CITY ITEMS.

AN EVENT FOR THE LADIES.—We would again invite the large portion of our readers, their respective lords, and all others interested, that the satisfactory grand opening of novelties and the entire programme of fancy dating appertaining thereto, of the season, will take place at 726 Chestnut street, to-day, at the popular millinery establishment of Messrs. Stern & Freeman. Our native interest in such matters—being by the consent of our female friends, an acknowledged connoisseur in this class of modern classics—has won for us the privilege of an advance glimpse at the immense array of lovable exquisites which these gentlemen are to-day prepared to offer to the patronizing public. In mercantile parlance, we have "looked through," and having done so, are constrained to say that their stock is at once flattering to their usual taste, and the taste of the ladies in their employ, to whose supervision much of its merit is doubtless due, as it is also a credit to this particular department of Philadelphia trade and industry. Should the weather prove propitious, as we predict it will, No. 726 Chestnut street, to-day, will constitute no secondary point of attraction.

To enter any more minutely into the character of this new stock is unnecessary, as more appreciative critics than ourselves are so soon to pass sentence upon its merits.

DUFF & CO.'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this institution in another column. It is located at the corner of Eighth and Chestnut streets; was incorporated by the Legislature of this State in 1840, and is, as we have good reason to believe, one of the most practical institutions for instructing young men in the several counting-house and commercial branches of knowledge in this city.

Dr. Roche is the principal, whose admitted qualifications for the post, no less than the experience of his associate in the mercantile department, Mr. Edwards, we should think quite sufficient to insure for this school a liberal patronage.

LUCKY NUMBERS.—In ancient times, great good luck and happiness were supposed to attach to certain numbers. In modern times the greatest good fortune attaches to those who get their garments at numbers 603 and 605 Chestnut street—the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Messrs. Rockhill & Wilson.

GO, BY ALL MEANS!—To the "Old Franklin Hall Clothing Emporium" of E. H. Eldridge, No. 321 Chestnut street, and buy your clothes. We speak by the card when we say friend E. has the best assortment of elegant summer clothing in the city, which he is disposing of at about twenty per cent. cheaper than any other establishment in the city. Particular attention is paid to the customer department, which is under the supervision of one of the best cutters in the United States.

"SHE floated o'er life like a mountain breeze,
Or crisped vapors on sunny seas,
Or an exquisite cloud in light arrayed,
Which sails through the sky, and can throw no shade."
And as floated along with the other folks,
Arrayed in the clothing of Granville Stokes,
And both looked remarkably fine,
As they sailed forth from "600"
Chestnut street, where may be found a most beautiful stock of ready-made and piece goods from which to make selections.

Special Notices.

The Best, the very Best.—Jules Hauel's Liquid Hair Dye is not only the best preparation for dying the Hair, but incomparably superior to all others. The black it produces is not a dull, but life-like and beautiful color; the brown and auburn are so natural as to render the detection of a dye an impossibility. No previous preparation of the hair is requisite to its use. Sold by all Druggists, and at the Laboratory of JULES HAUEL & CO., Importers and Perfumers, No. 704 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. au26-1f

Boils,—These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at this time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the Peruvian Syrup, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements! For sale in this city by Hassard & Co., Twelfth and Chestnut, and F. Brown, Fifth and Chestnut. au24-d&w1f
