Captain Starr, of the Union Artillery, P. H. G., tendered the services of his company, but Col. Ellmaker replied that he did not think that artillery would be accepted.

Colonel Ellmaker said that he did not intend to let any of his command leave the city unarmed or without ammunition. From a conversation which he had had with the Adjutant General he could state that the United States would furnish uniforms and equipments.

Colonel Ellmaker then read the following order, which had just been received, causing considerable excitement:

HEADQUARTERS, FIRST DIVISION, P. V.,
PHILADELPHIA, May 26, 1862.

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 2.—In obedience to orders No. 23, from the Governor and Commander-in-Chief, the senior officer of each brigade will forthwith muster each regiment, battalion, and company in their brigades, and report to these headquarters the number of cavalry, artillery, infantry, and riflemen in their respective commands. They will, meanwhile, hold their troops in readiness for active service.

By command of Major General Robert Patterson.

Major BIDDLE, A. A. G.

The meeting then adjourned. Captain Adcicks, acting assistant adjutant general, has established his headquarters at the Board of Trade Room.

* MEETING OF THE HOME GUARD.

A number of the officers of the Home Guard held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at their headquarters, Fifth street below Walnut. Gen. Pleasonton, who was present, made a few remarks, instructing the officers to report the strength of their companies, to commence recruiting at once, and to make hourly reports of the additions to their ranks. He wished to have the Guard raised to its full complement. He had made a requisition on the Government for arms and equipments for the full force, and, unless these were furnished, he said, the Guard should not go to the seat of war. He wished them to be in readiness to move to-morrow (Tuesday) night. The arms were to be furnished here, if possible; if not here, they would be procured at Washington. The headquarters of the Guard was open until a late hour last evening.

OTHER MILITARY MEETINGS.

The National Guards called a special meeting for last evening, to make arrangements to fill up the regiment to the proper standard, and go into service.

The Scott Legion will meet this evening, at Fifth and Chestnut streets.

The State Fencibles are recruiting at No. 503 Chestnut street.

Recruits are wanted at 803 Locust street, for Company E, 3d Regiment, Reserve Brigade.

The Washington Grays are recruiting in Sixth street, below Arch.

Recruits are wanted for Company B, 2d Regiment Home Brigade, at the armory, Filbert street, above Eighth.

Recruits are desired by Company A, 2d Regiment Reserve Brigade, at 506 Chestnut street.

Company F, 1st Regiment Reserve Brigade, desires a few recruits, at Second and Race streets.

At 728 Chestnut street, Company G, 1st Regiment Reserve Brigade, calls for recruits.

The Gymnast Zouaves hold a special meeting last night.

Recruits will be accepted by Company K, 1st Regiment Reserve Brigade, at Eighth and Callowhill streets.

The First City Troop also held a meeting last night at their headquarters.

Volunteers are wanted for Company E, 2d Regiment, Reserve Brigade, at Eighth and Callowhill streets.

Company I, 2d Regiment, Reserve brigade, meets this evening at the armory.

Fifty recruits are wanted immediately for Company C, 2d Regiment Reserve Brigade, at Market and Twentieth streets.

Recruits are wanted at Twenty-second and Spring Garden streets, by Company B, Reserve Brigade.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNCILS ORDERED.

To the surprise of a number of our citizens, the Clerk of Select Council was yesterday notified to call a special meeting of the Chamber for this morning at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of considering such business as may be laid before them by the Committee on the Defence and Protection of the City, and especially business relating out of the call of the Government of the United States, and of the State, for the service of additional troops from the city of Philadelphia.

This step was considered entirely unnecessary by a number of the members of Council, who refused to sign the call for the meeting, on the ground that it would create unnecessary alarm among the people.

An effort was also made to have a special meeting of Common Council to take place this morning, but it proved unsuccessful. The majority of the members of both Chambers, among whom were some of the most influential, refused to sanction any movement of this kind. They thought that a special meeting was not only unnecessary, but actually injurious to the community. It is doubtful whether there will be a quorum of Select Council present this morning.

RECRUITING.

During the excitement of yesterday a number of new recruits were obtained at the different armories. The 1st Regiment, Reserve Brigade, will open this morning no less than ten recruiting stations. The regiment expects to leave this evening for Washington. Last evening all the armories throughout the city presented quite a busy scene. The men assembled at an early hour, and were mustered into service. There will not be the least difficulty in obtaining the requisite number of men to fill up all vacancies in the Reserve Brigade and Home Guards. It was reported yesterday that some of the officers threw up their commissions, and a number of the privates resigned on the ground that they had been organized for "home protection," and not to take the field for active service. Whether the report is true or not it matters little, as the places of such individuals as these can be readily filled. In justice to most of the officers of the Reserve Brigade and Home Guard, we are glad to say that they displayed great energy and activity in endeavoring to fill up the vacant ranks, and organize their respective commands.

A SOCIAL MEETING OF THE FRIENDS OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION.—Last evening a sociable reunion of the friends of the present Administration was held at the North Pennsylvania Hotel. The meeting was largely attended, about five hundred persons being present, among whom were some of our most prominent and well-known citizens. The meeting was organized by calling to the chair Capt. Kefler, a returned prisoner of the California regiment. The following toast was offered: "Abraham Lincoln, the chief of American rulers; may they always be, like him, one of the people."

Amos Briggs, Esq., replied to this toast. In doing so, he said he heartily endorsed the sentiment propos d. He thought our rulers should always be selected from that class which sympathizes with the great mass of the people. As just as this proposition would seem, it has of late years grown into fashion for the official to pervert the functions of his office into a machine of private profit and aggrandizement, to the total obscuration of the public interest. It is no uncommon thing to find those who should stand as sentinels to the public treasury become themselves its plunderers. To such an extent had this system grown, that no sooner than a citizen announces himself for a given office these cormorants combine to procure or defeat his nomination because he can or can not be used to serve their nefarious ends. Having a personal interest at stake, they work with an industry that never tires, and often succeeds in defeating good and honest men. These men, in the sentiment of the toast, were not of the people. [Applause.]

The speaker was severe in his remarks on the Buchanan Administration. He said the Congress and Cabinet at that time were both full of traitors and thieves, and the Democratic party, with a few exceptions, was found their apologists, and when the patriotic portion of the country demanded that the President should enforce obedience to the laws, that party of the Buchanan school shouted to a man, cried out "No coercion," and, in order that Administration, instead of bringing to the bar of public justice every man engaged in the treason, by its imbecility and inaction, encouraged treason itself. It was reserved for honest Abraham Lincoln to bring back the Ship of State to her constitutional mooring. Notwithstanding such antecedents, that same corrupt party is resorting to every imaginable means to again get possession of the Government. Its press and pamphleteers are denouncing Mr. Lincoln for the incarceration of traitors, and the suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus—the very things that commended him the most, in the judgment of the speaker. The only improvement he would suggest, would be to hang them at once, for any man who is not willing to sustain the President in the prosecution of this war, to put down rebellion, especially when our brethren are falling by hundreds at the hands of traitors, deserves to be strung up like a dog. [Loud applause.] Let that party get possession of the Government, and the doors of Fort Warren will be thrown open, and the traitors inhabiting it will be received with open arms by these corrupt men, and those now most conspicuous for their patriotism and loyalty will be hunted down as fit objects for their wrath.

Mr Briggs alluded to the recent uprising of the Secessionists in Baltimore, who were jubilant over the disaster that had befallen the command of General Banks, and spoke at length of our present troubles and their cause, which he laid to the Buchanan Administration.

The speaker thought that we were approaching one of the most important elections that we have ever been called upon to hold. We have five Congressmen to elect, and a Legislature that has to elect a United States Senator. The Breckinridge Democracy will resort to every strategy to elect their candidates, to remake and hold in check the Administration. The test to be determined by the election is, whether the Administration shall be sustained or reversed. It must be sustained, and added, at every cost and sacrifice—the issue is too important to be lost. He thought there was strength enough to carry the election, if our forces were properly organized. If we but unite, we will sweep the field—if divided, we will assuredly be defeated. Unless our minds are made up to forego this bickering about a name, when there was no difference in principle, he thought the contest might as well be abandoned at once. Let each present to the other the best men, and from them there can certainly be made a satisfactory selection. Let us make all our energies bend to accomplish this result—it can and must be done [applause]. The issue is too important to be lost, and if we try with a hearty good will, there will be no such thing as fail. [Applause.]

A toast—"America as she was and is"—was responded to by John Dolman. He briefly traced the progress of our Republic up to the present time. In alluding to our national troubles, Mr. Dolman said that the recent demonstration of the rebels on Gen. Banks was a last dying effort. He was confident that the days of the rebellion were near a close. The speaker was repeatedly interrupted by the most enthusiastic applause.

The meeting soon after adjourned, with cheers for Abraham Lincoln and the Union.

RELIEF FOR THE SICK.—The following telegraphic despatch, relative to our sick and wounded, has been received by a gentleman in this city:

TORKTOWN, May 24, 1862.

ISAAC LEA, Esq: Please interest the benevolent of our city and State in relief of our suffering soldiers. The great want here is cooking utensils—at White House is worse. Port wine is much needed. The sick diet is gruel and tea; can't get the meal without money. Furnished—will see it distributed. Hard crackers form the diet of the sick, of whom there are thousands.

MRS. JOHN HARRIS,
Secretary Philoth Association.

Any person who may feel disposed to respond to this appeal can send their contributions to the residence of Mr. Lea, 1622 Locust street, whence they will be forwarded without delay to Mrs Harris.

MORE SICK VOLUNTEERS.—A number of the sick and wounded Pennsylvania soldiers, who had been sent to New York by mistake, have arrived here. They were provided with supper, lodging, and breakfast, at the Refreshment Saloons, and yesterday sent to the general hospital, at Broad and Cherry streets. There being no room at this place or any of the other hospitals, they were not taken in, and, after some time, a number of private citizens, connected with engine companies, took charge of them until proper accommodations could be secured. The new hospital in the Twenty-fourth Ward will not be finished for some days yet, and, until then, but few additional patients can be admitted into the present hospital building. The surgeon in charge has adopted a plan to obviate the difficulty in a measure, by granting furloughs for thirty days to patients able to leave for their homes.

SUPPOSED FOUL PLAY.—Captain John Hill, of Chincoteague, Virginia, came to this city about a week ago, since which nothing has been heard of him. He was last seen in the neighborhood of Front and Dock streets. He had about his person silver and U. S. treasury notes to the value of $100; also, sundry bills and receipts. Suspicions are entertained by his friends of foul play, and the matter has been placed in the hands of the detectives.

DRAYMAN ARRESTED.—As our citizens know, there is a law on the statute books of the city, which says that drays and other vehicles shall not follow each other at a less distance than ten feet. For some time this has been but little better than a dead letter, and was violated in almost every instance. John McGann was arrested upon this charge yesterday morning, at Third and Chestnut streets, taken before Alderman Reiter, and the penalty enforced.

HOSPITAL CONSECRATION.—The chapel of the hospital of the Protestant Episcopal Church will be consecrated on Tuesday. The chapel is connected with and forms a part of the centre building of the hospital. Of the new hospital building the western wing is fast approaching completion, and will be ready for occupancy in a few months.

RAILROAD MEETING.—A meeting of the citizens of Egg Harbor city and county was held in Egg Harbor city yesterday, for the purpose of putting under contract the whole of the proposed Cape May and Atlantic Railroad, from Egg Harbor to Cape May, a distance of about forty-two miles. No definite was arrived at.

SLIGHT FIRE.—Some excitement was created last evening, in the neighborhood of Water and Dock streets, by a bed taking fire in a dwelling in that locality. The flames were extinguished with a few buckets of water, before much damage was done. No alarm was sounded from the State House.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—Wm. Crawford was arrested on Sunday evening by officers D. M and C. Smith, for passing counterfeit money, in the shape of bogus ten dollar gold pieces. He was held in $1,000 bail by the U. S. Commissioner to answer.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—Yesterday morning, about two o'clock, an attempt was made to enter the dwelling of B. Gardell, on Chew street, in Germantown. A hole was bored through the front door, but the burglars were frightened off before they effected an entrance.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.—This body will assemble in St. Andrew's Church at 5 o'clock P. M. to-day.

The annual meeting of the Episcopal Missionary Society of Pennsylvania will be held this evening in the rear of St. Andrew's Church.

ACCIDENTAL INJURY.—A man, named Patrick Burns fell under a car, at Thirteenth and Washington streets, yesterday morning, and had both feet and one leg badly crushed. He was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital.

FIRE.—About four o'clock, on Sunday afternoon, the woods belonging to Mrs. Paul, and located in the Twenty-fifth ward, were set on fire by some boys. The flames, however, were subdued before they had gained much headway.

RESCUED.—A lad named David Turvin, eight years of age, fell from the floating bridge into the forebay at Fairmount, on Sunday afternoon. He was rescued from drowning by officer Supplee of the Park Police.

PENNSYLVANIA BIBLE SOCIETY.—The fifty-fourth anniversary of the Pennsylvania Bible Society will be held at the First Independent Church, Broad street, below Chestnut, on Thursday evening.

Union Meeting at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 26.—A Union meeting was held at Murfreesboro on Saturday. Over 1,000 people were present, and there was much enthusiasm manifested.

Speeches were made by Governor Johnson, Hon. Mr. Ocoper, and others.

Thirty-six soldiers from the rebel army at Corinth came here to-day and took the oath of allegiance.

The United States marshal has seized all the printing offices in Nashville as forfeited for their treasonable publications.

Telegraphic Communication with General Halleck Interrupted.

LOUISVILLE, May 26.—Telegraphic communication between General Halleck's headquarters and Nashville has been interrupted since five o'clock last evening. The Eastern report of a battle at Corinth is doubtless false, as no news could have been received from there.

The Iron-plated Steamers and the Pittsburg Iron Works.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 26.—In reference to the article in the New York Herald of Saturday, stating that only three plates have been put on the Roanoke, and that, owing to the difficulty of procuring iron to manufacture the plates, she will not be ready for four or five months, some of our leading iron manufacturers state that there are the best facilities in this city for the immediate manufacture of any description of plate required. One half of the plates furnished to the New Ironsides, built in Philadelphia, were made here, by Bailey, Brown & Co. They were 4½ inches thick, 32 wide, 17 feet long, and weighed about 7,000 pounds each; and this is not the only mill here having complete machinery for making plates of any desired size and weight.

The Recruiting in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, May 26.—Recruiting is going on rapidly. It is expected that one regiment will leave to-morrow night, accompanied by Governor Sprague, and another regiment on the next night.

The Marine Artillery is recruiting.

The General Assembly will meet to-morrow at Newport.

Troops from Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 26.—Four companies of the 63d Indiana, two companies of the 19th Regulars, and Captain Naylor's battery leave for Washington to-night.

Congressional Election.

ALLENTOWN, May 26.—John D. Stiles, the Democratic candidate for Congress, has been elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Thomas B. Cooper, by over 500 majority.

LARGE POSITIVE SALE OF BOOTS, SHOES, AND STRAW GOODS, &c.—The attention of purchasers is requested to the extensive and prime assortment of boots, shoes, travelling bags, straw goods, shaker bonnets, &c., &c.—samples of 1,000 cases—to be peremptorily sold on four months' credit, commencing this morning at 10 o'clock, by John B. Myers & Co., Auctioneers, Nos. 232 and 234 Market street.

CITY ITEMS.

PROCTOR & CO.'S NEW IMPORTATIONS.—Messrs. J. W. Proctor & Co., proprietors of the "Paris Mantilla Emporium," No. 920 Chestnut street, have made a great hit with their new importations, the first of the season, of fine lace mantillas, points and Bournous, and all the latest novelties in Llama Lace. Their spacious saleerooms were yesterday crowded with the elite of our city fashionables, who, by the way, now regard the "Paris Mantilla Emporium" as the most indispensable centre of fashion and shopping mart in Philadelphia. Their extensive stock of light cloth and silk goods is also rich and attractive.

"GET THE BEST," is a wise motto, especially in the article of Hats and Caps, in the style and construction of which so much of a man's comfort depends, not to speak of appearance. Time and experience have established the fact beyond a doubt, that OAKFORD & SON'S Hats, under the Continental Hotel, are vastly superior in style of finish, durability, and comfort, to any others made. Their stocks of Children's Headgear and Gents' Furnishing Goods are also very superior.

THE GREATEST LIGHT OF THE AGE.—The question having been settled by scientific experiments, made for that purpose, that the celebrated Lamps, for burning Kerosene Oil, manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, at No. 35 North Eighth street, by Messrs. WITTEN & Co, are the best, SAFEST, most convenient, and decidedly the most economical Portable Light in use, we take pleasure in recommending it to our readers here and throughout the country. We learn that country merchants are selling immense quantities of these admirable lamps, and that their popularity is constantly increasing wherever they are introduced.

A FRESH SUPPLY of Smoked and Spiced Salmon—a very fine article—has just been received by Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine Groceries, Arch and Tenth streets. Salmon, at this particular season, prepared as Mr. M. has them, are healthful and delicious, and are much used by good livers.

TO ARMS!—The city was in a painful state of excitement on Sunday. The news of the reverse to a portion of the division of General Banks gave rise to all sorts of speculations, and the timid fancied that we would soon have a rebel force marching on Washington, and even threatening Philadelphia. The more discreet declared their confidence in the ability of the North to raise and arm any given number of men, and to clothe them in elegant and substantial uniforms at the Brown-stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

DRESS.—Next to clothes being fine, they should be well made, and worn easily; for a man is only the less genteel for a fine coat, if, in wearing it, he shows a regard for it, and is not as easy in it as if it was a plain one. Those who are fortunate enough to wear the fashionable summer garments manufactured at the Mammoth Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, 609 Chestnut street, not only present a genteel and attractive appearance, but also feel decidedly comfortable while arrobed in such clothing, which cannot be equalled in cheapness and durability.

MR. MORRILL'S GEOGRAPHY AT FAULT.—Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, in discussion recently, said, in reference to the United States credit and its ability to carry on a war of the present dimensions, or one far greater, that the loans and securities of the Union were now selling at premium in the money markets, as the returns from Wall street, State street, or Chestnut street, would witness. That is true, the first part (U. S. 6s, 104½); but Chestnut street is not the money mart of Philadelphia, and the Senator should have supplied "Third street" for Chestnut street. We suppose, however, undue prominence has been given to Chestnut street, in the Senator's mind, by the location there of Charles Stokes' One Price Clothing Store under the "Continental," of which he has heard so much

OFFICE MONONGAHELA NAVIGATION COMPANY,
PITTSBURG, May 23, 1862.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of this Company, held on the 1st of May, 1862, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That coupon bonds of this Company, bearing date the first day of July next, be issued to the amount of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars, in sums of One Thousand Dollars each, payable in twenty-five years after the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, in the city of New York, and the said bonds be secured by a mortgage of the works and revenues of this Company, to be made to Thomas Bakewell, as trustee, for the holders of said bonds.

Resolved, That the President of this Company be authorized to procure, to be negotiated, of the mortgage bonds of this Company, this day ordered to be issued, the amount of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, for cash, or the outstanding bonds of this Company, maturing on the first day of January next, at par.

In accordance with the foregoing resolutions, SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received until three o'clock of the 24th DAY OF JUNE NEXT, for the above loan. Information with regard to the character of the Improvement may be obtained from Joshua Hanna, Esq., of Hanna, Blair, & Co., Pittsburg; Abraham Gibbons, Esq., Coatesville, Chester county, Pa.; and Messrs. Fay, Cook, & Co., Philadelphia, who are authorized to receive subscriptions for the loan.

The Capital Stock of the Company is.....$726,700
Funded debt (bonds outstanding).....132,000

There is no floating or other debt existing. The works are in active operation and complete repair, and the receipts justify expectations of the usual or average dividend for the present year. The works are so far completed, and the debts of the Company paid as to enable the Managers to declare their first dividend, July 7th, 1863, since which time they have declared fourteen dividends up to July, 1861—eight yes—amounting in the aggregate to fifty-four and one-half per cent., or six and eighty-one hundredths per cent. per annum. There are no bonds in the market better secured than those of this Company, and none that offer greater inducements for investment as to security and prompt payment of interest, which is well known by the holders of the present outstanding bonds. The object of this mortgage is to concentrate the bonds of the Company and secure the whole. A preference will be given to the present holders of the bonds maturing January 1st, 1863. The Company reserves the right to accept the whole or any portion of the amount subscribed.
