SAINGS SUMMER BOARDERS.

A Large Metropolitan Newspaper Which Is Helping the Summer Resorts.

The Brooklyn Eagle several years ago established a Bureau of Information in Brooklyn, where the public could, free of charge, secure details of hotels and boarding houses for the summer. The idea at once became popular, and branch bureaus were opened in Manhattan and other cities. Country hotels and boarding houses by sending to this Bureau can secure a listing blank, fill it out and return it and then be represented free of cost, and send their circulars and cards for free distribution

The Brooklyn Eagle has also been considered for years the best medium for summer boarders in New York city.

The Rock Point Inn, in the Adirondacks, said: "We are giving the Eagle a larger share of advertising than most other papers, as experience has demonstrated its value to us in past seasons."

Chauncey B. Newkirk of Wurtsboro, Sullivan county, said: "Last season one small adv. brought me five guests."

La Rue Bros., proprietors of the American Hotel of Sharon Springs, N. Y, wrote: "Our house is full and mostly by Brooklyn people. Daily we receive applications for rooms, and all on account of our standing ad. in the Eagle."

HUMOROUS.

It is really not so surprising that some people do think so much of themselves as that they can.—Indianapolis News.

By the time the average man gets old enough to have good sense he is too contrary to make good use of it.—Chicago Daily News.

"Hello, doctor. What is that medicine you are mixing up? It smells like hot stuff." "It isn't, though. It's a cold cure."—Indianapolis News.

And the Beast.—"Why do you call them 'beauty and the beast,' when he seems such a nice sort of fellow?" "Because, you see, he's a literary lion."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Tilden—"By the way, Fidgett, did you ever see 'The Merchant of Venice?'" Bolton—"Why, my dear boy, I never was in Venice in my life. How could I have seen him? By the way, is there only one merchant in Venice?"—Boston Transcript.

Appropriate.—D'Auber—"This is the landscape I wanted you to suggest a title for." Critteck—"It's rather impressionistic. Why not call it 'Home?'" D'Auber—"'Home?' Why?" Critteck—"Because there's no place like it."—Philadelphia Press.

A Modest Bonnet.—Mrs. Neersite—"Really, now, for Mrs. Noeritch that's quite a modest little rosette of green ribbons." Mrs. Sharpe—"They're not green ribbons, my dear, merely a modest little bunch of ten-dollar bills."—Philadelphia Press.

A Plea for Purity.—"What we want," said the First Patriot, "is honest elections." "I should say so," agreed the Second Patriot. "Why, Heeler promised me $50 for my influence in my ward, and now he says he never agreed to give me more than ten dollars."—Baltimore Sun.

NOT SANDWICH ISLANDS.

The Name Formerly Applied to the Hawaiian Group Is Now Seldom Used.

The preamble of a resolution adopted by the chamber of commerce the other day advocated the establishment of "cable communication between the United States and the Philippines by way of the Sandwich islands." This designation of the Hawaiian island was probably mere force of old habit or a "slip of the pen." The name Sandwich islands is not properly applied today to our territory of Hawaii. Geographers and map makers all over the world have discontinued the use of the former name, says the New York Sun.

The Hawaiian islands were called the Sandwich islands by the famous Capt. Cook, when he discovered them, in honor of a British nobleman who was one of the most conspicuous promoters of geographical discovery in his day. At the time the islands were named in his honor Lord Sandwich was lord of the admiralty. It was under his administration that Capt. Cook enriched geography with so many splendid and important discoveries. The naming of the islands for Lord Sandwich was referred to at the time as "a tribute justly due to the noble person for the liberal support these voyages have derived from his power."

For many years the islands were known as the Sandwich islands. When, however, the natives became somewhat advanced in civilization they began to protest against the abolition of the name which they and their forefathers had known for many generations. They never used the name which Capt. Cook gave them. They called their country the kingdom of Hawaii. In all their relations with other countries, in all their official papers, the name Sandwich never appeared. When King Kalakaua visited this country he was occasionally spoken of as "the king of the Sandwich islands." He never failed to correct, most politely, the person who named him in this manner. The only reference to his little kingdom that ever seemed to distress him was when it was called the Sandwich islands. Many missionaries and merchants sympathized with the desire of the natives to preserve their ancient name.

For years past it has been regarded as improper for an explorer to attach a new name to any geographical object having a distinct native name. The British themselves have been great sticklers for the retention of native names except when some conspicuous object was named after members of the royal family. But the fact that the retention of native names is generally advocated helped to bring about the disuse of the name that Capt. Cook gave to the Hawaiian group.

All the best atlases now give the native name to the group. The "International Geography," the latest important geography published in Great Britain, speaks of the Hawaiian islands as "formerly known as the Sandwich islands."

Of course the islands can never be called the Sandwich islands in our country, for this would be contrary to the present usage in all lands and to our own official designation of the new "territory of Hawaii."

Wants Gold for Confederate Note.

A letter came recently to the treasury department in Washington from Great Grimsby, England. It contained a $50 confederate note, and in rather pompous language demanded that its equivalent in gold be forwarded at once to the address given. Treasury officials say that the incident was not an uncommon one. Although the civil war closed 36 years ago, confederate notes and bonds are received two and three times a week. Nearly all of them come from England, where the bonds were sold. Some of the Englishmen, who have been notified that the bonds and notes are worthless, have grown indignant, and replied to the department that they propose to take action looking to the creation of an international incident unless the paper is redeemed.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Traveling Is Dangerous.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers and trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. H. Hausam, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes, "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

A cold wave in the western part of the state Tuesday brought snow and at Grafton, W. Va., one inch fell. It was the coldest May weather known in many years.

What Is Foley's Kidney Cure?

Answer: It is made from a prescription of a leading Chicago physician, and one of the most eminent in the country. The ingredients are the purest that money can buy, and are scientifically combined to get their utmost value. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Henry Hopkins, D. D., will be inaugurated president of Williams college, Mass., Tuesday, June 24, and will deliver an address on that occasion.

A Lesson in Health.

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

It is reported that Senator Quay, in the event of Judge Pennypacker's nomination for governor, will likely be made chairman of the state committee.

A Revelation.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

"Hereditary rank may be an illusion; but hereditary virtue gives a potent to innate nobleness beyond all blazonry of the herald's college."

Will Cure Consumption.

A. A. Herren, Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

It is rumored that mumps have appeared in town and now some of the youngsters will probably be shy of a pickle diet.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and can safely be given to children. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

The Presbyterian general assembly Monday selected Los Angeles, California, as the place for its next meeting.

Foley's Honey and Tar is peculiarly adapted for asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Dress making in all branches. Will go to the house or do the work at home. Address MARY LUDWIG, Broad street, Milford, Pa.

You never heard of any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.
