☞ We would again call the attention of our readers to the very generous offer which we make them, in giving them the American Stock Journal free for one year, in connection with the Democrat, by complying with the terms, which are subscribing (or renewing) at once, and paying one year in advance. Quite a large number have done so already, and the time is limited.—Do not delay, for you are only asked to do what is for your interest—to pay in advance for the Democrat, and receive one of the best Agricultural Journals that is now published for one year, from January, 1870. Let not that old "thief" procrastination pilfer from you this golden opportunity.

☞ Mr. D. D. Snyder gave a very pleasing ballad entertainment at Good Templars' Hall on Friday evening last. There was not a very large audience, but the rivetted attention which the singer received showed clearly that good music "hath charms."

House Burned.

The building known as the Lott tavern, owned by Dennison Lott, Esq., and occupied by Samuel Clark, situated a few miles below Lynn, was destroyed by fire on Thursday night last. Mrs. Clark being sick was carried with some difficulty from the building. What the loss was we have not been informed. There is a reported insurance of $300 upon the building.

W. C. TILDEN, County Sup't.

Forest Lake, Feb. 1st, 1870.

☞ Winter is upon us now in good earnest. About twelve inches has fallen and it is snowing still.

Scarlet Fever.

A sad case of bereavement by this disease has occurred near us. Mr. Daniel Markey, of Carbondale township, about one mile above town, lost his wife about three years ago, and has lived with his three children. The eldest child was a daughter about 18 years of age, beside which were a younger daughter and son. The three children have now all fallen victims of Scarlet Fever. The eldest daughter was buried on Wednesday of this week leaving his house desolate.—Carbondale Advance.

Sudden Death of Jude Steele.

Hon. Geo. P. Steele, for thirty years a prominent democratic politician of this county died suddenly at his residence in Wilkes-Barre, on Wednesday afternoon of this week, of congestion of the lungs. He has held the office of Sheriff and State Senator, and was now one of the Associate Judges of the county.

Few men in our county have for so long a time exerted so great an influence in political affairs as the deceased.—[Carb. Adv.

A Pleasant Entertainment.

We attended a very pleasant parlor Dramatic Entertainment at the house of Mr. W. H. Cooper, on Tuesday evening Feb. 1st, which was given for the benefit of the Public Library in this place. The entertainment consisted first of a dramatic piece entitled "The Spirit of '76, or the Coming Woman," represented by five characters, in three acts.

The gist of the piece was to represent the change that had taken place in ten years, when woman had asserted and obtained her "right" to be a man. We are always pleased to see the ladies "coming," but we frankly confess that if they are "coming" in the manner and both by those well-timed characters, they will be very apt to find us away. The scenes were so well enacted, that we were fully satisfied with the ideal, and are willing to be excused from the real. The characters were represented by Mr and Mrs. Cooper, J. Williams, Misses M. and H. Biddle, and Miss H. Drinker; and we believe that all present will bear us out in saying that for the time and place the scenery and characters were well represented.

This was followed by a closing piece entitled a "Change of Base." The characters were represented by Messrs. Byron Koon and J. L. Carmalt, Miss F. Mulford, and Mrs Cooper. This was clearly a representation of the scenes of the present time, and was so well presented that all present were well pleased, and retired to their homes feeling that they had passed a pleasant evening, and also had contributed to a fund which it is hoped will be of another power for good in this community.

The Montrose Railroad.

On Wednesday last the following named gentlemen, composing a Railroad Committee visited Pittston. S. H. Sayre, J. S. Tarbell, A. Griffis, C. D. Lathrop, L. F. Fitch and C. M. Gere, H. C. Tyler, all of Montrose, B. F. Blakeslee, of Springville, G. E. Palen, J. R. Palen, C. Deitrick, C. D. Gearhart, P. Marcy, John Day, and Harvey Sickler, all of Tunkhannock. The motive for interviewing our townsmen was to agitate the enterprise referred to above, and as it directly concerns the business interest of Pittston and Wilkes-Barre they seek in these places encouragement commensurate with the advantages to be derived. On Thursday evening, February 10, a meeting will be held in this place when and where the subject will be discussed further. Below we give a communication from the Committee setting forth the project in a very interesting light, and commend it to the attention of Pittstonians:

"At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed incorporating a company to construct a railroad from some point on the Lehigh Valley road, at or between Tunkhannock and Meshoppen, to the State line near Binghamton via. Montrose. The distance by the old Wilkes Barre and Binghamton pike to Binghamton is forty miles. Three routes from Tunkhannock to the summit at Montrose have been surveyed carefully by experienced engineers from Mauch Chunk during the past season, and the route from Montrose down Snake Creek to Binghamton has also been carefully examined by competent engineers from Binghamton he route is entirely feasible, the grade on the average not exceeding sixty-five feet to the mile, and the highest grade being about eighty-five feet to the mile, and that only for a short distance. Cost of grading estimated by the engineers at from ten to fifteen thousand dollars per mile. The whole distance from Pittston to Binghamton would be by this route probably not far from sixty five miles. It is about the same distance as from Scranton to Binghamton via. Great Bend, and the grade it is believed will be easier than that of the D. L. & W. RR. At Binghamton, as is known, this road when built would intersect the Erie, the Albany and Susquehanna, the Binghamton and Syracuse RRs. and the Chenango Canal, thus at the terminus furnishing a large outlet for the coal of the Valley, beside supplying the market along the route, which has heretofore been monopolized by the D. L. & W. RR Co. Montrose alone consumes between two and three thousand tons of coal per annum, and large quantities are also consumed at Springville and Dimock on this route, and by the farmers, many of whom are discarding their wood stoves. The average cost of coal is nine dollars and fifty cents per ton. With the cost reduced one half, or say to five dollars per ton the increased consumption would be very large and could hardly be estimated.

This route, after leaving Wyoming Co., passes through the centre of Susquehanna Co., nearly north and south, and among a class of enterprising people who are active and earnest in securing this road. At Springville there is a daily line of stages to the D. L. & W. RR., and at Montrose four daily lines, and from both points other lines radiate south and west. At Montrose the average number of passengers daily to and from the RR. is about thirty, and believed to be over rather than under that number. The freighting business is very large indeed at Montrose Depot, so much so that it has long been said that, with the single exception of Scranton, it is the best depot for the Company on the D. L. & W. RR."

Susquehanna county contains a population estimated at fifty thousand, twenty thousand of whom would become tributary to this road. The people are mostly engaged in agricultural pursuits, and annually raise for market a large surplus of hay, grain, eggs, poultry, butter, cheese, beef and pork, all of which are needed in the Valley and would there find a ready market on opening this road.

The people from Tunkhannock to Montrose have been solicited for subscriptions, and about $100,000 00 has been subscribed, and the right of way has been nearly all released for the road between those points. Between Montrose and Binghamton the canvass has not as yet been so thorough, but a liberal spirit has been manifested, which premises future success. Prominent men of Binghamton have given strong assurances that they will bond their towns or otherwise raise money to meet the road at Montrose if constructed to that place, as they are very anxious to open communication with the coal fields, below the monopoly at Scranton. They are determined to have another road to the coal fields at some point, and have surveyed various routes to the west of this, to reach the coal of Sullivan county, but those routes being much longer and over heavier grades, they seek a junction at Montrose with a road to Pittston if it can be procured. Now why cannot this road be built, thus opening what has long been felt to be a great need, a northern outlet for the coal and iron of the Valley? The people along the line are anxious and willing to do all in their power, but while many are well-to-do farmers, and independent in a small way, with small means, yet they cannot raise all the money requisite. Why should they do it, and not the heavy coal and iron companies of the Valley largely interested in this enterprise? The Penn'a Coal Co. are now sending their coal via. Hawley, Lackawaxen and the Erie road to Binghamton, over 150 miles, and competing successfully with the D. L. & W. RR. Co. If they had a route of less than half the distance, would they not be largely benefitted? Are not our citizens also largely interested in procuring at a lower price than they now pay the products of the farms of Susquehanna county? It seems so to us.

A public meeting, to consult about these interests, will be held at Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 9th, and another at Pittston, Feb. 10th.—Pittston Gazette.

Amateur Dramatic Company.

We have just been handed a programme of the Seriocomic Drama entitled "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," which was performed at Nicholson on Monday and Tuesday evenings last, and is to be repeated again this evening. We are acquainted with the piece and can emphatically say that it is one of great merit in its chastening and moral effects, and its tendency to vividly point out the paths of vice and intemperance, and show their terrible results. We are pleased to recognize among the cast, of characters Mr. C. T. Mitchel, formerly a resident and a native of this county, and also a former pupil of ours, and we are fully prepared from the knowledge we have of his abilities to say that he must merit the most earnest applause. We were informed by one who witnessed the performance both on Monday and Tuesday evenings, that too much cannot be said in its praise. Thus far it has been enacted for the benefit of the Lodge of Good Templars but this evening it is for the benefit of the Sabbath School. We are deprived of the privelege of attending so far from home, but we would heartily welcome our friend Mr. Mitchel and his companions at this place should they think best to come.

A Remarkable Feat.

Mr. Jesse Stoddard a resident of Thompson aged 80 years last April cut 40 cords of stove wood, during the months of December and January. Few, indeed are the instances that can be recorded of such a markable physical strength, at such an advanced age.

Escape of Prisoners.

Four prisoners escaped from the county jail at Wilkes-Barre, on Thursday morning. Their names are Michael Heffers, of Hyde Park; James Dailey, of Philadelphia; Patrick Mach, of Plains; J. Gallagher, of Newton. Sheriff Rhoads offers a reward for their apprehension.

Word Puzzles.

There is a word of only five letters, and if you take away two of them ten will remain. It is often. If you take away of, ten will remain.

There is a word of five letters, and if you take away two of them six will remain. Seven. Take away ty, six will remain.

Take away my first letter, take away my second letter, take away all my letters, and I am always the same. It is the mail-carrier.

There is one which, if you change the place of one of its letters, means exactly the opposite from which it did at first. What is the word? It is united. Place the i after the t, and it becomes united.

What letter has never been used but twice in America? It is a; it is only used twice in America.

When were there only two vowels? In the days of Noah, before you and I were born—in the days no a, before u and i were born.

When is it that a blacksmith raises a row in the alphabet? When he makes a poke e and shove l. (a poker and shovel.)

Can you spell the fate of all things with two letters? Thus—d k (decay.)

—At an enthusiastic meeting among the negroes in Blount county, last week, when the mourner's bench was crowded with penitents groaning in agony, one of them, a sable damsel of elephantine proportions, sprang to her feet crying, "Glory, hallelujah! Lord bress de lamb! I've got religion! Lord, if this nigger had de wings of a June bug she'd fly right to Heaven." Her enthusiasm was checked at that juncture by a matter of fact sister, who raised her head and brought the new convert's thoughts back from the idea to the real, thusly: "You fool, nigger, what do you mean? If you had a June bug's wings don't you know a wood pecker would gobble you 'fore you got half a mile?"

—The hero of five great wars is dead. Sir De Lacy Evans who fought in India, in the Peninsular war, in the American war of 1812, in the Carlist war, and in the Crimean war, died in London, on the 9th inst. at the age of 83. He commanded at the sacking of Washington, and was wounded at New Orleans. He had two horses shot under him at Waterloo, and fought for two years for Christiana against Don Carlos. He distinguished himself in his old age at the Alma and Inkerman. No general in the British army at the time of his death could boest of a more distinguished career. Gen. Evans was an Irishman. He was born at Moig, in 1787.

—We learn from our exchanges that a startling rumor prevails in Washington to the effect that the late Ex-Secretary Stanton did not die of disease but voluntarily. It would be a singular coincidence if Stanton should have followed King in an untimely demise, and rushed madly and unforbidden into the presence of a God whom he had defied and offended by his share in the murder of an innocent woman. What will be Bingham's fate, reasoning from analogy?

—The bill incorporating the Avondale Relief Association has passed the Legislature.

Dr. A. L. SCOVILL, is the inventor of several medical preparations which have become very popular, and have been liberally used. Among his inventions are "H ll's Balsam for the lungs" and "Liver Short and Tar." For the past six years a better Lung remedy has been offered to the public. Read the following letter from Dr. SCOVILL referring to it:

MESSRS. J. N. HARRIS & CO.

Gents.—I make the following statement from a perfect conviction and knowledge of the benefits of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM in curing the most deep-seated PULMONARY CONSUMPTION! I have witnessed its effects on the young and on the old, and I truly say that it is by far the best expectorant remedy with which I am acquainted. For Coughs and all the early stages of Lung complaints, I believe it to be a certain cure, and if every family would keep it by them, ready to administer upon the first appearance of disease about the Lungs, there would be very few cases of fatal consumption. It causes the phlegm and matter to raise, without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs), and without producing constipation of the Bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops the night-sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

Yours respectfully, A. L. SCOVILL.

NORWAY OATS FOR SALE!

The result of my experiments the last season with the Norway Oats have been fully up to my expectations, and I am satisfied they are well adapted to our soil, and that every farmer who possibly can should get the seed. I bought last spring of the Ramsdell agents in New York, one bushel of 39 lbs of the Norway Oats. I sowed them on one acre of good ground, and harvested from it 70 bushels of 30 lbs. per bushel, making an increase of 70 bushels from one.

I also sowed in the same lot on equally good ground, 3 bushels of 30 lbs. each of common oats on one acre, and harvested therefrom 55 bushels of 30 lbs. per bushel, an increase of 18 bushels from one. Therefore from this trial I am satisfied that the Norway Oats will produce twice as much as the common Oats. If any wish more confirmation, I would refer them to reports from all parts of the country, given in the Rural New Yorker of Jan. 8th, 1870.

PRICE $4 per BUSHEL of 32 lbs.

Call soon, as I have but few to sell.
