Mr. Reed, of your city, replied to him; he said 'this Convention was willing to abide the issue which the honorable gentlemen from Alleghany had raised, that as the question was now whether Fillmore or Johnston should be endorsed, he believed there was nationality enough left to keep us from the folly of repudiating the nomination of the National Convention and following after strange gods.' Gen. Small asked the ex-Governor where was his 'great love for subordination about which he spoke so eloquently in the morning session—he then dwelt with almost reverence upon obedience to the constituted authority, but now, within a few hours, he asserted, that if this State body, owing allegiance to the National Convention, should re-affirm the nomination, fairly made by the highest offices in the gift of the people of the United States, he would cease his connection with the party.'

After a full and free interchange of feelings and opinions, the national nominations were endorsed by more than a two-third vote, whereupon the ex-Governor and nine others "bolted again." If they are not the finest of wheat, it won't be because they are not sufficiently bolted. It has become fashionable now-a-days for disappointed men to bolt, draw around them a few followers, and seeking refuge in some cave of Engeddi, wait their turns.

It will be said that Philadelphia ruled the Convention; it is not the fact, there were but fifteen delegates from the city; it was by the solid American feeling of the State at large that the conservative course was adopted today. There is no disguising Pennsylvania's feeling upon the sweeping away of the time honored Missouri Compromise, yet Pennsylvania is loyal to the Constitution and Union; her sons are not willing to risk the fearful evils of anarchy and foreign supremacy, in blindly following the guidance of a few desperate men, who have staked their political life upon the 'hazard of a die.' The news from the State at large is encouraging. The delegates felt that Millard Fillmore would place himself right in regard to the Missouri Compromise, that the sober reflection of the citizens would point unerringly to Fillmore and Donelson as the standard bearers in the approaching national contest.

Yours, as ever, ALPHA.

N. B.—One of the bolting delegates of to-day was a bolter on the 22d of February.—His Carlisle council rebuked him for his course, then, appointed a successor as representative; but he presented himself upon his old credentials, obtained his seat, and now is among the pure patriots who will rally the unterrified interior men to the support of a Northern sectional candidate.

THE K. N'S. OF MASS. AND THE PRESIDENCY.—The American State Council met at Boston May 6th; one hundred and forty nine Councils were represented by two hundred and seventy-eight delegates. On the second ballot M. M. G. Cobb, of the Governors Council, a Fillmore, was elected President, having one hundred and fifty-eight to one hundred and sixteen; for Lieutenant Governor, Benckley, anti-Fillmore. The officers of Council were also elected by the party opposed to Fillmore. Mr. White, of Medway, offered resolutions repudiating the nomination of Fillmore; the resolutions were laid on the table, by a decided majority. Mr. Ely, of Newton, offered resolutions in favor of the American party, endeavoring to save the State in the coming election, by allowing each member to vote as he thinks best, in presidential matters. A long debate ensued, during which the Anti-Fillmorites declared that a failure to repudiate the present National nominations would destroy the American party in Massachusetts. The announcement that New Hampshire had repudiated Fillmore, was received with cheers, groans, and hisses. The Ely resolutions were laid on the table, to be taken up at nine o'clock. The Fillmore delegates left the house; they will probably issue a call for a convention to elect delegates to the New York Convention of July 14th.

TEACHERS FOR SEED.—Should they be cut or uncut.

Last year I tried an experiment on a small scale to try to settle for my own satisfaction a least, this much agitated question among farmers. I planted ten hills of potatoes with cut seed and ten hills with uncut seed. They were planted at the same time, in precisely similar soil, manure and cultivated alike, and in every respect they were managed alike, and in the same way, so as to arrive at a result which might be perfectly reliable.

The result was as follows: the product of the ten hills planted with cut seed, weighed 22¾ lbs, and the product of the ten hills planted with the uncut seed was 25¾ lbs—making a difference of three pounds in favor of uncut or whole seed.

But as cut seed will go more than twice as far as whole seed, in order to make the experiment most strictly and practically useful, the expense of the seed itself, must be taken into the account. This experiment seems therefore to determine, that it is best to use whole seed, except where the seed itself is very expensive. I am well aware that no general principle can be safely drawn from a single experiment; I wish, therefore, that intelligent and observing farmers would, during the present spring, still further test this question, by the most accurate and thorough trials, so that the farming interest may be no longer kept in suspense, upon what would seem to be one of the simplest questions in agriculture.

Farmers to your Interest.

A rare chance to make from 12 to 25 or 30 per cent. on your investment.

THE subscriber is prepared to furnish Threshing machines and various other Agricultural implements, not to be surpassed by any in this country, from the well known and long established Manufactory of Wheeler, Mellick & Co. Albany, N. Y. There are but a few farmers in this county, but what can realise the above per cent. or more, as the horse power can be applied to sawing wood, in log or otherwise, churning, cutting stalks, straw, and hay &c., and various other uses too numerous to mention. For several reasons I can make it an object for those wishing to purchase, to call upon me and have their orders filled. I have the freight so arranged that the transportation is but a mere trifle.—All implements warranted to be and to perform as recommended, (see large hand bills.) I can also furnish machinery from other manufactors if desired. Now is your time to send orders and your machines will be in readiness at harvest.

Better Late than Never.
New Goods at the Upsonville Exchange.

THE subscriber is happy to inform his friends and patrons that he has just received a choice lot of Goods, direct from New York, consisting, in part, of Dry Goods, Groceries, Crockery, Hardware, Stoneware, Fish, Nails, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, Bonnets, Umbrellas, Wall Paper, Window Shades, Ready-made Clothing, Yankee Notions, &c. &c., which he will sell as cheap for ready pay, especially for cash as can be bought at any other establishment in the county. That is to say that he will not be beat by any braggingJEWS OR GENTILES.

He also wishes to say a word to his customers and others, in relation to the way some mean folks do their business. If they have socks, Cabbages, or Turnips or anything else unanswerable that they wish to dispose of they will take them to the store in their own town and fairly or unfairly force the merchant to buy them, and if they have money to pay for Goods, they will go to Binghamton or some other place to spend it, and then report around how much cheaper they can buy Goods away from home than they can at home. All I have to say to such customers is come to me with your cash and if I have any Goods you want, I can and will sell them to you at prices perfectly astonishing.

Map of Susquehanna County, Pa.,
From actual measurements and Surveys, under direction of G. M. Hopkins, Civil Engineer, Philad'a.

THE subscriber proposes to publish shortly, by subscription (provided a sufficient number of subscribers can be obtained) a new and complete Map of Susquehanna County, to be made from entirely new and original surveys throughout the County and plotted to a large scale so as to show distinctly the public roads, township lines, County Stores and Taverns, Smith Shops, School houses, Churches, Post Offices, Shops, Manufactories, Quarries and other matter of public interest, with the usual topography of Mountains, Hills, Rivers, Creeks, &c. The names of property holders and residents generally, carefully including all those in the county who subscribe in advance for the map will be engraved opposite their houses, upon the map.

A separate plan of Montrose and seat of the larger villages will also be made to a large scale with names of subscribers opposite their residences. Views of Public Buildings and Private residences engraved in the margin.

The map to be handsomely engraved and ornamentally finished in the style of the Maps of Tioga and Broome Counties, in N. Y. State, by the same publisher and the same engravers and to contain about 18 square feet of engraving handsomely colored by townships, and mounted on rollers, delivered to subscribers at $5 per copy.

The subscriber relies upon the patronage of the intelligent and enterprising citizens of Susquehanna County to sustain him in the production of a work of such magnitude and expense, and respectfully solicits their co-operation.

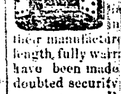
FIRE PROOFS.



THE SALAMANDER SAFES of Philadelphia against the world.—Evans & Watson, No. 26 south Fourth street, Philadelphia, have had the surest demonstration in the following Certificates, that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them, as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element:

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON:—Gents:—It affords us the highest satisfaction to state to you that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of you some few months since, we saved a large portion of our Jewelry, Books, Papers, &c., exposed to the calamitous fire in Ranstead Place, on the morning of the 11th inst.

When we reflect that these Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of the valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.

We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure reliance against fire. GEORGE W. SIMONS & BRO.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—I have to offer you my testimony in favor of the great security afforded to my entire stock of Jewelry, books, papers, &c., during the recent disastrous conflagration in Ranstead place, from the fact that the same were contained in two of the Salamander Safes.

With my knowledge of its great exposure, both to the intensity of the heat from so hot a fire as that which destroyed the Artisan Building, as also from the force of the fall from its fourth elevation, to the third story, I could hardly indulge hopes prior to its introduction, that the contents which I once so highly prized, would survive so severe a test. I feel it only due to say to you that I can henceforth recommend the use of your Safes to all who may wish to feel a confidence in the perfect security which such means provides against so frightful an element.

Terrible Accident,

HAPPENED to Mr. Green the other day.—He had bought a suit of ready-made clothes at the Store, and the first day's wearing the accident occurred. First, off dropt his coat-tail by the mere force of specific gravity, giving to unfortunate man the appearance of a badly trimmed craft with the flying jib in the stern, and on stooping over to pick up the remnant, the dreadful casualty took place—the fountains of the great deep were broken up—Green's pants were sundered from ankle to waist, and Green himself seemed to be. The only way to prevent such deplorable accidents is to patronize a skillful tailor, who makes up his work with a determination that it shall not only fit neatly, but wear well. Green buys at the clothing store because he thinks he can get his gearing a little cheaper. In all probability the pants that served him so treacherously had passed through a fever hospital, been striped from a cholera patient, carried home eight nights in the week on a shutter, and finally bleached and carried by an ingenious Frenchman for a market in the country. Take warning by poor Green's mishap, and go to a tailor shop like that in the basment of Searle's Hotel if you want to be suited.

☞ Cutting done as usual, and all work warranted. JOHN GROVES.

Montrose, April 24, 1856.

Map of Susquehanna County, from actual Measurement, and Surveys throughout the County.

By a Corps of Surveyors who are fully Competent for the difficult task assigned them.

The undersigned will publish shortly, provided a sufficient number of subscribers be obtained a new and complete map of Susquehanna County.

It countains the names of property holders generally, (including those in the county who subscribe in advance for the Map) are also to be inserted at their respective places, in the style of the Maps exhibited by the canvassers.

Maps of the principal villages will be inserted, on a large scale, in the margin; also engraved views of public and private buildings. The county Officers, who express themselves warmly in favor of the publication, will afford every facility in their power, and impart all the information in their possession in relation to new Roads laid

All the public Roilroads, Crossings and Stations, Churches, Post Offices, School Houses Stores, Mills, Public and Private Houses, Cemeteries, Manufactories, &c., &c., are to be shown on the Map, in addition to the usual topography of Rivers, Streams, Ponds and out or approved, after the completion of the surveys, so that the Map will show all the alterations and improvements in the high ways up to the time of its issue.

No expense will be spared to execute Map in the highest style of art. The plan will be plotted on a suitable scale, so as to show distinctly all the particulars above specified, and make a large and ornamental Map. To be engraved and delivered to subscribers, handsomely colored so as to show the territory comprised in each township, and mounted on rollers. As the Map will contain some eighteen square feet of engraving, at a cost of several thousand dollers, it will be seen that only a large subscription list will warrant the heavy expense incurred.

THE MAPS ARE SOLD ONLY BY SUBSCRIPTION, AND AT ONLY ONE PRICE.

No more Maps issued than is subscribed for.—The Map will contain tables of the population, productions, assessed value of property, religous societies, school, number of voters, &c., of each township and village respectively, carefully made up from the latest authentic documents.

Relying upon a just appreciation of our efforts, by the citizens of Susquehana to issue a Map of their County,
