The subject will be illustrated by a revolving and connected series of large and beautiful Scripture scenes, painted at great expense for Mr. Long's pulpit use. ACCIDENT.—Last Sunday evening Mr. David Sieber was returning from the country, in company with Miss Sallie Stouffer, of this place, in a buggy, on the Cedar Spring road. Suddenly the horse frightened at something in the road near Hefflefinger's shop, and before he could be checked he had run to one side of the road on to a bank, and upset the buggy. Mr. Sieber and Miss Stouffer were both thrown out Sieber escaped unhurt, but the lady it was believed was killed She however, was restored to consciousness in about half an hour. The injuries received were of such a serious character that she has been unable to leave her bed since. The horse tore clear of the buggy and ran down the pike Where he was caught we did not learn.

SAD ACCIDENT.—We learn from our friend, Jacob M. Carpenter, that on Wednesday of last week, a little daughter of Jacob and Phœbe Goebenour, of Buffalo Mills, was terribly scalded and died from the effects a short time afterwards, Mrs. G., it appears, was cleaning house, and the little girl had gone to bed The mother carried a bucket of hot water and set it by the side of the bed and went down stairs for something else. During her absence the child, it is supposed, rolled off the bed and fell into the water. The mother, attracted by the screams, rushed to the rescue but she was too late The child suffered terribly until the following morning when death interposed. The bereaved parents have our sympathy.—Bedford Inquirer.

THE following brief conversation took place in front of the SENTINEL office on last Friday, between two Democratic local celebrities, the one a resident of Mifflin, the other a resident of Milford township. After a common salutation, the Mifflin man, whom we shall designate by way of distinction, as Democrat No. 1, addressed Democrat No 2 thus:

What news have you this morning?

No. 2. I have no news. I only stopped to ask you what you think of Greeley.

No 1. I don't think anything about Greeley. What do you think?

No. 2. I think he's pretty hard to swallow. Can we go him?

No. 1. I don't know. I guess though, if we grease him right well with the whiskey that he said our party uses, it may be he'll go down.

No. 2. Hoh! May be he'll come up again.

No. 1. I don't know. You'll try him?

This last remark from No. 1 was what a lawyer would call a leading question, to No. 2, and he, not feeling like committing himself directly, shuffled off up street, with a little laugh for an answer.

It will be observed that neither of these gentlemen have committed themselves in favor of Greeley.

YESTERDAY afternoon a distinguished company of Mifflin gentlemen, consisting of a Sheriff, an ex Sheriff, two distinguished cattle and horse brokers, a pleasant and entertaining market-car man, a District Attorney, a Clerk of the Court, a Register and Recorder, a Justice of the Peace, and one practicing lawyer, feeling the ennui of the torrid head, trespassed on the public grounds about the Court House for the purpose of engaging in that delightful exercise—on a warm day in July—of pitching quoits. The ground was selected in the shade on the east side of the Court House, and the parties went vigorously to work, as the crystal drops as big as soup beans that rolled down their cheeks abundantly attested. Those not engaged in pitching, laid and sat in the most abandoned and artistic manner in the doors and on the steps of that peculiar institution in the rear of the Temple of Justice, and seemed to revel in the fragrance peculiar to that office that is daily frequented by many.

There is a spirit of reform abroad in the land Hovering awhile over this interesting ground, it let fly its shaft, and these gentlemen were summoned before Justice Kreider to answer for trespassing on the public grounds. The hearing will take place before Justice Kreider, next Saturday. We suggest that it be held in the Court-room as a large audience may be expected, and we ask the Justice to reserve a seat for the SENTINEL reporter. The case is worth at least $5 per head, and if it goes before His Honor Judge Junkin, it would be worth from $15 to $20 per head just to hear His Honor's charge flash and sparkle Wouldn't it, gentlemen? The janitor or keeper of the public grounds, Jonathan McCoy, certainly is a practical reformer Keep the ball a rolling There is a good deal of jocundity in this reform movement, and it won't kill the parties, as the stone did the frog.

ACCIDENT IN PERRYSVILLE.—On the 4th of July last, a son of Mr. Benjamin Stimmel, of Perrysville, aged about 16 years, while in the act of loading a small iron cannon, met with a fearful accident. The cannon, by some means, was suddenly fired, and the contents, consisting of an iron ramrod, powder, &c., entered the thigh of young Stimmel, tearing away, lacerating and burning a large portion of the inner part of the thigh—a most horrid and sickening sight to behold. The tow-wad also entered the palm of the left hand, and with the burning powder caused a very serious wound. Dr. Applebaugh was at once called to attend the case, and dressed his wounds in the most skillful manner, and by his great care and attention (now twenty days since the occurrence) has his patient in a comfortable condition, with a favorable prospect of a complete recovery; though considerable time will yet be required before the wound of the thigh will be entirely healed. Considering the excessive heat, and the nature of the injuries, great praise is due the Doctor. Some of those who witnessed the first dressing of the wounds and the subsequent treatment, have told me that they never saw superior skill displayed—for many who were present, expressed the belief that the case must prove fatal, in consequence of the hot weather, and from the serious and shocking appearance of the wounds.

THE Republican seems to be impressed with the belief that we were requested to present that journal with the card of announcement of Judge Pomeroy, for Congress. We have no recollection that we were so requested to do, by the gentleman who handed us the announcement, and if you consult him you will learn that fact.

STOPPING A WEDDING.—A fearful fight occurred between two brothers, in York, Pa, a few days since. A youthful couple had made their appearance at the minister's and asked to be married While the preacher was making some preliminary inquiries, a brother of the groom appeared and forbid the marriage upon the ground that the parties were too young and that the parents were opposed to the marriage. At this juncture the groom left the side of his tearful sweet-heart, collared his brother, and would have given him a severe trouncing had the minister not interfered. The result was that the minister declined performing the ceremony. We bet the next move in that quarter will be an elopement.—West Chester Republican.

Died:

MCCAMMON—On the 26th inst., in Beale township, Thomas McCammon, aged 72 years.

GINGRICH—On Sabbath morning, the 28th inst., at the residence of her uncle, Mr John Gingrich, in Walker township, Miss Mary Ellen Gingrich, aged 18 years, 6 months and 24 days.

The deceased was called away by death in the very bloom of life, after an illness of only eight days. Truly "in the midst of life we are in death." She was a most estimable young lady—amiable, kind-hearted and beloved by all who knew her, and her death has cast a gloom over her relatives and friends which even time can hardly dispel. Previous to her death she professed her faith in her Redeemer, and expressed a full hope of a blissful immortality. Although removed from her friends in the prime of life, they have the blessed assurance of meeting her again in that better land, where death and parting are unknown. May her early death be remembered by the young, and lead them to prepare for eternity, for "in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh."
