An Old Dodge Renewed.—At the Central Police Station yesterday we were informed of the following successful, though amusing swindle, which we give in substance as related by one of the detective officers. It appears that on Saturday morning last an individual with a lugubrious phiz went to the pawnbroking establishment of Mr. Solomon Isaacs, at Fourth and Poplar streets, and with much hesitation, and after declaring that nothing but sheer necessity drove him to the step, he offered an pledge his gold watch and chain. Mr. Isaacs examined the time-piece, and having satisfied himself that it was worth far more than the amount asked on it, he paid the money down, gave the needy individual the usual ticket, and as he is wont, placed the watch and chain in a pasteboard box, which he wrapped and tied up, and noted its contents upon the outside. The Job Trotterish individual expressed great anxiety for the safe keeping of the watch, and surveyed all these arrangements with a curious eye, assuring Mr. Isaacs, meantime, that the watch was the gift of a dear departed mother, and with a tear trickling down his solemn nose, he declared that he would never, never forgive himself should any harm befall the valued time-keeper! [illegible]

On Saturday night the white choker again made its appearance in Mr. Isaacs' office, greatly to the surprise of that gentleman. The proprietor of the cravat was in raptures; having made an unexpected "raise," he was enabled to take the sacred pledges out of pawn, and he was rejoiced to have it in his hands once more. The owner of the watch paid up like a man, and his treasure having been taken from its paste-board and paper swathings was restored to his custody. With half-repressed emotions of joy he took his watch and departed.

On Tuesday night, Job again visited the establishment with his old sad face; he was again "hard up," and once more he would be compelled to "spout" his mother's dying gift. This time he wanted fifteen dollars on it; Mr. Isaacs objected to the amount and offered ten; Job exclaimed against the smallness of the sum, and finally, after much chaffering, the difference was split, and the pious Trotter received twelve dollars. Again the watch was parted with tearfully, again it was done up in pasteboard and wrapping paper, and again the white neck cloth was bent over the counter—while its proprietor supervised the packing of the pledge. When all was completed and ready for the usual endorsement upon the outside, an idea suddenly struck Mr. Trotter; he wanted the number of his watch—something might happen to it, and he would feel happier with the number in his possession. Mr. Isaacs urged that this precaution was needless; but Job insisted, and he took the box in his hands; a moment after, he handed it back, yielding the point and leaving the office somewhat abruptly.

The pawnbroker proceeded to mark upon the wrapper the usual hieroglyphics, when he was suddenly startled to discover something strange in the appearance of the package. The weight, too, seemed somewhat too great, and to solve the mystery the wrappers were instantly torn off, and a lump of lead was revealed!

Another case of Arson—Arrest of the Alleged Incendiary.—Officer Roberts, while passing by the stable of Thomas Nugent, at Eleventh and Vernon streets, Fourteenth ward, between eleven and twelve yesterday, saw a light over the door. Knowing that the door was not fast, and suspecting that something was wrong, the officer entered the building and found some combustibles on fire near a hole in the side of the building, which had been made for the purpose of enabling the occupants to draw water from a hydrant which stood in an adjoining yard. Mr. Roberts trampled the fire out, and having on India rubber shoes, he made little or no noise in doing it. The officer then left the building, and looking through a chink in the fence which enclosed the yard in which the hydrant stands, he says he saw a man putting hay into the hole already described. The officer called out to this man to stand, or he would shoot him, and running around to the yard by the entrance to it, he found a man named John Vickery, who occupies the dwelling to which the yard belongs. Vickery was taken into custody, and upon making search in the yard a number of matches were found on the ground near the hole opening into the stable.

The accused had a hearing before Alderman Enou, yesterday morning. After the foregoing circumstances were testified to, he stated to the alderman that he was washing his face at the hydrant at the time the officer called out to him to stand or he would shoot. He declared that he knew nothing about the fire. He was committed to answer.

The dwelling of Vickery is so near to the stable that had the fire got fairly under way it, too, would probably have been involved in destruction. Mr. Nugent says that the mother-in-law of the prisoner told him (Mr. N.) yesterday morning, that she had moved the wife and child of Vickery to her own home on Tuesday night. She did not say why she had pursued this course.

Police Items.—An elderly woman, named Isabella Edge, was committed by Alderman Enou, yesterday afternoon, on the charge of larceny. The evidence developed the following facts: One day last week she was employed as a domestic in the family of Mr. James Carr, on Locust street, above Ninth, and after staying there a day or so it was supposed that she was a thief.

The woman left, taking with her a shawl worth $7.50, a new linen sheet valued at $3, and a couple of neckties valued at $1.25. These articles were subsequently found in her possession, a number of articles of jewelry, consisting of breastpins, a gold cross, &c., were left at the house of Mr. Carr by the defendant.

These were identified by Rosanna Dowel, who resides No. 110 Essex street, who stated that the accused worked formerly at the United States Hotel, where she had become acquainted with her, and since that time she had visited her house for "old acquaintance sake." During one of these visits she stole a quantity of jewelry, of which the above-mentioned articles were a portion. She was committed.

A fellow known as "Dutch Lew" has been arrested on the charge of being concerned in passing counterfeit two-dollar notes, purporting to be issued by several of the Boston banks. He was locked up for a hearing at the Central Station.

The Jury in the Case of Smith.—The jury in the case of Smith, charged with the murder of Mr. Carter, took a walk through the streets yesterday morning, under the charge of officers of the court. The jury have been almost as close prisoners since the commencement of the trial as the defendant himself, and they seemed to enjoy the fresh air with considerable gusto. Their appearance in the streets excited much attention, and when they got into the neighborhood of the State House the crowd of persons who were unable to get a glimpse at the prisoner consoled themselves by making a rush at the jury and staring at them as they passed into the court room.

Signor V. d'Amarelli has been re-elected professor of the Italian language and literature in the University of Pennsylvania, for the ensuing three years. Signor Amarelli has become one of the institutions of this city, from his success and popularity as a teacher of foreign languages. He has published several valuable works. He was formerly a professor in the King's College, Naples, and his merits have been acknowledged in various other parts of Europe, where learning and ability are appreciated.

Both Branches of City Councils will meet at three o'clock this afternoon. The proceedings will doubtless be of an interesting character, as the annual message of Mayor Vaux will be submitted, and a number of interesting ordinances come up for consideration.

Arrival of the Frigate Congress.—The U. S. frigate Congress arrived at the Navy Yard, at one o'clock, yesterday afternoon, for repairs. She has four hundred and eighty officers and men on board, and it will take $180,000 to pay them off. Purser White was engaged in the morning in paying the mechanics and laborers in the yard.

Interesting Presentation.—The friends of Eugene Ahern, Esq., the present efficient head of the Department of City Property, presented him, last evening, with a handsome and valuable gold watch. The presentation was made by Mr. Enoch Blackman, in a few appropriate remarks, which were responded to by the recipient.

Coroner's Inquests.—Coroner Fenner held an inquest, last evening, on the body of a woman named Catharine Crampsen, who died while in a committed suicide, at Frankford, by taking arsenic while deranged.

Also, on the body of John Buffart, aged twenty five years, who died suddenly, at the Almshouse. Verdict, death from causes unknown.

Fires.—Last evening an alarm of fire was caused by the burning of some clothing in a frame house in Carlton street, below Sixteenth.

An alarm of fire was also caused last night by the burning of the house of Mr. Bunting, on Second street, near the Reading Railroad. Loss $400.

The closing exercises of the Morris night school will take place on Friday evening. Addresses will be delivered by several distinguished gentlemen, who have manifested a warm interest in the great educational system of our city.

Real Estate Sale.—James A. Freeman, auctioneer, sold the following real estate last evening, at the Merchants' Exchange: Two frame houses and lot of ground on Somerset street, Nineteenth ward, twenty-feet front by one hundred and six feet six inches deep, for $830.

The Old Folks' Concerts, at National Hall, Market, above Twelfth street, continue to draw immense crowds. They give a concert to-day, at 11 o'clock, in addition to the evening entertainment.

In consequence of the death of a relative of Mr. S. S. Sanford, his Opera House will be closed on Thursday and Friday nights. It will open again on Saturday night.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

JANUARY 13—Evening.—Breadstuffs have been rather more in demand to-day, and the sales of Flour sum up 3,500 bbls, in lots, mostly for shipping, at $4.70@$5 for common to good Western extra; a sale of 400 half bbls was also made at $5.50 the pair; standard superfine is not inquired for, and dull at $4.70@4.75 per bbl; the demand for home consumption is limited, at from these rates upwards to $5.50@6.20 per bbl for common to choice brands extra, and fancy lots, according to brand and quality. Corn Meal and Rye Flour are dull at $3 for the former and $3.75 per bbl for the latter, and little or nothing doing at these figures. Wheat is inquired for by the millers, but prime lots only are saleable, about 1,500 bus fair to good red brought 110@115c, and 1,800 bus white 125@130c, the latter for handsome Western in store. Corn is wanted at an advance; about 4,000 bu new Southern yellow sold in part at 62c, and part at a price kept secret—the latter in store. Old corn is dull, and 450 bush Penna sold at 65c. Oats are unchanged, with sales of 1,500 bush at 35c for Penna, in store. Rye is wanted at 70c, and but little offering. A sale of Barley Malt was made at 92c. Bark is wanted at $26 for 1st quality quercitron, but there is none offering to-day. Cotton is firmly held, the demand, however, is limited, and prices about the same as last quoted. Groceries sell slowly at former prices, and the market generally is inactive. Provisions are unchanged, with moderate receipts and sales of salted meats and lard, at about previous quotations. The market for Seeds is dull. The market is better for Cloverseed, without much offering or selling today; small sales at $5 per bushel. Whiskey sells in the wood at 25c per gallon, 21@22c for hhds, and [illegible] per bbl.

CITY ITEMS.

THE TOMB OF FRANKLIN.—During the remarkably mild weather with which we are being favored, the opportunity has been embraced of pruning the trees in the old Episcopalian burying-ground, on the corner of Fifth and Arch streets.

Throughout the day, yesterday, a large number of persons took advantage of the open entrance, and visited the spot in the northwest corner of the yard made classic by the remains which it enshrines. The humble slab that marks this hallowed spot—itself as unostentatious as the character of him whose memory its simple inscription commemorates—seemed to excite surprise in the minds of many; and well it might. If the classic saying, that "he whose merits deserve a monument can now scarcely find a tomb," could with justice be applied to the defeated Roman, with how much more propriety may the American blush with self-condemnation at the thought of allowing sixty-eight years to roll over the tomb of one of our countrymen, who, even while living, wrote his epitaph upon the clouds of Heaven, with a pen of lightning, and yet whose grave is not marked with a tributary monument equal to that which is cheerfully bestowed upon the commonest benefactor of his race. The fact of Franklin having expressed a wish for such monumental simplicity forms but a feeble palliation for our neglect.

The dead could certainly not be dishonored by any appropriate tribute, and the appreciation of true greatness which we should thus testify would stand as a noble monument for our children to emulate and revere.

LECTURE ON THE RACES.—Dr. McDowell, of St. Louis, will deliver a lecture on the "Unity of the Races," at Jayne's Hall, this evening. As the Doctor proposes to illustrate his lecture with paintings and skulls, we may expect an additional ray of light upon this very difficult but most interesting subject.

The Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, will hold a mass meeting this evening, in the National Guard Building, Race street, below Sixth, at which the members of the Grand Division, and also a large number of Cadets of Temperance, will be present in regalia. They have secured the services of eminent advocates of the cause for this occasion.

PHILADELPHIA FIRE AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—We beg to call the attention of our citizens to the advertisement of the Philadelphia Fire and Life Insurance Company in another column of this day's paper.

This Company has been very successful, and paid all its losses during last year, amounting to $27,756 52, promptly and satisfactorily.

Our readers will bear in mind that the title of this Company is the Philadelphia Fire and Life Insurance Company, and not the Philadelphia Insurance Company, which has closed its business for the present.

We are informed that the Philadelphia Fire and Life Insurance Company have at this time but one unsettled loss.

ANGELS' VISITS—HOW TO PROLONG THEM.

"The joys which soonest take their flight
Are the most exquisite and strong;
Like angels' visits, short and bright,
Humanity is too weak to bear them long,"

Unless the said Humanity is clad in garments from the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

THE CLOTHING TRADE.—The Boston Post estimates the average cost of clothing to each individual in the United States at fifty dollars. With a population of thirty millions, this would take the enormous sum of one billion five hundred millions of dollars to be spent in dress. This is an immense sum, and one which Adam could not have contemplated when he commenced acting the fashion of dress by using the primitive apron of fig-leaf, any more than he could have foreseen the beautiful styles that are constantly being brought out by that great fashioner, Granville Stokes, No. 607 (late 209) Chestnut street.

TRUTH SIMPLY EXPRESSED.—It is not what people eat, but what they digest, that makes them strong. It is not what they gain, but what they save, that makes them rich. It is not what they read, but what they remember, that makes them learned. It is not what they profess, but what they practise, that makes them righteous. It is not what they wear, but how it wears, that makes a man comfortable; and as there is no comfort in an ill-fitting garment, so all who desire elegance and comfort should go to the Fashionable Emporium of Clifton, Albright, & Co., "Jayne's Hall," No. 627 Chestnut street.

Bower's Infant Cordial.—This Invaluable Cordial is prepared from a variety of the most choice and efficient aromatics known in medicine, and is the most perfect and reliable carminative extant for infants and young children.

By its powerful influence a speedy cure is effected in all cases of Cholic, windy pains and spasms. Relieves and mitigates much of children's suffering during dentition or teething; and by its soothing properties tranquilizes pains of the bowels, locoueess, vomiting, &c.

The Infant Cordial has become a standard remedy, and has been used in thousands of cases with the most abundant success. No family should be without it.

Prepared only by HENRY A. BOWER,
At his Drug and Chemical Store,
N. E. corner of Sixth and Green sts., Philadelphia.

To whom all orders must be addressed. And for sale by Druggists generally. au 15-1y
