A MILITARY HOSPITAL.—In the absence of any regular state appointment of a Surgeon General and under the necessity existing for some adequate provision being made for the relief of the sick and wounded of our volunteer army, the Commissioners' Hall has been converted into a Military Hospital and placed under the charge of Dr John Neill, who, with a corps of thoroughly educated and well-experienced surgeons as his assistants, is preparing to render the services which may be so soon and so imperatively demanded.

The institution is established under the fostering care of the "Home Guard," but is intended not for their necessities only, but also for all those who may be overtaken by sickness, as well as those who may be wounded in action, will be welcomed and cared for properly.

Now, for the furnishing of such a hospital, much is needed, and as other buildings will be obtained if necessity may arise, all of which will require considerable outlay of means, we call on every member of the community to assist in so noble and patriotic an effort for the good of those who are willing to suffer the privations of a camp life, and are ready to spill their blood in defence of our country's flag and honor.

A hospital is simply a house for the sick. It requires then, the ordinary furniture of a chamber and kitchen, with food, medicine, and other necessary conveniences, all these in proportion to the size and capacity of the building. And we call earnestly on all to aid in the work by being willing to send, on demand, supplies of money, food of all kinds, bandages, plain, furniture of cheap and simple construction, &c., &c.

Our large dealers and manufacturers can, at comparatively small cost to themselves, send in such articles as are here mentioned, viz.: Bedsteads, (iron are best); mattresses, (feet long by 3 feet wide); wooden chairs, small tables, of plain pine or poplar, a few large cooking stoves, table and bed furniture, whether of earthenware, chinaware, dry-goods, or hardware; groceries, flour and meal, soap, spermaceti candles, coal, ice, half inch and inch boards, for surgical apparatus, with muslin (3 cents per yard) for bandages.

Private individuals can send orders for the same, with various articles from their own houses, and can be well spared from their abundance; for second hand articles of household or kitchen furniture is amply good enough for hospital uses. Old and pillow-cases, towels, bundles of rags, of linen or muslin, knives and forks, plates, cups, and dishes, remaining from broken sets; likewise, cooking utensils of tin and iron. Even the small dealers and private families of but small means can contribute, by "doing their diligence gladly to give of that little," such an amount as will in all be of great value; the smallest gift will be duly received.

We especially suggest to wholesale and manufacturing druggists to respond to our call. They well know the character of the articles of the medical medies, and their collaterals, which are of daily use and absolute necessity in hospitals. No one need fear that his or her contribution will be a duplicate of some other. If events turn out as we have every reason to expect, all that can be procured will fall short of the demand.

Carpenter or two, or their apprentices, can render most valuable service by a day's work occasionally, in making surgical apparatus, shelving, beds, etc.

Nothing will be accepted by the institution until it is wanted for immediate use, and then it will be acceptable.

The benevolent are therefore requested to send to Dr John Neill, southeast corner of Broad and Chestnut streets, a note, stating what they will furnish on demand, whether now or at any future day.

Let the writer append his or her name and precise location to the note, so that the messenger may quickly find them. We have learned that every article contributed will be entered on the books of the hospital, and an acknowledgment made by the medical director to the parties who supply the aid.

PATRIOTIC SERMONS.

St. Stephen's Church—Yesterday afternoon, after the benediction, the organ pealed forth the soul-stirring strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the patriotic rector of the church, Henry W. Ducachet, D. D., stood in the chancel until the organ ceased. His emotion was great, it overpowered him, he was unable to rise as he stood and for time with foot and hand as the national strain resounded through the aisles and nave of the church.

Dr Ducachet has accepted the appointment of Chaplain of the First Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, commanded by the gallant Col. Wm. Wm. Lewis, Jr., and it has been mentioned as probable that he will be appointed by Governor Curtin, Chaplain of the division, in which event he would have the power of appointing a staff of chaplains under him. This must be a move in the right direction. We are informed that Dr. Ducachet has four nephews in the army, and all of them must be patriots while they have one drop of the blood of the uncle in them. There is not a minister in the parish of St. Stephen's Church. The rector and congregation are all loyal to the Government, and heartily desire that the unnatural and unholy rebellion in the South should be crushed at once and forever.

St. Andrew's Church.—Yesterday afternoon Company C, of the Guard, to the number of one hundred, attended Divine service at St. Andrew's Church, Eighth street, above Spruce, of which the Rev Wm Bacon Stevens, D. D., is the rector. The martial bearing of the men and the aptitude they evinced in drill, won high encomiums from those present. Immediately on their entering the middle aisle, the organist, Mr. Redner, struck up the national anthem, the congregation rising. The usual exercises of the church were conducted with the addition of the prayer lately ordered by Bishop Potter. The respectful attention evinced by the corps partook more of a solemnity than anything we have witnessed of late.

Dr. Stevens took his text from the 33d verse of the 10th chapter of Acts: "Now therefore are we all here present before God to hear all things that are commanded thee of God." The speaker opened by remarking that these words were spoken by a soldier and befitting words to address soldiers. After reviewing in a very eloquent manner the circumstances under which they were delivered, he remarked that this soldier was God-fearing and God-worshiping; not always on the bended knee, but in times and amid all scenes he was a devout worshiping man as well as soldier.

He continued his remarks in a very lucid and impressive manner, and, addressing the noble company before him, said, "We are gathered together, to hear certain things commanded us to hear. Where are we assembled? In the name of God. Before whom are we gathered? Before one who is omnipotent, and is looking down into the hearts of all who are here this assembled." The speaker said, "I stand before you, a Peter, an Apostle, but I stand before you as an ambassador of God, and am commanded to address you as God's ambassador." A few simple truths he desired to inculcate, and earnestly hoped that they would be remembered. The first to which he would call their attention was that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners." The second great truth he hoped would find a lodgment in their hearts was in these words: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

The reverend gentleman closed with a very stirring appeal to those present to be true and faithful to their flag and country.

HALF-PAY OF THE TROOPS.

Many of the men who have been mustered into service want to have half their pay reserved for their families, and several inquiries have been made in regard to it. In reply we would state that money will be paid out by the Government until soldiers have been a month under pay, the figures being made monthly. The committee of ladies having this matter in charge would do well to distribute relief to the families of the soldiers during the first four weeks of their service, as their wants will be more urgent at the beginning of their labors than afterwards, when the men can draw their pay regularly.

DEATH OF SMALL'S MEN MAKES HIS APPEARANCE.

John Fay, of Company D, Gen. Small's brigade, made his appearance, and says he arrived in Harrisburg on Thursday evening last from Baltimore. He was arrested in that city and put in prison, where he remained until Wednesday, during which time he was fed on corn cakes and cold water. He says he was asked to swear that he would never return to Baltimore, and upon refusing to do so he was condemned to death by an elderly man, who fixed Monday morning as the time for execution. On Wednesday he was released and made his way to this city, walking a good part of the way. We suspect that the sentence of death was a sham, to work upon the fear of the prisoner.

CAMPS FORMED.

A camp has been formed west of Lancaster, and two regiments of Ohio troops are stationed. Two artillery companies are also represented to be in an undisciplined condition.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS MOVING SOUTH.

A detachment of U S troops from Governor's Island, N Y, reached the city on Friday afternoon via the Kensington depot. Their destination is delivered to be Fort Delaware. They were quartered in the barracks at the Navy Yard.

PRESENTATIONS.

The friends of the Garde Lafayette on Saturday presented the noble company with fine corps colors. Mr. T. H. Peters made the presentation in a neat speech, in which, after congratulating the company for being engaged in the defence of the stars and stripes, he added: "Let your hearts be forward, and your war cry, 'La Guarde meurt et ne le rend pas!'" (The Guard dies, but never surrenders.) Capt. Archambault, the company commander, responded.

The citizens of the Seventeenth ward, on the 26th, presented Officer John B Buck, who leaves for the war in the Scott Legion, company C, on Saturday evening, with a magnificent revolver, as a token of their esteem and regard. The presentation was made in the Seventeenth ward station house, by Bernard F. Lynch, Esq., on behalf of the citizens, and received in a neat and appropriate speech by Officer Buck.

On Saturday afternoon the Germania Society, of which Mr. Fitzgerald, presented Mr. Carl Sentz, their leader, (who is about to leave for the wars,) with a costly pair of revolvers. Mr Fitzgerald made a few happy remarks, after which the society visited a number of national airs.

Captain John Spear, of the Scott Legion, has been presented with a handsome sword, by the citizens of the Seventeenth ward, of which he has been a resident of police for several years.

CAPTAIN OF THE PROVIDENCE MARINE ARTILLERY COMPANY.

Yesterday morning about three o'clock an artillery company from Providence, Rhode Island, arrived in this city. They came from Easton, where they have been remaining several days awaiting orders. As soon as they reached this city they proceeded to Broad and Prime, where they quartered themselves. This company is the successor of the one formed in the year 1801, and is commanded by the following officers: Captain Tompkins, Colonel Samuel G. Arnold, Lieutenant Governor of Rhode Island; Lieutenants Reynolds, Pennington, Tanner, and Braston. They have with them 98 men and 120 men, and about 700 rounds of shell, grape and canister. The battery consists of six of the rifled cannon, each gun weighing nearly two pounds. The guns can be fired with astonishing accuracy. Each gun is provided with a kind of telescopic arrangement instead of the ordinary sight, and by means of this can strike a tree which may be so far distant as to be hardly perceptible to the naked eye. The guns are nominally 6 pounders, but the shells used weigh nearly 14 pounds and are self exploding. The guns composing this battery were made by Captain James, of Rhode Island, for the State of Alabama, but after that State seceded the captain refused to carry out his contract. The men composing the company are well made, and look as if they could stand much fatigue and hardships. Each one is armed with a revolver and a sabre.

SOLDIERS AT CHURCH.

Yesterday some of our churches were well attended by the soldiery. Grace Church, at Twelfth and Cherry streets, was occupied by about 300 military men yesterday morning. The sermon, by the rector, Mr. Suddards, was very appropriate for the occasion.

PRESENTATION TO THE MILITARY.

This morning, at half-past nine o'clock, a public presentation will take place in Franklin Square. The regiment of National Guards will each receive a copy of the New Testament, from the Pennsylvania Bible Society. We understand that this Society has made arrangements to supply a copy of the holy book to each soldier going into service. Thus far, over two thousand of our State volunteers have received copies. The Bible Society has started the question practically, and is convinced that great good will result from the enterprise.

PRAYER FOR THE SOLDIERS.

We understand that in the Emanuel Episcopal church, on Marlborough street, Kensington, prayer is daily offered for the lives of the soldiers who are now going forth to battle, and for the success of the cause they defend. These interesting meetings are held in the morning, at 7½ o'clock, and we understand will be continued.

FLAG-RAISING.

The employees of the Knickerbocker Ice Company raised a fine flag, on Saturday afternoon, over their establishment. A salute of thirty-four guns were fired, the men singing the Star spangled Banner. A speech was delivered by John M. Datton, Esq, after which those assembled partook of a collation. There was much enthusiasm manifested.

FLAG RAISING AT BUSTLETON.

On Friday afternoon a splendid flag, made by the teachers and pupils of the Fayette Grammar School of Bustleton, Twenty-third ward, was thrown to the breeze, over the school, in the presence of a large assemblage. Hall Columbia, the Star-Spangled Banner, Columbia's the Gem of the Ocean, and other patriotic odes were sung by the children. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Benj B. Wilson, Rev. Messrs. Kempton and Humphries, and Col. Washington L. Bladen. The proceedings were also enlivened by some very fine music by the Mechanics' Brass Band of Holmesburg.

In the evening a Home Guard was organized, numbering about one hundred men. Drilling was immediately commenced under Doctor Benj. B. Wilson, and will be continued nightly at 7½ o'clock.

THIRTEENTH WARD HOME GUARDS.

A spirited meeting of this corps was held at headquarters, Saranak Hall, Eighth and Callowhill streets, on Saturday night. The first company of Juniors, Capt. Gregory, were fully organized, and met in the adjoining hall. Three companies will be raised at this point. In order to render their organization complete in every particular, these three companies have formed an association, the object of which is to provide funds for the support and protection of families of such members or companies as may be called into service in the field. Mr John Fry was elected permanent President; Vice President, R. M. Foust; Secretary, A. M. Spangler; Treasurer, George T. Lee; Messenger, D. W. C. Moore. The arrangements of this organization are most admirable, and are designed to be both permanent and efficient. All of the members will be equipped according to the orders of the Commander-in-chief of the Home Guards, from the general fund which has been contributed.

LIGHT INFANTRY PATRIOTISM.

The superintendent of one of our largest Infant Sabbath schools, while singing with his juveniles, yesterday, that set of Sabbath-school hymns, "I'm glad, I'm in this army," when they came to the lines,

"Fight on, ye little soldiers!
The battle you shall win."

Asked them, "Boys, who are you going to fight? "The South," shouted the little army, as determinedly as though the fate of the nation hung upon their prowess.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP CITY OF RICHMOND.—Yesterday afternoon the steamship City of Richmond arrived at Market-street wharf, having left Richmond on Friday evening. She came on in charge of the mate, Captain Mitchell remaining in Virginia. She brought a large number of passengers, and the crews of the New York steamers Jamestown and Yorktown, which have been taken possession of by the authorities in Virginia. The City of Richmond was seized and held for five days, but owing to the vessel not being suited to the purposes for which the Virginians wanted her, and the influence of the captain, the Governor allowed her to depart. In passing Fortress Monroe she was brought to and boarded by an officer. The mate of the steamer informs us that none but Secession flags are flying in Richmond. He says the passes now given to the whites are precisely the same as those used by the negroes. In Norfolk and Richmond provisions are exceedingly scarce, and held at very high rates. Flour is selling at $16 per barrel, coffee at 25 cents per pound, butter 60 cents per pound, and other articles in proportion. One of the passengers who came up in the steamer said: "If you stop their supply of provisions they will soon be brought to terms." The Vice President of the Southern Confederacy was in Richmond at the time of their departure, and it was reported that "Jeff" himself was on his way there with a large army, to set up what little provisions there were in the place. It was believed in Virginia that the New York 7th Regiment had all been slaughtered between Annapolis and Washington. It is probable that the City of Richmond will be chartered by the Government.

SERIOUS STABBING CASE.—On Saturday afternoon a young man named Michael Connelly, aged nineteen years, was stabbed in the abdomen at Delaware avenue and Walnut street, and so seriously injured that his life is despaired of. It seems that Connelly and another young man were passing along, when one of them picked up an old shoe and threw it at Wm Spitall, who was standing at his father's shoe store. Spitall remonstrated with the men, who were somewhat intoxicated at the time, when they rushed at him. He drew a pen-knife, and, with it, stabbed Connally, who was conveyed to the hospital. Spitoll was arrested and held to await the result of injuries inflicted.

MUSICAL FUND HALL.—The board of managers having liberally placed this noble building at the disposition of the military, over one thousand men may be seen drilling there nightly. Captain Freyer's Gray Reserves, Captain Fitzgerald's Home Guards, and other organizations, occupy the building. All who wish to join will apply immediately. Colonel Pleasanton requests that not a moment will be lost in perfecting the organization of the Home Guard. Every raw recruit will require a month's preparation to fit him for duty.

FINALLY COMMITTED.—On Saturday Daniel Tarr and Jacob Zimmerman, who were arrested by Deputy Marshals Jenkins and Sharkey, upon the charge of being engaged in the manufacture and passing of counterfeit notes, as stated in The Press, had a final hearing. The money for the same was made at a house in Morris street, below Eighth, and about $1,700 in bogus notes and coin seized. The accused were both committed to await a trial at court.

FOUND DROWNED.—On Saturday morning the body of an unknown man, which had been in the water for several months, was found at Spruce street wharf. The deceased was dressed in dark clothes, with a sack coat. On one of the fingers was a ring, with the initials "M. K." inscribed upon it.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.—Charles Appleton, aged eighteen years, fell, on Friday afternoon, from the fifth-story window of the office of Merrihew & Thompson, and, remarkable to state, not a bone was broken. He suffered most from a sprain of the ankle and elbow.

HAY MARKET.—The arrivals of hay during the past week amounted to three hundred loads. The prices realized were from seventy to eighty cents per cwt. for the ordinary, whilst the best quality brought ninety cents. Straw is in active demand, sixty loads having sold at from eighty-five to ninety-five cents per cwt.

A SHOCKING CASE.—A German woman, named Mrs. Paul, residing at No. 1113 Market street, cut her throat yesterday afternoon with a shoemaker's knife, and then cut her child's throat. The woman will recover, but the infant will not.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—On Saturday morning Charles Close was held in $500 bail by the Recorder, to answer the charge of committing an assault and battery on John Reeves.

COUNTERFEIT NOTE.—A $3 counterfeit note on the Bank of Southport, Mass., was extensively circulated throughout the city on Saturday evening.

Public Amusements.

WALNUT-STREET THEATRE.—Mr. Sothern commences the second week of his engagement this evening, when "Our American Cousin at Home" will be given for the fifteenth time in this city, where it has achieved the most unprecedented success. The new scenes and features which Mr. Sothern has introduced in the piece, and his own inimitable personation of Lord Dundreary and his brother Sam, have created a renewed sensation, and certain it is that no other "star" could have attracted anything like the audiences that he has done at the present time. Mrs. Cowell's new Northern version of "Dixey," to which new verses are added nightly, continues to elicit a double encore every evening. Mr. Edwin Adams appears as "The Maniac Lover" in the afterpiece.

ARCH STREET THEATRE.—This evening a showpiece called "The Wars of Napoleon the Great," which has been some time in preparation, will be produced here. Beyond the mere announcement, we have not heard any thing of this piece. Its military character would appear to be in unison with the warlike character of the crisis. Napoleon is usually a trump-card, when played upon the stage, and we dare say he will "win the odd trick," which means fill the treasury, upon this occasion as well as he did formerly.

THE LONE MOTHERS' AND WIDOWS' VOLUNTEER RELIEF FUND.—The benefit for this truly admirable fund, which takes place at the Academy of Music, in the shape of a musical and dramatic matinee, on Thursday next, will, if Miss Lonsdale's benevolent efforts are as ably seconded by her professional brethren and sisters as they are by the influential committee, (whose names will appear to-morrow,) be a brilliantly-successful affair. A number of the best artists in the city, including Mrs John Drew, Mr. J. S. Clarke, &c., have already volunteered their valuable services, and those who desire to aid the good cause are requested to leave their names at Beck & Lawton's, 632 Chestnut street, as quickly as possible, in order to complete the programme. Surely none will refuse their aid. Mr. Peter Richings as Washington, and Miss Richings singing "The Star Spangled Banner," as the Goddess of Liberty, would be a great feature, and go a long way towards refuting the late calumnies circulated against her.

A letter dated at Montgomery on the 18th inst., and published in the Savannah Republican, says:

"Vice President Stephens has returned to the city, and will fill the Presidential chair in the temporary absence of his Excellency, who is reported to be making arrangements for establishing his headquarters at Richmond. This is of itself a significant fact. His army of fifty thousand men will be equipped and ready for the field in thirty days' time, and will be joined by as many more, if necessary, before he reaches headquarters."

MONETARY RELIEF.—The city authorities of Richmond have passed an ordinance, directing the issue, in the name of the city, of three hundred thousand dollars in small notes, for the redemption of which the faith of the city is pledged. The law provides for the issue of two hundred thousand dollars in notes of the denomination of one dollar; fifty thousand dollars in notes of the denomination of fifty cents; and fifty thousand dollars in notes of the denomination of twenty-five cents.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Judges Grier and Cadwalader.—Hellman vs. Roberts. Before reported. Verdict for the defendant.

In discharging the jurors Judge Grier remarked that they had commenced this case with the war, and he wished to God that the strife was ended as their labors were ended. But the time had now come when every man must stand up for the Constitution and the Union, and settle the question whether we have a Government or not.

This patriotic sentiment was received with applause, both from the jurors and the attorneys.

COMMON PLEAS—Judges Allison and Ludlow.—In the case of the Rev. Dutch Reformed Church, Judge Allison, on Saturday, granted the injunction to restrain the trustees from dissolving the connection with the Dutch Reformed Church. The dissolution must be effected by a majority of the congregation, and not otherwise.

QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Thompson.—The case of Mr. Shoemaker, who is charged with larceny as a bailee, and with a conspiracy to cheat, in connection with the Pennsylvania Safety Fund Association, (late National Safety Fund,) was heard on a habeas corpus.

Mrs. Mary R. Smith, the complainant, deposited $326 with the association, the defendant receiving the money. She was under the impression at the time that she was depositing with the Six Penny Saving Fund, the office of which was on the opposite corner.

Although the deposit books given to depositors represent the charter to have been recorded, no such record could be found, nor was the original charter produced in court. Mr. F. C. Brewster, for the defendant, requested time to produce a certificate of the change of name, &c., and the case was continued.

Joseph Williams and James Connell, convicted of selling lottery policies, were sentenced to five months in the county prison.

A PATRIOTIC INCIDENT—TWO BROTHERS LEAVE THEIR BUSINESS IN CANADA TO JOIN THEIR REGIMENT.

TWO ex-members of the Seventy-first Regiment, learning the departure of that body from New York, immediately closed up their business in Canada, and are now en route for New York, with the intention of following and joining the Seventy-first. They have addressed the following to the recruiting officer at 159 Crosby street:

MONTREAL, April 22, 1861

My brother and myself will report ourselves in person, at your office, for duty, in answer to our country's and our colonel's call, as soon as it is possible to reach your city.

NATHANIEL DAVIS.

POWDER MILLS.

There is said to be but one powder mill in Virginia and eight in Maryland, and none in the rest of the South, while Delaware has nine and Pennsylvania sixty-seven. From these figures it will be seen how important it is for the Government to take possession of, or to render secure, (for we believe they are in the hands of Union men,) the powder mills of Maryland and Delaware. It will be impossible then for the Richmond mill to begin to supply the needs of the traitors—and the time may arrive when we may even put a stop to that—Boston Journal.

K. G. C.

The Knights of the Golden Circle have their headquarters in Baltimore, and thence distribute their instructions, and shaking to be sent out through the south. This organization plunged Texas into rebellion; and it is probable that they brought about the treacherous murder of the Massachusetts soldiers in Baltimore last week. Their headquarters should be promptly broken up.—Tribune.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27, 1861.

Stocks continue heavy. Pennsylvania fives sold today at 79, City Railroad sixes at 59, Pennsylvania Railroad first mortgage bonds at 93¾. Reading Railroad stock ruled at 16. In the stock market there appears to be as little disposition to enter upon any new operations in the present state of national affairs as there is in enterprises of a legitimate character.

The money market has hardened somewhat in consequence of the heavy amounts that will be called for in the prosecution of a war, but the abundant supply of the material is far less conspicuous than it was when the negroes in Norfolk and Richmond provisions are exceedingly scarce, and held at very high rates. Flour is selling at $16 per barrel, coffee at 25 cents per pound, butter 60 cents per pound, and other articles in proportion. One of the passengers who came up in the steamer said: "If you stop their supply of provisions they will soon be brought to terms." CITY ITEMS.

IMPORTANT TO THE LADIES—WHITE GOODS AND EMBROIDERIES AT AN IMMENSE SACRIFICE.—We doubt if any announcement has been made in our columns for a long time that will excite more general interest and attention among our fair readers than the extraordinary card of Messrs. Price, Ferris, & Co., which will be found in another column of our paper to-day. These gentlemen imported directly from Europe a magnificent stock of goods denominated under the head of White Goods, Linens, Laces, and Embroideries for the spring sales, at wholesale; but in view of the present war crisis, and the prostration of business consequent upon it, they have resorted to the expedient of literally sacrificing their goods in order to keep the wheels of business in active motion. The ladies are, of course, now well "posted" in such matters as require any elaborate explanation from us, as to the advantages of promptly heeding this announcement. To-day, at No. 107 Chestnut street, (lately occupied by Chickering & Sons,) will this superb stock will be open for the inspection of the public. All the goods have, we believe, been marked down at about one-half the rates usually charged at retail, and a split item force of competent attendants will be ready to politely wait on them. Such an opportunity of securing this class of desirable, and always seasonable goods, at mere nominal prices, has never before been presented, and we have no doubt that thousands will economize their means by promptly embracing it. To persons purchasing by the piece, or in larger quantities, a still greater reduction will be made, so that merchants from the country will also find it to their advantage to examine this splendid stock, which is now positively to be sold at prices from 25 to 50 per cent. lower than the cost of importation.

SPRING CLOAKS.—Now that the season is at hand for our lady readers to make their purchases of Spring Cloaks, we have been at some pains to ascertain where the best assortment may be found, and at the most moderate prices. Our report for to-day is as follows:

Ivens, No. 33 South Ninth street, presents a stock of endless variety, embracing every new style, and every new material, and his immense trade enables him to sell at remarkably low prices.

The large cloak establishment, located on the N. E. corner of Eighth and Walnut streets, has also won a wide reputation, both from the choice character of the garments sold and the reasonable terms at which they are furnished.

At No. 142 North Eighth street, above Cherry, these articles are also manufactured and displayed in great variety, and the multitude of ladies who daily visit there, and who come away suited and satisfied, lead us to believe that it is a first-rate place to patronize.

Messrs. Hough & Co., No. 25 South Tenth street, also offer to their patrons a rare stock of graceful cloaks for ladies, of richest qualities, and at low prices. This is a new establishment, but from the business-like manner in which matters are conducted it is evident that the proprietors are not novices in the business. Their garments are much admired by ladies of taste.

SHIRTS, DRAWERS, ET CETERA.—The season of the year is upon us for changing our underclothing, adapting it for the season. The place to do this most satisfactorily, as well as to obtain all kinds of goods in the Gents' Furnishing line, is at the old and popular house of Messrs. R. C. Walborn & Co., Nos. 5 and 7 North Sixth street.

UNION NECK-TIES.—We have seen a sample of a very appropriate neck-tie for the times, containing the tri-colors emblematic of the nation's flag. They are composed of fine blue silk, having one and white, and the other blue. They should be universally adopted. Mr. R. Oppenheimer, No. 223 Church alley, is the manufacturer, who is fully prepared to supply the trade.

A TERRIBLE FELLOW.—Ben. McCullogh is a terrible fellow, a tremendous fellow, and of all the Secessionists we think Ben. is the most to be dreaded, if the newspapers report his movements correctly. To-day they say he is marching on Washington at the head of twenty thousand men—terrible men, like Ben., with revolvers in each hand and bowie knives between their teeth. To-morrow they say he has gone to Texas, perfectly disgusted, while the next day he is said to be sulking in the neighborhood of the capital. The last account of Ben. is that he has been endeavoring to obtain one of the elegant suits from the new fashionable clothing emporium of Granville Stokes, at 609 Chestnut street, but which we are sure he cannot have at any price. To all lovers of their country fine garments will be sold, and a handsome gift will accompany each sale.

THE CHANGE OF UNIFORM.—The change of the uniforms worn by volunteers from the old-fashioned uncomfortable, straight-laced affairs, to easy and becoming garments is most marked, and our soldiers do not look as though they had swallowed their own ramrods. Apropos of this fact, we would call attention to the graceful and easy appearance of the civilians we meet, most of whom wear the elegant and comfortable garments made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street above Sixth.
