TOO RICH FOR WHEAT.

We hear told lately, by a farmer, whose experience lies in one of the finest districts of Maryland, that the most uncertain portions of the lands of his neighborhood, for wheat, were those which were richest, viz: the bottom lands. He spoke of the clover fallow of a neighboring farm which averaged forty-two bushels of wheat to the acre, on a fifty acre field, and thought that this would not be an unusual thing but for the uncertainty of the bottom lands. When they yield well the result was always a heavy crop, but the average was often greatly reduced by their failure. The hills and hill sides very seldom failed. This result as to the bottom lands did not take place when corn was the crop; with this there was rarely a failure. Our friend had formed the opinion that land might be too rich for wheat, but not for corn.

When we called to mind how often crops of this grain had, elsewhere, even exceeded the heavy average named, that sixty and even seventy bushels have been often reached, we could not concur in this opinion. But the fact may be well accounted for, we think, by imperfect drainage.—There is always, as is very apparent, excess of moisture, even in the driest of such lands. In the summer season there may not be more than sufficient for a heavy crop of corn, but in winter it will be very likely to cause the throwing out of the wheat in freezing and thawing, and especially subject it in summer to destruction by rust.

It will be remarked that what is here vacant is not land in any degree swampy, for no one would think of putting wheat in such land. It is quite dry enough, in all ordinary seasons, to plow well, and sufficiently drained to draw the water readily from the surface, but there is too much moisture in the sub-soil, and when the sun gets much power in the early summer, it makes just the condition of things favorable to rust. Moreover, the wheat is always more succulent here and keeps green longer; both circumstances favoring the attacks of rust. We should be glad to see experiments made in draining these bottoms.

USE OF SALT.

Speaking of these bottom land, and their being too rich for wheat, supposing it is not, as we suggest, excess of moisture, it may be that their over luxuriance may be checked by the use of salt.

Mr. John Johnston, writing to the editor of the Genesee Farmer, June the 8th, says: "I did last year what I never did before; that was plowing up wheat stubble and sowing again with wheat. It is a respectable looking crop now, but if you saw the half of the field that I sowed salt on, say a full barrel to the acre, I am almost sure you would order forty or fifty barrels of second quality of salt to sow in September or October. The salted wheat stands much thicker on the ground, is considerably taller, came in ear fully four days before the other, and altogether looks richer every way; and as I had not enough to sow the whole field, I sowed the half that has hitherto brought the worst crop, and latest in ripening. Now it is much the best. I can stand in the middle of the field and look forty five rods each way, and see distinctly how far the salt came; or I can ride or walk down the side of the field not salted, and see the line as plainly as if on the one side was corn, and the other wheat. If this won't make men experiment with salt I don't know what will."

The editor of the Farmer has not much faith in the efficiency of salt, except on rich land. What his poor land needs, he says, is ammonia and phosphoric acid, and salt will supply neither. Mr. Johnston, he says, has been applying these to his lands for years, in the shape of rich manure made from clover and oil cake.

Salt may be made very useful in economising manures, as directed in the Gardener's Chronicle: Dissolve common salt in water, sprinkle the same over your manure heap and the volatile parts of the ammonia will become fixed salts from their being united with the muriatic acid of the common salt and the soda, thus liberated from the salt, will quickly absorb carbonic acid, forming carbonate of soda; thus you will retain with your manure the ammonia that would otherwise fly away, and you have also a new and most important agent introduced, viz: the carbonate of soda, which is a powerful solvent of all vegetable fibre.

It is matter of surprise that opinions among scientific as well as practical men should be so unsettled as to a substance so familiar as common salt. It would be well to have it freely experimented with, and we especially wish to see its effects tested on the bottom grounds considered too rich for wheat.—Baltimore Sun.

RAISING PLANTS FROM CUTTINGS.

Peter Henderson, of Jersey City, a noted propagator, gives a simple mode of raising plants from cuttings, such as roses, verbenas, fuchsias, carnations, &c., adapted to inexperienced cultivators, although not the mode used on an extended scale. A common flourpot saucer, or even a common kitchen saucer or other dish, is filled with sand, and the cuttings thickly inserted in it. It is then watered until it becomes about as liquid as mud. The cuttings should of course be of the green or unripened wood, three or four inches long, placed in a strong light in a room or greenhouse, kept in a temperature of 50° to 80° but best at 75°, allowed to remain from ten to 20 days, till rooted, and the sand kept constantly in this semifluid state, for it they become partly dry they are ruined.

One Gold and Silver Watch Manufactory, Two Immense Jewelry Establishments, One Silver Plating Warehouse, One Gold Pen and Pencil Maker,

To be disposed of with dispatch

WITHOUT REGARD TO COST!

The Goods are of fashionable styles and most excellent workmanship, and are sacrificed in this manner to enable the proprietors from embarrassment occasioned by a distracting civil war. It should be prominently stated, also, that they are mostly of and therefore greatly superior to the goods imported from abroad and hawked about as the cheapest over sold. The simple duty on imported watches, and the high premium on Gold (all foreign bills are payable in gold) amount to more than the entire cost of many of the articles offered by us to the public. To facilitate the sale will be charged for any article on our list, and the sum the purchaser need not pay until he knows what he is buying. This plan accords with the method recently become so popular for disposing of large stock of Jewelry at all similar productions.

THE PLAN IS SIMPLE!

The name of each article offered for sale—as "Gold Hunting Watch," "Gold Oval Band Bracelet," "Pearl Breastpin and Ear-Drops," "Gold Enameled Ring," "Olive Plated Cake Basket," &c., is written on a card and enclosed in a sealed envelope; these envelopes are then placed in a drawer and well mixed; then as an order is received, with twenty five cents for return postage and other char es, one of the cards or a ticket is taken at random and sent by first mail to the customer, who will see at once what he can get for the dollar. The business and Previous Delicacy, the best the money according to directions on the certificate and secure the prize. If the article awarded should be unsuited to the purchaser—as for example a set of Pearl Ear-Drops and Breastpin to a young man who could not wear them, and had no one to give them to—we will send any other article on the catalogue of equal price which may be preferred. Or if, for any reason, you choose to venture no further, then you can let the matter drop where it is and spend no more. Examine carefully our Catalogue!

The peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and allows the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases which it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz. purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does some virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies of the victims for more than any other subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its control. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Large quantities of foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood: purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.
