Weekly Review of the Philadelphia Markets.

[Reported for The Press.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21, 1859.

The Produce markets generally are more active this week, and the prices of breadstuffs, Flour and Wheat especially, are on the advance. Bark is also better. Coal meets with a good inquiry for home consumption, but the demand for shipment is light. Coffee is firm. Sugar has been in good demand at the late advance, and for Molasses higher prices have been realized. Cotton meets a steady inquiry, and prices are well maintained. Fish sell slowly at previous rates. In Fruit there is more doing, and prices are firmer. The Iron market is firm, but without movement. Lumber continues at a stand. Naval Stores are steady, and for Rosin higher prices are asked. Oils are more active. Provisions move off more freely at steady rates. Rice is better. Cloverseed is in active request, and has again advanced. Tallow is dull at the late advance. Teas and Tobacco are firmer. Wool meets with a moderate inquiry, chiefly to go West, and prices, particularly for the fine grades, are firm. Whiskey has further advanced. The Dry Goods trade is also more active—buyers are coming in more freely, and the market has assumed the usual animation noticed on the opening of the spring business, which promises to be large and healthy. The stocks of all kinds of Cotton goods are light, and the prices of some kinds are looking up. Prints are well held and firm, with free sales of all good styles. Checks, ticks, and stripes move off as wanted at full prices. Woollens are taken more freely than usual at this season, and the prices obtained are better than at the close of the fall trade, the tendency for most kinds being upward.

IN BREADSTUFFS, there has been more activity to note in Flour since the close of last week, and holders have advanced their prices 25@37½¢ ⅌ bbl. The demand has been mostly for a speculative character, and 9@10,000 bbls have changed hands this week at $5.25@5.50 for superfine; $5.62½ up to $6 for extras, and $6 to $7.50 ⅌ bbl for extra family and fancy brands, according to quality, including 1,000 bbls of the letter on terms kept secret. The market at the close has an upward tendency, and most holders are not willing to sell at the highest figures, the receipts being light. The trade have been buying more freely at the above figures, and fancy lots at higher prices, ranging up to $7.75 ⅌ bbl. Rye Flour is scarce at $3.87½@4 ⅌ bbl, at which rates sales have been made. Corn Meal—The market is bare, and Pennsylvania is wanted at $3.50 ⅌ bbl. A sale of 400 hhds Brandywine was made at a price kept private, and 400 sacks Buckwheat Meal at $2.50 the 100 lbs.
