THE NEWS.

The new Masonic Hall in Philadelphia will be dedicated to-day. On Saturday last the Hall was thrown open to the public, and was visited by over twenty thousand persons.

The sixty-third anniversary of the declaration of the first French republic (21st September, 1792) was celebrated on Saturday in New York by the French and other republicans.

A Mr Gould, who has been for some time past investigating the extent and causes of crime in the city of New York, publishes the astounding fact that there are no fewer than 24,000 professional prostitutes in that city

Lewis Stanislaus, well known for some years as the Prussian Council in Cincinnati, and as a gentleman of very large acquaintance and extensive influence among our German fellow citizens, died suddenly at five o'clock on Saturday morning, of cholera morbus.

Senator Douglas addressed a large meeting in St. Louis on Saturday night. He denounced the fanaticism invoked by the Fugitive Slave law and Northern men, who pronounced it unconstitutional—discussed the Nebraska bill, and said that Congress had no right to interfere in the local laws of the States or Territories. The Know Nothings were bitterly denounced.

A heavily litigated case, McCormick against Manny and others, for the improvement of a patent in the manufacture of Reaping Machines, comes up for trial on Friday, in the United States Circuit Court, Cincinnati, before Judge McLean. Reverdy Johnson, and D. S. Dickinson, of New York, appear for the plaintiff, and E. M. Stanton, of Pittsburgh, on the other side.

There was considerable excitement in the New York Court of Sessions on Saturday afternoon. The Grand Jury came into court with their presentiment and budget of indictments. When it was reported about that several officials had been presented for malfeasance in office, there was a profound sensation. No less than three Aldermen, three Councilmen and two Police Justices have been indicted.

The sales of real estate at auction in New York city, for the year closing August 31st, amounted in value to $6,639,721, against $11,019,393 for the year previous. The shipments of specie from that port during the week ending on the 22d inst., foot up $922,754 52; making an aggregate from the 1st of January to date, of $24,403,961 86, and include $78,308 by the steamer Ariel, and $863,506 by the Arago, for Havre.

Several Sophomores in Dartmouth College, not having the fear of the consequences before their eyes, painted the seats of the Freshmen's recitation room. The Freshmen retaliated by greasing the seats of the Sophomores. The last now broke into a Freshman's room, and shaved off his hair close to his head. They regarded him as a leader in the grease movement, but he was not. Of course, the mischievous Sophomores were called up before the College authorities, and at the latest accounts twenty of them were likely to be expelled. Such scenes were formerly common at Dartmouth and other Colleges, but for a number of years they have been rare.

BY THEIR FRUITS YE KNOW THEM.

The Know Nothings promised us great reforms last year. Let us see about one of them. They had a large majority in the lower house of our legislature last year. And what did they do? They passed, by quite a majority, a bill to remove the seat of government from Harrisburg to Philadelphia!! The only reason we ever heard assigned for it was that the hotel keepers at Harrisburg did not "feed" well enough! And, as it would cost more to live in Philadelphia for a session than at Harrisburg, the same legislature increased the pay of the members of the legislature about two hundred dollars each!

Now let us count the cost of these two wicked reforms. The increased pay of the members and officers of the legislature will make just about $30,000. Of course the pay of the Governor, and all the members of the State cabinet, including clerks, &c., must be increased also, to enable them to live in the great city with its fine theatres and other temptations. Count that at least $20,000 more: making $60,000 per year, which the good natured tax payers must fork over! But that is only a small item. If Philadelphia has influence enough to get the seat of government removed there she can have a State House, and Department House built in a style to be "a credit to the city." That is the way they talk of it. The Ohio State House cost two millions and a half. Ours, in Philadelphia, would cost as much; and the building at Harrisburg would be useless, and thus about another half million or so is lost. Thus about $3,000,000 would come out of the tax-payers within five or six years to provide suitably for the seat of government in Philadelphia; besides an increased expense of $50,000 per year for all time to come!

There is reform for you, with a vengeance. That is one cluster of the fruits of the reform party. A prolific yield truly. Equal to anything in the vegetable world, even in this year of "big crops."

End of Sermon No. 1, on a good text

Villainous Saltpetre—Do You Take a Newspaper!

The advantages as well as the satisfaction of reading a newspaper are so manifold that it is astonishing to find men in any community without subscribing for at least one of these "necessaries of life." We heard of a case happening a day or two ago which shows the truthfulness of the adage, "penny wise and pound foolish," when applied to the man who imagines he is too poor to pay two or three dollars a year for such purposes. It is not the story of a man making a gigantic fortune out of a single operation, but one of many happening every week of our lives, where the man who "reads the newspapers" gets ahead of his fogy neighbor who does not. A merchant friend of ours who emphatically belongs to the first class named, observing by a paper to which he subscribes and pays for, that there had been a great rise in saltpetre, took a walk round town, and in less than two hours had cleared fifty dollars without investing a single cent of cash. The man from whom he bought had not heard of the advance, and for aught we know are yet in blissful ignorance

We may add, by the way, that very few men have been known to profit from a newspaper for which they subscribe but fail to pay for. If you want to be as wise as your neighbor, subscribe, and, if you desire to profit by your wisdom, be sure to pay the printer. We are happy to say that on our somewhat extensive list of subscribers, there are few who are dishonest enough, or careless enough, not to come down with the last yet there are a few who do not, and we have ever noticed that they are, almost without exception, miserable devils both in character and purse, and who never will get along in the world, so long as they cheat one of our just dues

OUR CANDIDATES

Every one of the candidates on our ticket is worthy of the support of our entire party, and of every good citizen. This is not a time to indulge old grudges, if any such exist, or to throw away votes for personal preferences. The contest is between the Democrats and the K. N.'s, and every vote withheld on one side is just as much help to the other. Our opponents are in a state of confusion. No enthusiasm exists amongst them; while on our side such enthusiasm and real one efforts may secure a victory. We may have a triumph now if we will, but we must work for it. It is worth an effort to place our party right this year. If any dissatisfaction exists in any quarter let it be laid aside this time. "Let bygones be by-gones" till this battle is over: and we are happy to say that such is the spirit that animates the ranks of our party. It is a good omen, and we hail it as the forerunner of success.

We have not time to speak of each candidate on our ticket. But the Address of the Committee, which we have laid before our readers, does them full justice, and no more

Sunbury and Erie Railroad.

Another section of eleven miles on the Sunbury and Erie Railroad, between Milton and Northumberland, was opened up on Friday last, making, if we mistake not, forty-three miles of this great highway finished since the first letting, three years ago. This is small progress, indeed, upon a work of such concceded importance to the commercial supremacy of Philadelphia, and even it had to be accomplished against the bickering of a multitude of her counsellors, and through a war of words that can only find its counterpart in the "rival of New York." There are 229 miles yet to finish; in fact, nineteen twentieths has yet to have the benefit of the first shovel of upturned earth When the Sunbury and Erie is finished we will let our readers know. It can only be completed in the present decade by some miraculous interposition, which is not at all likely to supervene

MORE DEPARTURES FROM LOUISVILLE.—The Louisville papers continue to notice the departure of citizens of that place. The Times says that Mr. Henry Bauer, a man who has had several thousand dollars invested in business there, has purchased property in Hamilton, C. W., and is about to remove there. Another business man, a German, has sold out, and a few days ago shipped by express to New York his money, amounting to $27,000, and has started with his family to New York, thence to Germany, his native land, where, as he declared before leaving Louisville, his children would not be insulted, and looked upon as intruders and enemies to the country he had vowed eternal allegiance

THE RED REPUBLICANS of New York, celebrated the anniversary of the French Republic of 1792, the first experiment of the kind in La belle France by a dinner, &c., on Saturday. Geo. N. Saunders was present and delivered a speech of which the following is a condensation:

He said that although he did not understand by the voice one word that had been said, but to the sentiments expressed, as interpreted to him by the action of the spenkers, and the response of their auditors, he gave entire and hearty approbation. He next hauded the Chairman, Mr. Spitthoorn, and expressed the fear that Slavery had had something to do with the mesgreness of the meeting. He (Mr. S.) had no intention to have introduced such a question, and he was sure the presiding officer had not. This was a meeting for white men, and not for niggers in Europe, and wherever else he had been, he had borne the front of Red Republicanism. Though he was the friend of Victor Hugo and Louis Blanc, still he was the friend of the Ledru Rollin school. He was for death to tyrants. He was for the guillotine, and he would work it by steam, by G—d. [Applause.] He concluded by a sentiment, that "The Red Republicans of America must work and wait until the 4th of March, 1857." Cuba and the Elsinore tax will be their opportunity

Magazines.

HOUSEHOLD WORDS.—The October number of this most agreeable monthly is before us. We have not had time to peruse it, but from the table of contents we can safely pronounce it worth four times its cost. It is the commencing number of volume twelve. Gildenfenney, opposite the Theatre, has it for sale.

BLACKWOOD—The September number of this reprint of the most valuable English periodical published has been received from H. Miner, 32 Smithfield street. The most extravagant praise we can render it is to say that it is in no way inferior to the numbers which precede it.

Destructive Conflagration—Over Twenty Buildings Burned—The best part of our City in Ashes—Loss $50,000.

Carbondale is again the scene of a destructive and desolating fire. At about two o'clock on Sunday morning the flames were discovered bursting from the fourth story of the large and commodious hotel on the corner of Main and Dundaff streets, known as the Bronson House, which, with a portion of the furniture, stables and outbuildings attached, were speedily a mass of ruins. From the hotel the fire spread south, to the store owned and occupied by Almond Crocker, grocer; this and the adjoining stores, owned by Gillespie & Love, occupied respectively by Miss P. P. Perham, millinery and fancy goods, Joseph Alexander, merchant tailor, and H. L. Freeman & Co., merchants, were consumed. At this point, through the most strenuous exertions, the fire was arrested at the store of Wm. R. Baker & Co., though the store was somewhat damaged. The Standard printing-office, in the upper part of Baker's store, was removed, and much of the type "pied," though we believe not much of the type will be lost.

The fire crossing Main street, next caught the large building owned by Messrs Harrison, Scurry and Watt, known as Temperance Hall, the first floor occupied by D. K. Morse, merchant, and the upper story by the Olive Leaf Lodge of Odd Fellows and the Good Templars, both Lodges losing their furniture and regalia. The building owned and occupied by John Kane, cabinet maker, immediately south and adjoining, was also consumed. Extending north, the building of N. Tarsham, first floor occupied by W. Burr, jeweler, and the upper part by Mr. Farnham as a saddlery—the store of G. L. Dickson & Co., and the large store building on the corner of Main and Dundaff streets, belonging to the estate of Peter Campbell, deceased, occupied by Andrew Hart, merchant, G. B. Crocker, grocery, and occupied for Hart's law office, were in flames and reduced to ashes; thence the flames spread north on Dundaff street, burning some intervening buildings of little value, to the store and the adjoining dwelling of Stephen S. Clark, which were burned, here, again, by great exertion the progress of the fire was stayed by taking the dwelling house of Mr. Clark, which, however, is very much damaged.

The fire crossing Dundaff street from Crocker's building, next caught in the store of Wm. Richmond, which, with the row of three buildings adjoining on Dundaff street, shoe shop of M. B. Curby, and the law office of Lathrop & Jones, on Main street, owned by Mr. Richmond and occupied respectively as a cabinet shop by J. F. Kunback, a marble and and tomb stone manufactory by Mr. Searles, were all consumed, together with the Lackawanna House owned by Mr. Gillespie, and kept by Mr. J. Foster, where the flames were finally arrested.

The fire must have originated from the stupidity, carelessness or drunkenness of some of Washburn's Circus Company who performed here on Saturday night, they occupying the whole of the upper story of the Hotel where the fire was first discovered.

The Bronson House was owned by Samuel B. Meredith, Esq., he having recently purchased it at a cost of $16,000.

It is impossible for us in the hurry of the moment to ascertain the actual amount of the loss sustained by our citizens by this calamity

CORRUPTION IN THE CITY COUNCILS

Indictment of Aldermen and Councilmen

(FROM THE PITTSBURGH JOURNAL.)

The full weight of the government against members of the City Councils was brought into court by the grand jury on Saturday afternoon, and there not satisfied with that, this morning.

A bill has been found against Alderman Herrick, of the Ninth ward, for accepting $100 in a bribe from Hill and Wainright for voting to lay the grade of Liberty street.

Another bill was found against Alderman Herrick for passing Walter R. Jones to receive from him a sum of money, as a bribe, for influencing the resolutions for the opening of Joseph Walker avenue.

A bill has been found against John C. Wandell, councilman of the Eighth District, for proposing to William L. Wiley to receive from him a sum of money, as a bribe, for influencing the passage of an appropriation of $100,000 to extend Canal street.

A bill has been found against Christian S. Cooper, councilman of the Twenty third District, for proposing to receive from Peter Palmer $500, as a bribe, to aid in releasing him from a contract to clean the streets of the Eleventh Ward.

A bill has been found against Bartholomew Healey, councilman of the Sixth District, for proposing to receive from Henry J. Lott $1,000, as a bribe, to aid a resolution in favor of giving to farmers and gardeners the use for market purposes of a plot of ground on West street, opposite Washington Market.

A bill has been found against Samuel H. Moser, alderman of the Third Ward, for proposing to Walter R. Jones to receive from him $1,000, as a bribe, for aiding to defeat the resolutions to remove the Joseph Walker

The above persons were all arrested this morning, and have each given bail before Recorder Smith in the sum of $2,500 to appear at the October term of the court.

Another "Hasty Plate of Soup."

The Washington correspondent of the Times speaks of a sharp correspondence going on between Gen. Scott and the Secretary of War—not as to his pay, which it is understood, the administration withholds as yet—but—

"It seems that some months since, Gen. Scott gave Gen. Hitchcock, who has long been an intimate personal friend, leave of absence for six months. The Secretary of War immediately wrote to Gen. Scott, demanding his reasons for this act of favoritism to Gen. Hitchcock, and at the same time countermanded the General's order, granting leave of absence.

Gen. Scott replied that he had granted the leave of absence because he had the right to do it, and was convinced of its propriety—that he was not responsible to the Secretary of War for his action in such cases, and that he would be obliged to him if he would hereafter, in any official communications he might have occasion to address him, write in the name of the President of the United States—as he was the only official superior whom he acknowledged. The General's letter was quite as sharp as the Secretary's.

Secretary Davis, in reply, entered into a very elaborate and detailed exposition of all the alleged breaches of order and violations of propriet, committed by General Scott during his whole military career. His letter is very long, and with the severest criticism of the General's conduct."

SUICIDE BY A BOY.—The Menasha, Wisconsin, Advocate, of the 13th inst, gives the following account of the commission of suicide by a boy only twelve or fifteen years of age:

Young Kelsey imagined himself to be whipped and abused too much by the village boys, and on Monday evening he told his mother he will stand it no longer—that he would hang himself. No attention was paid to the threat, and on Thursday morning he was whipped by his mother for some trivial offence, after which she sent him to the woods to procure some good switches, to be hereafter used on him for bad behavior. He was accompanied by a younger brother. After going into the woods a short distance, he sent the brother back home for a rope, in order, as he said, to bring a large bundle. On his brother's return, young Kelsey was stiff in death. In the absence of his brother, he placed some blocks on the ground, placed one of his suspenders around his neck, and tied one end to the limb of a tree, kicked the blocks away, and hung in that position until found dead. This is indeed a sad affair for one so young to take his life by his own hands. Those who have seen the corpse, say that even in death, his countenance exhibits the picture of determination and courage.

Half the business part of Carbondale, Luzerne county, Pa., was destroyed by fire on Sunday last Quality of the Wheat Crop.

If the following, from the St Louis Democrat, is a criterion to go by we are afraid the prospect for light bread is not indeed. Says this journal:

It is confidently stated, that the wheat crop of Michigan, which State usually raises the best wheat of the Union, is in a large measure destroyed, the present year, by the excessive wet weather we have had, the past two months. Millers complain of the quality of the wheat arriving here,—it is swollen by dampness, and some of them have told us, that it is difficult to grind it into good flour. It is very doubtful, in our opinion, whether the quantity of good, sound merchantable wheat, this year, will be greater than the crop of last year, although, the yield this year, exceeds that of last, probably, one fourth.

A NEW FEATURE IN AN EPISCOPALIAN CHURCH.—Attached to one of the Episcopalian churches up town, there is an establishment some of whose peculiarities are unusual in Protestant institutions. A number of single ladies reside in a house near the church, at which prayers are read twice a day; those they attend regularly, and in addition to this, the religious services are held in the house, at which they are also present. The remainder of their time is occupied in the instruction of poor children, visiting the sick, making garments for the needy, and other good works. While they remain in the house, they of course comply with its regulations, which are few and simple, but they take no vows, and are at liberty at any time to leave the establishment. They do not mingle in general society, but are not restricted from doing so if their tastes so incline them. They are at liberty to receive visits, though we believe they actually see but little, if any company. Those who resort to the house, are probably disposed, when they go there, to retirement. No peculiar dress is worn, and they are not anxious in any way to become conspicuous. Among the inmates of the house are ladies entitled by their family and position to move in the most distinguished society of this country.—N. Y. Day Book

☞ Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills.—A singular combination, but very effectual, as the following will show

NEW YORK, November 29, 1852

Knowing, from experience, the valuable qualities of Dr M'Lane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills, I have for some time back considered it my duty, and made it my business, to make those articles known wherever I went among my friends. A short time ago I became acquainted with the case of a young girl, who seemed to be troubled with worms and liver complaint at the same time, and had been suffering for some two months. Through my persuasion she purchased one bottle of Dr M'Lane's Vermifuge, and one box of Liver Pills, which is the task according to directions. The result was, she passed a large quantity of worms; and I think that one box of the Pills will restore her to perfect health. Her father and residence are well known in Chelsea. G. L. Thrall, druggist, corner of Hudson and Monroe streets.

☞ Dr. M'Lane's genuine Liver Pills, also the genuine Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.

The genuine will always be signed on the wrapper, and have none but Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge. All others are counterfeits, and worthless.

☞ Ague and Bayes of Three Years' Standing Cured.—We think it incumbent on us to give the Beaver Dam, Hanover county, near Richmond, Va., Ague and Fever for three years: most of the time he had from two to a day, and rarely one week in the month free from the fever, so as to enable him to attend to his business. We tried physic and quinine, which seemed to do him no good. We tried everything recommended to us, but all to no purpose. At last, when Carter's Spanish Mixture was brought here, he commenced taking it, and before he had taken half a bottle, he was perfectly cured, and has not had a chill or fever since.

Mr. Gordon is truly respected by all who have been acquainted by this great cure, as a sober and sensible man.

Inhalation for Diseased Lungs.

The mode of inhalation is as simple as possible. The medicine, recommended by Dr. Jayne, is inhaled into the lungs, and is so mild that it can be used by the most delicate invalid, without fear of injury. The practice is now pursued from the first well-known physicians of the country, and the testimonials from some of the most eminent men in the land, are the strongest that can be adduced in favor of any medicine. Dr. Jayne's Expectorant is a sure remedy—for sale by druggists generally.

An Ordinance,

For the Better Regulation of the Diamond Market, &c.

BE it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same.

SEC. I. That from and after the passage of this Ordinance it shall not be lawful for any Butcher or other person or persons to have or keep within the Diamond Market House and Market Space, Pens, Stalls, Spoiled Meat, or other offensive odor, after sunrise; and any person or persons who shall have or keep within said Market House any such articles of offensive nature, or who shall at any time place or cause to be placed in or around the said Market House, on the pavements or elsewhere, any decayed Fruit or Vegetables, Melon Rinds, Rotten Eggs, or other offal, shall for each offence forfeit and pay, for the use of the city, a fine of not less than one dollar, nor more than five dollars, to be recovered as fines for breaches of City Ordinances are now by law recoverable. And it is hereby enjoined upon and made the duty of the Market Constables to see that the penalties for any breach of this section are properly enforced

SEC. II. That the Joint Building Committee, in conjunction with the Superintendent of the Diamond Market House, be and they are hereby authorized to have portable stands erected, and placed within the walls of the lower story of the Diamond Market House, as the Committee may deem necessary, which said stands, when not occupied, to be placed so as not to interfere with the doors and ailing in said buildings. The said stands may be rented by the Superintendent, under the direction of the Committee on Markets, by the week, month or year, to such Parties as may wish to procure a permanent location, but all such stands to which they may be so rented may be occupied by a large by any person disposing of the light articles mentioned in sale of fish, fruit, or other perishable articles, shall be treated by the Committee on Markets. The practice now pursued from the first well-known physicians of the country, and the testimonials from some of the most eminent men in the land, are the strongest that can be adduced in favor of any medicine. Dr. Jayne's Expectorant is a sure remedy—for sale by druggists generally.

Gardner's Curtis' Hyoramia is the original and genuine article. sep24 1w
