Coffee, Tea and Indigo.

A writer in the Nation Intelligencer estimates the value of the Coffee consumed in the United States, England and France, at $59,000,000; Tea in Europe and America at $36,000,000, and Indigo $21,000,000. He states that the genuine Tea tree, in its full perfection grows to a height of forty to fifty feet, and is cultivated from lat. 570 deg. to 32 deg. north latitude, under severe frosts and snows, and many of the mountains high upon whose sides the plant grows, are capped with perpetual snow. The idea that Tea will only flourish in a hot climate appears to be erroneous. He recommends the cultivation of both Tea and Indigo, for which the climate and soil of different sections of this country are well adapted. He says:—

Tea can be produced in this country under seven cents a pound, calculating labor at fifty cents per diem. A tea plantation requires care the first and second years, after which it is a most hard plant, and will yield tea for 25 to 30 years. So the only trouble is plucking the leaves and drying them, which is labor for women and children. A man actively engaged ten hours in the day may collect 50 to 60 lbs. of green leaf, and another would manufacture them, and the quantity of dried tea would be 12 1-2 to 15 lbs. A fair plantation would produce 300 lbs. per acre. I have made as much as 480 lbs. per acre in the year on some land I held on the west of China.

Of Indigo he is equally sanguine, and denies that its cultivation is unhealthy; nor is that its character where it is known and cultivated.—He is of opinion that it can be produced here under 30 cents per lb. Prices of Indigo for the last forty years vary from $1 to $2 per lb.

Cassius M. Clay's Opinion of Pierce.

Col. Clay, who was in the Mexican war, thus writes to the Louisville Journal, of Gen. Pierce.

"I take pleasure, in addition to the official reports in regard to Gen. Pierce, to say that there was but one opinion of Gen. Pierce, so far as I learned, among the officers of all parties in Mexico. No considerations ought whatever to cause injustice to be done any one.—As a political opponent, though personal friend of Gen. Pierce, I add my humble testimony to his high worth, intelligence and gallantry."

☞ There has been much excitement in New York, for the past few days, growing out of the case of Kaine, an Irishman claimed by the British authorities as a fugitive from justice. It appears that he killed his landlord, who made some kind of an assault upon him, and then fled to the United States. He has been on trial in New York, preparatory to sending him back to England. Monday last an attempt was made to rescue him from the police while conveying him from the Court room to the prison. The attempt failed, tho' many persons were seriously injured.

Littell's Living Age.—An Irish story entitled "Pardoroughe, the Miser," now being published in this Standard work, is the most capital tale we ever read. It is much superior to one we gave in the Democrat a year since, from the same Magazine, entitled Grace Kennedy. Littell & Co., Boston—$6 a year, weekly.

☞ Another fire occurred at Susquehanna Depot last week, commencing in the Bakery of Messrs McKune & Smith. We have no particulars of the extent of loss.

From Baltimore.

Riot—Several Men shot—Negro Convention mobbed—Portsmouth Bank Robbers, etc.

Baltimore July 23, 1852.

Yesterday morning a terrible riot took place between the United and New Market fire companies.

The fight occurred in Baltimore street, and lasted for three hours. Upwards of one hundred pistol shots were fired. One of the participants was shot in the mouth, and disfigured for life. A respectable merchant named Didier, and a Mr. Sparks, a member of the New Market Company, were also shot and are not expected to recover. A man named Hinton was likewise shot, but not seriously injured.

A convention of delegates of free colored people of Maryland, to consult on removal to Liberia, was in session to-day. There was a great excitement against them among the lower class of negroes, and the hall was mobbed outside. The members of the convention were protected from assault by the police. Several however, were caught and beaten, among whom was Rev. Darius Stokes. Some arrests were made. All the counties in the State were largely represented. The organization was completed, and the convention adjourned till to-morrow morning.

John and Abraham W. Rand have had a hearing under the writ of habeas corpus. The judge refused to discharge, and remanded them to jail, to answer the charge of robbing the Portsmouth Bank.

OBSEQUIES OF HENRY CLAY.

EASTON, Pa., July 26, 1852.

The obsequies to the memory of Henry Clay were celebrated here to-day. A civic and military procession was formed and marched to St. John's church, where a eulogy was pronounced by A. E. Brown.

Two young men of Moyamensing, named William Gallagher and Anthony McCann, drank off more than a pint of liquor each, for a wager, on Saturday night, and Gallagher died this morning from the effects.

BATTLE WITH THE CAMANCHE INDIANS—AMERICANS KILLED.

New Orleans, July 26, 1852.

Dates from Fort Smith, Arkansas, state that 2000 Camanche Indians had attacked and killed Capt. Marcy and his whole command of eighty men. The Indians are reported to be gathering in large numbers.

FROM THE FAR WEST.

Louisville, July 24, 1852.

We learn that Captain Lowe, brother-in-law of the late Governor Calhoun, recently arrived at St. Louis, with a party of Puebla Indians, en route for Washington.

He reports the emigrants on the plains as generally doing well.

The scurvy still prevailed among the American population in New Mexico.

RAILROAD COLLISION—A LADY INJURED.

Baltimore, July 26, 1852.

A collision took place between two passenger trains on the Baltimore and Susquehanna railroad this morning, near Monkton. Two cars were broken to pieces. Miss Fetherman, of Pittsburg, received several severe contusions and bruises on the head. The other passengers escaped with slight bruises. Their escape was wonderful; one car being driven nearly through another.

TWO MEN RESCUED FROM DEATH IN A WELL BY COLD WATER.—The Fond du Lac (Michigan) Journal relates an extraordinary case of the preservation of the lives of two men from suffocation in a well, by the application of cold water. It appears that a German descended a well for some purpose not stated, and when at the bottom, a depth of 36 feet, he was nearly suffocated by the damp, and unable to get out. Another man fastened a rope to his body and in descending, he too became senseless. A waggoner happening along just at that time, bethought himself of applying cold water, which was thrown down freely, and the men revived so that by dropping them a rope they were pulled out, black in the face and almost dead. By constant rubbing and drenching with cold water they were finally restored.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—A few weeks since, while Mr. SAMUEL ROBERTS, living in the upper part of Pike County, was unyoking his oxen to escape a Thunder storm about commencing, was, with his team felled to the earth, by the lightning. It struck a tree a few rods from him, passed out of a small knot hole, and it is supposed the chain attracted the fluid. It passed down his body—rending his pantaloons, boots, &c., but doing no actual injury to his person.—He was insensible for a few moments, when he and the oxen arose and retired from the field, no doubt with the reflection uppermost, "that a miss is as good as a mile."

Died,

In Rush, on the 16th inst., ASAHEL MAYNARD, aged 86.

At the residence of Judge Lathrop, in Bridgewater, on the morning of the 21st of July, Mrs. THERESA J. AVERY, consort of S. H. Avery, and daughter of the late Hubbard Avery, of this place, in the 26th year of her age.

The subject of this notice recently returned from Michigan, where she had resided for the past few years. Her fast declining health warned her of approaching dissolution. Being conscious that the chords of life would soon be severed; she manifested a great desire to return to her native home, that her dust might mingle with her friends. Although scarcely able to endure the journey; she made the effort and succeeded to reach her home, where she survived but a few weeks. She endured her sufferings with much patience to the last, trusting in God as her only source for refuge. During her sickness she had been blessed with great presence of mind, and made ovefy arrangement necessary for her burial services. She, some three weeks before her death, selected the text she wished to be taken for her funeral sermon: "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and Eternal weight of glory." Her last words were "tell my friends I die happy." Thus quietly and composedly, in presence of her husband and mother, she breathed her last.

"Sleep, loved and lost one, sleep
Beneath the quiet sod;
With faith and hope, and prayer,
We gave thee up to God."

Life of Gen. Frank Pierce,
OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,

Candidate of the Democracy for President of the United States, by D. W. Bartlett,

Author of "What I saw in London, or Men and Things in the great Metropolis," in an elegant 12 mo vol. of 300 pages, with an accurate portrait of General Pierce.

The effort has the sanction of the distinguished subject of the memoir, whose sudden and unexpected elevation from a private citizen to the proud position of the leader of the Democratic party; and, as the Democracy confidently believe, soon to be elevated by them to the most honorable post in the world—Chief Magistrate of the United States—creates a desire on the part of every American to know the particulars of his life.

THE WONDERS OF ART!

(THE NECESSITY OF GOING TO Binghamton OBVIATED!)

What hath magic power to trace
Beauty's lovely form and grace,
Or the plainest, homeliest face?
Daguerreotype!

What can infant smiles engage—
Duplicate K'e's middle stage,
Or the hoary hairs of age?
Daguerreotype!

What attracts the lover's eye,
Calling forth a tell-tale sigh,
Though the loved one be not nigh?
Daguerreotype!

What gives comfort to the heart
When our dearest friends depart?
'Tis this wonder-working art—
Daguerreotype!

This a hallowed feeling lends,
And for absence makes amends,
When we hold some cherished friend's
Daguerreotype.

Then why need you longer stay?
Come! there's danger in delay;
Have your pictures drawn to-day,
And you'll be prepared to say

That there is truth, if not poetry, in the above lines; and that at the

DAGUERREOTYPE ROOMS OF W. B. DEANS

is the place to get a faithful and pleasing portrait. The artist takes this opportunity to tender his grateful acknowledgments to the patrons of his Art—trusting that his efforts to please, in the past, will ensure his success in the future.

To his former facilities he has now added an improved Half-size Camera, by the aid of which he is prepared to take groups, or single pictures, in a superior manner.

A new and beautiful variety of plain and fancy cases—Turtle shell, Papier Mache, and other splendid styles, of various sizes and patterns; gold and plated Lockets, &c.

You who have beauty! come and let me take it! You who have none! pray come and let me make it.
