The song "Scots Wha hae" was then sung by Mr. John Gibson.

4—Pennsylvania.—The key-stone of the glorious arch. Her iron, her coal, her arts, her manufactures, her railroads, her canals, her bar, pulpit and press, her school system, her schools, and the intelligence, honesty, and wise conservatism of her people, have given her a just and proud pre-eminence in the sisterhood of States.

William J. Young, Esq., responded in a very eloquent address, in which he described the advantages and glories clustering around the institutions of our State. In case of a conflict of sections, Pennsylvania stood ready to drive back the Abolitionists of the North, and the secessionists of the South. He hoped God would preserve this Union, and preserve Pennsylvania as the Keystone of the arch, until time would be no more.

5—The Mother of Robert Burns.—The world will echo for all time to the songs sung at the cradle of her poet.

Mr. James Johnston responded by calling on Colonel Fitzgerald, who said he would be sorry to pass over the memory of so good a woman as the mother of Robert Burns. No one had done so much for mankind as the mother of that great child of song. After paying a few words of encomium to her memory, Mr. Fitzgerald took his seat amid great applause.

D. McFutyre then sang the song of Highland Mary.

6—The Past and the Present of Philadelphia.—In our exultation at the present unparalleled prosperity of our great, beautiful, rich, healthful, and happy city, let us not forget those who in other days contributed so largely to its glory—the Chancloses, Wistars, Girards, Cadwaladers, Biddles, Rittenhouses, Wistars, Binghams, etc.; nor those who are now contributing to its embellishment, from the deep wells of their prosperity—the Griggs, Jayes, Harrisons, Hartwells, Messchorts, Carpenters, Chambersses, and others.

Colonel Peter Rodgers responded in a very brief speech, and was followed by David S. Winebrenner, who sang the song, "Let us speak of a man we love best."

7—The Ploughman of Ayrshire.—He proved himself the poor of any man.

Is there, for honest poverty,
That hangs his head, and a' that!
The coward slave, we pass him by,
We dare be poor for a' that!

For a' that, and a' that,
Our toil's obscure, and a' that;
The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gowd for a' that.

Walter Heugh, Esq., one of the vice presidents responded in a brief address, in which he said the ploughmen over the whole world; the men who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow, are the most honest and independent men in the world.

Mr. J. Gibson then sang "The Banks and Braes of Bonnie Doon."

8—The Public Press of America.—The insurmountable and impenetrable wall, against the one and despotic and promotes virtue, industry, and independence, and on the other, was the Sweden-borgian fustic all the assaults of ignorance, bigotry, and crime.

Replied to by Colonel Forney. Colonel Forney was received with loud applause, and was greeted at intervals with loud cheers.

9—Poetry.—The language in which Burns speaks to the universal heart of humanity. Let us cherish our inspired songsters, Baker, Bryant, Dunn, Holmes, Halleck, Longfellow, Saxe, Stockton, and others.

Robert O'Gibson replied by calling on Mr. John D. Stockton, who made a brief speech. After the reading of Col. Forney he could say nothing. He could not speak of it as it deserved; Burns himself should speak to this. He regretted he did not live a hundred years, for then he might see his own centennial.

Col. Peter Rodgers then sang "Willie brewed a peck a' maut," amid great laughter and applause.

10—The Bar of Philadelphia.—"A Philadelphia Lawyer" is a phrase used the world over. It proclaims the high character of our bar for learning, eloquence, probity, courtesy, and all the other graces of scholarship and manhood.

Replied to by Daniel Dougherty, Esq.

11—Burns Associations throughout the world.—While a love of beauty, tenderness, and truth, exists in the human heart, these Associations will exist and flourish.

Mr. David P. Mitchell, Esq., responded in a few appropriate and humorous remarks. As regards Burns Associations throughout the world, there never was a finer conception than to form them. In every town and hamlet throughout the world there are Burns Associations in some shape or other. So long as the world lasts the memory of Robert Burns will last.

Mr. Daniel McIntyre then sang, "A Man's a Man for a' That," amid great applause.

12—Independence Hall.—The old Homestead of Liberty is dear to the hearts of all lovers of Freedom. Long may it stand, the Mecca of all worshippers of Political and Religious Liberty.

Walter B. Dick, Esq., responded in an eloquent address, in which he gave a historical account of the State-house. His remarks, which were very interesting, will be printed to-morrow.

13—The Lassies.—Health to the sex lik guid chiel says,

Wi' merry dance in winter days,
Are we to share in common.
The gust of joy, the balm of woe,
The soul of life, the heaven below,
Is rapture-giving woman!

Mr. D. McIntyre responded, by singing the song of "Green Grow the Rushes O."

The festivities were prolonged until between one and two o'clock. When our reporters left the company were in the midst of merriment. The notes of our reporters were furnished at such a late hour that we are compelled to omit the remarks of Angus McBeath, Walter B. Dick, Daniel Dougherty, and John W. Forney, which will certainly appear to-morrow.

The following despatches were received in the course of the evening. They were in response to the following sentiment, which was telegraphed over the country by the Philadelphia Burns Association:

"Burns—The inspired peasant; the people's poet; the man of independent mind, has taught the world that talents and integrity will triumph over all attempts put forth to wield the power to crush them."

"ALBANY, January 25—D. C. McIntyre, Secretary. At eleven o'clock we will drink prosperity to the Philadelphia Burns Club; and may mirth and joy be in your s'—JAMES DICKSON, President Albany Burns Club."

"WILMINGTON, Delaware.—Burns, the poet, patriot, philanthropist, and philosopher. His genius, which burns through his verse, brightens with age. May his love of freedom and independence find a beacon light to all future ages.—JAMES COLQUHOUN, chairman Burns Festival, Wilmington, Delaware."

"BALTIMORE, Jan. 25.—The Baltimore Burns Club greet their brethren of Philadelphia and may mirth and joy be in your s'.—BURNS CLUB, Baltimore."

"NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—We offer, in return to your beautiful sentiment, the following: Robert Burns—The poet, the patriot, and the man. Love and friendship to all assembled in his name to-night.' J. ROBERTSON, Corresponding Secretary."

"CINCINNATI, Jan. 25.—Your favor received. Our response:

"Our Robin was an unco' chiel;
He sang hailt to the man and deil.
The lassies love him vara well,
And he to them ne'er turned his heel.
So we to you from Philadelphia friends,
Gie heart and hand like pratty simple weans;
Long may the city of friendly scenes
Be friendly wi' the city o' the queens.
"JOHN JEFFREY, President Burns Club."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25, 1860.

The stock market remains unchanged. Every kind of security known as reliable for an annual return upon the money invested keeps up in price, while all those tinged with doubt are not readily sold, even at the quoted rates. The fancy stocks are totally neglected.

The money market is easy for loans upon good collateral, or for gilt-edged paper, but collections of retail bills are made with difficulty, and small traders, not well known in moneyed circles, have to pay twelve to fifteen per cent. for what money they are obliged to raise on their business paper, and do not find it a light task to procure it, even at these rates. The cause of these difficulties, in a time when money is abundant, may be readily found in the disturbed state of men's minds as to the security of the country, and the stability of trade.

We notice that the New York Legislature is to be again occupied with the consideration of a bill providing for the seizure of the deposits in savings banks which have remained uncalled for during a certain period, and to appropriate the money to institutions for the education of the blind and deaf and idiotic. It would seem that the common sense of any man holding the position of a member of a legislative body would show him at once that such deposits were matters of contract between the parties making and receiving them, and not the business or concern of any outside parties whatever—even the State—and that any law providing for their removal would be a law for the abrogation of contracts, and, therefore, void. Some astute individuals assume that the Legislature can attain the same object in another way by levying a heavy special tax upon such deposits. It is a pity these Solons cannot see that the State of New York is great enough, and rich enough, and generous enough to provide for these most worthy charities, without sequestering the deposits of poor people, who are doubtless sleeping soundly in reliance upon the safety of the little hoards they have provided against a day of need.

The Union bondholders held a meeting to-day, at which a paper, signed by several bondholders, was submitted, suggesting that the bondholders surrender a sufficient portion of the bonds held by them for the purpose of paying off the floating debt, and that the canal receipts go to the bondholders. The subject was referred to a committee of nine, with directions to report fully hereafter upon the condition of the company.

The directors of the Morris Canal Company announce a semi-annual dividend of five per cent. on the preferred stock, and two per cent. on the consolidated stock, both payable to Philadelphia stockholders at the office of E. W. Clark & Co., on and after February 7th.

Peleg W. Chandler, Esq., one of the ablest of Massachusetts lawyers, recently, in arguing a pauper case in court, at Boston, said if the city of Boston would sell its pauper establishment, and put out the money at interest, the income would board all the paupers at the Tremont House.

We have no doubt that the paupers would be highly gratified if Mr. Chandler's suggestion were carried into practice as part of the municipal economy of the modern Athens.

We are indebted to Messrs. Wells, Fargo, & Co.'s California Express for valuable news publications from California, some of which we expect to lay before our readers to-morrow. The amount of treasure reported by the Baltic is $1,760,582, besides which, private receipts are supposed to have been not far short of a quarter of a million.

The treasure shipments from San Francisco for the year just closed, by steamers, were as follows:

New York	$39,838,937 82
England	3,899,939 27
Panama	225,949 24
New Orleans	314,600 00
Total shipments by steamers for twelve months, 1859	$44,339,317 47

The amount sent from here during 1858 was $45,459,239.50, which shows a falling off of $1,119,922.12.

The shipments of treasure in coin, bars, dust, &c., by sailing vessels from this port for the year, were as follows:

China	$3,126,291
Honolulu	142,190
Japan	34,600
East Indies	34,200
Total by sailing vessels, 1859	$3,336,681

Grand total exports of treasure for 1859, $47,664,998—which is an increase of $135,740 over the shipments of 1858.

The imports were as follows:

Mexico	$2,431,021
Chili	14,832
Australia	4,268
Sandwich islands	27,795
Total for 1859	$2,473,544

which is an increase of $151,952 over 1858.

Philadelphia Markets.

JANUARY 25th—Evening.

There is no change in the Flour market, but there has been rather more doing (about 2,500 bbls Brandywine sold at $6.75) for good city mills extra at $6 | 2.0 bbls choice family at $6.62½; 100 bbls fancy at $7.50, on time; and 200 bbls fine middlings at $4 25 ⅌ bbl. The retailers and bakers are buying to a limited extent at the above figures according to quality. Rye Flour and Corn Meal are unchanged, but dull; the former at $4.25, and the latter at $3.75 ⅌ bbl. Wheat is rather more plenty, and the demand for it is limited. Only about 600 bushels have been sold at $1.34@1.35c for prime red, and $1.50c for prime white. Rye is steady at 9c for Pennsylvania. Corn is rather dull, but prices are unchanged; about 5,000 bushels dry yellow sold at 70c in store and in the cars, and 1,500 bushels damp, part at 70c and part private. Oats are not much inquired for, and 1,500 bush fair Delaware sold at 42c afloat; Penn. are selling slowly at 46c in store. Barley and Malt are unaltered, and a moderate business doing. Bark is wanted, but there is no more here, and 1st No. 1 Quercitron would bring an advance on previous quotations. Cotton—The market is firm; buyers come forward slowly, owing to the high views of holders. Groceries are unchanged, and a small business doing at full former rates. Provisions—There is no change in price or demand, and the market is quiet. Seeds—There is not much demand for Clover seed; about 700 bush have been taken at from $4.75 to $5.25 for common to good and prime lots. Whiskey continues full; Penn. bbls are selling at 24c, Western 23c, hhds 22½c, and drudge at 22½@23c per gallon.

NEW YORK CATTLE MARKET—Wednesday, Jan. 25—Beef up Again.—The receipts have been 2,407 Beeves, 83 Cows, 418 Veals, 8,000 Sheep and Lambs, and 1 600 Swine—showing an increase of 5 Cows, 21 Veals, and a decrease of 746 Beeves, 903 Sheep and Lambs, and 2,876 Swine, at Bergen, New Jersey. The best were sold to butchers for this market. At Allerton's 2,274 head were sold, against 3 022 last week. The decreased supply of 745 head has rather strengthened the market for Best Cattle, and we quote an advance of half a cent per lb. Drivers and owners are not willing to allow this improvement, because they expected a greater rise, and they appear just as dissatisfied as they have been for weeks under a declining market. The quality was no better than last week, and for the number on sale the proportion of good stock was less. The prices were 10@10½c cents for extra, 9@9½c for good Steers, and 8@9 cents for other grades. The average price about 8 cents. Sheep and Lambs have continued to meet a good attention from butchers at full rates. The quality has continued excellent, and an average price of 8½@8¾ has been paid. For very extra stock 12@12½c, dressed, has been realized, or 6½@7½c ⅌ head. Veals have sold fairly, at 5@6½c. Cows have been selling in small lots to extent at $25@60, as to quality. The receipts of Swine have fallen off, and prices have advanced. We quote live hogs, which are scarce, at 6½@6c gross, and dressed at 6¼@7½c net.

CITY ITEMS.

YOU HAVE BUT FOUR DAYS LEFT in which to enter your names for the sixth year's award of Premiums in the Cosmopolitan Art Association. E. H. Hunt & Co., Fifth and Chestnut streets.

W. B. MENDENHALL having repurchased the store property of E. M. Broomall, Coatesville, Pa., will open with an entire new stock of goods in time for spring trade.

THE BIRTHDAY OF ROBERT BURNS.—Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns. It was celebrated with spirit by Scotchmen all over the world, and thousands, no doubt, recited the lines which convey so much wisdom and philosophy in such quaint and pithy phrase:

"O wad some power the gifie gie us,
To see ourselves as ithers see us!"

We are quite confident that, if a sense of self-appreciation, was universally bestowed, there would be but few persons who would not array themselves in the elegant garments made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

LINSEY WOOLSEY—DERIVATION OF.—"The speech was mere Linsey Woolsey stuff." The sense of this will be better understood when we come to give the derivative old Saxon phrase, which is: "Linnes hiwoolen hie"—viz: Flax is here—wool is here—a stuff composed of both materials, and so neither linen nor woollen—neither one thing nor the other. We have given the above in consequence of the importance attached to linsey woolsey by the movements in the South of late. Though a comfortable material for clothing, it possesses none of the elegant properties of the fine fabrics made up at the fashionable Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 607 Chestnut street.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE FIRE IN CHESTNUT STREET.

LETTER FROM THEO. H. PETERS & CO.

PHILADELPHIA, January 19, 1860.

MESSRS. FARREL, HERRING & CO.,
629 CHESTNUT STREET.

GENTLEMEN: We have received from your Herring's Patent Champion Safe, of your make, which we bought from you nearly five years ago, from the ruins of our building, No. 715 Chestnut street, which was entirely destroyed by fire on the morning of the 17th inst.

So rapid was the progress of the flames, that we could reach the store the whole interior was one mass of fire. The safe being in the back part of the store, and surrounded by the most combustible materials, was exposed to great heat. It fell with the wall of that part of the building into the cellar, and remained imbedded in the ruins for more than thirty hours.

The Safe was opened this morning in the presence of a number of gentlemen, and the contents, comprising our books, bills receivable, money, and a large amount of valuable papers, are all safe; not a thing was touched by fire. Respectfully yours,

THEO. H. PETERS & CO.

The above Safe can be seen at our store, where the public are invited to call and examine it.
