FOR THE DEMOCRAT.

Christmas.

"In what year this salutary light—(Christ)—rose upon the world, the most persevering efforts of the learned have not been able fully to ascertain.—Nor will this surprise us, if we consider that the earliest Christians knew not the day of their Saviour's birth, and judged differently on the subject. But of what consequence is it that we know not the year or day when this light first shone, since we fully know that it has appeared? Most of the opinions of the learned, concerning the year of Christ's birth, are collected by J. A. Fabricius, Bibliographia Antiquar, cap. vii, p. 187.

"The birth of Christ was first made an era, from which to reckon dates, by Dionysius Exiguus, about A.D. 532. He supposed Christ to have been born in the year of Rome 763, and this computation has been followed in practice to this day, notwithstanding the learned are well agreed that it is incorrect. To ascertain the true time of Christ's birth, there are two principal data afforded by the Evangelists. 1st. It is clear from Matthew, 2, 1st v., &c., that Christ was born before the death of Herod the Great, who died about Easter in the year of Rome 749 or 750, (see Lardner, Part 1st, Vol. 2d, app.) Now if Christ was born in the December next before Herod's death, it must have been in the year of Rome 749, and of course four, if not five years anterior to the Dionysian, or vulgar era. 2d. It is probable from Luke 3d—1v., 2v., 23v., that Jesus was about 30 years of age in the 15th year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar. Now the reign of Tiberius may be considered as commencing at the time he became sole Emperor, in August of the year of Rome 767, or (as there is some reason to suppose that Augustus made him partner in the government two years before he died,) we may begin his reign in the year of Rome 765. The 15th year of Tiberius will therefore be either the year of Rome 781 or 779, from which to deduct 30, and we have the year of Rome 751 or 749, for Christ's birth. The former two years, and the latter four years earlier than the Dionysian computation. Comparing the results with those obtained from the death of Herod, it is generally supposed the true time of Christ's birth was the year of Rome 749, or four years before the vulgar era. But the conclusion is not certain, because there is uncertainty in the data. (1.) It is not certain that we ought to reckon Tiberius' reign as beginning two years before the death of Augustus. (2.) Luke says about 30 years of age. This is indefinite, and may be understood as 29, 30, or 31 years. (3.) It is not certain in which of the two years mentioned, Herod died; nor how long before that event Christ was born. It appears very evident that Herod did not know the precise time of Christ's birth, therefore he slew all the children that were in Bethlehem and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under. (See Mat. ii—16.)

"In relation to the month and day of the Saviour's birth, we are left almost wholly to conjecture. The disagreement of the early Fathers on this subject, is evidence that the day was not celebrated as a festival in the Apostolic times."—See Mosheim's Eccles. History, Vol. I. Chap. 3, page 41. ***

Bradford County.

—Mervin Brown, son of Benj. Brown, of Browntown, met with a serious and probably fatal accident on Monday last. He was leaving the house with a loaded gun in his hands, and in stepping out of the door, the gun was discharged, the contents passing into the left side under the arm. At latest accounts he was alive but with little prospect of his recovering from the effects of the wound. He had served his country through the rebellion, in the 6th Reserves and escaped the rebel bullets to meet with such a sad accident at his own hands.—Towanda Reporter.

— A sad affair occurred at the Milan Hotel, in Milan, on Friday evening last. A young man, named Horace J. Hull, of Athens, who, with many others, had assembled there to attend a Dancing school, met with an accident which came near proving fatal. It appears that during the evening he went out doors, and, it is supposed, stepped off the stoop backwards down into the cellar. When found he was insensible and remained so about 22 hours before any change could be perceived. At last accounts he was improving. He is a young man of good habits, and is greatly esteemed by all of his acquaintances.—Bradford Argus.

—Mosman Ayres, of West Burlington township, while eating dinner at Cass' Hotel in East Troy, on Friday last, chocked at the table, and getting up, went out of doors. Not returning, search was made for him, and he was found to be in a dying condition, and expired in a short time, all attempts to relieve him being unavailing.—Bradford Reporter.

Luzerne County.

—On Tuesday night of last week the residence of Mr. Cavenaugh, in Hyde Park, was entered, and between seven and eight hundred dollars stolen. On same night a place of business in Hyde Park was entered, a safe broken open and the contents stolen.

On Thursday evening the store of J. A. Ladd & Co., in this borough was entered, the safe broken open and some $300 taken. In the finishing up of the transaction the burglars took the money out of a package, substituted blank paper in its stead, and after coolly enjoying a supper of roasted eggs, decamped, leaving the store door open.

On the same night the business place of Messrs. Brainards also in Scranton, was entered, the safe broken open, and over $100, besides valuable papers carried off.

On Chrismas evening the miliner shop of Mrs. Dodge in Hyde Park was broken into and robbed of nearly all its contents. The burglars, before leaving, by throwing kerosene on the floor and setting it on fire, endeavored to destroy the building, but this last effort was frustrated by the discovery of the burglary and the extinguishment of the fire. A second attempt was more successful, for early on Tuesday morning it was discovered to be in flames and notwithstanding the most active exertions of the firemen and citizens it was destroyed.

—While several persons were hunting near Bald Mount, in this county, they discovered the dead body of a man named Scott, and well known in that neighborhood as a hunter, lying in the woods. When discovered the body was greatly mutilated, and the legs from the knees down had apparently been gnawed off by a wild beast. It is not known how he came to his death, but as his rifle and ammunition were found in a hunter's cabin in the woods, it is supposed that he had started for his home, which was some distance off, to procure some necessaries, and while on his way was attacked by a panther and killed. We could learn no further particulars of the melancholy occurrence.—Scranton Register.

—Another of those horrible occurrences which disgrace humanity and the age in which we live, occurred in the old mill, formerly of J. M. Hollenback, on Mill Creek, about a mile above town, (which is now used as a boarding house for the hands of the Nanticoke railroad,) on Monday evening, the 18th. About supper time a quarrel commenced between two of the men boarding there, when Felix Farrel (epresented, as a quarrelsome, vicious fellow) stabbed another man named Anthony McLaughlin in the lower part of the abdomen, from which the latter died in a very few minutes after. Farrel was arrested and committed to jail.—Luzerne Union.

—A stranger, passenger on a boat from down the river, fell into the lock at Woodville last week and was drowned. Esquire Chas. Ziegler, had an inquest on Tuesday.—Wilkesbarre Times.

—Prussia has prosecuted 274 editors during the past year. "Loyal" Americans have mobbed a large number within a brief period? Which style of despotism is worst?

CAUTION FROM THE American Watch Co.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known:

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass." engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY, Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate; and is not named on the dial.

All of the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so nearly approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co. of Boston, Mass.," a useless company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm. Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co." others the "P. S. Bartlett," instead of our "P. S. Bartlett;" besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against purchasing certain articles called Watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are said to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good Watch in these times cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention on the part of buyers will protect them from gross impositions.
