A Sorry Sight.—We yesterday witnessed, at the County Prison, a most affecting scene between two sisters. One of them, a young and good looking girl, had left the home of her parents and become a common street-walker. She had frequently been committed as a vagrant, without the knowledge of her family. But yesterday her brother died, and her sister, anxious to let her know of the misfortune, that she might join in their sorrow, made the closest enquiry as to her whereabouts, and learned, to her great mortification and shame, that she was in prison.

Immediately she hastened to the jail, and with tears, bitter tears, in her eyes, asked if she could see her sister. She was permitted to do so, and the meeting of those two, under such circumstances, was such as to make the heart bleed. Upon communicating the sorrowful news of the brother's decease the abandoned sister wept most bitterly—her whole frame shook with grief—and with an humble spirit and contrite look, she promised, as soon as released, to return home. They met, and parted, in tears.

Purchase of a Slave in Pittsburgh.—About two years ago, J. B. Vashon, Barber, took into his shop as an apprentice a bright mulatto boy of about 14 years of age. On yesterday morning a gentleman from Wellsburg, Mr. Rose, was in the city, and recognized the boy as his slave. Immediately Mr. Vashon entered into negotiations with the owner, and for the sum of $200 purchased the boy's liberty. Mr. Rose, after every thing had been adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties, gave the boy a very kind invitation to visit his friends—that he would pay his passage to Wellsburg at any time when the boy felt disposed to make them a visit.

This act of Mr. Vashon's is that of a good, law-abiding citizen, and is more generous, more praiseworthy, and more philanthropic than all the coined professions that emanate from mad fanaticism, whose great love for the colored race begins and ends in words, words, words.

Quarter Sessions—Tuesday, January 14.—On the Bench, Judges McClure, Jones and Kerr.

Com. vs. Henry Horn—Fornication and Bastardy. Prosecutrix, Magdalene Sauter. This case was severely contested, and a great number of witnesses were examined. Jones for defence—Mellon for prosecution.

The jury returned a verdict of "guilty." The Court sentenced him to pay $50 to the mother of the child, and costs of prosecution.

Com. vs. Michael Havery and Geo. Williams—Larceny. The defendants are charged with rifling a carpet bag belonging to a passenger on the Clipper No. 2.

Theatre.—The Manager of this popular place of resort is unceasing in his endeavors to present his patrons with every available novelty. To-night he produces the Grand National Equestrian Drama of "The Swamp Fox;" to give effect to which he has purchased the splendid horse Zladel, whose training is said to surpass any animal yet witnessed on the Stage. The piece is replete with interesting incidents of our early Wars. We have no doubt the Manager will reap a rich harvest for the untiring energy he has displayed in the management of our beautiful Theatre.

Attempt to Break Jail.—John, James and Daniel Boozer, on Friday night last, had made arrangements to effect their escape from jail. By some means or other they succeeded in getting a couple of case knives and hacked them into saws, with which they sawed the leg off their iron bedstead, intending to use it as a pry. But the watchfulness of the jailor prevented the attempt. He found on the person of one of them a heavy ball of lead which they intended to use as a colt.

Bayne's Voyage to Europe.—If the reader has not seen this great Panorama, let him do so at once; he will be delighted and enchanted with its thousand beauties. It will close with the present week, after which it will be removed to Louisville. This will therefore be the very last opportunity of viewing this beautiful picture in Pittsburgh. There will be an exhibition at 3 o'clock this afternoon and in the evening, at the usual hour.

Shop Lifting.—John Culbertson, alias John Silsby, and Jim Williams, (colored,) were committed on Monday evening by Ald. Major, on a charge of stealing from J. D. Rumyley's Clothing store, on Liberty street, a cloth overcoat, worth eight dollars. A number of other articles were found in their possession.

Jim Williams was only discharged from prison on Monday at noon.

Printers' Festival.—A grand Festival of the Journeymen Printers will take place on the evening of Franklin's birth-day, Friday next, in commemoration of the anniversary of the birth of this great American Statesman, Philosopher and Printer.

Tickets can be obtained by applying to the Committee of Arrangements, Messrs. G. T. Myers, A. B. Russel, and R. R. R. Dumars. Price $1,25.

☞ Cullen, the Protestant candidate for Mayor' had his stand broken down in the Third Ward yesterday, and the boys threw away his tickets, as no body voted them. A great waste of the raw material, in having those tickets printed.

☞ There was a mass in the Diamond yesterday afternoon, between some of the B'hoys—cut heads and bloody noses were considerably mixed. It was a free fight and no arrests were made.

☞ Our streets, last evening, blazed with bonfires, to the great danger of property.

Brown up.—A man by the name of Nolan was yesterday brought up from the Charlotte Railroad, mangled in a most horrible condition. He was engaged in blowing rocks, at the time of the accident.

The jury returned a verdict of "guilty." Sentence deferred.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE
N. E. Corner of Third and Market streets,—established in 1840
The course of instruction and practice pursued in this establishment includes every branch requisite for a perfect mercantile education. The whole process has been matured and perfected by nearly eleven years practice in teaching, and about fifteen years previous experience in extensive domestic and shipping business; and those who aspire to the highest rank as accountants, will find on consulting any respectable merchant, that this is the only establishment of the kind in the city in which the mercantile community have any confidence. They will bear in mind "that all the populous noise we now hear about "trustees," "charters," "examining committees," &c., add nothing to the ability or experience of teachers. decsdaw.
