PRINCE IMPERIAL
CHAMPAGNE, FROM DE VENOGE & CO., EPERNAY, FRANCE.
Sold by all Respectable Dealers throughout the country.
This fine brand of CHAMPAGNE, which until the past year was confined exclusively to the best tables of the Continent of Europe, has now obtained the most unbounded success and popularity in this country. It is recommended by some of the first chemists of the city of New York, over all other wines, on account of its extreme purity and delicacy, and those who once try it rarely use any other brand. Although only one year has elapsed since its introduction into this country, the demand is enormous and constantly increasing. Our arrangements are such as to insure the quality of the Wine being maintained at its present high standard. The "Prince Imperial" is imported solely by us, we being the sole Agents of Messrs. De Venoge & Co., in this country.

MEDICINAL.

MRS. WINSLOW,
AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE Physician, presents to the attention of mothers her
SOOTHING SYRUP
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING, which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation; will allay All PAIN and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and relief and health to your infants.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, that we have never been able to say of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED in a SINGLE INSTANCE to EFFECT A CURE; when properly used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and recommendations of its manufacturers. We speak in this manner, after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In the infant under our care, it will be found to relieve the child suffering within a few minutes after the syrup is given. This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED NURSES in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA, in CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, do not let your prejudices, or those of others, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—YES, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine. If mothers will but put themselves in the cradle of their children, they will be induced to try the medicine. It is perfectly harmless, and as pleasant to take as sweet milk. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.
☞ Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 CEDAR Street, New York.
Price 25 cents a bottle. fy25-1y

PREPARED GLUE.

SPALDING'S
PREPARED GLUE!
"A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE."
ECONOMY! SAVE THE PIECES! DISPATCH
As accidents will happen, even in well-regulated families, it is very desirable to have some cheap and convenient way for repairing Furniture, Toys, Crockery, &c.
SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE
meets all such emergencies, and no household can afford to be without it. It is always ready and up to the sticking point. There is no longer a necessity for limping chairs, splintered veneers, headless dolls, and broken cradles. It is just the article for cone, shell, and other ornamental work, so popular with ladies of refinement and taste.
This admirable preparation is used cold, being chemically held in solution, and possessing all the valuable qualities of the best cabinet-makers' glue. It may be used in the place of ordinary mucilage, being vastly more adhesive.
"USEFUL IN EVERY HOUSE."
N. B. A brush accompanies each bottle.
PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
Wholesale Depot, No. 48 CEDAR Street, New York.
Address
HENRY C. SPALDING & CO.,
Box No. 3000, New York.
Put up for Dealers in Cases containing four, eight, and twelve dozen, a beautiful Lithographic Show-card accompanying each package.
☞ A single bottle of
SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE
will save ten times its cost annually to every household.
Sold by all prominent Stationers, Druggists, Hardware and Furniture Dealers, Grocers, and Fancy Stores.
Country Merchants should make a note of
SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE,
when making up their list.
IT WILL STAND ANY CLIMATE.

American Art and its Appreciation.

As time rolls on, and the number of Americans in comfortable circumstances multiplies, the taste for art—the æsthetic faculty, as the Germans have taught us to call it, (from the Greek word aisthanomai, "delicately to perceive,")—the æsthetic faculty develops itself among us. We see it in the appreciation which such art-novels as Miss BREWSTER'S "Compensation" and HAWTHORNE'S "Marble Faun" receive; in the support which is afforded to our costly Academy of Music; and in the enthusiasm which the works of American artists, such as POWERS, CRAWFORD, PAGE, and CHURCH, enkindle.

Philadelphia is not behind her sister cities in this growing love for the Beautiful. It is the home of many rising artists, who are producing original works worthy to hang in that gallery of native art which, we hope, is destined to extend its rich length through many future centuries. Among the most promising of these candidates for fame is our fellow-townsman, Mr. EDMUND D. LEWIS, a young gentleman belonging to one of our oldest and most respectable Philadelphia families, who has evinced a native talent to which we are desirous to call attention by a few words of sincere and cordial appreciation. He has just returned from a trip to Cuba, where he has made sketches of tropical scenery and vegetation, which he proposes to use in producing one or more large oil paintings. These sketches we have examined, and it is not too much to say that they exhibit a remarkable talent, not to say a real genius, for landscape painting. The luxuriance of Cuban vegetation, in all its gorgeous variety, the tropical skies, and the picturesque costumes of the people, are brought vividly before the eye in these masterly sketches. Some of these days we may have the pleasure of calling public attention to a work which, like "The Heart of the Andes," will bring before the eyes of our countrymen a representation, at once faithful and beautiful, of the scenery of foreign lands.

It is proper, when mentioning American Art, to add that "The Heart of the Andes" continues on view at the Academy of Fine Arts, and has drawn numerous visitors. It is singular that their number has largely increased since Mr. CHURCH'S other, and very different picture—his almost sublime view of Niagara—has been placed at EARLE'S. People curiously compare one painting with the other, and the marked contrast of subject and execution seems marvellous—as indeed it is. Very few content themselves with only one visit to "The Heart of the Andes;"—they return, again and again, to look at its details. We are happy to say that the very absurd pamphlet, by Mr. NOBLE, which was so ridiculously absurd in its overcharged eulogy of Mr. CHURCH—a maze of words, indeed—has been withdrawn. In its stead is a well-written, sensible, and satisfying description of the painting, from the pen of Dr. JAMES M. SUMMERVILLE, of this city. It is exactly what a visiter wants—a description of each part of the painting. In short, an excellent cicerone, well informed and informing.

The Government of the Territories.

The doctrine of Popular Sovereignty in the Territories—or, Squatter Sovereignty, as its opponents somewhat contemptuously term it—is exactly in accordance with the principles on which all our Governments, whether State or Federal, are founded. This circumstance alone is a strong recommendation in its favor. If the fundamental laws of every State in the Union, as well as the Constitution of the United States, recognise the fact that all the powers which Government wields are derived from the people—as they undoubtedly do—how comes it that the Territories constitute an exception? What is there in the case of these inchoate States that excludes their inhabitants from enjoying the political privileges that are possessed by their fellow-citizens in general?

Nothing can better show the inherent weakness of the position of the opponents of Popular Sovereignty than the arguments they employ. These arguments take a variety of forms. They profess to be drawn from widely different sources. Sometimes they have a metaphysical foundation. We are treated by the writer or speaker to a disquisition on the general faculties of man as an individual, and man as related to other men, and the unexpected conclusion is, that the people of Kansas or Nebraska have no right to frame their own institutions. At another time the question is viewed in its historical aspect, and the same conclusion is jumped at. But, in the end, all the arguments resolve themselves into the one assumption—that the people of the Territories do not possess the right which every true American citizen cherishes as an heirloom. In removing into a new country he has forfeited his political privileges. He has become the subject of a power that does not emanate from himself—a power that may disregard his wishes, and certainly does violate his rights, in ignoring his claim to self-government. This is the usurpation to which he is asked to submit—a usurpation which, we repeat, is glaring contradiction to the principles on which all our Governments are founded.

This one circumstance alone ought to establish Popular Sovereignty as on a rock. But by how much more ought this principle to be adopted when it is seen to be the only one that can remove sectional issues from the Federal councils, and do full justice to all parts of the country, by protecting each portion from the domination of any other part, or all other parts? It is so clear that the agitation of the slavery question must continue to rage, in Congress and out of it, until the solution afforded by Popular Sovereignty in the Territories is adopted, that it is a subject of some surprise how any conservative man can willingly oppose himself to the doctrine. Until this doctrine is established and accepted law, we shall witness no respite from fierce struggles, such as the present Congress has witnessed.

Another recommendation that attaches to the doctrine is the even-handed justice that it administers to every section of the country. The adoption of the principle of Popular Sovereignty virtually secures to the North such territory as is best adapted to free labor, while it gives to the South any territory that we now possess, or may hereafter acquire in tropical regions, adapted to slave labor. What arrangement could be more fair? Is it not in precise keeping with the very spirit that animated the framers of our Federal Constitution? Its effect must be to restore harmony to the country, and ultimately to give a grand extension to our institutions, and an unlimited increase of our wealth and power. In the full recognition of this doctrine of Popular Sovereignty lies a force to which the people of this country are not yet fully awake, notwithstanding they already value it beyond all other political principles. To its action, almost alone, we owe the progress made in this country since the dawn of the present century; and if we would rid ourselves of the dangers that now threaten us, and secure for the future the same glorious expansion we have owned in the past, we must steadily
