DESPERATE ATTEMPT AT MURDER LAST EVENING, AT SEVENTH AND CARPENTER STREETS.—A few minutes before eight o'clock last evening, as two small boys were gazing into the window of a drug store on the southwest corner of Seventh and Carpenter streets, they were approached by a couple of rough-looking individuals, who asked them what they were doing there. An uncle of the boys, Mr. Henry Weldon, was standing by at the time, and said to the men that the boys were near their home, and knew their own business. Some angry words ensued, when one of the strangers drew from his pocket a knife, and without warning plunged it into the left side of Mr. Weldon, inflicting a wound which, in all probability, will terminate fatally. Mr. Weldon screamed out that he had been stabbed, after which he fell from weakness upon the pavement. The assailants, of course, in a neighborhood where the sight of a policeman is a perfect cure for sore eyes effected their escape. Weldon was conveyed to his residence, at No. 1009 Passyunk road, below Carpenter street, the house of his sister, Mrs. Delacroix, where medical aid was promptly summoned. The affair created the most intense excitement in the neighborhood, where the injured man has for a long time lived, and is very well known. The wound was an inch and a half in extent, the knife having severed a small artery of the chest, penetrating between the fifth and sixth ribs, and probably wounding the lung. Our reporter saw the wounded man stretched upon the floor of his dwelling, suffering the most intense agony. An account of the bloody transaction could be gathered from his own lips. His relatives were in great distress, to witness which was unfeigned sympathy. Weldon is an unmarried man, about twenty-six years of age. He is a compositor by occupation, and is well known by many of the hands employed upon the daily newspapers. The barbarous outrage was the subject of much comment in the lower portion of the city during the evening, the wonder being pretty freely expressed that similar scenes of bloodshed were not of more frequent occurrence in this locality in view of the notorious neglect of the police to attend to their duties. Weldon bled profusely, and when we left him fears were entertained that wound not live until morning. Up to midnight no attempt had even been made to arrest the perpetrators of the dastardly act.

A SPORTSMAN ON ITS TRAVELS.—Yesterday morning George H. Ide, a man of a respectable appearance, and the possessor of a very dignified pair of spectacles, had a hearing before Recorder Enem, on the charge of swindling Messrs. Philip S. Wilson & Co. On the hearing, it appeared that Ide had called at the store of Messrs. Wilson, on Chestnut street, and requested to be employed as a traveling agent for the firm through the Southern States. He represented that Messrs. Evans & Watson had engaged him as an agent, and he would be glad to combine the business of Messrs. Wilson with that of Messrs. E. & W. Mr. Ide talked very patriotically, representing that he was a Union man—a conservative of the southern stripe. He was particularly so on "The Impressible Conflict" "The Impending Crisis," "John Brown," and so on, and felt that his sentiments and bearing would gain him friends throughout the entire South, conducive to the interests of his employers, and not as a perpetual safe-guard against North Carolina tar, Georgia feathers, and Virginia rails. He gladly referred to Messrs. E. & W. for testimonials of his character, and closed the interview by requesting the loan of a fowling-piece for a few days, as he wished to enjoy himself a little before his departure. He obtained the fowling-piece, and went to the store of Messrs. Evans & Watson, where he repeated the request made to Messrs. Wilson, stating that they had engaged him, and referring to them for testimonials of honesty, patriotism, conservatism, &c. Messrs. Evans & Watson called on Messrs. Wilson for those "testimonials," and these both parties learned the true state of the case. In the meantime Ide had secured the fowling-piece, which was worth $15, for $7, appropriating the proceeds to his own personal use. Officer Feltz, of the Recorder's force, took him into custody. The Recorder held him in the sum of $600 nail to answer at court.

A TRULY BENEVOLENT ACT.—A colored child died in Wood street, a few days ago, and the widowed mother was so poor that she was unable to inter it. A Catholic clergyman, who was ignorant of the fact, directed the attention of the Conference of St. Vincent de Paul, of the Cathedral parish, to the matter, whereupon Mrs. Randall, residing in the neighborhood, at once repaired to the residence, and had a neat dress prepared, and a walnut coffin. She then instructed the undertaker to furnish a few carriages, and also will in the aid of the Conference afforded such relief as the widow and her surviving fatherless children required. Mrs. Randall probably never dreamed that her act of true charity would be chronicled in the daily prints; but as the instance has been narrated to us, we give it, confident there is a record of the deed where no time can ever obliterate it. We learn that the Conference of St. Vincent de Paul have adopted all the children.

CHARGED WITH PASSING COUNTERFEIT COIN.—Yesterday afternoon, before United States Commissioner Charles S. Hazelhit, a man, named Andrew Moulton, had a hearing on a charge of passing and attempting to pass counterfeit money. Thomas Corrigan, represented by William M. Bull, Esq., Lieutenant Henderson testified that he found some of the alleged counterfeit coin on the person of the accused. Reserve Officer Bates testified that the same money was in the possession of Moulton. Mr. Bull argued that there was no evidence of an attempt on the part of his client to pass the money, and that he be discharged from custody. The Commissioner took the same view of the matter, and ordered the release of the accused.

A QUANTITY OF COUNTERFEIT MONEY RECOVERED BY THE POLICE.—On Monday evening a man giving the name of Robert McGuinn was arrested in a beer-shop saloon, on Callowhill street, above Thirteenth, on the charge of passing counterfeit notes on the Bank of Salisbury, Maryland. At the time of his arrest he threw away a roll of notes, which were taken possession of by the officer. Lieutenant Hampton, the Captain Thackara proceeded to a house in the Fifth ward, where he was boarding with his wife, and succeeded in securing notes on broken banks and counterfeit of various denominations, to the amount of $2,200. A portion of these notes were discovered on the person of Mrs McGuinn. She was arrested, and both, on being taken before Alderman Plankinton, were bound over in the sum of $1,200 for a further hearing. The hearing will take place to-morrow afternoon.

THE CORN EXCHANGE ASSOCIATION.—The annual meeting of the members of this organization was held last evening, at their Hall, at the southwest corner of Second and Good streets.

Mr. Archibald Getty, the secretary, read the annual report, from which we learn that during the year 71 names had been added to their roll as members and subscribers. The total number now on the list is 277. The balance on hand in the treasury at the close of last year was $933.71; received since, $2,845 63; expended since, $3,355.91, leaving on hand a balance of $346.04.

The following gentlemen were selected as officers: President, James Steel; secretary, George Cookman; treasurer, Saml. L. Ward; managers, Lewis S. Mystelger, F. B. Mingle, Samuel Hertzogh, Charles Knorr, Charles H. Cummings, Jas. P. Perot, James M. Smith, Elijah C. Gatteli.

HIDDE AVENUE MARKET.—This new market, situate on the westside of the avenue, at the corner of Wood street, will be hereafter opened and closed formally opened on Fair day morning next. In the evening it will be lighted up a la the market continued to a late hour. The building has been finished in a style equal to the costly markets in the lower part of the city. It contains sixty stalls, all of which have been rented to butchers, farmers, and truckers, and the whole will be occupied on Saturday, affording to the thickly settled neighborhood as large an assortment of meats and provisions as can be found in any other market. Many of the most celebrated butchers have taken stalls, on which will be found the best meats this city can produce. Being the only large market in the city, it must prove a great convenience to the neighborhood.

SERIOUS ILLNESS OF HON. JOEL JONES.—We learned last evening that the Hon. Joel Jones, well known as one of the most eminent of our citizens, is confined to bed by an illness from which there are little or no hopes of his recovery. We make the announcement with deep regret, and earnestly trust that the friends of his friends are without foundation. Mr. Jones, since his retirement from his position as Mayor of the city, assessor, and as of the Common Pleas, and president of Girard College—posts which he held in succession, as a citizen, he has lived a retired life, but no no part in the local affairs, which have contributed imperishable laurels of renown. Probably the superior of Mr. Jones, as a linguist, cannot be found in Philadelphia.

CONVICTION OF HORATIO ENNIS.—We learn by the Boston journals that Horatio Ennis, who was arrested in this city by Detective Bartholomew, has been tried the second time, on an indictment for breaking and entering the store of Mr. Tim. Hanover street, some eighteen months since, and found guilty. At a previous trial the jury were unable to agree upon a verdict. Messrs. Hudson and Russell, counsel for Ennis, will make an effort to carry the case to the Supreme Court on exceptions.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE MERCHANTS' FUND.—The sixth anniversary of the Merchants' Fund Association will be held this evening at the Musical Fund Hall. The annual report of the board of managers will be read, and addresses delivered by the Hon. Joseph R. Ingersoll, Rev. Dr. Brainerd, and George Lee, Esq. Pres. The Germania Orchestra, under Carl Sentz, will be present to add to the interest of the occasion. Tickets of admission may be obtained gratuitously.

VETERANS OF THE WAR OF 1812.—We are requested by the president of the National Convention of the defenders of the country in the war of 1812 to say that there will be no National Convention held this year in the city of Washington; but he respectfully asks the men of the Second War of Independence to hold Conventions in their respective States during the present session of Congress. He also invites the soldiers of the war of 1812 of the State of Pennsylvania, to convene in the city of Philadelphia, February 22d, 1860.

PLAN FOR A PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT.—A premium of $150 has been deposited with a committee consisting of Messrs. Wm. Neal, C. Macalester, William Welsh, Geo. W. Hains, and Thomas Potter, which will be paid for the best plan for organizing a paid fire department for this city, securing efficiency, economy, and simplicity. The plan must be handed in to one of the committee before February 25th.

RIOTPRIZE.—On Monday afternoon a German named Keller was very severely beaten by a party of rowdies at Penn and South streets. During the quarrel he received a very severe wound in the eye from a knife in the hands of his assailants. Suffering from his injuries, he was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital. A man named Nolan was allowed to have been one of his assailants and was committed to answer for the commission of the offence.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.—Yesterday morning a young man, named James Simpson Price, was held by Alderman Beitler to answer a charge of larceny. The article supposed to have been stolen by him was a black cloth circular, such as is usually worn by ladies. When he was arrested he had the circular in his possession, as well as a lot of cloth for the making of two pairs of pants. The circular is now at the Second district station-house.

LITERARY.—At the semi-annual election for officers, held on Monday evening, by the members of the Franklin Literary Union, the following were chosen: President, William H. Miller; Vice President, Charles H. Coxe; Recording Secretary, Horace Fritz; Corresponding Secretary, Edward J. Pelil; Treasurer, Edwin H. Cornell; Editor, C. Albert Palmer.

ACCIDENT TO A LOCOMOTIVE.—Yesterday morning the locomotive "Roxborough," of the Germantown and Norristown Railroad line, while leaving the depot, Ninth and Green streets, ran into a passenger car of the Fourth and Eighth streets horse line, lifting it entirely off the track. Fortunately, the engineer checked the locomotive in time to avoid more serious consequences.

SLIGHT FIRE.—Last evening towards eight o'clock the alarm of fire caused by the burning of the premises of "Sending Kate," in Pine alley, near Ball alley, on the south side. The damage was trifling. If the whole row of shanties in the place were burned out much good might result.

PERSONAL.—We are requested by a friend to say that there is an imposter going around endeavoring to obtain subscriptions in aid of the funds of the Diamond Engine Company. The company have authorized no such movement, and its friends will please take notice.

DEATH OF AN OFFICER.—On Monday evening, an officer attached to the police force of the Second district, name John Cowden, died of consumption.

CITY ITEMS.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.—This highly popular Journal is rapidly taking the lead of all other Weeklies. The enterprising publishers will commence in the number for the 15th of February a story entitled "Lilian, the Wanderer; or, The Perils of Beauty," from the pen of Francis S. Smith. It is a tale abounding in romance and thrilling interest. It will be issued on the 2d of February. We project for it a very large demand. d&w

A SUIT OF JAPANESE ARMOR.—Mr. Ward, the Minister to China, has purchased a suit of Japanese armor. It is of mixed chain and lacquered copper plate. The mask and gorget are of fine elastic plates of steel. The armlets, anklets, and gauntlets, are likewise of steel, with concentric hoops in front. The cuirass (or body armor) is of copper, covered and ornamented beautifully with silk. The designs and chasings are of the most exquisite workmanship, and the entire panoply has been pronounced the most perfect and unique specimen extant, but by no means comparable, in point of comfort, with the elegant garments made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill and Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

EXCITING SCENE IN CONGRESS.—One of the most thrilling and important scenes ever enacted by the wise and sagacious Solons of the National House of Representatives occurred on Monday last. The debate occupied two hours, and cost the swarthy sons of toil, whose sweat and labor provide the "ways and means" of the corpet knights engaged therein, no inconsiderable sum—the subject under consideration being the exclusion from the floor of the House of some forty aristocratic gazogs, who had no right there any more than their "linsey-woolsey" clad sisters. The talented and patriotic gentlemen from Virginia, New York, Ohio, and other sovereign States flaunted their gallantry to such a degree that a stranger might have thought their business there was to enact laws for the regulation of petticoats, by better still, to provide that all men should wear only the graceful and becoming styles of Granville Stokes, the celebrated clothier, No. 607 Chestnut street.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, January 31, 1860.

Pennsylvania Railroad shares were firmer at the stock board to-day at 36¾, and Reading at 19¼. Pennsylvania Bonds sold at 92¾, and City Railroad sixes at 19.

Delaware Mutual Insurance stock, new issue, sold at 19¼. Sam'l Francisco Land Company at 520. In City Passenger Railway shares there were a few transactions. West Philadelphia sold at 55¾; Second and Third street at 34¼, and Green and Coates at 17½. Norristown Railroad stock sold at 50; Morris Canal preferred at 16¾; Camden and Amboy at 121¼. The market was quite steady, without much activity.

The money market continues easy, and the aspect of the New York bank statement gives added force to the views of those who prognosticate a continuance of the present state of things until the spring opens. The Courier and Enquirer says:

"The bank movements for the week past show a better position in the aggregate. The banks are better fortified with specie, and the loan column shows a slight decrease. The current rates of foreign exchange are such as to prevent any large shipments of coin. The semi-monthly arrivals of gold from California continue with great regularity, that the banks will soon be on the road to the 'impregnable position' indicated by the bank department, provided they maintain the ties they should a conservative course. The changes for the past week were as follows:

In loans, a decrease of	$767,000
In specie, an increase of	830,000
In circulation, a decrease of	120,000
In deposits, an increase of	49,000

"The money market continues easy; loans on call, on first-class securities, are easy at 5 per cent., and 7 per cent. on ordinary collaterals."

The following is the coal tonnage of the Shamokin Valley and Pottsville Railroad Company:

Philadelphia Markets.

JANUARY 31—Evening.

The demand for Flour continues limited but prices are unchanged. Sales include 500 bbl's mixed, at $4 for straight superfine at $5.50@5.62½; a lot of half bbls at $5.62½; the bulk of the trade took Penna. and Ohio extra at $6; some on private terms, and 200 bbls fancy Kentucky family at $7 per bbl. The retailers and bakers are buying moderately at the above rates, according to brand and quality. Rye Flour and Corn Meal are not inquired for, and nearly nominal at $4.25 for the former and $3.75 per bbl for the latter. Wheat—There is very little doing and the market is unsettled and lower, some 600 bushels having been sold at $1.30@1.31; for reds, mostly at $1.31 for prime. White ranges at $1.40@1.50. Rye continues in demand at 92c for Penna. Some holders ask more. Corn is rather dull, and small sales of yellow are reported at 72c for the old, and 70c for the new. Southern prime would bring 75c. Oats are unchanged, and sales of 1,000 bu Pennsylvania are reported at 41½@42c. Barley—There is no change to notice in this article. Malt is nominally nominal at $3@4 per bu. Cotton—The market remains inactive, and prices about the same, with a limited business only to notice in the way of sales. Groceries—There is little or nothing doing, and no change to note. Provisions—The market is somewhat excited under the advices from the West, and holders are asking more money. Mess Pork is held at $19 50@20 for new, $18, cash; Beef Rounds at $15¾; Hams in lots at 12c lb, the latter for fancy. Seeds—The demand for Cloverseed is limited, and sales of prime at $5.75@6 lb. Whiskey—Sales of bbls have taken place at 25c for Pennsylvania bbls; 24½c for Ohio; 22c@22½c for drudge, and 23c ⅌ gallon for hids.

ARRIVED.

Bark Lisconia, Bearse, 18 days from New Orleans, with sugar, molasses, &c., to Carson, Stewart, & Co—Jan. 19th, at 7 AM, lat. 24 35, long 69 40, with a strong breeze from NNE and cloudy, with a heavy sea running, saw a boat ahead, with a small sail set, steering towards us. On coming up with her, saw two men in her, apparently foreigners, hailed them, but got no answer, except the beckoning of their hands. Supposing they might be in distress, hooked the mainsopsail and hove to, and waited for them to come alongside. They had in their boat a long of bread and some clothing, which had become somewhat moistened, as their little craft was partly filled with salt water by the spray that had blown over her. There also had a small tub of water, covered by a jacket, which was not a bit bad, a bottle of rum, which was not damaged by the sea water. On making some inquiries, learned from them that they had deserted from the Danish schr Catharina, 1 mo in Manzanzas, two days previous, and started for America. On learning that they were runaway sailors, I ordered them to be cast adrift, when they entreated to be taken on board, as they were bewildered, and did not know which way to steer for the land. Fearing they might be cast upon some of the reefs in the neighborhood, and lose their lives, took them on board the L, and brought them to Philadelphia. Their names are Adolph Magnus and Wm Jacobs, of Germany. Jan 30th, lat 25 40, long 79 55, parted co with ship Chas E Duncan, from New Orleans for Liverpool; Jan 21st, lat 26 48, long 79 43, saw bark Union, from Mobile, of and for Boston; Jan 23d, lat 29 59, long 79 50, a oke brig Richmond, of Bangor, from New Orleans for New York; same day spoke ship Wm H Warton, from Galveston for Liverpool; Jan 28th, about 5 miles S of Body's Island Light-house, saw a schr ashore, and several men with carts and oxen at work discharging the cargo, and piling it on the beach, the schr being so far up as to enable the carts to go along-side.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE FIRE IN CHESTNUT STREET.

LETTER FROM THEO. H. PETERS & CO.

PHILADELPHIA, January 19, 1860.

MESSRS. FARREL, HERRING & CO.,
629 CHESTNUT STREET.

GENTLEMEN: We have recovered the Herring's Patent Champion Safe, of your make, which we bought from you nearly five years ago, from the ruins of our store, No. 716 Chestnut street, which was entirely destroyed by fire on the morning of the 17th inst.

So rapid was the progress of the flames, before we could reach the store the whole interior was one mass of fire. The safe being in the back part of the store, was surrounded by the most combustible materials, was exposed to great heat. It fell with the walls of that part of the building into the cellar, and remained imbedded in the ruins for more than thirty hours.

The safe was opened this morning in the presence of a number of gentlemen, and the contents, comprising our books, bills receivable, money, and a large amount of valuable papers, are all safe; not a thing was touched by fire. Respectfully yours,

THEO. H. PETERS & CO.

The above Safe can be seen at our store, where the public are invited to call and examine it.
