CITY ITEMS.

HEADQUARTERS FOR GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.—We simply assert a truism in saying that in her industries, Philadelphia is far in advance of every other city in the Union. And in no department is this more triumphantly established than in that of Gents' Furnishing Goods. The annual operations of many of a single house here would warrant this assertion—we refer to the leading establishment, in this branch of our industrial interests, of Mr. George Grant, No. 518 Chestnut street. Mr. Grant is not only one of the largest and most successful manufacturers in this city—he is also one of the most extensive importers; and between the two wings of his business it is not difficult to perceive that his advantages are peculiar. His goods from all accessible parts of the Union within the last many days have exceeded those of any other Gents' Furnishing House extant, and the taste, talent, and vigor displayed by him in meeting the demand furnish the highest proof that the leading position he has assumed will be fully sustained. His present stock, in silks, drawers, gloves, and, in short, everything embraced under the head of Gents' Furnishing Goods, is magnificently rich and worthy the attention of buyers, and his extraordinary advantages and long experience as a leading Philadelphia merchant, enable him to offer inducements in point of prices which buyers will appreciate. We may state that Mr. John F. Taggart, (formerly of the firm of Oldshburg & Taggart,) who has the reputation of being the best shirt cutter in America, and made the shirt that took the only premium ever awarded to the Franklin Institute to that branch of our manufactures, is connected with this house. We hear the opinion expressed on all hands that the shirts of this establishment are unequalled by any others, and at greater prices, being one of the largest manufacturers and importers in his line in the country, are certainly moderate.

A UNIQUE ESTABLISHMENT.—We have always occasion to refer to the wholesale and retail house of Messrs. O. Somers & Son, No. 625 Chestnut street, above Jayne's Hall, for the sale of ready-made clothing of all kinds of goods for gentlemen's wear, by the suit or piece, as being substantially different from any other establishment in Philadelphia in the facilities afforded to purchasers to either select made-up garments or order them from one of the largest and best assorted stocks of cloth goods in this city. We have now to congratulate Messrs. Somers & Son on the success of their new enterprise. Hundreds are visiting their warerooms daily, and satisfying themselves that, of all others, they go to the place to buy fall and winter clothing, whether ready-made or made to order. We advise all our readers to give them an early call.

MR. F. GUTEKUNST'S NEW PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY, Nos. 704 and 706 Arch street, by lovers of art are resorted to and admired as the Photographic Establishment of Philadelphia. Scarcely a day passes without bringing to Mr. G's rooms some distinguished visitor, which a view to obtaining the best picture of himself can be made, and we have yet to hear of a single instance in which the hope of obtaining it has been disappointed. His specimens, of all sizes, in every branch of the art, are acknowledged to be real gems, and we are safe in saying that, fine as they are, they are fully equalled by all the pictures that are allowed to pass out of his establishment.

OLD BONNETS MADE NEW.—We invite attention to the graceful new bonnet shapes which have just been brought out by Messrs. Wood & Cary, No. 725 Chestnut street. They are the most beautiful out, and are universally admired. They are now having numerous applications to remodel and renovate old Velvet Bonnets in this new style, and scores of bonnets are thus every daily from their establishment, looking fully equal to new ones. Their entire stock of Bonnets, both ladies and misses, is unequalled by any other in the city.

LADIES' FURS.—Messrs. Charles Oakford & Son, Nos. 834 and 836 Chestnut street, under the Continental Hotel, have now open their new stock of Hudson Bay Sable, Mink Sable, Chinchilla, Siberian Squirrel, and other elegant Furs for Ladies and Children, to which we invite the attention of our readers.

A PURE ARTICLE OF BRANDY FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES.—Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine family groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, has now in store a supply of pure old brandy, the finest article imported, expressly adapted for medicinal purposes. Our first physicians are recommending it to invalids with the utmost confidence, so that the genuineness of the article may be relied upon.

FINE MILITARY TRAPPINGS.—Messrs. Charles Oakford & Son, under the Continental Hotel, have now, in addition to their superb stock of Furs, Hats, and Gents' Furnishing Goods, a splendid assortment of Military Furnishing Goods, of the finest quality, at reasonable prices.

WE HAVE just seen a superb Card Photograph of the late Professor McSELL, of the Central High School, taken twenty weeks before his death, by Gutekunst. The operating room at Hippler's Gallery, 820 Arch street, is on the FIRST FLOOR, and his Cartes de Visite are unsurpassed for their fineness and beauty.

PERSONS WHO WISH TO ENGAGE IN THE SALE of a beautiful model of General McClellan, should call at 38 South Fourth street, between 10 and 2 o'clock today.

CHARLES H. OWENS, manufacturer, No. 16, North Third street, up stairs, always has on hand and making, calf sewed and pegged men's shoes and boots. nov4-4t* CHARLES H. OWENS.

A GREAT SALE OF A SUBSTITUTE'S EFFECTS.—The undersigned, being an able-bodied person, under 35, after of the Hebrew persuasion, not subject to draft, and going as a "substitute" for a gentleman from Tamaqua, will in a few days dispose of his superfluous personal property. Due notice will be given of the place of sale. Articles: One set of ladies' furs, jewelry good watches, one barrel of sweepings from a jewelry shop, one meerschaum (colored), one complete suit of summer clothing, made by the celebrated house of Charles Stokes, under the Continental, and two white hats, worn by the original John Cox, Esq., late style.

ISRAEL MOSES.

A TREASURE TROVE.—A valuable treasure has just been discovered in the palace of the Marquis del Vasto, who recently died at Palermo. In a secret hiding place, formed in the wall of his study, there has been found, piled up in the greatest disorder, a vast quantity of ancient plate, candelabras, candlesticks, 60,000 ducats in gold coins of the old sovereigns of the Bourbon dynasty, and a considerable number of old coins, bearing the effigy of Charles III. A portion of the gold coin will be sent to this country, and after being sold at 30 per cent. premium, the proceeds will be invested in elegant and comfortable garments (for the present Marquis) at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, No. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

HOW THE PRINCE OF WALES DRESSES.—There is a vulgar idea afloat that his Royal Highness, the heir apparent to the British throne, always dresses in a full suit of regimentals with brass buttons, spurs a foot long, and a feather a yard and a half high stuck in his cap. The fact is, that the young gentleman dresses very nicely and with great taste, affording one the idea of a perfect gentlemanly appearance. This is attributed to the fact that, while in this country, he has invariably worn the elegant style of garments made at the one-price Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, where the latest fall and winter styles are now on hand.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE PENSIVE YOUTH.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

"My friend," I said and clasped his hand,
"That face did nature form
The index of affections bland,
And feelings high and warm.

"And yet the sparkle of thine eye,
Seems dimmed by sadness now,
And dark forebodings overlie,
Like clouds, thy classic brow.

"Tell me what grief these looks denote?
Then thus my friend replied,
"The moths have spotted that overcoat
Which was my last year's pride."

"Since keen and chilly grows the air,
Another I must buy,
But I have little cash to spare,
And clothes, alas! are high."

"Have done with sadness, then," I cried,
"For at a cost quite small,
A better coat you may provide
At Bennett's Tower Hall.

"Although the Tower ascends so high,
The prices there are low,
And all who Bennett's clothing buy,
Can testify 'that's so.'"

We offer the largest and most complete assortment of Ready-Made Clothing in Philadelphia, comprising every style, size, quality, and price. Our purchases for this season were made before the recent great advance in prices; this, with our system of buying and selling for cash only, enables us to offer unequalled inducements to purchasers. TOWER HALL, No. 518 MARKET Street, Philadelphia.
