VALEDICTORY.

With the present issue we close our connection with the ADVOCATE, and bid adieu to its patrons. During the year and a half we have had the management of the paper, we have been the recipient of many favors, and must here at this tifue acknowledge für obligation to our friends for their many good wishes and and generous patronage. It has been bur honest endeavor at all times to make the Anvocata a readable lapits and we leave it with our readers to judge how well he have succeeded.

The books accounts etc.; of the Au-VOCATE are turned over with the paper, to Mr. H. A. Pattison, who will conduct its affairs in the future, and we have no doubt with greater success than has the past occupant of the editorial chair. Still wishing the ADVOCATE and its patrons success and prosperity.

ONE MILLION OF LIVES BAVED

Is one of the most remarkable facts of this temarkable age, not that so many persons are the victims of dyspepsia or indigestion, but, its wilking victims. Now, we would not be understood to say that any one regards dyspepsia fith favor, or feels disposed to rank it among the luxuries of life. Far from it. These who have experienced its torments would scout such an idea. All dread it, and would gladly dispense with its unpleasant familiarities. Mark Tapley, who was jolly under all the trying circumstances in which he was placed, never had an attack of dyspepsia, placed, never had an attack of dyspepsia, or his jolity would have speedily forsaken

Of all the multifarious diseases to which

Of all the multifarious diseases to which the human system is liable, there is perhaps no one so generally prevalent he dispepsia. There are diseases more actic and painful, and which more frequently prove fatal, but none the effects of which are so depressing to the mind and so positively distressing to the body. If there is a wretched being in the world it is

A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC:

We have said that dyspepsia is perhaps the most universal of human diseases. This is imphatically the case in the United States. Whether this general prevalence is due to the character of the food, the method of its preparation, or the hasty manner in which it is usually swalldwed, is not our province to explain. The great fact with which we are called to deal is this.

DYSPEPSIA PREVAILS

almost universally.

Nearly every other person you meet is a victim, an apparently willing one; were this not the case, why so many sufferers, when a certain, 'peeds' and safe remedy it when a certsin, 'pecus' and safe remedy is within the easy reach of all who will avail themselves of it? But says a dyspeptie: What is this remedy? to which we reply: This great allevator of human suffering is almost as widely known as the English language. It has allayed the agonies of thousands, and is to-day carry-comfort and encouragement to thousands of others. This acknowledged panacea is note other than

Dr. HOOFBAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. Dr. HOOFEAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Would you know noire of the merits of this wonderful preparation than can be learned from the experience of others?

Try it yourself, and when it has felled to fulfil the assurance of its efficacy given by the proprietor, then abandon faith in it.

LET IT BE RESIEMBERED.

Grest of all, that HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS is a gray beverage. SITTERS is as a rum beverage.

They are composed wholly of the pure juice or vital principle of roots. This is not a urbre assertion. The extracts from which they are compounded are prepared by one of the ablest of German chemists. Their effects can be beneficial only in all cases of the Billiary system.
