HORRIBLE DEATH.—A FEARFUL WARNING AGAINST BURNING FLUID.—On Saturday morning last, Mr. William Wager, who lives in Plymouth township, a little east of the borough, started to our hardware store, leaving only his wife, Isabella Dunlap and a little girl of ten years, at home. About six o'clock Mrs. Wager, while preparing breakfast, was carrying a fluid lamp of two tubes, but only one one of them containing a wick; when thought nearly exciting the lamp the fluid was spilled upon her dress, and the saturated garments took fire, as! before assistance could be rendered nearly every thread of clothing was burnt from her body, and when found, her flesh was charred and burnt to a cinder! Dr. Dunlap was called, but the terrible injuries she suffered were beyond medical skill, causing her death at 11½ o'clock the same morning. The little girl snatched up the child at the moment of the accident, and gave the alarm to the neighbors, who, returning, found Mrs. W. nude and helpless. What a warning against the use of this inflammable article.—Norristown Republican, Dec. 31.

ANOTHER BEREAVEMENT OF MAYOR WOOD.—Mayor Wood's infant daughter died, on Thursday night, at the age of twenty-four days. Marshal Hinchman announces to-day that, in consequence of his recent bereavement, Mayor Wood will not receive his friends on New Year's day, as it is customary for him to do.—N. Y. Express last evening.

CITY ITEMS.

SINGULAR TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR.—Few establishments have contributed more spiritedly to the holiday furore of the present reason than our enterprising friend, J. A. Eshleman, at No. 625 Chestnut street, (Jayne's Hall.) He not only took the precaution of presenting the public first of crowds in the world, but his ads. was magnificent in informing the public of this fact: 'On Monday last, when the streets were alive with Christmas glee Eshleman's renowned Christmas tree, labelled, and spangled, and decorated in the most novel style, was borne by and down our streets, upon the shoulders of an ebony Hercules, who seemed to enjoy amazingly the universal attention which he attracted. This house has become one of the institutions of our city, and the man who has not remedied his acquaintance is behind the age. We have been led to these remarks incidentally, our object in referring to Mr. Eshleman's establishment at this time being, to correct an error in a statement which recently appeared in our columns respecting it. By one of those inscrutable and unaccountably strange typographical errors to which printed documents, even under the eye of the most expert proof-reader, are more or less liable, we were made to say that Mr. Eshleman's sales of cravats alone, on the Saturday previous, had amounted to the enormous number of ten thousand. We should have said eleven thousand! Exchanges that have copied our former statement, will please make this correction.

JOHN S. CLARK'S STOVES.—We have frequently had occasion to refer to the stoves manufactured and sold by Mr. John S. Clark, at his store, No. 1008 Market street, as being superior to any others in use, and allude to the subject again, from the fact that his preparations to supply the public—great as the demand has been—are unabated. His highly improved Silver's air-tight gas-consuming heating stoves for parlors, chambers, dining-rooms, bounting-rooms, offices, stosters, are the most complete ever invented. They consume less coal; give more heat, are more easily managed, and require less attention than any other stove in the market. Mr. Clarke manufactures them with an eye to the permanency of his trade, and therefore delivers them in such a manner made of the best and most durable materials, that for them not to give satisfaction would be impossible. In fact he warrants every one he sells, and obligates himself to take back what not found upon trial, to be entirely satisfactory. That this alternative is hardly even rendered necessary, only proves the truth of our remarks upon the stoves which bear his name. Mr. Clark's establishment, at 1008 Market street, is certainly one of the most noted stove warehouses in this country.

HARRIS BOUDOIR SEWING MACHINES.—We are gratified to learn that our advice last week, respecting the property of gentlemen giving a judicious preference to these admirable instruments, in making presents to their ladies, has been largely acted upon, and that the "Harris Boudoir," as usual, came off with flying colors. Mr. S. D. Baker's office, No 720 Arch street, was literally thronged with gentlemen for several days even of the present week, and we cannot doubt that New Year's day will find this superior family machine in many homes where it will be appropriately welcomed.

WALSON'S WRAPPERS.—The introduction of the holiday season has made a great onslaught upon the magnificent stock of Gent' Wrappers and general Furnishing Goods of Messrs. R. C. Walborn & Co., Nos. 5 and 7 North Sixth street; but their assortment, we found, in looking into their model store yesterday, to be still large and varied. The doings of to-day will doubtless convey from it another heavy instalment.

"SPEND WHEN NECESSARY, BUT MAKE NO waste," for "Waste brings want," while to the contrary "The frugal are prosperous." Franklin says, "Prepare for sickness in the day of health; and for want in the youth!" and also: "If youth knew what age would crave, it would both set and save," imitating the good example set by those who deposit in "The Franklin Saving Fund," 124 south Fourth street, below Chestnut, Philadelphia, for they either are or soon become, prosperous. All deposits in this old and reliable company can be withdrawn without notice, with five per cent. interest. See advertisement in another column.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENT.—We have seldom seen a more decided improvement in any building than has been made in the Church of the Messiah, at Locust and Juniper street. Outside its appearance has been very much changed for the better, by the removal of the imitation stone pipes, which were neither useful nor ornamental, and the substitution of an imitation of Proton stone in place of the discolored mastic; while inside the improvement is still more marked. The walls have been beautifully frescoed by Werner, a series of arches introduced back of the pulpit in the centre of which is a beautiful cross, and over it the words "God is Love." The church is to be reopened to-morrow, with services by Dr. Wilhamson, the pastor.

SPLENDID SPRING FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT.—The assortment of goods in this line kept by Mr. Spencer, under the Girard House, has probably not an equal in this country. It embraces everything belonging to that branch of trade, in profuse variety, from a shilling pair of socks to an elegant Wrapper worth fifty dollars.

LOVE'S choice fresh imported Teas; also, cheapest Sugars and General Groceries.

SWENEY AND BROWN.

HOLIDAY GIFTS.—The largest and choicest assortment of original Stereoscopic Pictures, suitable for New Year Presents, at Emporium 18 South Eighth street.

FOWL, FRUIT, AND FANCY CAKES.—A good meal for 25 cents. Poultry, beef, lamb, oysters, pepper-pot. Ford's, Eighth below Market street.

HOLIDAY GIFTS.—Improved Spectacles, mounted in gold or elastic steel, Stereoscopes and Views, in a great variety and at reduced prices, at

M. J. FRANKLIN'S, Opticians, 118 South Fourth street, below Chestnut.

WEST INDIAN BITTERS.—To those of our readers who may be afflicted with dyspepsia or nervous debility, we would most cheerfully recommend the use of these Celebrated Bitters, as a remedy without an equal for effectually restoring the appetite and imparting a healthy tone to the stomach.

These Bitters are very extensively patronized in the leading European capitals, (where they are highly recommended by the medical faculty,) and largely consumed in the leading hospitals.

We advise those who may be suffering from dyspepsia, loss of appetite, nervous debility, &c., to give these Bitters a trial. Mr. Thomas F. Bradley, at the southwest corner of Spruce and Fifth streets, is the principal agent for the sale.

THE RECIPROCITY, OR MUTUAL BENEFIT SYSTEM is adopted by Mr. G. G. Evans, in his manner of doing business. Having the largest stock of choice and elegantly-bound books in the city, he sells at the lowest publishing prices, and presents each purchaser with a valuable gift. It is this equitable and generous mode of doing business that causes the "Gift Book Emporium," No. 439 Chestnut street, to be so eagerly sought after by hundreds of thousands.

GREAT EXCITEMENT ON CHESTNUT STREET.—Yesterday afternoon this fashionable and crowded thoroughfare was thrown into a state of great excitement by the rushing of a mad bull, that had evidently broken out of some enclosure, down from Eleventh to Fourth street, when it was finally arrested in its career by Officer Spiergeon. In its progress it's bovine majesty upset two or three apple and peanut venders, jumped through a bulk window at the corner of Fourth and Dock streets, knocked over a newsboy, and when captured had appended to one of his horns a copy of "The Press," in which was a long eulogistic article on the beautiful winter styles of Clothing gotten up at the palatial store of Granville Stokes, No. 607 Chestnut street.

"Thyme is," says a writer in the Spectator, "a way of reasoning which seldom fails." We are of that opinion but found our way of reasoning on the laws of common sense. Gold, in these venal times, is a wonderful clearer of the understanding; but truth is mighty, and will prevail—which axiom is illustrated by the acquiescence yielded to our arguments in favor of buying clothing at the "Continental Clothing House" of S. H. Eldridge & Co., northeast corner of Chestnut and Eighth streets.

THE SNOW STORM.—The storm of Thursday night illustrated the description once given by a colored gentleman of a similar atmospherical demonstration. He said: "First it blew, and then it snew, then it thew, and then it frix!" We have had all these conditions of the weather within a short time, and it has involved the necessity of great caution to avoid taking colds. The only sure preventive of catarrhs, we know of, in such capricious weather, is to keep one's self cind in the elegant and comfortable garments sold at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

BRONCHIAL AFFECTIONS.—A clergyman, writing from Morristown, Ohio, speaking of the beneficial effects resulting from the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches," says: "Last spring, I feared my lungs were becoming dangerously involved, and, until I used your Troches, could not preach a sermon of ordinary length, without hoarseness; but now, (with the assistance of 'Troches,') I have, in the past five weeks, preached some forty sermons." d29-thstu 3t
