NEVER LIVED IN IT.—An Irishman who was sentenced to be hung, ordered his coffin, a very expensive one, as was necessary. Unfortunately, a day or two before the time appointed for his execution, he was pardoned, and consequently having no use for his coffin, Pat decided to leave it in the hands of its maker, until he refusing to pay the little bill which poor Murphy presented

"Come out here, you thief o' the world," roared the indignant Murphy, "and be hung like a dacent and honest man, and pay for yer coffin!"

"Arrah!" responded Pat, "sure, ye spalpeen, I'll not be afther paying for a house I niver lived in!"

TOLEDO, Aug. 5.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES. DR. CHESSEMAN'S PILLS, Prepared by Cornelius L. Cheseman, M. D., New York City. The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

"The Greatest Biography of the Age."

NOW READY.

The Life of Thomas Jefferson.

BY HENRY S. RANDALL, LL. D.

In Three Volumes, Octavo.

THIS work contains upwards of 2,000 pages, is printed on fine paper, and handsomely bound in various styles. It is illustrated by several engravings on steel, and numerous facsimiles, among the former are two fine portraits of JEFFERSON—The facsimiles embrace among others, the original draft of the Declaration of Independence, in JEFFERSON'S own hand writing.

This is, in every sense, AN AUTHORITIED WORK: it was undertaken under the approbation of his family, and with an unreserved access to all the private papers of JEFFERSON in their possession; and has received the benefit of their recollections and opinions at every step.

The work contains the expressions of Jefferson on every great public question which arose, from his advent to public life to his death—a period of about sixty years, and embracing the whole formative period of the Republic. It contains Jefferson's heretofore unpublished letters, state papers, &c., etc.

OPPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"No other Life of Jefferson ever published—probably none that ever will be published—can bear any comparison to this in thoroughness or fullness of incident and conscientious fidelity. * * * This biography has evidently been a labor of love, and the years of patient, assiduous toil it has cost, have been given with ungrudging, unstinting enthusiasm.—New York Tribune.

"At length the public have a Life of Thomas Jefferson that is not only fascinating, and therefore sure to be popular, but one that will stand the essential historic test—that of accuracy and truthfulness. It is seen that the ground work of the whole is authentic contemporary material, and of the highest order. To gather it has been the work of years. We would not compare this volume with that inimitable and incomparable biography of Boswell, and yet so faithful is the portraiture that Jefferson is made to draw of himself, that his nature, his very soul is delineated with a distinctness not unlike that in which Johnson stands out in the pages of Boswell."—Saint Paul.

"Imbued with that enthusiastic admiration of his subject, without which a biographer is rarely successful, Mr. Randall nevertheless does not seek to hide whatever faults he may find, either from himself or from the reader. He paints the picture as Cromwell insisted his should be painted, "warts and all." The picture gains by this in life-like coloring, without losing any of its majestic proportions."—Albany Evening Journal.

"No one who runs his eye, however casually, over this work, will fail to be satisfied that Mr. Randall has added very largely to the stock of the world's information about Jefferson, that he has had access to sources hitherto unexplored, and that he has done more than was ever done by any one before him to illustrate the personality of that great statesman."—New York Evening Post.

"We have read with delight Mr. Randall's captivating details of Mr. Jefferson's personal history, which he has minutely gathered, and admirably grouped together, from a great variety of authentic sources, hitherto unexplored. Out of the tempting richness of his materials, the able and clear sighted author has constructed a book, at once most entertaining and instructive—one that should be studied by every patriot of the land."—Richmond Enquirer.

"There can be only one opinion as to the ability, general impartiality and industry which Mr. Randall has brought into contribution in the composition of this biography. * * * He has worthily executed a much wanted book!—Philadelphia Press.

"It will take a place among the standard classics of American literature, and be consulted by every future historian of this country."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"We like it because it neither conceals, palliates, exaggerates, nor distorts, but approaches, in every instance, in every particular, the career of the noble character whose opinions have done so much to shape the domestic and foreign policy of the nation he contributed so greatly to call into existence."—N. O. True Delta.

This work will be SOLD EXCLUSIVELY BY SUBSCRIPTION, at the low price of $7 00—handsomely bound in cloth.

Experienced Canvassing Agents wanted, in all parts of the country, to obtain subscribers for this work. Applicants should state what counties they would like to canvass.

Specimen copies will be sent by mail, pre-paid, to any address, on receipt of the price.
