FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3, 1859.

The stock market was again quite dull to-day, the prices remaining steady with very limited sales. Reading Railroad stock sold at 20¼, Pennsylvania Railroad at 37½, Lehigh Navigation at 49, Harrisburg Railroad at 55¼. North Pennsylvania ten per cent. bonds sold at 80 and the six per cents at 61½. Nine thousand Williamsport and Elmira second-mortgage bonds sold at 9, and five thousand at 9½; and ten thousand Reading sixes of '44 at 91. The stock of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee sold at 111, and that of the Union Bank of Tennessee at 103½ to 103¾.

We have taken some pains to lay before our readers the following synopsis of the action of the General Assembly of Tennessee, respecting the charters of the Planters' Bank and the Union Bank, of Tennessee, the stocks of which, as is well known, are held very largely in this city. On the 16th of November last, Mr. Trimble submitted a petition from each bank, asking for an extension of their charters for twenty years from the time of its expiration.

On the same day Mr. Trimble introduced an act to revive and extend the charters of the said banks until the first day of January, 1883, with all the powers and privileges, duties and obligations, and subject to all the stipulations and provisions now provided by the enactments of the Legislature of that State.

The second section provides that the capital stock of the Planters' Bank may be increased to two millions of dollars, the additional stock to be subscribed for at the principal bank at Nashville, without any right of pre-emption on the part of existing stockholders, at any time within two months after the acceptance of this extension of the charter.

The third section provides that the said banks shall not issue, nor including their issues, have prepared for issue at any time, exceeding one dollar and a half in bank notes for every one dollar of capital actually paid in; the said notes so to be issued may be made payable either at the principal bank, or any of its branches, on demand, but shall be paid either at the principal bank or the branch where payable on their face, at the option of the holder.

The fourth section prohibits the banks and their branches from paying out for circulation any other than the notes so to be issued by them respectively.

Section five provides for quarterly statements showing the amount of loans, the amount of notes overdue in suit, the amount overdue and not in suit, the amount invested in real estate, the amount of notes of other banks on hand, the amount of gold and silver held, the amount due from Tennessee banks, the amount due from banks not in Tennessee, the amount due depositors, the amount of notes prepared for issue and the amount actually in circulation, the state of the profit and loss account, and the other items of liability of the banks

Section six provides for the making of dividends by the directors after they shall have learned by examination that there first remains to the credit of profit and loss a sum sufficient to cover all the debts considered bad and doubtful.

The seventh section provides that the banks may not hold their own stock, but that the stock may be received in payment of bad or doubtful debts, or for the purchase of real estate by being conveyed to a third party in trust to be sold for the account of the bank.

Section eight defines the meaning of the term specie funds to be "debts due on demand from other solvent banks and the notes of other solvent banks."

Section nine provides, that in lieu of the sum provided to be paid as a bonus under the original charter, the banks shall pay to the State of Tennessee, on the first day of January, in each year, one-half of one per cent., on their actual capitals, respectively.

Section ten limits the charge for discounts to six per cent., and the cost of collecting bills or notes, payable at points where neither the principal bank nor its branches are located.

Section eleven allows the banks to charge, in addition to six per cent. for discount, a reasonable sum for exchange on all bills of exchange drawn on points in and of Tennessee.

The twelfth section requires the banks to always keep on hand, gold and silver equal in amount to one-fourth their circulation; gold and silver and specie funds equal to one-third their circulation and immediate liabilities; a default in either of these respects for sixty days together, to cause a suspension of all discounts until the deficiency is made up; but the deficit of either proportion not to be allowed to continue longer in any one year than seventy-five days in all.

Sections thirteen and fourteen provide that the banks shall be at all times open to visit from the Legislature, or committee or visitorial officer appointed for the purpose; and in the event of the appointment of a Visitor of Banks hereafter, shall pay such proportion of his salary as the Legislature shall provide.

The fifteenth section provides that the banks, in the event of defaulting in specie payment for notes, shall pay the State Treasury one half of one per cent. on the capital for every month or fraction of a month that such suspension shall continue. Such suspension for no event to continue longer than six months at one time.

The sixteenth section provides for the amendment, alteration, or repeal of the charter in the event of wilful violation of any of their provisions.

The State having sold out its stock in the Union Bank, that institution is to have eleven directors elected by the stockholders.

Philadelphia Markets.

DECEMBER 3—Evening.

There is very little demand for 1 four, but holders are firm in their views, and not disposed to make concessions. The trade, however, are only buyers at prices ranging from $6 37½ to $6 37½ for superfine and extras, and $6 75 to $6 75 for extra family and fancy brands, according to quality. Standard shipping Flour is held at our lowest figures, but we hear of no sales to-day. Rye Flour is scarce and wanted at $4 25. Corn Meal is steady, with a sale of 100 bbls Pennsylvania Meal to arrive at $3 75 ⅌ bbl. The stock is light. Wheat is firmer. There is not so much offering to-day, and holders are rather firmer in their views, with sales of some 3,400 bus, mostly good to prime Pennsylvania and Southern red, at 115@118c, chiefly at the latter rate, and some small lots of White at 140@145c, as to quality. Rye is steady. Demand at 92c for Pennsylvania. Corn is also steady, with higher sales of 4,000 bus, prime in bds, at 60 ⅌ 70 lb, in the cars and afloat, and 70c 80c for new, as to dryness, quality, and 72c for prime to good lots. Oats are rather quiet and 1,000 bus light Maryland sold at c, good to prime at 35@36c, and Penna 34c. A sale of New York state Oats was made, on terms kept private. Bark—There is nothing doing, and first No. 1 Quercitron is stated at $27 ⅌ ton. Cotton—The market remains without change, but very dull, prices on one quoted rates. Groceries and Provisions—There is very little doing and no change to notice. Whiskey is a good demand for Potatoes which are abundant and low priced. Prime and superior New Orleans Molasses are selling from the vessel at Souder & Co's Dock-street wharf at 60c per bus. Seeds—The market is quiet, and only about the Cloverseed sold at 6@6¼c ⅌ lb, for fair to prime, chiefly at 5½@5¾c, and inferior at 63/75 per bus. Whiskey is selling rather more freely at a fair range, 25½c for hhds, and 26@27c for Penna and Ohio bbls.

WHISKEY is nominal at 26c.

EVANS, the great publisher, and proprietor of the Star Gift Book Store, No. 439 Chestnut street, has issued some splendidly-bound, new, and interesting works, especially for the holidays. With each book sold a beautiful gift is presented to the buyer. Let our readers remember that by purchasing a book for a holiday gift to a friend they may also receive a handsome gold watch, or other valuable article, as a present to themselves.

THREADBARE COATS TO BECOME FASHIONABLE!—Lord help the tailors! Some poor devil in the Rich mond Enquirer, in a labored article on non-intercourse, advises his readers to imitate the heroic acts of 1765, and make "threadbare coats fashionable!" Heaven forfend! We advise the tailors of the entire Union to form themselves into a corps d'armee for the preservation of the Union, for should such heretical doctrines prevail, their occupations would be assuredly gone. They might elect, as their generalissimo, Granville Stokes, the great clothier, No. 607 Chestnut street. The idea of a gentleman wearing a threadbare coat—ough!

CITY ITEMS.

HENRY WARD BEECHER AGAIN.—We have now to announce another, and we believe the only, lecture to be given by Henry Ward Beecher this season. It will constitute the closing one of the highly popular and successful course before the People's Literary Institute this season, and will be given at Concert Hall on Thursday evening next. What his subject will be has not yet transpired, but, whatever it may be, it needs no prophet's ken to insure him an audience as large as the hall will hold. When he delivered the opening one of the series in October there were many unable to hear him who wished to do so, and the anxiety to hear him, instead of abating, is increasing daily. It is, in fact, no undeserved compliment to say that Henry Ward Beecher stands at the very first rank of lecture-board orators, either in this country or Europe.

CHRISTMAS CONFECTIONERY.—Now that the holidays are approaching, we would remind our readers of an important fact, viz: that, however true it may be that confectionery is wholesome and nutritious, and actually beneficial to the digestive organs, it is nevertheless only true of that which is pure and free from all deleterious substance. To be certain of obtaining confections of this superior quality only, we are under the necessity of advising all our readers to patronize the establishment of Messrs. E. G. Whitman & Co., Second street, below Chestnut, as these gentlemen have deservedly the reputation of making the finest, richest, and at the same time the purest, confections manufactured in this country.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Central Republican Club, convened on the 30th of November, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That, out of respect to the cardinal principles of popular representation underlying Republican Government, we earnestly recommend to all voters of the People's party to support no present delegate, at the election on Tuesday, December 13th, who will not pledge himself in favor of sending representatives to the State Convention who shall insist upon referring the selection of delegates to the National Convention to the people in the several Congressional districts.

Resolved, That we further earnestly urge upon the voters of the People's party the propriety of asking from each candidate for the State Convention a distinct pledge in favor of submitt ng to the people of the several Congressional districts the selection of district delegates to the National Convention.

THE MEETING OF CONGRESS and the organization of the House is now the all-absorbing theme in political circles. The Opposition, on joint ballot, feels up a clear majority of 41. One thing, however, should be calmly and dispassionately considered; and that is, that no man has any just claim to the Speakership who can not give indubitable proof that he is "firm believer in, and upholder of, the old "Continental Old Guard" of B. H. Eldridge & Co., northeast corner of Chestnut and Eighth streets. Call and examine their superb stock of seasonable clothes.

A LONG, LOW, BLACK SCHOONER AT ATLANTIC CITY.—A small schooner ran into the inlet, at Atlantic City, last Wednesday, and still remains at anchor. There seems to be a number of men on board, and as she still remains, notwithstanding the calm weather, some suspect her of being in the hands of filibusters. Her sides are painted black with white stripes. The real facts, that the schooner is engaged in a legitimate trade, and the captain ran into the harbor at Atlantic while he sent up to the city to procure a new suit at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE SUPPLY is scarcely equal to the demand, so immense is the popularity of JULES HAUPE'S EAU ATHENIENNE, OR HAIR RESTORER. It prevents and cures baldness, promotes the growth and beauty of hair, and changes gray hairs and whiskers to the original color, softness, and brilliancy of youth. It is not a dye. Sold by all druggists, and by JULES HAUEL & CO., No. 704 CHESTNUT Street, Philadelphia. d5-d6tW1t

THE HAT DESIGNED AND MODELLED BY WARBURTON, OF 430 CHESTNUT STREET, FOR THE HOLIDAY AND WINTER SEASON, will be found admirably suited to the purposes intended. In style, character, and expression it cannot fail to please gentlemen of taste, and all who consult fitness and propriety in dress. Those who deferred purchasing a HAT OUTSIDE THE FALL will see in this new style just cause for laying aside their much worn beavers, while the BEAU MONDE will find this "CROWNING GRACE" indispensably requisite to their WINTER COSTUME.

OPENING DAY—THURSDAY, 8TH INST.
