TRIAL OF THE LUDLOW STEAM FIRE ENGINE.—There was a public trial of the Ludlow Steam Fire Engine at New-York city yesterday afternoon, about five o'clock, on Seventh street, above Market. The trial announced for the morning did not come off, as the engine had been in service all night at the fire on the wharves. The playing yesterday was very satisfactory. The engine works very easy, and is under admirable control. Indeed, the most remarkable feature about her is the mechanical work. For finish, durability, and simplicity of construction, she is hardly equalled by any of our home engines. In eight minutes seventeen pounds of steam was gotten up, and in nine minutes she was under way. With one hundred and thirty pounds of steam, and through seven-eighths of an inch nozzle, two streams were thrown one hundred and eighty-nine feet. With one hundred and sixty pounds of steam, a single stream was thrown through an inch nozzle, the distance of two hundred and thirty-one feet. With one hundred and forty pounds of steam, a single stream was thrown two hundred and twenty-eight feet through an inch and three-eighths nozzle. With one hundred and forty pounds of steam, and through an inch and one-eighth nozzle, a single stream was thrown two hundred and twenty-seven feet. The distances thrown were measured very carefully by a committee of the following gentlemen: Henry Cook (Hibernia), Tobias Huber (Philadelphia), and John Martin (Schuylkill.) John E. Neal, of the Philadelphia, kept a record of the amount of steam controlling the engine.

FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING.—A few minutes past two o'clock yesterday morning, a fire broke out in the upper portion of a building, No. 520 South Wharves. The flames spread with great rapidity, but the firemen were promptly on the ground, and, through the efforts of two or three steam engines, were confined to the structure in which they originated. Years were entertained for some time for the safety of the surrounding property. The upper portion, as well as the roof of the building in which the fire originated, was destroyed. The lower stories were occupied by Cuthbert & Co., and were used for storage. The other part of the property was occupied by Mr. George Fromm, by Figger & The Messrs. Welsh had a large quantity of lumber in the yard. This was greatly damaged by the water which was thrown into the building. Their loss, however, is fully covered by insurance in the Royal Insurance Company. The rigging of the steamboat "John G. Waldie," which was also stored in the building, was totally destroyed, as well as a quantity of barrels belonging to M. Masterson. The total loss will not amount to over $6,000, or $8,000, which is mostly covered by insurance.

AN ASSAULT AND BATTERY, WITH INTENT TO KILL.—Yesterday morning John McFadden, his wife Ann, and James Batson, had a hearing before Alderman Dallas, on the charge of committing an assault and battery upon Timothy McFadden, with intent, as it is charged, to do mortal bodily harm. Timothy is no relation to his assailants, although bearing a similar name. It seems that the parties got into a quarrel in a house at Second above Queen, but not having room enough there for them to fight it out, emerged into the street. Here they went at it in earnest. Batson held Timothy while the others beat him. Ann, it is alleged, became greatly enraged, and procuring an ice axe, dealt her victim a heavy blow upon the head, cutting it severely. She aimed at him again, but he threw up his arm and received a very severe gash. The police interfered and prevented any further harm. Timothy, covered with blood, which was flowing freely from his wounds, was conveyed to his residence in Front street, while his assailants were taken to the Second District station house. Ann was held by the Alderman in the sum of $1,000 bail to answer the charge at court. The others were held in the sum of $500 bail to answer the same charge.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, a very serious accident happened to Mr. John D. Fisher, a resident of the Eleventh ward, and residing at No. 1205 Mount Vernon st. Mr. Fisher is an elderly man, over fifty years of age, and a well-known resident of the Eleventh ward. He is a house and sign-painter by trade, and avocation he has pursued for a number of years. Yesterday, in company with his son, he was engaged on a house of Mr. Dennis Heenan, near Eleventh and Buttonwood streets. The house of Mr. Heenan is two and a half stories high, and while Mr. Fisher was busy painting the scaffolding gave way, precipitating him to the ground. The unfortunate man struck his head against the pavement and was injured in a terrible manner. He was conveyed to his residence, where he was attended by Dr. Bird. We regret to say there are but slight hopes of his recovery. Mr. Fisher is an excellent citizen and highly esteemed in his neighborhood. He has a family.

DECAPITATION.—One by one, as silently as the felling of the chips beneath the axe of the workman, the devoted heads of the navy-yard workmen are dropping off. The order from Washington has been to reduce—to retrench—to economize; and day after day victims of these three ominous words are carried headless through the portals of the navy yard. Of the gallant fifteen hundred that served the country when their services were needed, only five hundred remain, and now victims are taken to the axe every day. A situation in the navy yard, in the down-town rendering of the aphorism, is as uncertain as April weather. The tide will soon turn, however, as the election is drawing comparatively near, and with each recurring year comes good times in the navy yard. Patience, friends, and await the zero October.

MORE SOLDIERS.—The work of making soldiers goes bravely on. We have enough "food for powder" on hand now to last a pretty formidable famine. A military company is contemplated in Camden by a party of warlike and devoted young men, none of whom, we regret to say, have attained their majority. The name of this company we know not; but the body will be conducted on infantry tactics.

Another new military company has been formed in this city, under the name of the Philadelphia Guards. The number of the seven volunteers, it is said, have been enrolled. The following gentlemen have been chosen officers: Captain, William Rudolph; first lieutenant, Joshua Myers; second lieutenant, George Eves; third lieutenant, Samuel Hoffman.

HOSPITAL CASES.—A lad named John Barret, about eight years of age, had his left arm broken yesterday afternoon, in a singular manner. He was standing at the corner of Pine and Sixteenth streets, when a dog that happened to be passing along ran against him and threw him to the ground, breaking his arm. He was removed to the hospital.

A man named Matthew McNeil was taken to the hospital yesterday, suffering from a fracture of the pelvis. He was a hod-carrier, and, when standing on the ladder, the ladder gave way, precipitating him to the ground. The building on which he was engaged when he met his accident is situated at the corner of Vine and Nineteenth streets.

AN ATTEMPT AT PASSING A FORGED NOTE.—On Tuesday afternoon a stranger, from his appearance a porter or a heavy carter, in a store, entered the City Bank, with a bank book in his hand, and presented a check for one hundred and thirteen dollars to the teller. The note purported to come from a prominent liquor house in the city. The cashier doubting the validity of the signature entered into conversation with the gentleman in the counting-room, when the person presenting, becoming alarmed, fled. The note turned out to be a forgery. The fellow who attempted to pass it has not since been heard from.

LAMENTABLE ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon, about six o'clock, the horses of Mr. Wm. K. Barclay took fright at a large oblong wheel which was being trundled along the sidewalk, and dashed up Sansom street, from the vicinity of Fifteenth, and, running into a train of coal cars standing on the track in Broad street, were so severely injured that they died soon after the conclusion. Mr. Barclay was thrown out, but received only the slightest scratch. As this is the second runaway this season in which Mr. Barclay has participated, and with different horses, we can only condole with him in this, his last misfortune.

A PETTY PIECE OF BLUSHERS.—Yesterday morning a lady went to the Western market-house, at Sixteenth and Market streets, and purchased some butter. She left the butter in the care of the seller, and proceeded to make some other purchases. On returning she examined her basket, and found what she had bought had been removed, and an article of an inferior quality put in its place. She very naturally and very rightly refused to take the butter, when the seller threatened to keep the kettle, and was as good as his word.

EXCURSION TO CAPE MAY.—The splendid steamer John A. Warner will make an excursion trip to Cape May on Saturday afternoon next, leaving Bristol at 5 o'clock, and stopping at all the intermediate places on the river above the city, arriving at the Chestnut-street wharf in the evening at 9 o'clock, from whence she will continue to Cape May. This offers a fine opportunity for a cheap and pleasant excursion to the ocean.

IDENTIFIED.—A week or two since the body of a boy, six years of age, was found in the Delaware at Poplar street. The remains were not identified until yesterday, when they proved to be those of William Davis, whose parents reside at Gloucester, N. J. He was drowned at that point a few days before his body was found.

CORRECTION.—In the notice of the drowning of William Crilly, in our local column of yesterday, we made an error in the age of the deceased, making thirteen years and six months of age, instead of eighteen, as we mentioned. His body was found yesterday afternoon and conveyed to the residence of his parents.

SEEING THE SIGHTS.—The members of the Ludlow Association of New York city, were shown around town yesterday by the members of the Hope. The New Yorkers seem especially delighted with the hospitalities of the Hope in particular, and the other companies in general. The association, it is anticipated, will return home this morning.

THE WEATHER yesterday was about cool enough to make a heavy coat comfortable. The breezes were exceedingly pleasant, the sky calm and clear, and the city odiumly tearable. Such a day in August is a wonder not less novel than delicious. Who cares about going to the sea-shore or country? Not we.

CAMP MEETING.—Yesterday morning a camp meeting commenced in a grove about a mile and a half beyond Media, on the line of the West Chester Railroad. A large number of members of the Methodist Episcopal churches of Philadelphia, Delaware, and Chester counties were present.

CHARGED WITH ROBBING HIS BROTHER.—A young man, named Peter McCullough, had a hearing yesterday morning on the charge of having stolen the sum of fifty dollars from his brother. He was taken before Ald. Swift, and held in bail to answer.

TRIAL OF A SEXTON.—There will be the first public trial of the Northern Liberty Steam Engine to-day on Ridge avenue, above Callowhill street. The trial will come off at five o'clock.

THE WORK OF LAYING the track of the Walnut and Chestnut-streets railway is being pushed to completion. A very large force of men is engaged, and hopes are entertained that the cars will run before the first of October.

THE CROUP.—The Journal of Health says: "When a child is taken with croup instantly apply cold water—the water if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will almost instantly be relieved. Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can; then wipe it dry, cover it warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve all anxiety. A friend of ours, who has repeatedly tried this remedy, informs us that it never failed to afford almost instant relief."

THE FRENCH ARMY.—Turning their swords and bayonets into plough shears and pruning hooks. The Minister of War, has issued orders to the Colonels of Regiments to disband a portion of the troops, so that they may be used by the farmers in reaping, sowing, ploughing, and mowing their lands. This is a good move; they had better be employed in cutting the crops, than in cutting the throats of their fellow unfortunates. It would go far towards civilizing and humanizing them, if their owners would be content to doff their military costumes, and don civilian suits, such as are being sold by E. H. Eldridge, proprietor of the "Old Franklin Hall Clothing Emporium," No. 321 Chestnut street, preparatory to removing to his new "Temple of Fashion," Northeast corner of Eighth and Chestnut streets.

THE LATE MARQUIS OF WATERFORD.—"Bell's Life in London" gives an account of the disposal of the stud of the late Marquis of Waterford, which was put up for sale on Friday and Saturday, June 24th and 25th, at Curraghmore. The total amount realized was £13,150. Some of the racers brought large sums. Gemma di Vergy, by Sir Hercules, was bought for £1,050. The late Marquis resided for some time in the United States, and while here he invariably obtained his garments at the "Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street.

WOMAN'S LOVE AND HEART.

Should they not win whose aim is for the good?
And where finds man his earthly happiness,
Relief from pain, or antidote to grief,
Spur to exertion, or reward of it,
So truly as in deep and constant love—
And where makes love his home? In woman's heart.

The above quotation occurs in Miss Vandenhoff's play of "Woman's Heart." The proper key to which, is the graceful new styles of Granville Stokes, the great clothier, of No. 607 Chestnut street.
