Philadelphia Markets.

December 10—Evening.

There is very little demand for Flour, but holders are firm in their views, the only sale we hear of is 600 bbls good straight superfine at $5 37½, which is the uniform asking price for straight lots. The trade are buying in lots as wanted, at from this figure up to $5 50 for superfine; $5 62½@5 75 for extras, $5 87½@6 25 for family, $6 50@7 ⅌ bbl for fancy brands, as in quality. Rye Flour and Corn Meal are quiet but firm, at $4 37½ for the former, and $3 75 ⅌ bbl for Pennsylvania Meal. Wheat—There is not much offering, and the market, under a moderate milling demand, is firmer, with sales of about 3,000 bus at 132@135c for good and prime red, including white, in small lots, at 137@145c, as in quality. Rye is wanted at 85c for Pennsylvania, and but little offering at 75c selling. Corn is wanted, and prices, and about 10,000 bus new yellow sold at 76@80c for dry lots, the former at the depot, including some old, at 82@85c, and white at 79@79c for new and 80c for old. Oats are firm, with sales of 4,000 bus to note, at 43@44c for Delaware, the latter for heavy black. Cake is dull for Maryland and 44@45c for Pennsylvania. Barkis Quercitron is steady at $37 ⅌ ton for Jst No. 1. Cotton—There is very little movement, and a small business doing, at about previous rates. Groceries and Provisions—There is little or nothing doing, and no change to note. Seeds—The demand for Cloverseed is steady, and about 1,000 bus have been sold at $4 62½@4 65 ⅌ bus for fair to good and prime lots. Timothy and Flaxseed are quiet. Whiskey is in demand, at 24c for drudge; 25½c for hhds, and 26½@27c for Pennsylvania and Ohio bbls, but holders generally refuse these rates.

The Courts.—The disposal of a petty case, involving an alleged breach of peace, by a lady who said some angry words to another lady, who resorted to the law for satisfaction, constituted the only business disposed of by Judge Ludlow, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, on Saturday.

In the United States District Court, before Judge Cadwalader, James Donnelly was put on his trial, on the charge of making and uttering counterfeit coin. The chief witness for the United States is Phineas Grace, tavern-keeper in the western part of the city. He was first arrested on the charge of passing counterfeit coin, and while in the alderman's office, in answer to a question, said that he had got the coin from Donnelly. On the stand, he said that Donnelly came to his house, showed a counterfeit gold dollar, and said he was making them; he told what he sold it for, and Grace, after some hesitation, agreed to buy twenty dollars' worth of it. Donnelly afterwards showed him a counterfeit quarter, and a die for making dollars, which he said he was going to sell for two hundred dollars. Grace was corroborated as to the exhibition of the counterfeit dollars at his house by Donnelly. The Government abandoned his case, and a verdict of not guilty was rendered.

In the Court of Common Pleas, the child Lizzie May was ordered to be placed under the care of Miss McCalla, a lady who has evinced much interest in behalf of the interesting girl. Credit is due to M. J. Mitchenor, Esq., for the zeal manifested by him in bringing about this result.

David W. Chambers, recently elected District Attorney of Juniata county, in this State, is a graduate of Girard College. We are glad to hear of the success of our young friend.

CITY ITEMS.

Proctor's Paris Cloak and Fur Emporium.—There are probably few of our lady readers who are not acquainted with this popular establishment at No. 706 Chestnut street, known as the "Paris Mantilla Emporium," under the proprietorship of Messrs. J. W. Proctor & Co.; and those who have not yet made its acquaintance, we would advise to do so at once. An evening contemporary, in speaking of the stock of this extensive house, has the following sensible suggestion: "In selecting presents for the holidays, nothing could be more substantial and acceptable than a set of furs, mufflers, or cloak, from Proctor's, and we are happy to say that such good taste is quite fashionable, if one may judge from the throngs of ladies who are seen every day at this very popular establishment. In all the articles in Market line, Proctor's stock will be found full and complete, and worthy of attention on the part of all who are making their choice of presents for Christmas and for New Year's."

Old Folks' Concert.—Father Kemp and his celebrated company of ladies and gentlemen appeared in our city on Tuesday last, and have been favoring the citizens with their unique and pleasing entertainments during the week, in National Hall. The Old Folks have become exceedingly popular in every place which they have visited. They have lost none of their novelty, nor their double share of the charms, since they last visited us. Mrs. Nichols, a beautiful soprano, who sings several popular songs, and Mr. Whitney, a fine bassinger, have also been added to the troupe recently, which adds attractive features of these concerts. We learn that their troupe have recently closed a successful series of forty concerts, in New-York, Brooklyn, and Williamsburg.

They will sing this evening, Tuesday evening will be their closing concert of the series in this city. This afternoon they sing for the accommodation of children, who will be admitted on this occasion for one dime. Adults 25 cents. For further particulars see advertising columns and bills of the day.

Evans, the great publisher and proprietor of the Star Gift Bookstore, No. 439 Chestnut street, has issued some splendidly bound, new, and interesting books, especially for the holidays. With each book sold a beautiful gift is presented to the buyer. Let our readers remember that by purchasing a book for a holiday gift to a friend, they may also receive a handsome gold watch, or other valuable article, as a present to themselves.

Table Cutlery, with pearl and ivory handles, in full sets, for breakfast, dinner, and tea, fitted in fine mahogany and rosewood cases, suitable for holiday presents, at E. W. Carryl & Co.'s House-Furnishing Store, 17 Chestnut street. Prices from $15 to $100.

The Growth of Wool.—Private advices from Australia mention the fact that the introduction of the Alpaca upon the island promises to be attended with complete success. The flocks were in good health and increasing rapidly, while the country in the vicinity of Sidney provides most excellent pasturage. This information is significant, when taken in connection with the vast amount of woollen fabrics continually being made into fashionable Clothing at E. H. Trotter's "Continental Clothing House," northeast corner of Chestnut and Eighth streets. Our readers, in want of bargains, should call on them.

An Ancient Pawn Ticket.—An incorrigible bookworm, turning over some old manuscripts the other day, at the Imperial Library, in Paris, fumbled out a strange musty piece of paper, which proved to be a pawn ticket of Torquato Tasso. It shows that the author of "Jerusalem Delivered" had pledged his father's waistcoat for vingt-sins livres, on the 26 of March, 1570. The discoverer of the literary curiosity wrote upon the back of the ticket that in 1859 the best and most elegant garments to be found in the world are those made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill and Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia. He then restored it to its old hiding place.

Holidays Coming.—The peculiar beauty and appropriateness of the Stereoscope and Pictures as a Christmas Present, is attracting the attention of the public. Emporium, 16 south Eighth street, JAS. CREMER & CO.

LEWES, Del, Dec 10.

The fleet reported in my last all went to sea yesterday and the day before. The schr Oneco, from Philadelphia, with 5300 bushels corn and 100 bushels rye, outward bound, struck on the Hen and Chickens Shoals on the 8th, and went to pieces. The crew landed on the beach about three miles south of the lighthouse, having lost all their clothing, and without money.

There are now at the harbor one brig and eight schrs, all of which came to the harbor last evening. The thermometer was down yesterday morning to 18; it is now more moderate, and is up to 31, with the wind from W.

Yours, W. M. HICKMAN.

PS—The Oneco was eleven years old, and bound to Boston.
