A Poem Served to Order.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

The Caliph ordered up his cook,
And, scowling with a fearful look
That meant,—we stand no gammon,—
"To-morrow, just at two," he said,
"Hassan, our cook, will lose his head,
Or serve us up a salmon."

"Great Sire," the trembling Chef replied,
"Lord of the Earth and all beside,
Sun, moon, and stars, and so on,—"
(Look in Eothen—there you'll find
A list of titles. Never mind,
I haven't time to go on:)

"Great Sire," and so forth, thus he spoke,
"Your Highness must intend a joke;
It doesn't stand to reason
For one to order salmon brought
Unless that fish is sometimes caught,
And also is in season.

"Our luck of late is shocking bad,
In fact the latest catch we had
(We kept the matter shady),
But, hauling in our nets,—alack!
We found no salmon, but a sack
That held your honored lady!"

—"Allah is great!" the Caliph said,
"My poor Zuleika, you are dead,
I once took interest in you—"
—"Perhaps, my Lord, you'd like to know;
We cut the lines and let her go."
—"Allah be praised! Continue."

—"It isn't hard one's hook to bait,
And, squatting down, to watch and wait
To see the cork go under;
At last suppose you've got your bite,
You twitch away with all your might,—
You've hooked an eel, by thunder!"

The Caliph patted Hassan's head:
"Slave, thou hast spoken well," he said,
"And won thy master's favor.
Yes; since what happened t'other morn
The salmon of the Golden Horn
Might have a doubtful flavor.

"That last remark about the eel
Has also justice that we feel
Quite to our satisfaction.
To-morrow we dispense with fish,
And, for the present, if you wish,
You'll keep your bulbous fraction."

"Thanks! Thanks!" the grateful Chef replied,
His nutrient features showing wide
The gleam of arches dental:
"To cut my head off wouldn't pay,
I find it useful every day
As well as ornamental."

SALAD FOR THE SERIOUS.

They tell the story of a captain of a North River boat, who was something of a wag in his way. A committee of the New York Legislature was on the captain's boat making a tour of inspection, and one of the members, who knew the captain of old, attempted to extract amusement for himself and his fellow-members by rallying the captain on his preaching, as it was reported that he sometimes indulged in that exercise.

"O!" said the captain, "I've taken to the law lately."

Senator—"Not been admitted?"

Captain—"Yes, regularly; passed my examination in open court."

Senator—"And answered all the questions fair and square, captain?"

Captain—"All but one."

Senator—"And what was that?"

Captain—"I don't like to tell; it may hurt your feelings, and some of the gentlemen here may be offended."

All—"No; out with it; what was it? Let's hear."

Captain—"Well, the judge asked me—and I couldn't tell—'How can a man go to the Legislature, get three dollars a day, pay five dollars a day for his board, and lay up money?'"

The committee gave the captain a round of applause, and invited him to supper that night, which he positively declined.

The pursuit of information is sometimes attended with difficulties, even in San Francisco. One inquirer, who applied to the Chronicle for information as to where Cain obtained his wife, is cruelly rebuffed, the only reply vouchsafed him being this: "Upon any subject of a public nature we never refuse to throw the desired light. But this is altogether a different thing. It is a family matter with which we do not care to meddle. Cain died some time before many of us were born, and such idle curiosity regarding the family affairs of a deceased person we regard as reprehensible, and calculated to violate the sanctities of domestic life. For these reasons, and because we do not wish to injure the feelings of the relatives of the deceased, we decline to answer the question."

A fat old gentleman was bitten in the calf of his leg by a dog. He at once rushed to the magistrate, and preferred a complaint against a joker in the neighborhood, whom he supposed to be the owner of the offending cur. The following was the defense offered by the wag: "1. By testimony in favor of the general good character of my dog, I shall prove that nothing could make him so forgetful of his canine dignity as to bite a calf. 2d. He is blind and cannot see to bite. 3d. Even if he could see to bite, it would be utterly impossible for him to go out of his way to do so, on account of his severe lameness. 4th. Granting his eyes and legs to be good, he has no teeth. 5th. My dog died six weeks ago. 6th. I never had any dog."

A traveler, on his arrival in the city, stopped for a moment to examine a coat hanging in front of a clothing store, when the proprietor rushed out and asked: "Wouldn't you try on some coats?" "I dunno but I would," responded the traveler, consulting his time killer, and he went in and began to work. No matter how often he found his fit, he called for more coats, and after he had tried on thirty, he looked at his watch, resumed his own garment, and walked off, saying: "I won't charge a cent for what I've done; hang a man who won't oblige another when he can do it! If I'm ever around this way again, and you've got any more coats to try on, I'll do all I can to help you!"

"It costs as much," said a lecturer the other day in New-York, "to launch a woman on the sea of life in these times as it would to fit out a small schooner. As to sails, cordage, pennants and streamers, the difference is in favor of the schooner. As to a woman's outfit she has to be freighted with bonnets, veils, necklaces, earrings, pins, chains, bracelets, rings, ruffles, bows, bands, buttons, loops, folds, pipings, plaits, silks, muslins, laces, fans, boots, slippers, parasols, collars, cuffs, nets, chignons, 'rats,' 'mice,' waterfalls, braids, frizzles, puffs, curls, pannier, tournure and Grecian Bend. What a cargo this, for such a small vessel!"

A one-legged Welsh orator, named Jones, was pretty successful in bantering an Irishman when the latter asked him, "How did you lose your leg?" "Well," said Jones, "on examining my pedigree, and looking up my descent, I found there was some Irish blood in me, and becoming convinced that it was in that left leg I had it cut off at once." "Be the powers," said Pat, "it would have been a deuced good thing if it had only settled in your head."

Professor—What are the uses of starch in germination? Student—(reciting on cheek) In the German nation starch is used very much the same as in this country—in doing up linen—and such goods. Professor—If you give another such answer as that, I will show you how they take the starch out of students in the German nation.

The other day a green 'un asked one of Barnum's men, "Where is the mummy?" The latter replied, "He is dead," and the inquirer passed on, perfectly satisfied, for he couldn't expect that even Barnum could prevent an occasional death among his curiosities.

A girl fashionable in her taste but poor in her pocket says she never realized her necessities till she got a husband.

We have discovered why the Great Eastern has been so unprofitable. It is because she is nearly always "paying out."

A western editor lately returned a tailor's bill with the indorsement, "Your manuscript is declined; it is ineligible."

What kind of a drum is that which is always the best when it cannot be beaten? A conundrum.

Why should a tax on tarts be objectionable at sea? Because it would be encouraging pie-rates.

Why do honest ducks dip their heads under water? To liquidate their little bills.

RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA

WE CLERGYMEN WERE CURED

of Chronic and Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica, Kidney, and Nervous Diseases, after years of suffering, by taking DR. FITLER'S VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC SYRUP—the scientific discovery of J. P. Fitler, M. D., a regular graduate physician, with whom we are personally acquainted, who has for 30 years treated these diseases exclusively with astonishing results. We believe it our christian duty, after deliberation, to conscientiously request sufferers to use it, especially persons in moderate circumstances who cannot afford to waste money and time on worthless mixtures. As clergymen we seriously feel the deep responsibility resting on us in publicly endorsing this medicine. But our knowledge and experience of its remarkable merit fully justifies our action. Rev. C. H. Ewing, Media, Penn'a, suffered sixteen years, became hopeless. Rev. Thomas Murphy, D. D., Frankford, Philad'a. Rev. J. B. Davis, Hightstown, New Jersey. Rev. J. S. Buchanan, Clarence, Iowa. Rev. G. G. Smith, Pittsford, New York. Rev. Joseph Beggs, Falls Church, Philadelphia. Other testimonials from Senators, Governors, Judges, Congressmen, Physicians, &c., forwarded gratis with pamphlet explaining these diseases. One thousand dollars will be presented to any medicine for same diseases showing equal merit under test, or that can produce one-fourth as many living cures. Any person sending by letter description of affliction will receive gratis a legally signed guarantee, naming the number of bottles to cure, agreeing to refund money upon sworn statement of its failure to cure. Afflicted invited to write to Dr Fitler, Philadelphia. His valuable advice costs nothing.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
