THE CITY POST.

THURSDAY MORNING.....NOVEMBER 11

THE RIVER.—Capt. R. Grant, now of the Brilliant, Pittsburgh packet, of our Cincinnati line, has just closed his contract with Messrs. R. & N. Porter, of Steubenville, for a new and fast boat, to take the place of the Brilliant. The new boat will be 4 feet longer than the Allegheny, now the longest boat of this line; she will also have three feet more depth of hold. The Journal in noticing the contract for building this boat, says, that it was fully determined on some time since, but a commencement has been deferred until now, with a view of combining in her all the improvements that might be introduced into the stock boats of the present building. She is intended for the fastest, as well as the most elegant steamer, at least in American waters, whether West or East.

There are quite a number of new boats now lying at our wharf—among them, we may name the New York, City of Huntsville, Washington City, St. Clair, and others. All these are fine class steamers—either designed for the lower trade, or for the packets between this city and Louisville or St. Louis.

Capt. R. H. Cochran's boat, noticed above as the St. Clair, is now on the stocks. The hull is 182 feet long, 32 feet beam, and 5½ feet hold; it was built by Hammett & Co., of West Elizabeth; the cabin is a fine piece of architecture, and was built by Mason & Bunton; and the engines by Watson & Hay. The St. Clair is designed to run as a regular packet between this city and St. Louis, under the command of Capt. Cochran.

And the new and pretty boat which has come out the present season, is the Helen Mar. She is running as a regular packet between this city and Zanesville, Ohio. Her length is 140 feet, breadth of beam, 27 feet, and hold 5½ feet. The hull was built by Apfall & Co., of California. The engines were built by Preston & Wagner. The cylinders are 10 inches in diameter, with 4½ feet stroke; three boilers 22 feet long and 42 inches in diameter. The Helen Mar was built under the direction, and is to be commanded by Captain Cox, favorably known in the Zanesville trade.

The most magnificent steamer by far lying at the wharf, is the City of Huntsville. The hull of this steamer was built at Elizabeth, by Mr. Walker; the length is 182 feet; breadth of beam, 32 feet; depth of hold 5½ feet. The engines, boilers, &c., were built by Robinson & Mimms, who have completed their department of this splendid steamer, in a manner becoming Pittsburgh mechanics. The cylinders of the steamer are 37 inches in diameter, with 6 feet stroke; the boilers are three in number, 24 feet long, and 28 inches in diameter. The cabin is the finest that has ever been finished in this city—the gilding is magnificent and appropriate; and the design of the artist has contributed to its decoration. The finest of carpets, gorgeous furniture, and princely accommodations, have also contributed to make this boat a near perfection as possible. The cabin was built by Messrs. Millinger & Goehring. The City of Huntsville is designed to run on the Tennessee river, previous to which, however, she makes a trip from this city to St. Louis. She will be commanded by Capt. W. B. Rose.

The Washington City has been built under the direction of Capt. S. W. Roberts; she is intended as a regular packet between this city and St. Louis. The hull was built by Graham & Co., of Brownsville; the engines by James Nelson, and the cabin by Mason & Bunton.

The Clara Poe is a fine boat, built expressly for the St. Louis trade. She is 180 feet long; breadth of beam, 32 feet; and hold 5 feet. She is to be commanded by Capt. D. S. Ward, of Illinois.

Coal boats are still going down the river, "with a rush," in the Louisville papers of the 6th, we notice a sale of 5,000 bushels of Pittsburgh Coal at 16c; retail sales also at 16c.

Last night there were seven feet water in the channel, and falling slowly.

Defendant found it and spending with $45 under the stable, $10 was found in his hat, $10 in his stocking, and he confessed that he chewed up $5. A verdict of guilty was rendered, and prisoner was remanded.

Commonwealth vs. Alfred and John Alexander, and Wesley Wright. Indictment larceny. The defendants were charged of robbing a man of $75, in a tenter shop, on St. Clair street, and there was no evidence against them a verdict of not guilty was returned.

FAMILIAR PICTURES.—We have received from Charles A. Snow, No. 110, Wood street, a copy of an engraving, styled "The Usher." The engraving well represents that noble class of men who have devoted their talents and time to the service of their country. Conspicuous in the group, we see Clay, Calhoun, Buchanan, Webster, Cass, and others. The likenesses are all well drawn, representing the intellectual appearance of each person, in a remarkably correct manner. The frame contains twenty-three figures represented in the engraving. This engraving should find a place in the dwelling of every American.

The picture can be purchased at the store of Charles A. Snow, 110 Wood street. Mr. Moore, also keeps constantly on hand a large lot of looking-glasses and brushes. He is a manufacturer and dealer in clocks, fancy goods, &c. &c.

From the evidence adduced before the Coroner's jury, it appeared that the deceased was employed as a hand on the Steamer Globe, and that he accidentally fell over board, while passing along the guard on Tuesday. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased was a resident of the Seventh Ward, and leaves a wife and family to mourn his loss.
