, unhealed wounds which require dressing, and as no supplies come to us now, our stock is quite exhausted. We applied last Winter in our city very generally for rags, and the demand was kindly met. Will you not, in Susquehanna County, help us? Please direct to '13 & Christian streets, Sanitary Lodge.'"

Packages sent to Woodbourne, or to Mrs. H J Webb, Montrose, will be forwarded with grateful pleasure.

Woodbourne, 10th mo. 4th, 1865.

"Question of Veracity."—The following appeared in our paper last week:

"Even the Montrose Republican supports Landon because it fears to do otherwise—for we have it upon good authority that C Frazier, said, 'We hate to put Landon's name at the head of the Republican, but I suppose we shall have to do it'

An anonymous item in the Republican contradicts this, and indulges in the usual dirty slang of that sheet. Why did not C. Frazier deny it over his signature? Our informant is a Republican; our statement of Frazier's declaration is true and correct; we can prove it, we shall print the name of our informant when he dares to deny his words."—Montrose Democrat.

MR EDITOR:—The gentleman of the Democrat seems to be anxious to have me deny my words. I do not propose to do that; but I am willing to deny, and do deny, most unqualifiedly, ever having said "We hate to put Landon's name at the head of the Republican, but I suppose we shall have to do it."

CHAS. H. FRAZIER.

Mailing Matter Outside of the Post Office.—The Post Office Department at Washington is notifying the postmasters generally that the penalties fixed by law for carrying letters outside of the mails, when not enclosed in Government stamped envelopes, will be rigidly enforced hereafter in every instance where violations are known to exist. Many persons have been in the habit of mailing their letters on the cars, on the steamboats, omnibuses, docks, &c., because it was more convenient to do so than to deposit them in the post office. Sometimes it was especially convenient to do so, after the mails at the post office are closed But the law against the practice is very plain. The reason of it is that not only does the Government suffer from the loss of the carriage, but mail agents and mail carriers have no cancelling apparatus to destroy stamps with, and neither have they rating scales with which to determine the amount of postage that should be paid on a letter, and hence it often happens that the uncancelled stamps have been used again and again by dishonest persons.

Death of Nelson Snyder.—The death of Nelson Snyder, son of John G Snyder of Greenfield, by a shot fired near Mr. Lehman Carey's residence in the same town, on Friday evening, September 22nd, we noticed briefly last week We are seldom called upon to record an occurrence so shocking and lamentable in every point of view. The parties are all of the highest respectability, and young Snyder, just arrived at his majority, was a young man universally esteemed, and more exemplary than the average of young men. His father, John G. Snyder, with whom he lived, and Lehman Carey, father of young Moses Carey, a lad aged about fourteen, who fired the shot, are both thriving farmers, are near neighbors, entirely friendly toward each other, and we add exemplary members of the same church.

The latter, Lehman Carey, has a peach orchard, in bearing the present season, and peaches being a rare in that vicinity, the neighboring boys and young men of the town had given him much annoyance by depredations in the orchard during the night for some time back. Outraged by these annoyances and losses, Mr. Carey it seems placed his young son Moses in the orchard with a gun to watch. In the dusk of the evening young Snyder, who is said not to have been one of the previous trespassers, passing the orchard got over the fence and advanced along, until he was shot by young Carey.—He died almost instantly. Between 20 and 30 shot entered his body, several of which it is said would singly have produced death.

A warrant was issued on the following day, Saturday, by Wm Root, esq., of this city, on oath of John McLaughlin, for Moses Carey and his father. They were brought to the Alderman's office on Saturday evening, about 11 o'clock, and an examination had.

The following witnesses were examined for the Commonwealth, by P. C. Gritman, esq., counsel for the prosecution: K. M. Burdick, Joseph Utley, Warren Cramer, Andrew Wedeman, John A. Hivenburg, Nicholas Young, Henry Spencer, and Philip Felts. No defence was made—the defendants seeming as grief stricken at the sad affair as any one of those afflicted by it.

The witnesses testified to the admission of young Moses, that he was watching in the peach orchard with a gun for the depredators that had been stealing their peaches. That when he saw a person coming into the orchard, not knowing who it was, he fired, the shot killing him, and the victim proved to be Nelson Snyder.

One witness testified to an admission of Lehman Carey, the father, that he had told his son to shoot if any one came into the orchard

The defendants were committed and taken to Wilkes-Barre during Sunday night.

An examination was held at Wilkes-Barre before his Honor, Judge Conyngham, on Wednesday, as the result of which the parties were admitted to bail, bail accepted, and they have returned home. Both of the thus sadly stricken families have the sympathies of the community.—Carbondale Advance.

Returned Soldiers of Susquehanna County.—The great and glorious work for which we left our homes and our firesides, our wives, our children, our parents, and our friends, is accomplished, and the Old Flag again floats to the breeze from every hilltop, and in every valley, throughout the length and breadth of the thirty-six United States, a warning alike to foreign foes and domestic traitors.

You have nobly done your work, and have, under God, been permitted to return to the bosom of your families, although some of you are perhaps disabled for life. Yet your scars are honorable, for they were received in your country's service.

Many, by far too many of our comrades who went forth with us, to fight for our Flag and the preservation of the Government, are left to fill Martyrs' graves, causing sadness and sorrow among scores of once happy home circles.

Let us resolve that their memories shall be held sacred in our hearts, who have survived the hardships and carnage that have caused them to be thus stricken down, and let us also be true to each other, binding ourselves each to the other in the bonds of fraternal regard, as fervently as we were united in fighting the battles of our Country for mutual liberty and mutual rights against a wicked and united enemy.

And for the purpose of carrying out such a design, and as a matter of local history, I suggest the propriety of meeting together at some future day, and forming ourselves into a Soldiers Association for Susquehanna County, and preparing for ourselves a Book of Record, in which to be recorded the name of each and every man who has been mustered into the service of the United States and has been regularly or honorably discharged therefrom, or has been killed in battle, or died from disease contracted in the service, and also setting forth the battles engaged in, the wounds and injuries received, &c.

The record to contain, also, the names of those who went out to defend the State of Pennsylvania in the summer of 1863, who were mustered into the State or National Service.

Hoping to hear the opinions of many others on the subject, I am truly Yours,

A RETURNED SOLDIER.

Important Decision—Taxes of Agricultural Societies.—Under the last amendments of the Excise Law, some assessors have supposed that agricultural societies, State, county or other, are obliged to pay a license fee for holding their exhibitions, and a tax of two per cent upon the gross receipts therefrom. Col. B. P. Johnson, Secretary of the N. Y State Agricultural Society, having applied to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington, for an authoritative decision on the subject, hands us the following reply just received:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, Sept. 9, 1865.

Sir—In reply to yours of 25th inst., I have to say that as Agricultural Fairs are not held for pecuniary profit to the managers or others, but rather as a means of promoting the agricultural interests of the country, they are not considered as coming within par. 80 of sec. 79 of the Excise Law, and are regarded as exempt from license duty. They are also exempt from taxation upon gross receipts, under section 108. Very respectfully, E. A. ROLLINS,
Dep. Commissioner.

B. P. JOHNSON, Sec'ry, Albany.

Where, however, horse trotting forms a part of an agricultural show, the Society is thereby rendered liable for both the license tax and the tax of two per cent. upon their gross receipts, as was decided by the Commissioner under date of July 5th, in response to the following letter from an assessor in New Hampshire:

The "Littleton Fair Ground Company" own a Trotting course and generally have more or less trots within the year, charging an admission fee. Their Exhibition in the fall is an Agricultural Show including "Horse Trot." Should they not be required to pay for $10 license, by the terms of Item 89, Section 79, and should they be required to return and pay on their gross receipts the two per centum? See sections 108 and 109.

Respectfully yours,
B. LOVELL,
Assessor 3d District New Hampshire.

Both these questions where answered in the affirmative, thus showing the discrimination in rendering the law, as between purely agricultural shows, and those which include the trotting of horses—a discrimination which seems to us entirely just, since when this feature is added for the sake of drawing in a crowd or otherwise, it is proper that the privilege should be paid for But on what are solely and legitimately agricultural, horticultural and domestic exhibitions there is no tax to be assessed.—Country Gentleman.

Musical Entertainments.—PROFESSOR TILLOTSON has the pleasure of announcing to the people of Susquehanna county that he intends visiting the boroughs and townships of the county for the purpose of giving a series of musical entertainments—He will visit New Milford, Great Bend, and Susquehanna Depot this week. The Republican of each week will contain a notice of the appointment for the current week. For particulars, see bills.

The Soap.—The J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap is one of those articles that should be in every household, and the lady who neglects to furnish herself or domestics with it, loses a boon which it will be impossible to find a substitute for. It takes less in quantity, and washes as no other soap can do. It makes rough hands smooth, and softens and whitens the skin, as well as making clothes look so white. Try it.

Elevated Taste.—Bulwer Lytton says that a refined gentleman may always be known by the perfumes he uses. In American Society it is recognized as a mark of elevated taste to patronize Phalon's "Night Blooming Cereus" Its purity, freshness, and delicacy commend it to all persons of poetic taste and feeling. Sold everywhere.

Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs.—Having taken some pains to satisfy ourselves respecting the merits of these new instruments, we are able to speak very confidently in regard to them, and to recommend them heartily to our readers. We have not found any difference in the opinions entertained of them by musicians; all value them highly, and all agree that their superiority to all other instruments of the class, American or foreign, is indisputable.—New York Examiner.

He established for himself and family a comfortable home, notwithstanding the many obstacles of a new country; and, among neighbors and friends, had a good name for honesty and uprightness; and at the last, with his work done, longed for the hour of departure.
