CITY ITEMS.

Monthly Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association.—The regular Monthly Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the Sansom street Baptist Church last evening. President George H. Stuart in the chair. The meeting was well attended, and characterized with an unusual degree of harmony and interest.

The meeting was opened by Mr. Marks, of Pittsburg, reading a portion of Scripture, which was followed by a prayer from the Rev. Wm. J. R. Taylor. The next feature in order was the usual essay, which, in this instance, was delivered by Mr. Clifford P. McCalla, "Religion in Business" was his theme, and it was creditably treated. The thirty minutes discussion upon the essay was an interesting part of the exercises, and was conducted in excellent spirit. At the close of the discussion an address, marked with ability and Christian zeal, was delivered by the venerable Dr. Nott, and a fervent prayer offered by the Rev. Albert Barnes. Addresses were also made by Revs. W. J. R. Taylor and John Chambers.

The various reports of the committees for the month were next read and approved, the import of some of which was especially gratifying. That devoted to the labors of the committee for seeking out young men, and strangers coming to the city, was particularly telling in this respect, as the statement of facts which it contained was a very practical illustration of the good the Association is accomplishing in this city.

The appointment of twenty delegates to attend the National Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations, to be held in New Orleans on the 11th of April next, were also made. A very pleasing incident in the proceedings of the evening was the reception from Mr. Price of two elegantly-bound subscription books, for the use of the Association. On motion of Mr. Wannamaker, the Corresponding Secretary, Mr. Price's handsome present was suitably acknowledged by a unanimous vote of thanks. The hour of adjournment was not reached until half past ten o'clock.

China, Glass, and Queensware Emporium.—In the department of China, Glass, and Queensware, as in every other branch, hotels included, Philadelphia presents more or less representative houses, which, from their standing and business character, must always command a first-class mercantile patronage from the South and West. Under the head above designated, we may mention the extensive house of Messrs. Turnbull, Allen, & Co., Nos. 23 and 25 South Fourth street. The capacious edifice which they occupy is, at the present time, literally packed with goods, domestic and foreign, the latter being all of their own direct importation. Their preparations for a large trade were never more ample than at the present season; and we are happy to learn that their operations, thus far, have been fully up to those of any former year. As this is one of the houses upon which the malicious attempt was made to place them in a false light with their Southern customers, it is of gratifying significance that their trade, which is large with that section of the Union, has experienced no change in this respect, except, if anything, a favorable one, such as would naturally grow from their constantly-increasing facilities and their popularity with all who make their acquaintance.

The "Georgia Pump."—By the politeness of the inventor, we had recently the opportunity of examining a new article in the "pump" line, which, we think, is destined speedily to come into general use. The water chambers in this pump, instead of being supplied with the ordinary valve, are arranged with India-rubber balls, the substitution of which precludes the possibility of getting out of working order by the introduction of sand or other substances; and, at the same time, the air is sufficiently relaxed as to allow the water in the tubes to flow out when the pump is not being worked, thereby obviating the freezing, as the water chambers are imbedded under the surface of the water. These pumps can be introduced in any well at about the cost of the cheapest ice pumps; can be worked with one quarter the labor, and are fully twice as durable. By attaching a hose, water can be thrown over any ordinary-sized building, which is another great desideratum for the country. The model we examined is now on exhibition at Mr. Atkins', Dock street, above Second, north side. We regard the invention as a decided improvement upon any pump that has heretofore been introduced, and well worthy the attention of the public.

Mr. Field's Second Lecture.—The second of the series of interesting lectures on "The Creation," now in progress at Handel and Haydn Hall, by Mr. Field, will be delivered this (Tuesday) evening. The vast amount of scientific knowledge brought to bear upon this immense theme by the skilled lecturer is a matter of wonder and admiration with all who hear him. The course will include nine, in all, and will be given regularly hereafter on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings of each week, at 7½ o'clock. They are at once intensely interesting and instructive.

[From the Boston Evening Transcript.]

A New Eraser.—Mr. A. G. Shaver, New Haven, Conn., has just taken out a patent for an article of general utility, being a simple but highly-finished instrument, combining, in one handle, an eraser, paper-cutter, folder, and pencil-sharpener, all made of a single piece of steel, requiring no change, making one of the most convenient, valuable, and useful articles for the counting-room, artist's studio, and school-room ever invented or brought before the public. It is an instrument that will be adopted as soon as seen. It will do all that is claimed for it. It is a decided improvement on all former erasers heretofore sold by the trade. It can be procured of all the principal stationers in the city, and booksellers generally.

Billiard Tables.—We invite the attention of those desirous of purchasing two first-class Billiard Tables, of modern make, to the advertisement which will be found in another column.

The Oldest Greek Manuscript Extant.—About a year ago the Government of Russia, sent Professor Tischendorf to, the East for the purpose of instituting a thorough search in the various Greek, Syrian, Persian, and Abyssinian monasteries for ancient manuscript records supposed to exist there, and to secure them, if possible, by purchase. Prof. Tischendorf has returned to Russia, and brings with him, among other rare remains, the very oldest Greek manuscript Bible extant. Curiously enough, one of the parchments is enclosed in a follow: "Buy all your gaiters at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia."

Great Sewing Machine Case.—The Great Sewing Machine Patent Case, which has occupied the U. S. Court at Baltimore for nearly two months, was decided on Saturday in favor of Ladd; Webster, & Co.

Southern and Western merchants can fill all orders for curtains, window-shades, damasks, satins, cords, tassels, &c., in a satisfactory manner, at W. H. Carryl & Bro.'s curtain store, 719 Chestnut street. Masonic Hall. fe23-6t thstu

Tarred and Feathered—Dreadful!—We see by a report of a public meeting that Mr. Power, of this city, who was tarred and feathered in the South for too free an expression of opinion in regard to free and white labor, gave a history of that fiendish operation. Poor Power! it was only last week we read on the pantaloons in the windows of Mr. Charles Stokes' Clothing Store, under the "Continental Hotel," a label, "cut at Powers," and we thought what a pity he didn't "out" and save himself that! Good suit, but on arriving at the "Keystone Palace" to scrape an acquaintance, we found it was not our Powers, the "Celebrated Pantaloon Cutter," for there he was, arrayed in French cassimeres, and, as is the custom with this house, the price was marked plainly on all of the garments.

Pulpit Trimmings, Picture Cord and Tassels, Damask for Curtains, Lace and Muslin Curtains, Jacquard Co-tains, Tassel Loops, Centre Tassels, Gilt Cornices and Bands, Shade Cord, Dirasses and Tassels, Gilt and Gold-bordered Window Shades, wholesale and retail. W. H. Carryl & Bro., Masonic Hall, fe13-stuthtf 719 Chestnut street.

Things worth Knowing.—A cracked chin is poor reward for many troubles. An empty wallet is poor refreshment to a hungry squire. Forty men will eat more meat in one day than ten men can eat in the same time. Children who pick up a hot poker will put it down again without the telling. An eel pie giveth more joy to a hungry man than being tossed in a blanket. He that hath not a coat will not need to have it brushed. The pie is contented when it hath all its wants supplied. All that a man needeth he hath; provided he buyeth his clothes at the palatial store of Granville Stokes, No. 607 Chestnut street.

N. B.—This celebrated clothing establishment has no connection with any other in the city.
