The New Humpshire Election—The Preparations for a Procession which did not take place.

WASHINGON, D. C., March 15, 1868.—Probably the happiest wich ever assembled in this wale of teers, wuz in the White House on the night of the eleckshun in New Hampsheer. It wuz a gay and festive sceen. Hilarity rained. The President, with a unwonted smile on to his face, his nose shinin with a preternateral brilliancy, his eyes sparklin with a life that cood only come from a sole surcharged with joy and skin tolerably full uv whiskey, walked up and down the room, rubbin his hands with glee that cood not be repressed.

"Is all prepared?" asked Randall, uv a humble lookin cuse that does a share uv his managin (he wuz originally paid by Mrs. Cobb, but sense her ontimely failyoor in binnis he is allowed the earnins nv one day in each month of a whisky inspector in Noo York), "is everything arranged?"

"It is, yoor Eggselency." (To these fellers all the high officers are "Eggselencies.")

"Is the powder prokured for one hundred guns?".

"It is, yoor Eggselency."

"Is the rockets drawed from the Navy Department to be fired from the different parts uv the city to show spontaneous enthoosiasm?"

"They is yoor Eggselency."

"Hev the Department clerks bin notified that it would be well for em gladly to fall into percession when His Eggselency the President is to be serenaded, ef they desire to keep their places?"

"They hev."

"Hev the transparencies bin painted with the proper inscriptions? Did yoo see one inscribed 'Sinclair's majority 3,000?' Noo Hampsheer's protest agin impeachment?"

"They hev, and I did."

"Then," said Randall, "all is in readiness. The brass bands I know are in waitin, Stanbery writ the President's speech this mornin, and he hez it tolerably well by heart, and the jollificashen must go orf smooth and pleasant."

At this moment the President approached.

"Ha!" sed he, "in one more short hour, Washinton will be alive with joy, and the country will breathe free. Noo Hampsheer hez spoken. In a hour we shall hev the glad intelligench that the hez been troo to the constooshen ez I expound it—that she hez rebuked Sumner, and Stevens, and Wade, and ich, and sed in thunder tones to the implous wretches, who wood, in me, pull down the pillers uv the government, 'stay yer frantic dle hands.' The thort overpowers me. Let's take suthin."

A ball hour wuz spent in innocent hilarity. The President showed the thoroughnis uv his reconversion to Dimocracy by taken hizzen strate, with nothin in it, while Seward betrayed his orijin, and his consekent unreliability, by drinkin some kind uv a lite wine with no more body in it than wood be in watered cider.

"Confushun of Wade!" exclaimed the President, holdin up his glass and watchin the beads rise to the surface with a pleased eye.

"Noo Hampsheer!" sed Seward, "may Connecticut carry forard the work she hez so gloriously begun."

"Our offises," sed Randall, "long may we hold em."

"Kentucky," said I, "allus troo; the all other States may desert Dimocracy, Kentucky will be faithful among the faithfils found. Her distilleries attest her steadfastness to her party obligashens."

And in such toasts the 30 minutes wore away.

A private sekretary entered.

"A despatch from Noo Hampsheer!"

"Ha!" said Randall, sneezin it, "now tremb'e Abilshnism; quake Stevens, for your time is come! Exalt your horn, Dimocracy, for the reackshun is here!"

The gentle and trustful Sekretary opened it, read a moment, turned pale and fell a faintin on the floor. Seward glanced at it and gaspin "This is the end uv life," (wich he intended for his last words,) fell likewise prostrate. The President snatched it from Seward's hands, and fainted across the rest uv em, and Welles seein the President faint, did it beeoz the President did, without readin it. Welles takes physic every time the President does.

I snatched the despatch and read it myself, ez follows:

"To the President:—It's all up. Em's ded duck.

Harriman is elected by about 3,000. The reackshen got stuck in a notch uv the White Mountins. Pray for us. SINCLAIR."

Utterns a stingin curses at Dean and Burr, and them fellows who had deceived us into a beleef that Noo Hampshire wuz safe, I set about bringin uv em too. The President was the longest a comin out uv the faint. Sadly they ariz, one after another, their dejeckshun contrasting fowerfully with the hilarity uv a moment afore.

Ringin a bell, Randall sed to the clerk who answered it, ez follows:

"Too may inform the bands that it won't be necessary for em to longer wait. The men attendin the artillery may retire to the bosoms uv their families, and those waitin to be formed into spontaneous processions may be dismissed. The President hez decided not to be serenaded tonite."

Jest then a band wuz heard approachin—"Thunder" sed Randall, "dare they play without orders?"

But we discovered that it wuz not the offishal band. A percession wuz seen a passin afore the White House, headed by a transparency, onto wich wuz a dead duck, with a face wonderfully like his Eggselency's, and the band behind wuz a playin dd marches and sich, with muffled drums. Four times these hartiks crosses passed up and down afore the White House.

"Is it not bidyus?" sed the President.

"Served you rite," sed I. "You wood take matters in your own hands—you wood attempt the work uv a statesman with the qualifications uv a police court lawyer. Wretched man," sed I, transfixin him with my piercenist gaze, "Why wood you attempt to eat fire, whose mouth is only capable uv Limburg Cheese? With Grant at the head nv the armies, why did you attempt revolushen? When you attempted to drive Stanton out, hedn't you sence enuff to know that it made a direct inhoo atween you and the Aphishnists from which they cood not escape, and that your death by theirn wuz inevitable? Too make it necessary for em to slay yoo, and, in trooth, they've made a lively commmensment. Noo Hampsheer is a fatal stab, impeachment will foller in sixty days, and then a long farewell to all our glory. Good nite, yoor Eggselency; pleasant dreams. I'll to my chamber."

And I left the poor man weepin great tears and bitter ones.

I sent the follering dispatch home to the Cross Roads, by telegraph. Twuz rather expensive on the government, but Seward told me that telegrafin wuz a legitimate expenditoor, and to yoose the wires ez much ez I chose.

To POGRAM, Deekin, BASCOM, MCPELTER and GAVITT, Jr., Trustees:

THESE GREETIN: Deerly beloved, I salock you. Not joyfully and with liteness uv heart, but on the contrary, quite the reverse. We're bustid, Yes, Yes, Yes (wich the way we translate it, it means, "We cum, we saw, and got squeezed." It is to my painful dooty to inform you that Noo Hampshoer, uv wich we expectid better things, has gone lunatic agin, and hez electid a hater nv uns uns and curs, ez its Chief magistrate. In this crisis I direct that next Friday mornin, between the hours of 9 and 11 A. M., be observed ez a day of fastin and hoomiliation. I wood hev you hold services at the church, but I found that I had brought away in my valise the only Bible in the A Corners, and it is therefore impossible. Ez to labor is ever done at the Corners, it aint necessary to direct yoo to abstain therefrom, but you will give over your toosual occupashens ez follows:

1. No seven-up or poker playin doorin that period.

2. No hoss-racin, copper pitchin, fightin, or other amoosement, will be admissible.

3. And that the deels may be mortified to an extent commensurate with the calamity that has befallen us, no likker will be allowed between those hours, captin to invalids and persons of extreme age.

There will be weepin and wailin at the corners when this is received.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.,

"SAMBO, can you tell me in what building people are most like to take cold?"

"Why, no; me strange in de town, and can't tell dat."

"Well, I will tell you—it is de bank."

"How is dat?"

"Because dare are so many drafts in it."

"Dat is good; but can you tell me, what makes dare be so many drafts in it?"

"No."

"Because so many go dare to raise the 'wind'."

Yah, yah, yah.

PHILOSOPHICAL.—A student under examination, who was asked the different effects of heat and cold, replied:

"Heat expands and cold contracts."

"Quite right; can you give me an example?"

"Yes sir; in summer, which is hot, the days are long; but in winter, which is cold, the days are short!"

"GEORGE," asked a minister of one of his parishioners' little boys, "where is your sister Minnie?"

"Gone to heaven, sir." "What! is she dead?"

"Oh no, no, sir; she went to buy a box of matches." "Why you said she'd gone to heaven."

"Well, you said last Sunday that matches were made in heaven, so I thought she went there."

"No use of my trying to collect that bill sir," said a collector to his employer, handing the dishonored document to the latter. "Why?" "The man who should pay it is non est," replied the collector. "Then take it, and collect it, sir. A non est man will not fail to meet his obligations."

"THE arm of a pretty girl wound tight round your neck has been discovered to be an infallible remedy in case of sore throat. It beats poppertes all hollow."

"THE strongest kind of a sint—a young lady asking a gentleman to see if one of her rings will go on his little finger."

"MATCHLESS misery," has been defined to be to have a cigar and nothing to light it with.

ROLLING MILL FOR SALE.—The undersigned offer for sale the "MOUNT CARBON ROLLING MILL," situated at Mount Carbon, near Pottsville, Schuylkill County, Pa.
The Mill contains 3 double puddling furnaces, 3 heating furnaces, 1 train 18-inch rolls for puddled iron, 1 merchant-bar iron train, 1 train plate rolls 72 inches in length by 84 inches diameter, and all other machinery for the manufacture of the above description of iron.—The plate and puddling mills are propelled by a vertical engine of 500 horse power; the bar mill by a horizontal engine of 80 horse power, and the remaining half of the machinery, such as shafting, shears, fan, &c., by 2 engines of 40 and 10 horse power respectively.
The Mill buildings which cover an area of over 28,000 square feet, are all (as are the furnaces and machinery they contain) of recent construction, built in the most substantial manner, and covered with slate. A switching from the Reading Railroad, which immediately adjoins, will be put at the convenient discharge of coal, metal, &c., and for shipment.
Lying contiguous and appurtenant to the Rolling Mill, are 187 acres of valuable coal land. Also an office, iron house, 81 good and convenient dwelling houses and an excellent barn. Part of the land, if laid out in town lots, would meet with a ready sale. A capacious reservoir near the Mill, affords to the boilers an abundant supply of pure spring water. There is also an excellent stone quarry on the premises. For the successful prosecution of the manufacture of iron, the location is such as is rarely surpassed. Coal of the best quality is mined in the immediate vicinity. The facilities of transportation are ample—either by the Reading Railroad and its numerous connections, or by the Schuylkill Canal. The large quantity of iron consumed in the coal region, affords an excellent home market, and an abundant supply of scrap iron.
