CITY ITEMS.

CONCERT AT MUSICAL FUND HALL.—We invite attention to the advertisement, in another column, of a "Grand Union Concert," to be given at Musical Fund Hall, on Wednesday evening next, January 29th, under the auspices of Chosen Friends Lodge, No. 100, I. O. O. F., in aid of the Union Volunteer and Cooper Shop Refreshment Saloons. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the efforts made to keep in active, and we may say beneficent, operation these important institutions, which, with the fact that the concert itself will be one of first-class merit, ought to insure a crowded audience. The Handel and Haydn Society (B Carr Cross conductor, and Michael H. Cross pianist) have generously volunteered their services for the occasion, as have also the Germania Orchestra, under the leadership of Carl Sentz. We understand, also, that great care has been had in the arrangement of the programme, in order to render the entertainment of the most attractive character, both in the variety and the adaptation of the pieces to be performed to the nature of the occasion.

THE OIL TRADE IN PHILADELPHIA.—In another column of our paper will be found the advertisement of Messrs Hulburt & Brodhead, No. 240 Arch street, general commission merchants, and dealers in Kerosene, Petroleum, Benzine, and lubricating Oils, chandeliers for halls, churches, &c., also lamps and shades. Since the use of these oils has, to a great extent, taken the place of almost every other kind of portable light, it is a matter of public interest to know what kind of oils to consume—from considerations of safety, brilliancy of light, economy, &c.—and where to obtain them. Having taken some pains to examine, personally, the oils sold by this firm—and they are the sole agents in this city for several of the most widely and favorably-known refiners in this city—we are enabled to speak with confidence of their qualities. In the first place, from actual experiments, made in our own presence, their non-explosive nature was settled beyond the shadow of a doubt. Another great point attained in Messrs. Hulburt & Brodhead's oils is, their deodorized character. Thus, whilst most of the coal oils in use are offensive to the smell, the odor of theirs is almost imperceptible. The character of the light they give, both for vivid brilliancy, steadiness, and freedom from smoke, meets our highest approval, and we therefore recommend to our readers the oils of this firm as altogether a superior article.

PHRENOLOGICAL CLASS.—From an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that a class for the practical study of Phrenology will be formed at the rooms of Mr. John L. Capen, No. 922 Chestnut street, on Monday evening next. Mr. Capen, we are happy to know, is one of the most skilful and thoroughly scientific Phrenologists living, and all, therefore, who desire to become acquainted with a most interesting and useful department of human knowledge should avail themselves of the opportunity now offered.

A PALATABLE REMEDY FOR COLDS.—Messrs. E. G. Whitman & Co., Second street, below Chestnut, the celebrated confectioners of this city, have lately introduced a medicinal article into their magnificent stock of saccharine preparations, which has already become a universal favorite. We allude to their Tar Drops. These have been used in hundreds of instances, and found an almost instantaneous remedy for colds in the throat and chest. For curing moderate coughs, they are really a specific. We may also mention in this connection their Soluble Gum Drops, of a variety of delicious flavors, and a number of choice new things, which we commend to the attention of our readers.

THE GREAT LIGHT EMPORIUM.—So great has been the success of the splendid new lamps for burning Kerosene Oil manufactured and sold by Messrs. Witters & Co., at their Light Emporium, No. 35 North Eighth street, corner of Filbert, that, with the largest force of hands, it is almost impossible for them to keep pace with the wholesale demand for them to all parts of the country. In their retail department, on the first floor, we may state, for the information of our readers, that the neatest and most efficient lamps made in Philadelphia can be bought at much below the prices usually charged in ordinary retail stores.

IMPORTANT REMOVAL.—The contemplated removal of Mr. A. L. Vanzant, the fashionable confectioner, into the splendid new store, on the corner of Chestnut and Ninth streets, under the Continental Hotel, is significant. The popularity of his establishment is probably without a parallel in this country. His confections are the finest and purest in the world, and in the matter of choice hot-house and tropical fruits, he stands pre-eminent.

THE GREAT CRAVAT STORE, where every article in good taste for the neck, and Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods in greatest variety, can be had is A. No. 1 style, and at moderate prices, is at Seventh and Chestnut streets, and Mr. J. A. Eshleman is the proprietor.

PURE OLD LIQUORS FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES are always kept on hand by Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine family Groceries, Tenth and Arch streets. The best old Brandy, such as is recommended by physicians for invalids, and pure old Port and Madeira Wines, can always be had here without a possible risk of selling a deleterious article.

MILITARY SCHOOLS.—Governor Curtin has very justly called public attention to the importance of training the youth of our schools to a knowledge of military tactics. Our youth must have, in order for a proper physical development, some sort of athletic amusement. Games of ball, in times like these, may give place to something more useful. Saunders' Institute, of this city, is in advance of the times. This is the present time, in that institution, drilling has become the daily pastime, consequently a large number of the pupils are competent to act as officers in the military training of others. Daily, from 9 to 10 in the morning, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, visitors assemble to witness the performances of these thoroughly-disciplined youth. The editor of this paper was recently present at one of these daily exhibitions, and felt it to be his duty to express his admiration. All the teachers of Saunders' have expressed their opinion that the military recreation is better, and more agreeable to pupils, than any other sports, and more favorable to the maintenance of good order. They regard it, indeed, as the very best preparation for the duties of the school-room. Let any one who is a critical visit this institution, at Thirty-ninth and Market streets, and he will be convinced that Governor Curtin's recommendation of military schools, merits the consideration of all teachers and parents. In the seminary alluded to drilling is voluntary, and yet more than nine out of ten join the military department. This is a proof that the exercise is full of amusement to the pupils, and meets with the approbation of their parents. Another proof of the demand of the public for military exercises is, that at no time since the school was opened, have there been more applications for places in this seminary than at the present time. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on Major Rekendorff, as a drilling-master, for his success in Saunders' Institute. There is one excellence of military schools not duly considered by the public. The orders, rapidly given, must be heeded, and that instantly, consequently the cadets are trained to constant and close attention, as well as to prompt obedience. Let a careless, idle, inattentive youth be daily put under such a training, and an improvement will be seen almost immediately.

H. MELVILLE FAY, of Ohio, will lecture at Sansom street Hall on Sunday evening and evening.

THE ENGLISH JUBILANT.—News has reached this country, by the steamer City of New York, of the receipt in England of the intelligence of the rendition of Mason and Slidell. There was general rejoicing at the glad tidings, and John Bull turned a series of moral somersaults by way of giving vent to his feelings. We suppose that even the London Times will now discover that there is some good in Brother Jonathan, and they will realize that, in the matter of wearing apparel, the best and most elegant suits made in the world are those gotten up at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

CHRONOLOGY OF FEBRUARY 8TH.—February 8th, 1861, was a day "big with events" in the history of the Slaveholders' Rebellion. On that day Colonel Hayne, commissioner from South Carolina to President Buchanan, unable to get recognition, finally left Washington.... The Montgomery Convention adopted a Provisional Constitution.... Governor Brown, of Georgia, seized New York ships in Savannah harbor, in retaliation for the seizing of arms in New York.... Little Rock arsenal surrendered to the State of Arkansas. How different the character of the events from those happening on that day two years previous, for then was opened in Philadelphia the celebrated "One Price" Clothing Store of Chas. Stokes, under the "Continental."

SCANCE ARTICLES.—Under the heading of scance articles may be enumerated a person who practices all he professes; a lawyer whose honesty pleads for his client; an actual friend; Philanthropy, publishing "money to lend;" a staunch politician forgetful of self; a sourced bachelor neatly arrayed; and last, though not least, a man who professes economy, but does not purchase his garments at the Fashionable Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, one door above Hersden's Express Office.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

WAYS AND MEANS.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

Taxation is not sweet as honey,
And yet the Government needs money.
War is a luxury expensive,
And all its outlays are extensive;
To support the Constitution
Needs a generous contribution;
From each patriotic fob, sir,
Otherwise, we'll spoil the job, sir.
We'll pay our quotas, then, genteely;
Pay them fully—pay them freely.
Let the burden of taxation
Cause no anger or vexation;
Tax our follies, tax our vices,
Tax our comforts, tax our luxuries;
Tax our costly wines and brandies,
Tax our sweetmeats and our candies;
Tax our coaches and our gigs, sirs,
Tax our schooners, ships, and brigs, sirs.
Grumble not at prices rising,
That is not at all surprising.
But the most astounding mystery
Ever found in tale or history,
Is that clothes at TOWER HALL,
Do not vise in price at all!

As competition is the life of business, let us give to new comers a fair trial. If no other good results from it, it will teach the old monopoly to use greater facilities, and the establishing of fast freight lines is the "old monopoly" of this time. Let be found too late. ☞ SOUTHERN DISPENSARY, INSTITUTED AUGUST, 1816.
This Institution is now in active operation, having been, to some extent, limited in its charities for want of a suitable building to accommodate patients and transact its business. The disadvantages from this cause, under which it was obliged to labor, have been, within a short period, successfully overcome. A substantial and convenient edifice, with ample accommodations for all its purposes, has been erected on a lot of ground belonging to the Dispensary, on Shippen, above 22d street, at a cost of nearly $10,000, all of which has been paid, leaving the entire property clear and free from every incumbrance, except a small ground-rent charge of twenty dollars per annum, thus placing the Institution upon a permanent basis, with ample facilities for carrying out the benevolent designs of its founders, aided by the liberality of its friends.
The number of patients under its care during the past year has been 2,654, being an increase of 317 over the year preceding.
