The Panorama.

MR. SAVAGE reſpectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Philadelphia that the PANORAMA is now opened in High-ſtreet, between 10th and 11th ſtreets. The Subject is a view of the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, comprehending the three bridges, Southwark, Surrey, and St. George's Fields in the Borough, with every other object which appears from the top of the Albion mills, at the end of Blackfriars Bridge, oppoſite the city of London, from whence this view was taken. The painting contains nearly 3,000 ſquare feet of canvas. Being in a circle gives every object its proper bearing, and exhibits it in its true point of compaſs, appearing as large and in every reſpect the ſame as the reality.

Price of admiſſion half a dollar. Tickets for the Seaſon three dollars.

PANORAMA open every day from ten o'clock in the morning.

A PRINT of the PRESIDENT of the U. S. 18 inches by 14; only a few choice impreſſions left: the companion is a print of Dr. Franklin. A variety of choice prints may be had at the Panorama.

50,000 Tickets, at Eight Dollars,		400,000

This Lottery will afford an elegant ſpecimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Waſhington—Two beautiful deſigns are already ſelected for the entire fronts on two of the public ſquares; from theſe drawings, it is propoſed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as ſoon as poſſible after this Lottery is ſold, and to convey them when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner deſcribed in the ſcheme for the Hotel Lottery. A nett deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the neceſſary expences of printing, &c. and the ſurplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National Univerſity, to be erected within the City of Waſhington.

☞ The drawing will commence as ſoon as the Tickets are ſold off.——The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finiſhed, and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is cloſed are to be conſidered as given towards the fund for the Univerſity, it being determined to ſettle the whole buſineſs in a year from the ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as ſecurity.

The real ſecurities given for the payment of the Prize are held by the Preſident and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery.

The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commiſſioners aſſiſted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requeſted to undertake this arduous taſk a ſecond time on behalf of the public; a ſufficient number of theſe having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National Univerſity and the other federal objects may continue to favor the deſign. The ſynopſis of one of the Colleges, to form a branch of the National Inſtitution, is already in the preſs, and will be ſpeedily publiſhed, together with its conſtitution.

A compleat PLAN of the whole of this Important Inſtitution, compiled from a ſelection of the beſt materials, ancient and modern, will be ſubmitted to the public whenever the ſame may have gone through ſuch reviſions as may be neceſſary to eſtabliſh the perfect confidence and general approbation, ſo eſſential to its preſent riſe and future exiſtence for the general good of America.

By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tickets have been ſent for ſale, the public are aſſured that the drawing will ſpeedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably neceſſary to inſure a ſafe diſpoſal of the tickets, has rendered the ſhort ſuſpenſion indiſpenſable.

VII. Subſcriptions received by the Author, No. 118, Market-ſtreet, and by the chief Bookſellers throughout the United States.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE object of the propoſed work, is, to preſent to public view a connected ſeries of the chief events of a period of American hiſtory, that does not yield, in importance, to any period of equal length, in the peaceful annals of any country in the world.

Deſiring to excite no expectations but ſuch as he ſhall endeavour to ſatisfy, the writer is thus early in announcing, that the body and conſiſtence of a regular hiſtory, is not to be looked for in this work: neither his talents nor his avocations allow him to hope for this. His humbler taſk ſhall be to ſketch out the moſt prominent features. It ſhall be his ſtudy to collect and arrange the moſt intereſting materials—to ſmooth the rugged path—for abler hands, who, by ſuch means, will find their labours abridged, and their progreſs accelerated.

His chief view will be, to give the Hiſtory of the United States as a confederated Republic. Nevertheleſs, notice will be taken of the moſt remarkable circumſtances in the hiſtory of the individual States, as far as they can be collected. This information ſhall be claſſed under ſeparate appendixes.

The Author ſolicits the aſſiſtance of ſuch Gentlemen as may be poſſeſſed of documents calculated to promote the execution of his plan. They ſhall be received with due gratitude—carefully preſerved—and ſafely returned.

Inſurance from Loſs by Fire.

THE Inſurance Company of North-America, to accommodate the Public, throughout the United States, with reſpect to aſſurances from Fire on BUILDINGS of every deſcription, hereby publiſh, that reſolutions to this effect have paſſed their Board; and that hereafter they ſhall be ready to make ſuch aſſurances on terms to be fixed by their Preſident and Committee, agreeably to circumſtances. Thoſe who are anxious to effect aſſurances, will find their advantage in ſending the moſt particular ſtatement of their buildings, and the relative circumſtances. Perſons not having a correſpondent in this city, or who prefer doing this buſineſs with the Office directly, by means of Letters, poſt paid muſt not fail to enclose a builder's deſcription of the dimenſions, condition, materials and ſituation of the building propoſed to be inſured, eſpecially with reſpect to its contiguity to other buildings, and whether thoſe buildings be of wood, or brick, or ſtone. It muſt be particularly ſtated, whether the building itſelf, or thoſe in its neighbourhood, be occupied as dwellings, or uſed as magazines or manufactories and for what particular purpoſe; and to obviate all objection, it is expected that this builder's ſtatement, and the repreſentation annexed, ſhall be ſeverally ſigned by the parties, and accompanied by a magiſtrate's certificate, that they are perſons of good repute. For the government of the Public, they deem it expedient to notice, that although the premium muſt be fixed according to the degree of hazard in the eſtimation of the Preſident and Committee of the week, yet it will probably not be more than from about half to one per cent. annually, except where a houſe or ſtore is not only itſelf built of wood, but ſituated next other buildings of the ſame material. On ſuch riſks not more than four thouſand dollars will be written on one policy. Houſes and ſtores built of brick or ſtone, and ſituated in open ſtreets in any of the principal towns or cities where fire engines and fire companies are eſtabliſhed, and not containing articles particularly combuſtible, will be conſidered riſks entitled to aſſurance at the loweſt of theſe rates. On ſingle hazards, even of the beſt kind, where from remoteneſs thoſe advantages cannot be enjoyed, the Company will not aſſure more than ſix thouſand dollars. No policy will be ſigned 'till the premium be paid.

Any perſon inſuring for ſeven years, will be charged only the amount of ſix annual premiums; and for three years, a deduction of one-third of a year's premium will be made. By order of the Board,

EBEN. HAZARD, Secretary.

Office of Inſurance Company of N. A. Philadelphia, Jan. 26, 1796. 2aw.

PROPOSALS,

FOR PRINTING BY SUBSCRIPTION,

A NEW EDITION OF

MILLAR's ELEMENTS

OF THE

LAW OF INSURANCE.

THE preſent publication ſhall, by additions to the ſmall Treatiſe publiſhed in Britain in 1787, be augmented to the ſize of two volumes royal octavo, conſiſting of at leaſt 600 pages each, on a ſmall pica type.

It had been ſuggeſted to the compiler, by many perſons converſant in the law and practice of Inſurance, that a complete compilation of the authorities on this ſingle ſubject would be of great utility; to which perſons particularly intereſted in this one branch of law might have recourſe, inſtead of being under the neceſſity of purchaſing and turning over a variety of voluminous publications. To anſwer this end of conveniency, it is propoſed to deſtine the firſt volume of the preſent work to the reception of a very full collection of authorities; not in a ſtate of abridgment, as was the caſe in the former edition; and which could never ſuperſede recourſe to the originals; but to be inſerted verbatim from the moſt approved original compilations, and arranged in the mode which appears eaſieſt for conſultation.

This Firſt Volume, or Dictionary of Authorities, will comprehend,

1ſt. The ancient Marine Ordinances of the foreign ſtates of Europe: which form the common law of Inſurance. At preſent it is unfortunate that a collection of theſe is ſcarcely to be found any where elſe than in that ſcarce and dear book, Magen's Eſſay, in two volumes, 4to.

2d. The Statute Law of Great-Britain in regard to Inſurances. The American legiſlatures have hitherto done nothing upon this ſubject.

3d. A very full collection of the reports of adjudged caſes in the courts of England and Scotland; and of thoſe of the States of America ſo far as they can be obtained.—This will form by far the greateſt as well as the moſt important part of the firſt volume. By means of his friends at the Engliſh bar, the compiler hopes to bring forward a number of reports of adjudged caſes never before publiſhed, ſo as to make the ſeries on this ſubject more complete than any now extant.

The ſecond volume will conſiſt of an Inſtitute, or Elementary Treatiſe, on a plan ſomething ſimilar to that of the former edition; but with a great addition of new matter; ſo as to extend this part of the work to about double the former ſize. A more practical arrangement will alſo be ſtudied.

The whole will be attended with very full Indexes of the different parts.

Price to ſubſcribers ſix dollars and one half for the two volumes in boards.

The work will be put to the preſs whenever a ſufficient number of ſubſcriptions have been obtained to indemnify the publiſher for the actual expence of publication.

☞ Subſcriptions will be received by Thomas Dobſon, and all the Bookſellers in Philadelphia.
