FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, October 31, 1860.

A determined effort to extend the panic in the financial world was made to-day upon the strength of the reported failures of two or three houses in Baltimore, which have been not only gambling in mining stocks, but which have been in poor credit for some time—living upon the reputation of the founders of the firm after these founders had gone out, leaving only their names as a shield behind them. Such a list of failures as were to-day paraded upon the newspaper bulletin boards, and held up to terrify the timid at the stock boards and in the bank parlors, would at any other time have passed without a remark, other than the usual "I told you so." To-day, however, they have been made the unhappy heroes of the hour, and their misfortunes with many others have been made to bear with fearfold weight upon all stocks, whether remunerative or speculative. Virginia State bonds, which have for some time been losing public confidence, gave way entirely under the news of the "disastrous failures in Baltimore," falling three per cent. The State of Virginia has herself been the principal seller in the market for some time back, disposing of her bonds from day to day to pay for internal improvements, which seem never to reach completion. The proclamation of her Governor for a session to provide further food for these leeches that are sucking her blood, has added the feather too much to her load. Perhaps the downfall in the stock market of her bonds will have a good effect, and lead her legislators to pause ere they go further upon the ruinous road so long travelled by our own good State.

Reading Railroad shares are steadily poured into the market. One large lot is sold by one party on one day, and another is brought forward on the next from some other quarter, and so the game goes on. All these are understood to be sold as collaterals. The decline in the market has exceeded the margins left upon them, the money market looks unsettled, and those who set out to carry them for the speculators are tired of the load, so they sell to realize. May the victims, whose money, put up as margins, has thus vanished into thin air, learn never to do so any more.

City issues are firm amid all the excitement, and Pennsylvania Railroad shares were much stronger to-day. North Pennsylvania sixes fell off ¾. The market generally is dull in the extreme, and sales of stock can only be made in any large amounts by coming down to the sellers' prices.

In the Money market, there is no change as yet, the principal effect of the panic having been to make holders of capital more reserved and careful. Their holdings back, however, will make prices stiffen a little. The results of this hubbub may be all added up in time, that when the Presidential election is held and over, we shall look to see its effect upon the stock sales and the money market, and we shall find that that effect was discounted in the fortnight through which we are now passing.

The New York Courier and Enquirer says:

"There have been no transactions in the new United States loan at the Stock Exchange. We hear of private sales at 5 premium, with later transactions at ¾. The largest seller asks ¼ cent premium, and there is some offering at a less price, except a few scattering lots on the market at par. The terms for accepting the proposals of the Hudson River Railroad to extend the second mortgage bonds expires on the first of December."

To-day's New York Evening Post says:

The stock market opened buoyant, and before the Board 1,000 shares New York Central changed hands at 61—an advance of 1 per cent; but on the call of the State bonds a dull feeling prevailed, the Southern stocks were weak, and the share list at noon assumed a heavy appearance, though prices are not materially lower than at this time yesterday.

The feature of the day was the weakness in the Southern state stocks, while Missouris, and all Northern bonds, are steady. Illinois are 105 bid, with none offering. The declines in Virginia, since yesterday, are 3 per cent; on North Carolina 2½, on Tennessees ¾. Mississippi and California sixes gain ¼.

The failure of Messrs. Josiah Lee & Co., of Baltimore, is announced by telegraph, and to this we attribute a portion of the Southern state stock depreciation, of which, we believe, they have been buyers of late. The first effect, naturally, of a failure on the bull side is to unsettle prices for a time, and this is the condition of the share market at the close.

Prices of the railroad shares are quite feverish at the close. Erie opened at one time, sold at low as 35½, but afterwards returned to 37¼@3⅜. Erie remained steady at 34¼@34½.

Hudson River sold at 29¼@29⅜. Harlem 16¼@17. Illinois Central 73¼@73¾. Galena 71¼@71¾. Toledo 34@34½. Rock Island 64¼@65.

The heaviest of the Western stocks was Burlington and Quincy, which started at 53½ against 55½ last evening, and fell to 51½ under sales of the leading broker in the stock. The transfer books close to-day.

Pacific Mail and Panama were firm, the former at 93, the latter at 136.

New Jersey Central is quoted at 118@119. New Jersey Railroad is offered at 180.

The Long Island stocks are quiet. Pennsylvania fell off ⅛ @ ¼. Delaware and Hudson is 94½ bid, 95¼ asked.

Government bonds are a shade weaker. The fives of 1867 are 103¼@103¾. The sixes of 1853 are offered at 104. The sixes of 1862 are 104. The fives of 1862 are 102¼ bid, 102¾ asked, and the Flexibles are 103 @ 103½.

The money market is less freely supplied to-day on call, and 6 per cent. is readily paid on first-class collaterals. Gilt edge paper is in demand at 6@7 per cent.

Philadelphia Markets.

OCTOBER 31—Evening.

The wet weather limits business operations to-day, and the receipts of flour generally are dull. There is very little change in Breadstuffs, and 5,000 bbls Flour only found buyers at about $5.75 for super, $5.87 for extra, and $6 for extra family, mostly of the latter description; there is very little export demand, and the retailers and bakers are purchasing to a very limited extent. Rye Flour and extras are $4.25@4.37 for extra family and fancy brands, as to quality. Rye Flour is steady, with small sales at $4.75. Corn Meal is not much inquired for, and Pennsylvania is held at $3.50@3.62½.

Wheat is weaker, and a price below the views of holders; about 3,000 bushels sold at $1.35@1.55 for fair to prime, Western and Pennsylvania red, $1.35@1.37 for Southern red, and from $1.40@1.55 for amber, as to good and choice white. Rye is unchanged; Pennsylvania selling at 75c, and Northern at 80c. Corn is dull and lower; 3,000 bushels sold at 70c for Southern yellow, 72c for the latter for handsome round yellow; and 2,000 bushels prime Southern, on Change, at 71½c. Oats are dull; 1,000 bushels sold at 37c for Southern at 35c @36c, and Pennsylvania at 37½c @ 38.

Rye is wanted at $1@ 1c for fine No. 1 Quercitron.

Cotton.—The market is steady, but rather quiet, to-day, the attention being mainly taken up by the election.

Groceries.—Some further small sales of Sugar and Coffee have occurred at steady prices, and the market is quiet.

Provisions.—Sales are confined to small lots of Pork, Bacon, and Lard, without change in quotations.

Seeds.—There is a good demand for Cloverseed; sales of 64 bbl have been made mostly at $5@5.12½ @ bus, Timothy is selling at $2.12½@2.25, and Flaxseed at $1.40@ bus.

Whiskey is dull at 23c for Penn's bbls, 23½@23c for Western do, and 24c for Drudge; a sale of hhds was made at 23c @ gal.

CITY ITEMS.

A RARE CHANCE FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.—We have, on several occasions, referred to the Carpet trade of this city as embracing in it some of the leading representative houses in this country. Prominent among these is the well-known house of Messrs. Baily & Brother, No. 922 Chestnut street. These gentlemen have long been among the heaviest importers as well as manufacturers of carpets. The goods of their own production have obtained a deservedly wide reputation on account, not only of their durability and general excellence, but of their beauty of design and adaptation to the wants of this market. In the important part of their stock we found, on examining it yesterday, some of the richest, and in all respects most elegant goods ever offered in this city. What we now desire to apprise housekeepers of is, the fact that they are selling their carpets at much below regular prices. The immediate occasion of this is their large purchases within the past few days, at the New York auctions. Owing to the heavy importation of carpetings, and consequent forced sales, they have been enabled to procure some of the most desirable goods, embracing the choicest patterns of Velvet, Brussels, and Tapestry Carpets, at prices far below the usual rates; and having anticipated this emergency, instead of overstocking their warerooms earlier in the season, they are now prepared to offer inducements to buyers which their patrons and the public generally will be likely to appreciate. Prudent housekeepers will do well to examine this stock before purchasing.

THE FUR TRADE.—Having been desirous of ascertaining some reliable data respecting the fur trade in this city, and its prospects, we have called upon Mr. George F. Womrath, at Nos. 415 and 417 Arch street, who has long held a leading position in the fur trade of America, to obtain the material's necessary to form an opinion with reference to this important branch of our industrial and mercantile interests. The information thus sought we found to be of the most satisfactory character. The stock at the present time in his immense and elegantly-arranged warerooms is the heaviest and most elaborately gotten-up every offered in Philadelphia, embracing the prettiest assortment of ladies' furs, brought by direct purchases, from all parts of the world, by Mr. Womrath himself. As the pioneer furrier in this city, he deserves credit for having won for Philadelphia a reputation for probity and fair-dealing in this department which we have reason to believe does not attach, in an equal degree, to any other city in the Union. It is significant, at least, that a considerable portion of Mr. Womrath's trade is from New York patronage, there being many persons in that city who, in order to insure undoubted correctness in having their orders executed, come to Mr. Womrath habitually, in preference to running any risks nearer home. In addition to a magnificent stock of ladies' furs now on hand, Mr. Womrath also offers an admirable stock of robes, His trade was never more prosperous than at present.

A GREAT SHOPPING CHANCE FOR BOTH SEXES.—Every Philadelphian has reason to be proud of the palatial mercantile establishment of Messrs. Charles Oakford & Sons, under the Continental Hotel. By all who visit it, whether citizens or strangers, the verdict is that there is nothing equal to it in either hemisphere. The "Oakford Hall" has for years been the Sybrinn of grace and elegance, which is equivalent, of course, to bringing this firm the largest amount of orders from gentlemen of taste. Since combining with his other numerous departments that of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, this popular verdict has been extended, as now it is not only the Act which must bear the Oakford stamp upon it, but also the scarf, glove, cravat, suffer, clothing, hosiery, and even the walking stick. Since adding the Ladies' departments for the sale of Ladies' Shoes and Misses' and Children's Hats, their warerooms are as great an attraction for the fair as before they were for the sterner sex.

THE PRINCE OF WALES—SEWING MACHINES AND THE ROYAL FAMILY.—The Prince and his suite left Portland for home last Saturday. "God Save the Queen," and the "Queen's Own." Among the few valuables and curiosities collected by the Prince and suite during their visit to the Provinces and the States, we learn there were two of GROVER & BAKER'S Family Sewing Machines, which the Marquis and Marchioness of Chandos selected in propria persona, at the sales rooms of the above-named enterprising firm. Verily, this "iron needle-woman" is a blessing to them that lay hold upon her, and happy is every one that retaineth her.

AN OLD MAN'S ADVICE.—The Reverend Daniel Waldo says: "I am now an old man. I have seen near a century. Do you want to know how to grow old slowly and happily? I let me tell you: Always eat slowly—masticate well. Go to your occupation smiling. Keep a good nature and soft temper everywhere. Cultivate a good memory, and to do this you must be communicative; repeat what you have read; talk about it; particularly if it has any reference to the elegant Fall and Winter Clothing gotten up at the one price GIFT CLOTHING Store of Granville Stokes, No. 607 Chestnut street.

SELLING OFF AT COST.—The extensive stock of housekeeping articles kept by E. S. Parson & Co., southwest corner of Second and Dock streets, is now offered for sale at cost prices. Those in want of good of this kind will do well to call soon, as they will shortly close this branch of their business. no1-3t

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.—If the digestive organs are disorganized, the whole machinery of the body ceases to act harmoniously. A Consumptive is always a Dyspeptic. A person cannot have a torpid liver, or the piles, nor a sick headache, who is not a Dyspeptic. Dr. J. R. STAFFORD'S IRON AND SULPHUR POWDERS cure all forms of Dyspepsia and Indigestion. They are a soluble preparation, which unites with the digested food, and enters with it into the formation of new blood. The iron strengthens the blood, and the combined Sulphur converts its waste into gases. This action upon the blood increases the vital or life-giving forces of the body, and regulates all its secretions. See advertisement of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Remedies, and send for a pamphlet.
