LAST Tuesday was a warm, pleasant day.

Elkton Temple of Honor, No. 81. will meet this evening.

C. B. GOULD, "Father Gould," of the Cameron Press, was in town yesterday.

P. FORD, of Smethport, Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, was in town yesterday.

On Saturday, the 21st inst., there was a heavy rain and hail storm in this vicinity.

THERE is an error in the date of the first page of this issue, inttead of June it should read July.

THE new school house bell was placed in position yesterday morning. The weight of the bell is 250 pounds.

WE are informed that Hon. Henry Souther has disposed of his residence, on Main street. to Mr. Fred, W lmarth.

WE were visited by Mr. Green, "local" of the Cameron Press, last Tuesday.

CHAS CODY, the timper, has one of Job's comforters on his neck, which he says is nice. We don't care to know how it is ourself.

GEO. WALKER is building an addition to his new building on Main street. The addition is the same size as the original building.

THANKS .- Our thanks are due Hon.

SNOW IN JULY .- A gentleman from Sunbury informs us that the cars arriving at that place from Williamsport on Saturday morning were thickly encrusted with snow, which is represented to have been quite severe in its area. A fall of snow in July is an unusual phenomenon .--- [State Journal.

NEW POST OFFICE REGULATIONS .-The Department at Washington will no longer print the cards of business firms on return envelopes. The names of the individual or firm will be printed when so ordered, together with the request to "return if not called for," &c., but persons desiring to advertise their business on stamped envelopes, will have to paeronize the printing offices nearer home. This regulation went into effect June 1st. Some outsiders at the late Democratic followed, introduced by a long story of every year. County Convention, noticed that G. F. THEFT .- Mr. N. B. Waterson, shoemaker at this place, was victimized to the amount of about thirty-five dollars, last Sunday. It seems that a "tramp" shoemaker giving his name as David Martin, came to Mr. Waterson last Saturday, and asked for work which was given him. On Sunday he borrowed a clean shirt of Mr. Waterson; helped himself to the thirty-five dollars and vamoosed. The thiet is a man of mid-
