THE COAL TRADE.

We were led into an error last week in stating that freight to Philadelphia had declined to 65 cents per ton. Only two or three Boats were freighted at that rate. The regular freight is 70 cents per ton.

The trade is still on the increase—but the prices have not yet advanced. We have generally found our colliers willing to pay a profit on articles they purchase, but they are possessed of too much innate modesty to ask a profit on coal. Their love for the human species prompts them, in many instances, to sell at less than cost. The public ought to applaud these traits in their character—but we are fearful that in some instances, their families, if they have any, will have cause to murmur at this wholesale generosity.

It is rumored that the Delaware Coal Company has sold nearly all the coal they can mine this season, at the low rates at which they offered it early in the season. If they have done so, and should be caught, there will be no sympathy for them in this region. The influence the company exercised in fixing the price of coal so low this season, proves that it is a great injury to the region, and the sooner such monopolies cease operating among us, the better it will be for the whole trade.

The total coal trade from the Lehigh up to the 20th inst., amounted to 21,386 tons. Up to the same period last year, upwards of 35,000 tons.

The Commercial List says: Supplies are arriving more freely, and the export demand has become more active. Cargo sales of white ash Schuylkill lump at $3,25 a 3.50 per ton; red ash $3,50 to 4, and broken and screened at $4 a 4.25 per ton, cash and 4 mos—Shipments from the Schuylkill amount to 5,500 tons. A contract for 2,000 tons Lehigh Coal for the supply of the Alms House has been made, but the price is kept secret—it was at something below $3,25 per ton for lump coal. At Bristol the cargo price of Lehigh lump coal is $3,50 cents per ton, and broken and screened $3.75, and from this city lump coal $3 65, cash. At the mines delivered in boats, parcels under 5,000 tons $2 25 over 5,000 tons, $2 per ton, cash.

COAL FREIGHTS—To Boston the engagements have been at $1,25, and New York 80 cents per ton from the Schuylkill.

SELECT LIBRARY OF RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

THE June No. of this Periodical will commence with Llorente's History of the Inquisition.

Mr. Prescott, in his valuable History of Ferdinand and Isabella, thus speaks of this work:

"Don Juan Antonio Llorente, is the only writer who has succeeded in completely lifting the veil from the dread mysteries of the Inquisition. It is obvious how very few would be competent to this task, since the proceedings of the holy office were shrouded with such impenetrable secrecy, that even the prisoners who were arraigned before it, as has been already stated, were kept in ignorance of their own processes. Even such of its functionaries as have at different times pretended to give its transactions to the world, have confined themselves to an historical outline, with meagre notices of such parts of its internal discipline, as might be safely disclosed to the public.

"Llorente was Secretary to the Tribunal of Madrid from 1790 to 1792. His official station, consequently, afforded him every facility for an acquaintance with the most recondite affairs of the Inquisition; and on its suppression at the close of 1808, he devoted several years to a careful investigation of the registers of the tribunals, both of the capital and of the provinces, as well as of such other original documents contained within their archives, as had not hitherto been confided to the light of day. It is entitled to the credit of being the most, indeed exhibiting its minutest forms of practice, and the insidious policy by which they were directed, from the origin of the Institution down to its temporary abolition. It well deserves to be studied, as the record of the most humiliating triumph which fanaticism has ever been able to obtain over human reason, and that too, during the most critical periods, and in the most civilized portion of the world."

The only Authentic History of the Modern Inquisition;

This work willl be finished in about 4 monthly parts of the work. Subscriptions received by the subscriber. B. BANNAN,
