COMMITTING FOR CONTEMPT.—Yesterday morning, Alderman Robert L. Curry, of the Twenty-fourth ward, and Daniel Losey, a deputy constable, were charged before Alderman McCahen, on the oath of John Grugin, with conspiring to imprison him. The prosecutor testified that, on Wednesday last, he went to the office of Alderman Curry, in company with a friend. There was a trial in progress, and one witness had been examined. The alderman addressed Mr. Grugin, and asked him his name; then said, come forward and take the book. Mr. Grugin replied that he did not know anything about the case, and asked what he was wanted to swear to. "Take the book," said the alderman, "and I'll tell you." Still refusing, he was told that if he did not he would be sent below—a threat which was carried out. He was committed to prison, and kept there for three hours before he was released, and then had to pay seventy-six cents costs. He did not pay the costs to the alderman, but a friend, he said, did it for him.

On the cross-examination, the witness admitted that he had gone to the alderman's office with one of the parties to the suit before the magistrate, and that when asked to testify he refused in very strong language. James Ward testified that he was at the alderman's office when the commitment took place, and that the alderman and deputy constable had a conversation, which he could not hear, before the latter made oath against Mr. Grugin. The accused were both held in the sum of $500 for their appearance at court.

"AMERICAN LITERARY UNION."—The usual quarterly election for officers of the "American Literary Union," to serve for the ensuing three months, from the first Monday in April next, took place Monday evening, at their hall, southeast corner of Spring Garden and Ninth streets, and resulted in the election of the following named gentlemen: A Loudon Snowden, as president; Wm. Scott, vice president; Henry E. Wrigley, secretary; A. C. Linn, assistant secretary; Hector McIntosh, treasurer; Alfred H. Love, editor of the magazine; Charles Murphy, Librarian; John A. Meehan, S. M. Kelly, and J. Luther Ringwalt, committee of investigation. This old and respectable literary society, which was founded in 1845, and incorporated by the Legislature in 1857-8, has never been in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. Its membership has steadily increased, until at present it numbers over fifty members, and the interest manifested alike by the members and by the public in its debates and other exercises is one among the many evidences of its usefulness and prosperity.

A DANGEROUS CHARACTER.—A row occurred at Eleventh and Lombard streets on Monday afternoon, between a gang of ruffians. Two of them named Frank Morris was arrested, and while the officer was conveying him to the station house, an attempt was made to rescue. Mayor Henry, who was passing at the time, seized on to the second rowdy, and handed him over to an officer. Yesterday morning Morris was taken before Alderman Patchel, and held to answer the charge of committing a murderous assault on a man with a "billy," about a year since. The man was so grievously injured at the time, that his life was despaired of. His assailant left the city, and was not heard of until arrested for rioting.

COOPER SHOP BURNED.—Yesterday morning, about one o'clock, a fire broke out in the upper portion of the cooper shop of Mr. Colbreath, on Penn street, above Seventh. The flames spread so rapidly through the combustible material in the building, and the upper part was destroyed. A strong force of steamers was upon the ground. Most of the machines were placed upon the wharf, and they drew their supply of water from the Delaware. The fire was drowned out before it had time to extend to other property. A quantity of furniture, stored on the second floor, was destroyed. The loss is estimated at one thousand dollars. No insurance.

SEAMEN'S SAVING FUND CASE.—Yesterday afternoon the case of Charles M. Morris, late treasurer of the Seamen's Saving Fund, was resumed before Alderman McCahen.

The case was ably argued by Messrs Jacob Schaffer and J. M. Wharton, for the Commonwealth, and by Wm. L. Hirst and Edgar E. Pettit for defendant. The main point argued by the Commonwealth was the fact of fraud, and misappropriation of the loans made to different parties.

The alderman held the defendant in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at court, to answer the charge of embezzlement.

A PALMETTO FLAG RAISED.—Yesterday morning the citizens of the Twenty-third ward were much surprised, and became quite indignant, on discovering a Secession flag hanging from the flag-staff of the "Old Jolly Fest House," formerly the headquarters of a portion of Washington's troops in the Revolutionary war. The property is owned by Alderman Comly, who was also much annoyed, and had the obnoxious thing immediately taken down. It was seized by the crowd and torn into pieces. The question is, how did it get there?

BURGLARY PREVENTED.—Yesterday morning, at the hour of 3 o'clock, a burglar attempted to enter the store of Francis Hagan, under the Odd Fellows' Hall, in Third street. The thief had broken the padlock from a bulk-window, and broken a pane of glass. He was in the act of pulling some choes out of the window, when Mr. Hagan unlocked the door and sprang upon him. The thief, however, was too active; he ran into Tenth and thence into Redman street, through Redman street he vanished, and Mr Hagan lost him. The latter was in night apparel during the entire chase.

PRESENTATION.—The members of the Independent Grays presented to Captain Wm. J. J. Braceland on Monday evening last, a gilded pair of epaulets, fatigue cap, and sword-belt. Lieut. Verdale & McAllister made the presentation in a neat and eloquent speech, which was appropriately responded to by the Captain. The grays have removed their armory to Sixth and Arch street, and will make a parade very soon in a new uniform. The company is active and efficient, numbering in its ranks many of our most influential citizens.

CASES AT THE CENTRAL.—Yesterday afternoon, before Police Magistrate Beitler, a young man named George Ross was charged with the larceny of a lot of retorts and pipe from No. 114 North Second street. The property was discovered with being implicated in a burglary at No 226 South Water street. One of the coats stolen from the place was found in the possession of the accused, who was trying to sell it. Both of the prisoners were held for a further hearing on to-morrow.

THE JEWISH FEAST OF PASSOVER.—The Jewish festival of the Passover, which continues for eight days, commenced on Monday evening. The principal feature of the festival is the strict abstinence observed from all kinds of leavened food. Last evening, the ceremony of reading the Sidon took place, when each member of the family sit around a table and chant a service commemorative of the deliverance of the Israelites from the Egyptian bondage. On the first and last two days of the festival, no business is transacted.

A NEW PUBLIC SQUARE.—The property holders in the vicinity of Twenty-first and Mount Vernon streets, we understand, intend to make of the spacious lot adjoining those avenues, a public square. They will offer the same to the city when completely graded, on condition of its immediate occupancy. The movement is intended to supersede the possibility of the lot aforesaid becoming the site of mean and scanty dwellings.

NEW MILLS.—Gorgas' Mill, on the Wissahickon, which was destroyed by fire several weeks since, has been rebuilt, and a full set of hands are employed, night and day, manufacturing flour and wadding. Robinson's Mill, located at the mouth of the Wissahickon, has been leased, and machinery for the manufacture of carpet yarn is now being put in place.

ROBBED.—A young Jerseyman was enticed into a low den, in Front street, on Monday night, and then relieved of all his valuables. One of the fair residents of the place, known as Jenny Manderfield, was arrested, and held by Alderman Dallas to answer the charge of committing the theft.

POLICE CASES.—John Winters was arraigned before Alderman Plankinton, yesterday morning, upon the charge of stealing a lot of hams.

Johnson Davis was before the same magistrate, upon the charge of stealing a bag of oats. The accused were both committed to answer.

HOUSE ENTERED.—The dwelling of Mrs. Smith, at No. 1607 Ogden street, was entered on Monday afternoon, during the absence of the family, and robbed of an old silver watch and a lot of jewelry, some of which was highly prized as old family relics.

A SUICIDE PREVENTED.—At six o'clock yesterday afternoon, a man named Joseph Alexander jumped, at Market-street wharf, from the steamer Dido. He was rescued, and taken to the Sixth-ward station-house. His intent was suicide.

NOT DROWNED.—The lad, Bernard Trainer, was not drowned on Saturday, as reported. The rumor grew out of his disappearance while playing on Pine-street wharf.

NOT SIGNED.—We understand that Mayor Henry has not yet signed the bill making an appropriation to pay expenses incurred by the reception of President Lincoln.

POCKET PICKED.—On Monday afternoon a lady, while attending Conference at the Union M. E. Church, was robbed of a gold watch and chain.

IN THE PRESS of yesterday, we gave the name of one of the newly elected physicians at the almshouse as Picol, when it should have been Dr. Mitchell B. Picot.

THE THIRD SALE AT THE GIRARD HOUSE.—The third sale of furniture, at the Girard House, took place yesterday. As usual, there was a full attendance, and the bidding was spirited.

A MAN WAS KILLED yesterday afternoon, named Pascall Peterson. He was jammed between a block of marble and a heavy wheel, at the Meadalley wharf. He died in a few moments.

THOMAS BRYAN, a laborer in a quarry near Manayunk, by an explosion of gunpowder lost his right eye, and mangled his entire body, yesterday. He will not live.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

QUARTER SESSIONS — Judge Ludlow.—The whole of the session yesterday was occupied with the trial of Martin H. N Kendig, on a charge of conspiracy to cheat and defraud the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The accused is indicted with Henry L. Kendig and Philander A. Fitzgerald, but he alone was put on trial. The circumstances of the case were given at the time of the arrest, and the prosecution grew out of the gift jewelry business. A circular, signed by Jas. C. Jenkson & Co., was issued by the accused, proposing to sell certificates for 25 and 50 cents, and the payment of $2 additional would entitle the holder to a "magnificent set of jewelry." From the number of letters found at the place, the accused must have done a thriving business. As most of the jewelry was plated, a large profit resulted to the proprietor of the establishment. The defence contended that, however illegal the business might be in which the accused was engaged, the Commonwealth had not proven a conspiracy. The defence also proved good character.

Judge Ludlow charged the jury that they should be satisfied that there was an agreement between the parties to do this thing, no matter if the agreement was not carried to a successful result. If the defendant did a dishonest act, which was not intended for his own advancement alone, but to cheat and defraud his neighbors, he would be amenable to the section under the new Penal Code. Jury out.

It is generally believed in Kittanning, Pa., that a man named Hood, living near that place, has recovered quite an amount of treasure which was long buried in Le Boeuf, this county. It seems that while disinterring the remains of a Frenchman who had been buried on his farm, he found, together with other trinkets, a small box containing a paper on which was a written statement of the quantity and the place where the treasure was buried. Hood absented himself from home for a time, and on his return exhibited the possession of considerable wealth.

OPENING OF THE PENNSYLVANIA CANALS.—The navigation is now open on the western division of the main line of the Pennsylvania canal. The water is now being let in on the eastern division, and the canal will be in operation by the 25th inst., when the whole line of canals along the Susquehanna, from Havre de Grace to Wilkesbarre, will be open. The important repairs on the Juniata canals will prevent their opening until near the 1st of April.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26, 1861.

Whitton Evans, Esq., an esteemed member of the Stock Board, departed this life yesterday, and the Board, out of respect to his memory, adjourned this morning upon the announcement of his death without transacting any business.

Quite a considerable amount of business was privately transacted after the adjournment, with little change in prices except for Read ng Railroad shares, which advanced and sold at different prices from 22½ to 22 69-100.

In the money market there is no change to report.

The New York bank statement exhibits an extraordinary accumulation of specie, more than three millions and a quarter having been added to the amount during the past week.

The New York Legislature has passed a law altering the customs of merchants for the payment of notes falling due upon Sunday or a legal holiday, and making them payable on the next day after such Sunday or holiday, and for notes that fall due on a national holiday that comes on a Sunday payment is to be made on the succeeding Tuesday. It is hoped that the Governor will put his veto on this innovation.

Paterson's Counterfeit Detector for April 1, 1861, is issued this afternoon, with descriptions of the latest counterfeits, and the usual varied contents. The Detector takes strong ground against the passage of the law now before the Pennsylvania Legislature to authorize the issue of bank notes of small denominations.

Field & Lare, of Pittsburg, send us their Bank Note Reporter, which we are sorry to see favors the revival of the small note nuisance. It says:

"Pittsburg is one of the worst points in the country for currency. While in Philadelphia and Baltimore the circulation for five dollars and over is mostly of the bills of their own banks, and below that amount gold and silver is made the common currency, (small bills being seldom seen,) in this neighborhood a Pittsburg bank bill is hardly ever offered in payment of ordinary debts, but dealers are forced to take the depreciated currency of other States. Provided a change could be effected to operate here the same as at the points above named, it would be preferable to having any small bills; but the way matters now stand, if we must have small notes, Western banks would be preferable to the depreciated issues of other States. It is in this light that we regard the issue of small notes by the Pennsylvania banks a necessity."
