RESIGNATION OF THE OFFICERS OF COLONEL EINSTEIN'S REGIMENT.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the officers of Colonel Einstein's Regiment was held at their headquarters, to lay before them the statement of his interview with Governor Curtin, relative to the mode of proceeding in inspecting the men of his regiment in proper proceeding to inspecting the men of the 27th regiment. This affair has created a great deal of excitement in our military and civic circles. The report stated that Governor Curtin had ordered Colonel Slaum and Biddle and Dr. Smith under arrest to await an investigation. The Governor, with Gen. McCall, is expected to be in town to-day. It seems that Col. Einstein took five of his men, who had been rejected, up to Harrisburg, for the purpose of ascertaining whether they were fit to serve as soldiers or not. It is said that one of the men has not been three weeks out of the regular United States service. The Colonel invites the public to visit his armory and inspect the men who were rejected.

ARRIVAL OF THE NEW HAMPSHIRE REGIMENT.

As we go to press, we learn that the First New Hampshire Regiment, Col. Mason W. Tappan, commanding, has landed at Washington-street wharf, preparatory to marching to the depot at Broad and Prime streets, on the route to Washington.

The sons of New Hampshire in New York raised the first regiment from the Granite State with distinction. A meeting was held at the Brandreth House, the Hon William A Walker in the chair, for the purpose of giving the troops a hearty welcome on the occasion of their arrival en route for Philadelphia and the seat of war, as well as to present them with an elegant silk flag. The presentation of the flag was made by Judge Bingay, at ten o'clock, in front of the City Hall.

The reception committee was then appointed, as follows: William A. Walker, ex-Judge Pennoyer, C. L. Frost, Judge Bonney, Sidney Webster, George F. Peterson, Sidney S. Harris, John S. Prescott, Ira Broadhead, and George H. Broadhead.

The New Yorkers provided suitable refreshments for the soldiers, and a subscription list was opened for the purpose of defraying the expenses.

The regiment landed at the foot of Fourteenth street about eight o'clock on Sunday morning and marched down Broadway to the Park. The baggage and camp equipage were placed on board a schooner and sent over to Jersey City.

The First Regiment of New Hampshire is commanded by Col. Mason W Tappan, late member of Congress from the Second district. The men are sworn to the "three months volunteers," but it is generally believed that they will serve throughout the war.

The Second New Hampshire Regiment has enlisted for three years, and are now stationed at Fort Constitution, at the mouth of the Piscataqua, awaiting orders to march.

Brigadier General Stark, late Democratic candidate for Governor, will command the New Hampshire troops, and see that they will do credit to their native State.

The First Regiment brought on seventy horses and a full complement of ambulances and baggage wagons.

"The Sons of New Hampshire," of New York, accompanied at the Brandreth House at 7 o'clock, to see the New Hampshire boys march.

Some 300 arrived in Philadelphia after midnight, and every few of them were consequently assembled to see them. They are a gallant body of men, full of fire and spirit, and eager to be in Washington, so that they might be upon the scene of action.

ARRIVAL OF THE NINTH REGIMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA VOLUNTEERS

Camp Wayne, located at West Chester, is about to be deserted. Yesterday morning, the Ninth regiment, under command of Colonel H C Longnecker, left West Chester at six o'clock and arrived in this city about noon. The regiment is accompanied by a fine band of musicians from Wilmington. The men marched their uniforms on their last, and the greater part of them have been armed with Minie muskets. They marched down Market street Bridge to Broad, and down Broad to the Baltimore depot, where a train was in waiting to receive them. We understand that they will proceed to Newcastle, and from thence to Baltimore will be sent to various points for the purpose of guarding the railroad. The men have been well drilled, and will doubtless prove to be of great service. The Eleventh Regiment, under Colonel Frazer Jarrett, will leave West Chester at six o'clock this morning, via Media Railroad, and will reach this city about nine o'clock, and move to the Baltimore depot. The regiment is expected to Perryville.

MORE TROOPS FOR NEW YORK

On Saturday afternoon, Capt Garrick Mallory, of this city, at the head of sixty four men, arrived from a part of E. D Baker's California regiment.

Capt J. Steers has also organized a corps for the "Eureka Guards," which will leave Philadelphia for New York, to join the same regiment.

Mr. Charles Wallace has received authority from Col Baker, of New York, to organize a company of 100 men, and has organized a rendezvous at No. 214 New Street. The men will proceed to New York this afternoon at four o'clock.

FLAGS AT HALF-MAST.

On Saturday the flags on the Custom House, Merchants' Hall, and all the principal buildings in the city, and the vessels along the wharves, were displayed at half-mast, as a mark of respect for the gallant but unfortunate Ellsworth. The deep sorrow for the tragic death of this accomplished young officer is universal.

RELEASE OF PRIZES.

Orders for the release of the schooner Prize, and twenty-three vessels seized in Hampton Roads for violating the blockade, were issued on Saturday morning by Judge Cadwalader. The action of the judge was based on the fact that the fifteen days allowed by the law to have had not expired at the time of the seizure. The schooners are all owned by parties in Baltimore.

ARRIVAL BY THE COLLECTOR OF THE PORT

Captain William B Thomas, Esq., the collector of the port, caused the seizure of a small steamer which had been built at Chester for parties in Mobile. The supposition is that the vessel was to proceed to Cuba in ballast, and from thence across over to the Confederate navy of Jeff Davis. The vessel is of remarkable speed, and could with very little expense be fitted up for war purposes, and would cause considerable trouble to our blockading squadron. A sharp watch was kept on her movements, and on Friday she came up to the city, and was taken possession of and towed into the navy yard, where she will await further orders from the Department at Washington. We would suggest the propriety of the Government taking possession of the Union, as she is called, to the Delaware service on the Delaware river, as we understand that there is not a revenue cutter now in those waters—a circumstance which should be rectified immediately, as there are various channels by which goods "contraband of war" might be dispatched to the enemy, and no means by which such vessels might be overhauled.

DEATH OF AN OFFICER OF THE WAR OF 1812.

Captain Thomas Blackstone, a well-known and much-respected citizen of this city, died yesterday morning, at his residence, in Eleventh Street, near Race. Captain Blackstone was at the battle of New Orleans, and, during the war, was stationed in command, whilst a lieutenant, of several important military positions under the order of General Jackson, one of which was the batteries near Lake Borne. After the declaration of peace he returned to his home, in this city, where he continued to reside until his decease, which occurred last night at the age of 72 years. The soldiers of the war of 1812 are invited to attend his funeral, which takes place this afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

THE GRAY RESERVES.

The Gray Reserves, about one thousand strong, paraded to-day. This is a splendid body of men, every man of which is uniformed and armed entirely at his own expense. They have rifles, and they will consequently be able to parade without arms. Considering the sacrifices the Reserves have made for the public good, the authorities should at least furnish them with muskets.

A Guard will be formed this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, on Broad street, right resting on Chestnut. It is understood that the following will be the route of the parade: Up Broad street to Arch, up Arch to Seventeenth, down Seventeenth to Chestnut, down Chestnut to Eighth, up Eighth to Market, down Market to Third, up Third to Vine, down Vine to Second, down Second to Walnut, up Walnut to Third, up Third to Chestnut, up Chestnut to Independence Square, and then dismiss.

HOSPITAL ARRANGEMENT.

It is hoped that the Charity Hospital, of this city, will be offered by its managers to the City Councils as a receptacle for the volunteer soldiers who may need its aid. The offer has been accepted.

BASE BALL.—An interesting game of base ball was played on the grounds of the Olympic and Athletic Clubs, Camac's Woods, on Thursday last, by a full field composed of six members from each of the Olympic, Athletic, and Mercantile Clubs. The day was delightful, and the affair, as a whole, came off with marked eclat. The fine-looking men, mostly gentlemen in business circles, and the large attendance of friends, including a number of the fair sex, showed the life and interest of the fraternity of the bat. There were two played games, ended much to the satisfaction of all, and, of course, or rather games, for nothing were played during the day, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon at 3 The opposition, or challenge, players from Ethnetha Club were:

OLYMPIC.—Messrs. Richards, Aspach, Pine, Johnson, Paul, Clampet.

ATHLETIC.—Messrs. Moore, Ernst, Kyle, Crossdale, Verzun, Lanning.

MERCANTILE.—Messrs. Bingham, Seal, Mc[illegible], Rowlett, Wilkins.

Three members of each club constituted the sides, Captain Moore and Anspach.

Morning game—Score as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total.
Moore	2	5	2	1	0	3	0	4	3	6—24
Anspach	1	0	3	0	3	2	1	5	5	5—20

AFTERNOON.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total.
Moore	2	0	6	1	0	2	2	7	3	—23
Anspach	0	1	2	1	6	1	4	7	6	—28

Umpire—Mr. E. H. Hawthorne.

Scorers—Messrs Ellison, Sexton, and Price.

The game was well contested, and certainly reflected much credit upon the Philadelphia amateurs in this manly sport.

CRICKET MATCH—United vs. Atlantic.—The second eleven of these two clubs met in a cricket match, on Saturday, in West Philadelphia. The first named club, by the toss, sent the Atlantic bats, and they went in. The United then went to the bat, and made the score of eleven runs. The Atlantic, was very fortunate in the toss, for, as it turned out, it was the last of which was not out for the score of eleven runs.

THE BOARD OF FIRE DIRECTORS.—The last regular meeting of the present board will be held this evening. All the companies throughout the city will elect delegates to new meetings in June, will elect delegates to the new Board of Directors, which will assume office on the fourth Monday of the month.

DEATH OF THE HOSPITAL.—Andrew Snodgrass died at the hospital on Saturday while labouring under an attack of the mania a potu. The deceased was brought to the hospital one day last week, having injured one of his hands, and was then with the mania a potu a short time afterwards.

A BRAZEN BOY.—A deranged boy, aged about 14 years, named Jacob Gottlieb Newbold, has been at the Twenty-second ward station-house for several days. If not called for, he will be sent to the Almshouse.

ACCIDENT.—A lad named John Miller, aged about 12 years, accidentally shot himself in the hand, yesterday, while gunning near League Island. He was taken to the hospital.

A MAGNIFICENT FIRE occurred yesterday afternoon in a dwelling corner of Sixth and Cherry streets. The damage was trifling.

BRUTAL MURDER AT FRANKFORD—ARREST OF THE MURDERER.—Yesterday morning, a most brutal murder took place at Frankford, Twenty-third ward, which threw that quiet little village into an intense state of excitement. The name of the victim is Abraham Hayes, an Englishman, about fifty-one years of age, and the alleged murderer is Wm Gormley, of a rough, villanous look, having a number of scars on his face and body. The murder took place in a small stone house, near Frankford creek, and about three hundred yards from the passenger railway. The house stands in a small enclosure, and has no road leading to it. Yesterday, at noon, we accompanied Coroner Conrad to the place. An inquest was held, and the following evidence elicited:

Henry Hooley, who lives in the same house, was sworn.—I live between Dufield Dam and the railroad; went to bed at 8 P. M. on Saturday night; shortly after one o'clock the dog barked; I told my wife Abraham (the deceased) is coming; I called Abraham's wife, who went down to let him in; she said to me, "I have seen two men looking over the gate;" one said let me in, I am a stranger, let me in or I will break open the door, which he did. He said, with an oath, to witness, I will kill every one that makes a noise; he struck at me with a dagger; I said I don't know how you what do you want? He again threatened to kill us all if we made a noise; he ran up stairs; I heard a scuffle; the deceased said, what do you want with me; the stranger then came down stairs and went out without taking any notice of me; he stabbed my dog in two places; the second man did not come into the house; he had a drab coat on; I am positive that Gormley is the man that went up stairs; I thought that he had been drinking, but he was able to walk straight; when the police officers came to the house, I went up stairs and found Abraham dead.

Ann Hayes sworn.—When my husband came in he went up stairs; when Gormley came up stairs he took me by the wrist, and my husband said, "Don't hurt her;" he turned on my husband; I ran down stairs, and when I came back my husband was dead; Gormley had something in his hand while holding me; I am positive he is the man; it was by the light of the moon that I could recognize him; when Gormley came up stairs he threatened to kill us; I told my husband not to say anything, but he said he would; I never saw Gormley before last night, and I did not see the second man when I went out; at that time Gormley struck my husband with his hand; I did not see him stabbed; I do not think Gormley was drunk at the time.

Alice Hooley sworn.—Gormley asked me to open the door, and said he wanted lodgings, and would pay for them; he said he was bound to come in; he then broke open the door; he caught my husband by the collar, and threatened to kill us all; he said he came there for that purpose; he had a dagger in his hand; it was bright moonlight, and I could see plainly; I don't know what occurred up stairs; I started for the police; was gone about five minutes; when I went out Gormley followed me; I saw another man, although I never saw him before; the other man was very small, and had on a felt hat; Gormley said to him, before breaking the door, "Wait a bit, I'll go in."

Lieutenant Somers sworn.—On Sunday morning, at eighteen minutes before two o'clock, Mrs. Hayes came to my station, and said two men had broken into her house; I took an officer and went over; we saw two men on the plank road, and started after them; left them and went to the house, where we found Hayes dead, under the bed, surrounded by a pool of blood; I left an officer there, while Sir of us searched for the murderer; Officer Holden found Gormley on the road, asleep; a knife sheath was found in his pocket; but we have not been able to find any knife; his boots fit exactly in the tracks made in the garden; we asked the prisoner no questions; he asked what he was arrested for; in his pocket we found an order, signed by T. Mealy, captain of a military company, to pass the bearer to Frankford.

Sergeant Holden sworn.—I heard of this murder as I was coming to the station; found Gormley sleeping on the side of the road and arrested him. He asked no questions; he resisted, and we were connected to put nippers on his wrists.

Officer Shaw corroborated the evidence of the lieutenant and sergeant, given above.

Dr. Updegrove, who made a post-mortem examination, was sworn.—I found an opening about an inch and a half in length at a point about four inches from the neck, on the left side, in the line of the clavicle. The instrument passed through the clavicle, entered the cavity of the chest, and penetrated the upper lobe of the left lung, passing to the centre. The cavity of the chest contained a large amount of coagulated blood. The hemorrhage into the chest caused death. There was another stab in the left arm, about mid-way between the wrist and elbow, passing entirely through the arm.

The jury then rendered a verdict that Abraham Hayes came to his death by stabs inflicted by William Gormley. The prisoner was committed. It is believed that Gormley was one of a party who, about an hour before the murder, broke into a house in Frankford, and committed a brutal outrage on a woman.

After Gormley was locked up he became very violent, and broke the wood-work of the cell, and made the place a complete wreck.

ASSEMBLY BUILDINGS.—A splendid Stereoscopic Exhibition of the great Rebellion in connection with Sanderson's gigantic moving diorama panorama of the Russian War, which was so popular in this city two years ago, will be presented to the public this evening.

We understand that arrangements have been made with competent artists for new scenes as they occur connected with the rebellion. Those who wish to see the startling battles reproduced mechanically will have a fine opportunity by attending this really excellent entertainment.

FIRES.—Yesterday morning, a building in George Popp, on Landing Avenue, Fairmount ward, was destroyed by fire. The damage done was about $100. About sixty yards from the fire is an ice house, belonging to Mr. Wolbarts. The house contained a row-boat, which was also set on fire about the same time, and caused a narrow escape of the ice-house. It seems there has been a difficulty among some of the clubs and a gang of rowdies stationed at this place, and their object was to destroy the boats.

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN.—Mr. Peter Rogers, a well known citizen of Philadelphia, died last week. Mr. Rogers was a Scotchman by birth, but he had been a resident of this city from his boyhood. He presided at the Burns centennary festival, at Sansom-street Hall, in 1859. The deceased was for many years an active member of the Philadelphia Grays. His funeral will take place to-day.

CAVALRY HORSES.—Yesterday morning a long train of cars, bearing five hundred horses, left this city, and passed over the Pennsylvania Central to York and Chambersburg. The horses have been purchased in New York state, and are intended for the use of the United States army.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25, 1861.

The stock market to-day was dull, though more firm for city securities, which sold at 90 for the old issues, and 96 for the new. Pennsylvania Railroad shares sold at 37½. Reading Railroad shares sold at 15½, and Camden and Amboy at 107½.

Race and Vine-street Railway stock sold at the first board, at 4½, between boards at 4, and at the second board at 5. It is understood that the affairs of this company are to be thoroughly overhauled, and its exact position ascertained and made known to the stockholders.

The State Legislature of Ohio has passed an act to prohibit the circulation of the notes of non-share-paying banks. It provides that it shall be unlawful for any bank, banker, broker, exchange broker, or other money dealer, or incorporated company, in any manner, to put in circulation, either directly or indirectly, the notes of issue of any bank or banking company, whether in or out of this State, which notes shall not, at the time they are so put in circulation, be receivable at par by the bank, banker, broker, exchange broker, or other money dealer, or incorporated company, so putting the same in circulation, and redeemable at par, in gold or silver coin, by the bank or banking company issuing the same.

The penalty for violation of the act is a sum equal to one fifth of the nominal value of the notes so put in circulation, and costs.

The Cincinnati Gazette announces that the extension of the Chicago, Iowa, and Nebraska Railroad west of Cedar Rapids, is being rapidly pushed. Twenty miles have been finished, and it is hoped that cars will run through to the Missouri by November next, over the whole 240 miles of line. The road will intersect the Missouri midway between Sioux City and Council Bluffs.

The Albany Argus gives the following account of the bank panic in that city:

"The failure of the Bank of the Capital on Saturday, very much shook a savings depositary, as was expected, produced yesterday some excitement among the depositors of the savings banks of the city. These deposits, mostly in small sums, are from a class of people easily alarmed, and to whom indeed their small deposits are quite as important as much larger ones of persons of more means. At the Albany Savings Bank, located at the Commercial Bank, there was a considerable run Friday, but early part of bank hours, which, however, diminished as the day advanced. All who called were promptly paid, and extra clerks were detailed to the work of hastening payments. The panic seemed to abate, as depositors found their money perfectly safe, and many went away without making the collection. The Savings Bank was ready for the morning, as usual, with its full force of clerks. At the Mechanics' Savings Bank there were more than the usual number of depositors, and extra promptness, all calls. But which have small demand, the hour of closing, some very little demand. At the other banks, some of the ordinary business depositors, there was no alarm, and not the deposits the savings banks of customers of repay them except on the third or fourth day. By that January, April, July, and October, are not a week's notice. But they do not avail themselves of this part of the agreement, and all who want their money can have it on call.

"The New York State Bank, by coming forward and endeavoring the nerve of the country banks having their agencies with the suspended banks in this city, did a good service, and prevented a currency panic; for such undoubtedly would have been the consequence had the notes of a dozen or more banks, good in themselves, been thrown out by the failure of their agents to redeem here according to law."

CITY ITEMS.

VISIT OF THE MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO THE SOONDAY PRAYER MEETING.—We learn that the General Assembly of the O. S. Presbyterian Church, now convened in this city, will adjourn at 12 o'clock to-day for the purpose of attending the Soonday Business Men's Prayer Meeting, at the Sansom-street Church, below Ninth. Their attendance at this meeting on last Monday was an occasion of unusual interest, and it is expected that their participation to-day will be equally fruitful in giving variety and spirit to the exercises of the hour.

IMPORTANT TO GENTLEMEN.—At this time of the year, when gentlemen are supplying themselves with Shirts and changing their Under-clothing for the season, we take the opportunity of informing our readers that the place, of all others in this city, to do this with satisfaction to themselves, and at a considerable saving to their purse, is at the popular Gents' Furnishing store of Messrs R. G. Walborn & Co., Nos 5 and 7 North Sixth street. Their orders from all parts of the city and country warrant us in this conclusion.

WANAMAKER & BROWN'S OAK HALL CLOTHING BAZAAR.—Gentlemen who are now supplying themselves with Spring and Summer Clothing, whether "ready-made" or "to order," will do well to bear in mind the splendid new establishment of Messrs Wanamaker & Brown, southeast corner of Market and Sixth streets. They employ the most skilful outdoor help their work done in the best manner, treat their customers with politeness, and, we believe, sell lower than any other establishment of equal merit in the city. They have already built up a large trade, and "the city is still they come!"

——'S GENERAL BEAUREGARD?—This question is daily asked by thousands. As to the whereabouts of this mysterious individual, we do not know. Some are inclined to the belief that this noted traitor died from the effects of injuries received during the siege of Fort Sumpter. All this may be; but the report that the General was seen, some time since, in the act of purchasing a suit of clothes from the Fashionable Gift Depot of Granville Stokes, 609 Chestnut street, has not the least foundation. Neither did he receive any of those useful and valuable gifts always presented to purchasers at this one price establishment.

THE OCCUPATION OF VIRGINIA.—The Rubicon has been passed! The Potomac is crossed, and the Federal flag now floats where the Secession rag hat lately disgraced the soil of Virginia. The excitement growing out of this bold movement is intense, and the general feeling is that the active business of the war has commenced. These martial doings will not, in the slightest degree, interfere with the business of the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. The manufacture of civilian suits for gentlemen and youths and of military garments, proceeds there just as usual.
