For Hayti.

The Montrose Republican learns with "regret that some Republican members of Congress are opposed to establishing colored suffrage in the District of Columbia." If the editor so greatly desires to taste the delights of political and social homogeneity, why don't he go to Hayti—the paradise of Cuffees? No one will say him nay.—Patriot.

A Card.

The ladies of St. Paul's Church, Montrose, beg leave to take this method of expressing their sincere thanks to the public for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon them at their supper on Friday evening, the nett proceeds of which were one hundred and ten dollars. Also to Messrs. Kirby and Bacon, who so generously tendered the use of their elegant and commodious rooms, together with their own valuable personal services, and the entire appliances of their establishment.

MARRIAGES.

By Rev. A.O.Warren, Jan. 2, at Montrose, Mr. NATHAN W. KING, of Washington, Wyoming co., and Miss NANCY A. BAKER, of Auburn.

DEATHS.

☞ Deaths, as well as marriages, are published free Obituaries published at the rate of fifty cents per hundred words, or five cents per line for poetry. Cash to be sent with the notice.

In Bridgewater, Jan. 12th, Mrs. PATTY STEPHENS, widow of James Stephens, aged 83 years.

Mrs. Stephens was one of "the salt of the earth;" kind, gentle, truthful, and patient in feeble health—calm and resigned in the hour of death.

In Lathrop, Jan. 9th, 1866, after an illness of seven months, SERGEANT W. TEWKSBURY, Esq., in the 35th year of his age.

The subject of this notice was born in Brooklyn, Susquehanna county, Pa., on the 3d of August, 1831. It was his good fortune to have virtuous and intelligent parents, who labored to instil into the mind of their son those noble principles, and that desire for knowledge, so strikingly manifested during his brief but honorable career.

The rudiments of his education were received at home, and at the district school, which afforded but few facilities to aid the ambitious youth in his efforts to ascend the ladder of learning. Desirous of obtaining a more liberal and thorough education than could be obtained in the schools of his own neighborhood, he entered Harford University as a student. Here as might have been expected of one gifted with superior mental endowments, he made rapid progress in his studies, gaining the confidence of the Faculty by his application and punctuality; and by his sterling integrity, manliness and urbanity, winning troops of friends. He was a member of the Alpha Epsilon Society, and for many years wrote for and assisted in the Exhibitions of the Institution. He labored to fit himself for the legal profession, and was pronounced by his teacher a good Latin scholar.

At the age of twenty-one he entered the law office of R. B. Little, Esq., of Montrose, Pa., as a student, but excessive mental labors proved too much for his naturally weak constitution, and he broke down in his first year's study. Despairing of being able to pursue his chosen profession, he returned home. His fellow townsmen did not fail to appreciate his worth; he held the various offices in their gift, and at the time of his death was Justice of the Peace, which office he had held for about nine years.

He was a good counsellor, a fearless administrator of justice, a friend of good morals and order in society.

Failing in regaining his health, he spent much of his time in retirement, much in meditation, reading and writing. His writings have mainly been published in the papers of this county over the signature of S. W. T., or ; though some of his writings have been for the Museum and Casket and some other journals. He has left many unpublished papers.

For eight years he has been a member of the M. E. Church of Brooklyn, Pa.; he was an earnest and consistent christian, never absent from the house of God on the Sabbath if it was possible for him to be there. He was a strict observer of the Sabbath, and even amid the stirring and exciting times of the last four years has not allowed himself on that holy day to talk upon, or read the political news of the day. His political information was varied and extensive, as was his religious, and often he remarked that he wished to be right in both, and thought he was; yet he was as ready to accord to others the right to think for themselves as he was to demand it for himself.

During his last sickness he suffered much, but bore it patiently to the end.—He expressed the opinion, when first attacked, that he should never recover, and gave directions as to his burial, etc.

Truly a mother mourns the loss of a loving son; a brother, the best of friends and counselors; society, one of its brightest ornaments. Who ever heard him use a vulgar or profane word? Who in all their life ever saw him take a drop of intoxicating liquor as a beverage?

At his request he was buried in the M. E. Church yard of Brooklyn, Pa. A large concourse of his friends and fellow citizens followed him to his last resting place. The occasion was improved by Rev. A.C. Sperry, assisted by Revs. G. B. Rogers and W. H. Adams, of the Presbyterian Church, from 1 John, iii—2.

We hardly think we could more fittingly close this notice than by copying a few lines written by the subject of this notice himself but never published we think:

"Gone, gone is our brother,
And never another
His place in our bosom can fill;
Jehovah hath spoken,
The golden bowl's broken,
His fleet bounding pulses are still.

Where once was but gladness
Reigns sorrow and sadness,
The joy of our household has fled;
Those cheeks soft and flushing,
That heart with love gushing
Low lie with the sepulcral dead."

New Skirt for 1866.

The Great Invention of the Age in

HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX (double) ELLIPTIC SPRING SKIRT.

THIS Invention consists of Duplex [or two] Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable spring ever used. They seldom break or bend, like the single spring and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility, great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, Operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all single steel hoop skirts. The three bottom rods on every skirt are also double steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, etc., etc., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant corded tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical skirt ever made.

WENTS, BRADLEY & CART, Proprietors of the Invention, and sole manufacturers, 27 Chambers, and 79 & 81 Reade streets, N. Y.

For sale in all first-class stores in this city, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America, and the West Indies.
