CONFORTING.—The Scientific American gratifies its readers by announcing, for the benefit of those persons, who did not get a sight at the comet, that it will again appear before the public for a few nights in the autumn of 1861. In the meanwhile those who have not patience to wait until that time, can comfort themselves by procuring their own and their sons' garments at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

WOMAN.—It is the cant of would-be wits and pretending cynics to run down woman, to leave out of sight all her sweet womanly qualities, her tenderness, her long suffering, her courage, generosity, and truthfulness—to laugh at the defects which exist in a few, without recognizing the bright, rare virtues of the many. Such satirists, or rather such libellers, are unworthy of the mothers who bore them, and should be doomed to go through life without enjoying the luxury of an elegant suit of clothes from the palatial store of Granville Stokes, No. 607 Chestnut street.

THE BOOT AND SHOE TRADE.—A very large business has been doing for the past two months in this line of traffic, and the amount of goods forwarded to the South and West has been immense. The excellent quality of Philadelphia-made work is universally acknowledged, and we congratulate those engaged in this branch of manufacture on the rapidly increasing demand for their ware. We profess to know and to speak from our knowledge, of the various individuals engaged in the shoe-trade. They are—without a single exception—gentlemen of the sternest integrity, to whose untiring energy, enterprise, and liberality our city is indebted for the magnitude of this important branch of commerce.

MEMORANDA.

The steamship Pennsylvania—long and favorably known in the trade between this city and Richmond, Va—which has just been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, made a trial trip down the river yesterday, for the purpose of testing the new direct-action engine recently placed on board of her by Messrs. Seaver, Neafie, & Co. The cylinder is 49 inches in diameter, with 36 inch stroke. The result of the trip was considered eminently satisfactory, the performance of the engine reflecting the highest credit upon the above-named machinists. The Pennsylvania will resume her trips to Norfolk and Richmond on Saturday next, under command of that experienced and popular seaman, Captain Teal.

Steamship Delaware, Copes, hence at New York yesterday.

Ship Helen A Miller, Sweeny, from New York for San Francisco, encountered very heavy weather off Cape Horn, which caused the vessel to leak badly; tried to make Port Stanley, but, finding she could not be kept afloat, put into harbor on Port Sarmiento. A letter from the captain, dated Falkland Islands, June 11, states that a portion of the cargo will be saved, slightly damaged. The H A M was built in Baltimore in 1851, 510 tons register, and was owned by J Sweeny.

Ship Rambler, Lathrop, from Jarvis Island, arrived at New York yesterday.

Schr Ambition, Rotan, hence, arrived at Richmond 21st inst.
