A Croup Cure

is what many a mother is looking for; something absolutely safe and reliable, that will disarm her terror of that dread rattling, strangling cough, so fearful to the mother, so fatal to the child. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a croup cure that can be relied on. Thousands say so.

MRS. W. J. DICKSON ("Stanford Eveleth") writes from Truro, N. S.:—

"That terror of mothers, the startling, croupy cough, never alarmed me so long as I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house."

"We have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in our family for years. Once when our boy had a severe attack of croup, we thought that he would die. But we broke up the attack by using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."

CELESTIAL PHOTOGRAPHY.

The Sensitive Plate Reveals More Than the Eye Can See.

In St. Nicholas there is an article on "Photography—Its Marvels," by Elizabeth Flint Wade. The author says:

Almost the first use in science to which the new discovery was put was the photographing of the moon, the first recorded picture being made by Professor Draper and presented to the New York Lyceum of Natural History. His son Henry grew so fond of astronomical photography that on leaving college he went to Ireland to see the great reflecting telescope of Lord Rosse. After seeing it he determined to make one like it. The reputation of the Yankee boy—that he can make not only the thing he undertakes, but also the machine that makes it—was proved to be deserved by Henry Draper, for he made and he mounted the first American reflecting telescope. With it he took over 1,500 photographs of the heavens, and the instrument is still in use in Harvard observatory.

The telescope not only reveals more than can be seen by the eye alone, but the sensitive film surpasses the power of the eye when aided by the telescope, for the camera records on the film objects which the eye cannot see through the greatest magnifying lenses. No matter how far away or how dimly it shines, the light of the faintest star in time impresses the film, and thus that which is invisible to the eye becomes visible on the plate.

In celestial photography the camera is kept moving during the taking of a picture. The exposure sometimes lasts several hours, and if the camera were stationary the motion of the earth would soon carry the subject out of line with the telescope. The camera, therefore, is attached to the tube of the telescope, and the object to be photographed is brought into the lens at the intersection of two cross wires. Then by a system of clockwork the telescope moves so that the subject occupies the same position on the plate during the exposure.

It is another curious feature of celestial photography that a plate may be exposed several nights on the same subject. I have seen star cluster and nebulæ pictures which were exposed, the former on two and the latter on four successive evenings. The picture showing the nebulæ required a total exposure of 18 hours and 44 minutes.

PEACE JUBILEE AT PHILADELPHIA.

Special Excursion Rates via Philadelphia & Reading Railway.

The Peace Jubilee at Philadelphia will undoubtedly be the greatest demonstration ever held in the United States. The grand military and naval review, civic and industrial parade, rededication of Independence Hall restored to its colonial appearance, and the unveiling of Gen'l Grant's monument will all be well worth seeing, remembered and talked of in future years. The appropriation of fifty thousand dollars by the Philadelphia City Councils and the guarantee of as much more by the Citizens Committee, over half of which has been already subscribed, makes it certain that no expense will be spared to make it the celebration of the century. The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has made arrangements whereby excursion tickets to Philadelphia from all principal points on its line, also on the Atlantic City Railroad, and all leased or allied lines will be sold at the low rate of single fare for the round trip, Military organizations in uniform at special rates. All tickets will be sold good going Oct. 24th to 27th inclusive, and good to return until Oct. 31st inclusive.

For full information as to rates, time of trains, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading ticket agent, or address Edson J. Weeks, Gen'l Passenger Agent, Philadelphia.

Tedious Suffering Finds Relief.

Haverhill, N. H.—Many physicians have pronounced as incurable, diseases of the skin and blood. Mrs. Hodsdon of this place abandoned the old school method and used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured.

In October, 1890, and for a year after, Mrs. Hodsdon suffered from a diseased ankle bone. She had always been troubled with Salt Rheum which aggravated the diseased limb. Prescriptions and medicines of all sorts were used, but with no benefit. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was tried, and it drove the poison out of her blood, healed the ulcerous sores, and restored Mrs. Hodsdon to health and strength.

Favorite Remedy cleanses the blood, and strengthens the nerves. In cases of scrofula and salt rheum, it cures where all else fails.

The New Jersey Soldier Vote.

Trenton, Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Wurts has sent out blanks to enable the soldiers and sailors of the state now in the service of the government to vote at the coming election. These blanks were sent to Camp Meade and the other points where the absent soldiers and sailors are located. Under the New Jersey laws an absent soldier or sailor in time of war may vote by sending a sealed ballot to another elector in his district to cast for him.

Killed by the Provost Guard.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Private Ed. Nygrau, a young Swede belonging to Company B, Twelfth New York, was shot and killed about midnight by the provost guard while running away to evade arrest. Private Bailey, of the Third engineers, was also shot by the provost guard and is in a critical condition.

Geraniums, fuchsias, pansies, daises, roses etc., for spring planting at Payne's nurseries, Girardville. Tuberose and gladiolus bulbs.

There is No Scarcity Here.

From Hazleton Standard.

There does not appear to be a scarcity of miners in the Schuylkill region, due probably to the two weeks' pay system, the absence of company stores, and the sale of powder at remarkable prices. Give the miners of the middle coal field these just privileges, and the problem will be almost wholly solved.

All kinds of vegetables and flower seeds, and plants at Payne's nurseries, Girardville. Electric cars pass the door. 5-6-tf

Church to be Repaired.

Father Misterli, the new pastor of St. Mauritius church at Ashland, has found such a large debt on the church and the building is in such a delapidated condition, that he has decided to raise money for needed repairs. For that purpose a fair will be held during the holidays. Father Misterli has created a good and lasting impression among his parishioners.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

MRS. S. S. MABRY,
350 Elm St., Macon, Ga.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific, reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

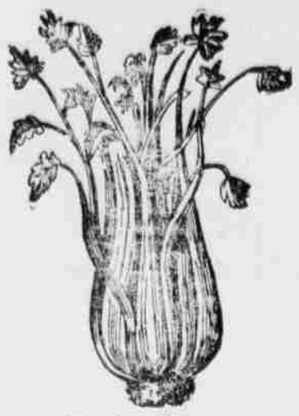
The President and his Cabinet are also expected to be present.



Paine's Celery Compound Makes People Well.

The one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. D., of Dartmouth college first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

EPISCOPALIANS ON MARRIAGE.

Bishops Discuss the Church Law For the Government of Ministers.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The marriage and divorce canon was under consideration by the bishops in the triennial Episcopal council yesterday. It is as follows:

No minister shall solemnize a marriage the parties to which are within the degree of consanguinity and affinity defined in the 18th chapter of the book of Leviticus.

It shall be the duty of the ministers to admonish the people from time to time that the church discountenances clandestine marriages.

No minister shall solemnize the marriage of any person who is a minor under the law of the place of marriage unless the parent or guardian of such minor is present or shall have written consent to the marriage or is permanently resident in a foreign country.

No minister shall solemnize a marriage except in the presence of at least two witnesses, himself or the witnesses being personally acquainted with the parties.

Every minister of the church shall at the time of the marriage record in the register of the parish in which the marriage takes place the name, birthplace, age and residence of each party, and such record shall be signed by the minister who performs the ceremony and by at least two witnesses of the marriage.

No minister of this church shall solemnize the marriage of either party to a divorce during the lifetime of the other party.

"Over to Port."

To the visitor from the shore who sees its working (on an English ship) for the first time the rule of the starboard side—to give it a name—has as odd appearance. One does not know why everybody swarms over to port when a certain cap with gold on the peak emerges through a hatchway. It may even be unpleasantly enforced. Thus it chanced once to me to be a guest in the gunroom mess of a ship which was out for target practice.

I was walking with the paymaster, both of us void of any intention of offense, on the sacred starboard side, when a midshipman came up with a message from the captain, who was on deck, though not on the quarter deck, that we must confine ourselves to the port. There was a plentiful lack of humor on the part of that officer, and no sufficiency of politeness, but rules there must be, or else a man-of-war would speedily become a regular built privateer.—Blackwood's Magazine.

The Frugal Cook.

I had a cook of a frugal mind who took great pains in dressing a hare, which when brought to the table provoked peals of laughter. The head was quite pale and neatly surrounded by a wreath of fresh parsley. The air of dejection about the poor animal was indescribable. On inquiry it transpired that the cook had boiled the head to assist the soup and had carefully sewed it on again. The parsley was to hide the join. Her sense of economy having further interpreted a giblet pie as a medley of webbed feet and beaks under a good crust resulted in an abrupt departure.—Cornhill Magazine.
