CITY ITEMS.

CONCERT IN AID OF THE FIFTH BAPTIST CHURCH.—A grand concert is to be given, on Thursday evening next, at the Fifth Baptist Church, corner of Eighteenth and Spring Garden. This church is building a beautiful edifice, now rapidly approaching completion, which, from its position, will be a decided ornament to the city. In style of architecture and general appearance it is very similar to Baxter's old church, in England. Its cruciform shape, with its stained windows, its lofty and graceful tracery, novel central-lighting, and its adaptation to acoustic principles render it a building of peculiar interest. It was commenced before the war, and its progress reflects credit upon the friends of the enterprise, as it is now nearly completed, and will soon be open for public worship. The ladies of the church and congregation are now endeavoring to furnish it; and they make an appeal to the Christians of all denominations to come forward and assist them. They have reason to be confident that this concert shall be fully equal to the one given by them last winter, which gave such general satisfaction. Several of our city choirs have lent their assistance. The programme, which is published in another column, speaks for itself.

A DECIDED PUBLIC CONVENIENCE.—Mr. J. W. Price, proprietor of the popular Restaurant southwest corner of Fourth and Chestnut streets, has, through his unremitting exertions to establish in Philadelphia a first class Restaurant, and his skilful anticipation of the wants of the people, made himself and his establishment a public convenience and comfort of our city. He has recently had occasion to make a second visit to his dining rooms, which are now the most attractive in the city, and the character and quality of the refreshments is the best guarantee that, in whatever other business, in his rooms that he may make, he will be fully appreciated. In addition to furnishing the most attractive dining rooms, in which he serves his guests (at remarkably reasonable prices), he is now also prepared to furnish at the shortest notice oyster in every style, chicken salads, terrapins, &c. for the use of parties or private families.

MR. F. GUTEKUNST, the eminent Philadelphia Photographer, whose beautiful new galleries are at Nos. 704 and 706 Arch street, has made a number of improvements in the various branches of his art, which greatly increase the intrinsic value of his pictures. As a thorough chemist, having graduated at the College of Pharmacy, he has the great advantage of preparing a peculiar and most successful way his own material. And being an artist also, and having given to the patient study of his profession, he has attained a celebrity which the public is appreciating in a practical way. His pictures, in all styles and sizes, are without a superior either in this country or Europe.

A POPULAR ESTABLISHMENT.—MESSRS. E. G. Whitman & Co., Confectioners, Chestnut street, below Fourth, next door to Adams & Co.'s Express, have, by their long attention to the wants of the public in the manufacture and sale of choice Confections, secured to themselves the confidence of the people. All who patronize them know that they are buying perfectly pure and wholesome articles, made from the finest materials, and of excellence in flavor, richness, and variety, there is no stock equal to theirs in the country. It is a great Philadelphia house, and we are determined that all who read the Press shall be made aware of the fact.

A SEASONABLE STOCK OF GOODS FOR GENTLEMEN.—Mr. John G. Arrison, proprietor of the well-known Gentlemen's Furnishing Store, Nos. 1 and 3 North Sixth street (formerly J. Burr Moore's), now offers a stock of unusual excellence, embracing everything in his department "from a needle to an anchor," in other words, from a shawl-pin to a magnificent Dressing Gown for the President. Notwithstanding the great advance in the cost of goods, Mr. Arrison's prices strike us as moderate. In Shirts, and a variety of choice, desirable articles now in season, this stock is, we believe, without a parallel. Give him a call, every body, before purchasing.

MORE NEW PICTURES OF DISTINGUISHED PERSONS.—BROADBENT & Co.—Messrs. Broadbent & Co. No. 912 and 914 Chestnut street, have just issued another admirable style, cartes de visite of the following distinguished persons: Brig. Gen. Negley, now defending Nashville; Captain Godon, of the U. S. Navy; Hon. Judge Sharswood, of this city; Professor Wm. Vocke, of the Philadelphia High School; the missing Captain Palmer, whose fate is now contemplated with painful solicitude, and a number of others, duplicates of all of which can now be had at their counters.

LADIES' FANCY FURS.—The most superb stock of Ladies' Fancy Furs is now ready at the splendid Fur Rooms of Messrs. Charles Oakford & Son, under the Continental Hotel. No pains have been spared in getting up a stock worthy the name and fame of this premier fur house, and their present display is well worthy the attention of buyers in kind, quality, style, price, and everything else.

THE PHILADELPHIA FLOWER EMPORIUM.—Persons visiting Philadelphia, as well as the ladies of our city, should be aware of the fact that the place of all others in this country to obtain the largest assortment, at the choicest and most beautiful styles of French Flowers, Feathers, Laces, Ribbons, and all the most elegant articles in this branch of the Millinery trade, is at the "Philadelphia Flower Emporium" of Messrs. Thomas Kennedy & Bro, No. 729 Chestnut street. Their stock of these beautiful materials at this time is superb, and eclipses any other display in that line that we have ever examined.

GOODS FOR THE ARMY.—Persons now preparing packages to send to the soldiers in the army should bear in mind that many articles embraced under the head of "fancy groceries" would be most acceptable. Mr. C. B. Mattison, corner of Arch and Tenth streets, has had occasion to forward many goods of this class to the soldiers in the camps, and for the information of our readers we may state that all goods ordered to be thus sent from his store are certain to reach the parties for whom they are intended.

THE PHILADELPHIA CONFECTIONERY AND TEA STORE, which strangers universally agree to be unequalled by any other in the Union, is that of Mr. A. L. Vincent, Ninth and Chestnut streets. Everybody should try his delicious bon-bons, fine chocolate preparations, crystallized fruits, sweet Jordan roasted and vanilla almonds, and fine French and American mixtures, at 50 and 75 cents per pound. His display of fresh grapes, pears, and other choice fruits is also very inviting.

BE ADMONISHED IN TIME.—We take the liberty once more of admonishing our readers, that life and sight may be jeopardized by the continued use of so inferior a portable light than the famous Kerosene Oil Lamps manufactured and sold in every variety of style by Messrs. Witteer & Co., No. 35 North Eighth corner of Filbert.

A LARGE NUMBER of our gentlemen avail themselves of the personal advantages of Oakford & Son's, Nos. 534 and 536 Chestnut street, under the Continental Hotel, is the reason of it.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.—Next to the great New York election is monopolizing public attention. Party spirit runs high in Gotham and politicians each other hard names. In this State we are free from our political turmoil, and people now pay attention to such important duties as providing themselves suitable and seasonable suits at the Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. This establishment has long been famous for the elegance and excellence of its garments for gentlemen and youths, and is equally well known as the great National emporium of military uniforms.

THE BEAU MONDE.—The Empress of France wore on a recent occasion a bonnet of white crape, with a small drooping bird placed on a sprig of lilac. The gay belles of Philadelphia surpass the Empress of France in the variety and beauty of their adornments, whilst their gallant beaux would consider it in unpardonable taste to wear any other than the elegant styles and fashions produced each season at the great Clothing Bazaar of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, where the finest and cheapest garments in the country can be obtained.

PECULIARITIES OF WORDSWORTH.—"The undivided attention which he bestowed upon what other men considered trifles, was another remarkable trait in his character; he would correspond perseveringly with the secretary of a railway concerning an overcharge in the carriage of a parcel, and he would walk a dozen miles, and call at a dozen houses, to recover an old cotton umbrella not worth a shilling. Exact himself, he expected exactness from others." He would be perfectly delighted to have been a customer of Charles Stokes' "one-price" Clothing Store, under the Continental, where the price is marked on every garment.

A HIGH COMPLIMENT TO THE 19TH INDIANA REGIMENT, COL. SAML MEREDITH.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC, Oct. 7, 1862.

GOVERNOR: I would beg leave most respectfully to urge, in the strongest terms, that Gen. Gibbon's request may meet with your immediate attention. Glorious as has been the record of Indiana in this war, you will pardon me for saying that the career of the 19th Indiana has been such as to add still higher lustre to the reputation of your State. I have watched this regiment, with its Wisconsin comrades, under the hottest fire and in the most dangerous positions, and I am glad to say there is no better regiment in this or any other army. I ask of you, as an official and personal favor, that you will take the most prompt means to fill the ranks of this noble regiment. Very respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. B. MCCLELLAN,
Major General Commanding.

His Excellency Governor MORTON, Indianapolis.

WASHINGTON, October 18, 1862.

Mr. Joseph Short, Salem, Mass.:

SIR: Our regiment (19th Indiana, General Gibbons' brigade) purchased, in the month of March last, eight hundred of your knapsacks; we did this in preference to drawing the Government pack, for which we had requisition. We had used knapsacks slung in the old way during eight months' service, and have used yours for six months. We say for ourselves, and we believe every man in the regiment, were he living, would coincide with us, that we should prefer purchasing your knapsack with our own means rather than suffer, as we did, with the old way of carrying them. No soldier who has seen service with the old one will regret having purchased yours with his private money, if he can have it in no other way.

FOR THE SICK AND WOUNDED.—Under an order from the President of the United States, a national system has been established by the SANITARY COMMISSION for the safe transmission and judicious distribution of articles contributed by the people, for the sick and wounded of the Army and Navy. The system, after being well tried, has been formally approved and recommended by the President, the General-in-Chief, and the Surgeon General. The security it offers against misappropriation is practically perfect, until the contributions are delivered in the hospitals, where they necessarily pass from the control of the Commission. Often more than a million articles sent through one of the largest of its channels of supply, it has been ascertained that not one hundred have miscarried, or been dishonestly used. Discreet and trustworthy agents are constantly employed in visiting all divisions of the army including those on the Southern coast, the Mississippi, and the Western frontier, to observe their wants, to direct supplies where they are most needed, and to secure, as far as practicable, their honest use. The Commission does not undertake to deliver articles to individuals, and declines to receive contributions with any restriction as to their destination, within the limits of the force employed in the service of the Nation, it being one of its secondary objects to strengthen the sentiment of National unity wherever it can come in antagonism with State or local pride. The distribution of hospital supplies is but a branch of the work of the Commission. It employs the best professional talent which can be obtained in the country, to aid its larger purpose, to do all that is possible for the health and vigor of our fighting men, to lighten their burdens, and to sustain their spirits under the privations and hardships which are an essential part of successful warfare. For this purpose, contributions to its treasury are solicited. They may be directed to CALEB COPE, Esq., Treasurer of the Philadelphia Agency, No. 563 MARKET Street, or to WILLIAM PLATT, Jr., General Superintendent, at the Depository, No. 1228 CHESTNUT Street.

Contributions of the following articles are earnestly solicited, at the Depository, viz:

Woolen Pantaloons, (partly worn,)	Slippers,
Woolen Drawers,	Socks,
Woolen Shirts,	Farinaceous Food,
Blankets,	Brandy and Wine.

THE DRAFT IN PHILADELPHIA.

If the citizens of any Division of any Ward will obtain proof that their Division is entitled to credit for a greater number of Volunteers enlisted in the service of the United States, in Pennsylvania Regiments or companies, than it has received from the returns of the Deputy Marshals, and from the additions made thereto by the Commissioners for Drafting, the undersigned will give them a hearing, at the Nisi Prius Court Room from 11 to 1 o'clock during the present week, and will make the corrections which are just.

B. GERHARD,
WILLIAM H ALLEN,
Chief Commissioners for Drafting.
