TOWN AND COUNTRY.

PERRYSVILLE has organized a Saving and Loan Association.

BARNUM is in search of a man who is willing to admit that his wife knows as much as he—the husband—does.

THE Ladies of the Methodist Church held a Festival of three evenings, during the week between Christmas and New Years.

ATTENTION is asked to the advertisement of P. H. Hawn, who has recently purchased the Lemon mill property, in Milford township.

REV. D. J BEALE, of St. George's, Delaware, has received and accepted a pressing and unanimous call from one of the first Presbyterian churches in the city of Baltimore

A LETTER from Rev. W. A. Patton, from Charleston, S. C, and a letter from Dr. Elder from New York, will appear in our next. Write as often as you can, gentlemen.

Two tracts of land in Tuscarora twp, with improvements thereon, are advertised in to-day's paper by J. C Dobbs Executor of John Dobbs, dec'd. Read advertisement in another column.

MR. LLOYD, County Superintendent of Common Schools of this county, was the recipient of a valuable silver watch from the teachers of the county, at the close of the late Institute.

WATERY POTATOES.—An exchange, says if your potatoes are watery, put a piece of lime about the size of a hen's egg in the pot and boil with them, and they will come out as mealy as you desire. Try it.

E. S. PARKER, cashier of the banking house of Doty, Parker & Co., has moved into his new house. The Bank has also been moved into the room in Mr Parker's house prepared for it. It is a handsome room, has a commodious vault and a strong safe, against which it would be useless for the bank robber to direct his attention.

BONSALL, of the Democrat and Register talks of raising turkeys to the weight of forty pounds He thinks he can do it by feeding them shot. If our editorial friend succeeds in his talked-of enterprise, we promise that if we live next summer, we will teach him gratuitously how to raise sweet potatoes on poles.

HOUSE AND BARN BURNED.— Last Wednesday, December 27th, the house of William Reader, a resident of Lack twp, this county, took fire from a burning chimney. From the house sparks were carried by the wind to a straw stack in front of the barn, and a fire there kindled, all of which resulted in the total destruction of both house and barn.

A PETITION is now circulating through out the State, asking Congress to give those soldiers who never received any bounty from the government, the sum of eight dollars per month for the time served, and also asking Congress to amend the bounty land act, as to enable ex soldiers to own the 160 acres without settling upon it. Soldiers, as a general thing, sign this petition without asking many questions.—Ex.

THE cry of fire, raised some evenings ago by the burning of a chimney in the vicinity of East Point, turned nearly the whole population into the streets to look up the fire. Mifflin is sensitive on that question. A little noise of that kind stirs her. The Teachers' Institute was in session at the time. The cry broke it up in a pell-mell manner. Some went out at the windows instead of at the doors—all went out in a hurry. After the excitement abated—which it soon did, when the character of the fire was learned—the Institute was again called and completed the business of the evening.

A Parting Glance at the Old Year, and a Greeting for the New Year.

We hear a noise like the report of a gun in the distance. We rise from our bed and walk to a window and look out, and as we stare into the thick fog that covers the town and valley, we hear other reports. We look at the clock; its hands indicate the hour of 1, A. M., January 1st, 1872. The sound of fire arms that we heard was made by men rejoicing over the advent of the New Year, and in our heart we say to the rejoicing party, rejoice, for good cheer and peace reigns here. What a contrast! One year ago, at the very hour of this writing—at 1 o'clock on the morning of January 1st, 1871—the fire fiend was pouring out his fiery wrath upon our town. Peace and quiet had fled from it, and hundreds of people from the country for miles around, with saddened faces, looked on and saw our substance licked up by flames of fire.

The year 1871 was a year full of calamity. From our wayside town it took up its dreadful march, and scarce a time since has it abated its fury. It compassed the whole earth. Chicago, the towns, prairies and forests of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa, and hundreds of districts in other States, bear evidence to the fury of the calamities by fire. The earth contributed her share of calamities. Earthquakes in South America swallowed up whole towns and their unsuspecting inhabitants, and volcanos poured forth their molten lava.—The winds and the waves were not idle to the mandates of calamity, but lent their fury, and shipwrecks in large numbers upon every sea appear, and at one grand sweep almost our entire whale fishing ships, cruising north of Behring's Staits, are gathered up and destroyed.

The rains and the floods, too, contributed to the grand round that calamity made, and in the land of the "Heathen Chinee," flooded vast districts, and drowned thousands of people. Famine, in her guant and ghostly form, bowed approvingly to calamity, and Persia is in the throes of hunger, and thousands upon thousands die there for want of food.

Violence and fraud, too, did homage to calamity, and at the centre of European civilization—Paris—held high carnival for a time, and destroyed the finest pieces of art and labor, and hastened thousands in untimely graves.

Amidst these appalling scenes we have much to thank Heaven for, and we should ask God to give us the understanding heart to feel that such calamities are always for man's good.

To our readers we extend greeting, and our best wishes for their happiness, and the earnest hope that they may be exempt from one and all of the calamities that, during the old year 1871, visited so many of our brethren.

THERE is a case of varioloid—a mild type of small pox—in the vicinity of the borough school house. The Town Council promptly acted in the matter on Sunday morning, employed a citizen who once had small-pox, to see to it that the needs of the family are supplied, while the family has been ordered to remain indoors and not to appear on the streets The family consists of a husband, wife and one child. It is the wife who has the varioloid. It is believed that the disease was contracted while she was on a visit to Altoona recently.

SOME days ago David Dunn, a young man 17 or 18 years of age, a resident of Fayette township, was out setting snares for rabbits. Howard Patton at the same time was hunting wild turkeys, and espied Dunn in the bushes, mistook him for a turkey, and discharged his gun at him It was a well-delivered charge; forty-six shots took effect, being distributed in Dunn's hip, shoulder and neck. Fortunately they scarcely more than penetrated the skin, and the injury sustained was not of a serious nature.

CURE FOR CROUP.—This is a croup season, and as croup in a disease that requires more prompt relief than can be afforded by the physician, who has to be sent for, it will be well to bear the following simple remedy in mind: Take the white of an egg, stir it thoroughly into a quantity of well sweetened water, and give it in repeated doses until a cure is effected. If one egg is not sufficient, a second, or even a third one, should be used.—Ex.

A CITIZEN of McAlisterville writes us the following: As N B. Alexander was coming to town on last Saturday he saw a deer cross the road. He went to G. Shevery's, got a shot gun, and fired at the deer. The animal ran to Reuben Reynolds' barn, and there tried to jump the fence, but failed and fell back. John Strayer, who was passing along the road near by, ran and seized it and cut its throat.

THERE is probably no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whooping cough, soreness of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

CORNELIUS MCCLELLAN having recently resumed the Saddle and Harness-making business, solicits a liberal share of patronage. Saddles, Harness and Collars made of the best material. The only place in the county where you can buy home-made collars. Shop on Bridge St, Mifflin, in the room with Heck & Fasick, Boot and Shoemakers.

THE Fourth Quarterly Meeting of the M. E. Church of this place will commence next Saturday evening. B. B Hamlin, Presiding Elder, will be present.

THE propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgement.

AYER'S American Almanac, for the new year, has arrived for delivery gratis by Banks & Hamlin, druggists, to all who call for it. This little manual has the largest circulation of any book in the world, made by the fact that it furnishes the best medical advice which is available to the people—enables them to determine what their complaints are and how to cure them. It contains the startling announcement of the conflagration of a world, or the combustion of one of the stars in the firmament with all its attendants planats.

A PREPARATION so widely and favorable known as Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, needs few words of praise from us. This compound has won its way to the highest favor in the public mind; and multitudes, who have vainly used other remedies for the restoration of their hair, have, on trying the Sicilian Renewer, been made glad by the speedy restoration of their gray hair to its natural color, and the thin locks thickened up, as in the days of early youth, It also prevents the hair from falling out, makes it soft and glossy, and is altogether the best preparation for its intended purposes before the public.— Pittsburg Chronicle

A PLAIN farmer writes: "It is now over twenty years since I heard that sweet oil would cure the bite of a rattle-snake, not knowing that it would cure other kinds of poison. Practice, observation and experience have taught me that it will cure poison of any kind, both on man and beast. The patient must take a spoonful of it internally and bathe the wound for a cure. To cure a horse it requires eight times as much as for a man. One of the extreme cases of snake bites occurred eleven years ago. It had been thirty days standing, and the patient had been given up by his physician. I gave him a spoonful of the oil, which effected a cure. It will cure bloat in cattle caused by fresh clover. It will cure the stings of bees, spiders or other insects, and persons who have been poisoned by a low running vine called ivy."

A LADY who lived down in White Marsh, ever since the small pox has been the topic of talk in that neighborhood, has been in the most deadly fear of infection; her terror was so great as to cause her to keep all the windows of the house closed tightly on the side toward a neighbor's who had the plague, although the distance of a mile intervened between the two houses. Some two weeks since, such was her nervous excitement that she was taken ill, and her physician discovered mild symtoms of the varioloid. This becoming known to her, she immediately gave herself up for lost, and in a few days actually died, from sheer fright, as the physician says there was no reason why she should not have thrown off the disease and recovered. This is only another instance of the necessity of a cool head and quiet nerves in the time of the prevalence of an epidemic.—Doylestown Democrat.

THE ONWARD PROGRESS OF SCIENCE.—It is an indisputed fact that the skill of man is daily developing improvements in various departments of industry. Each and all have an aim for our general welfare. One of the most desirable and long wished for results has been accomplished in the discovery, by Dr. J. Briggs, of his Corn and Bunion Remedies, his Alleviator for the cure and prevention of common Corns, and his Curative for the absolute cure of Festered Corns, Inflamed Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore instep, Blistered Heels, Tender Feet, &c., &c. COUGHS, COLDS, AND THROAT AFFECTION.—As all seasons of the year, many people seem to be suffering with Throat Diseases, manifesting themselves in various forms such as Coughs, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Asthma, Phisic, and other highways to that prince of terrors—Consumption. Hundreds are neglectful when they are slowly but surely drifting onward to certain destruction, who might with a little care, and by the use of proper remedies, check their downward tendency.—Dr. J. Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer is the acme of perfection for the speedy cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest.—Can be given to the infant and aged with perfect safety, as it contains no injurious drugs of any description. As a general household medicine, it is rapidly becoming indispensable. Sold by Druggists.

In 1839 Mr. Rumbaugh connected himself with the Lutheran Church at Thompsontown, when there were but few members and no place of worship but a common school house. Through his spirit of enterprise and liberality a commodious brick church has since been erected, in which his pew has seldom been vacant until within a few years, and then only an account of age and infirmity. He served the church as elder for many years, was an exemplary christian, and died in the full triumph s of faith. His funeral was attended by a large concourse of people, who were addressed by your humble servant, from these beautiful words: "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his." FOUTZ'S

CELEBRATED

Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to the animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Bloodpoise, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By mixing from one half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.
