MARKET CHEESE STAND. ...keepers desirous of obtaining a ..., select their stock of Cheese from the ...stand of Mr. Slocumb, in the Eastern Market, thereby showing their good taste and a just appreciation of Mr. Slocumb's efforts in bringing to market the choicest cheese manufactured in the country. He has also on hand a superior article of Ice Cream, which, for richness and delicacy of flavor cannot be surpassed in the city. Try it, and judge for yourselves.

PRICES IN DIXIE.—A lady in Richmond says that "the best hotels have raised to ten dollars per day. Three dollars is the regular price at common boarding-houses, and the food is very plain indeed. Coffee and tea are hardly to be obtained at all, and common brown sugar brought one dollar and a half per pound. Clergymen pay $150 for a black coat." This we think the crowning grief of the rebellion. To think that a black coat costs $150, not, probably, equal in quality to those sold for $15 at Charles Stokes & Co.'s "one price," under the Continental, in this city; but one thing is to be added—the latter cannot be bought with Confederate money.

THE vigorous prosecution of the war to the permanent restoration of our Constitution and Union, is now the uppermost desire of every loyal heart. Nor is it alone by service in the field or the Cabinet that this great end is to be promoted. Whatever contributes to lessen the cost or the burden of this great work helps the common cause. The new lock-stitch sewing-machine recently produced by Grover & Baker, 730 Chestnut street, by greatly lessening the cost and labor of keeping our army well and securely clad, will contribute more than regiments to win success and victory.

UNIQUE.—A lady, some time back, on a visit to the British Museum, asked the person in attendance if they had a skull of Oliver Cromwell; being answered in the negative, she said: "Dear me that's very strange; they have one at Oxford." The same lady is no doubt under the impression (if she knows anything about it) that there is a Brown-Stone Clothing Hall in every principal city in the civilized world. We would inform her that the establishment is unique, and that its proprietors, Messrs. Rockhill & Wilson, have located at No. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above 6th, Philadelphia.

WHAT we call wisdom is the result, not the residuum, of all the wisdom of past ages. Our best institutions are like young trees growing upon the roots of old trunks that have crumbled away. As an illustration of one of our best institutions, we might very properly refer to the Mammoth Clothing Establishment of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, where summer garments of the latest styles and fashions can be obtained at greatly reduced prices.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE OF AN OLD NURSE.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never-failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult.

It corrects acidity of the stomach.
Relieves wind colic.
Regulates the bowels.
And gives rest, health, and comfort to mother and child. 25 cents a bottle. my22-1m

LIVER COMPLAINT.—

Properly speaking, every derangement of the Liver or Bilious system is a Liver Complaint, but the peculiar state of the Liver which is now referred to, is a Chronic Affection, and usually arises from a TORPID or CONGESTIVE state of that important organ. Sometimes the bile is deficient in quantity, or vitiated in quality, or both these states prevail at the same time, but more generally the disease is owing to obstruction or clogging up of the duct or pipe which conveys the bile from the Liver into the bowels, by adhesion of slime or mucus, or in some cases by gall stones, causing the bile to be thrown back into the gall-bladder, from whence it is absorbed by numerous small vessels, which convey it into the Thoracic Duct, a pipe that runs up along the spine and terminates in and empties itself into the large vein of the left shoulder, near its junction with the veins of the head and neck, and from thence the bile is conveyed to the heart, and becomes mixed with the blood.

The bile thus diverted from its proper course, and circulating where it was never designed by nature, produces much evil, and often disastrous effects upon the health of the individual.

ITS EFFECTS UPON DIGESTION.

For the want of healthy bile to mix with the half digested food, a complete separation never takes place between the Chyle (the milky liquor which forms the blood) and those portions of the food designed by nature to be ejected from the bowels—for the bile, when present, purifies and separates the healthy from the unhealthy portions, in the same manner that isinglass or white of eggs separate wine or cider from their impurities—and consequently the very fountain of life is from its absence, vitiated or corrupted.

In this connection, the more prominent symptoms are a feeling of oppression upon the stomach and chest, as if pressed down by a heavy weight; troublesome and often frightful dreams.

LOW SPIRITS, LANGUOR, want of energy, melancholy, restlessness, and discontentedness—gloominess of mind, timorousness—a great dread of trouble, and a disposition to magnify every evil—often great wakefulness, and an inability to sleep and, again, great drowsiness, weariness, and disinclination to motion. Sometimes there is a loathing of food, and at others, a voracious appetite, the food frequently becoming sour immediately after meals, followed by costiveness and diarrhœa prevail—the patient is frequently troubled with wind in the stomach and bowels, and at times is annoyed with worms, and frequently chronic inflammation of the inner surface of the stomach and bowels, with tenderness on pressure, and a soreness about the lower edge of the ribs.

HOW THE BLOOD IS AFFECTED.

The coarse particles of the bile thus mixed with the blood, renders it impure, and more or less obstructs the pores of the skin and small blood-vessels, hence arise various diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Eczema, Itching, Small Watery Vesicles, Blotches, Tumors, Pimples, Scurfiness, Boils, Sore Eyes, Sores and Ulcers of various kinds. The skin becomes more or less yellow, and when the disease is of long standing, often very dark, and has a discureyable, dirty, greasy appearance, and sometimes there is a perfect jaundice. The whites of the eyes also have a green or yellow tinge.

ITS ACTION UPON THE KIDNEYS.

More or less bile is strained off from the blood in its passage through the kidneys, and is mixed with the urine, which, by its acrimony, produces pains in the back, and scalds and irritates all the urinary passages. Some days the discharge of urine is profuse and natural in appearance; and other times it is scanty, and the desire to evacuate is frequent and urgent, and occasionally there is a total suppression of it. Sometimes the urine is nearly white and milky, but usually it is high colored, red or yellow, with a rank, offensive odor—and often it is bloody.

The more ordinary symptoms of this disease are of great variety, and may be stated as follows:

COLDNESS OF THE LIMBS, the tongue is usually more or less coated with a white or brown scurf, and there is often a feeling of chilliness and coldness of the feet and hands, and along the inside of the thighs—at times the face is flushed, and there is more or less fever, especially at night, or in the afternoon. Frequently there is a SHORT, HACKING COUGH, with a huskiness of the throat, and sometimes a very severe, and long and hard cough, which is often mistaken for CONSUMPTION. This cough often commences in the latter part of the night, or early in the morning, and lasts for hours, frequently producing nausea and vomiting. If there be any expectoration, it is a tough, ropy, tenacious phlegm, which adheres to everything it touches. There are, also, frequently chronic pleurisy pains in various parts of the chest, which shift about from one part of the breast or side to the other. Sometimes abscesses form in the Liver, and pressing upward on the Lungs, produce constriction and cough, and breaking, discharge their contents into the Lungs, from whence it must then be ejected by expectoration, or the patient is destroyed. Finally, to sum up in a few words:

A Yellow, Dirty, Greasy Skin,
A Yellow, or Green Tinge of the White of the Eyes,
An Aching Pain across the Kidneys and Hips, with irritation or heat in discharging urine,—a sensation of fullness and distension across the abdomen, with tenderness on pressure,—LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, FRIGHTFUL DREAMS, ACRIMY OF STOMACH, with other dyspeptic symptoms, Bilious Fevers, Bilious Colics, and Bilious Diarrhœa and Dysenteries, Obstinate Costiveness, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Chill and Fever, &c., all originate from the same cause.

A DERANGED STATE OF THE LIVER.

The most successful treatment is to give the patient every night on going to bed, from two to five of JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS, or enough of them to insure one, and not more than two, evacuations from the bowels next morning. The dose of the Pills can be increased or diminished at pleasure, so as to produce the above effect, and their use should be continued until a cure is completed; also, at the same time, give Dr. D. JAYNE'S ALTERATIVE, three times day, according to the directions, unless there is a want of appetite, with weakness and debility,—or symptoms of worms prevail, when instead of the Alterative, give a teaspoonful of Vermifuge (mixed with a little sugar, if your child is averse to please the taste,) about half an hour before each meal until these symptoms are removed, and if there should be cough or oppression about the throat or chest, then give the EXPECTORANT as often and in such doses as may be found necessary to quiet the cough and make expectoration easy.

All of Dr. D. JAYNE & SON'S Family Medicines are prepared only at 242 CHESTNUT Street. my20-w&f2m

WE ONCE HAD FOR A NEIGHBOR A WORTHY, industrious mechanic. He was also a tenant of ours, and paid his rent promptly. Unexpectedly, however, he informed us that he was poor, and must leave, not only our house, but the city. His reasons were brief. He said that we, with others of his neighbors, gave him no patronage. Our house was soon tenantless, and income much reduced. So it will we with all communities that pass by their own home institutions. OBITUARY.

At a stated meeting of Brandywine Lodge, No. 18, I. O. O. F. of Delaware, held Saturday evening, May 16, 1863, P. G. John Wood, P. G. Henry Cavender, and S. L. Scanlan, a committee to draft resolutions of condolence in regard to the death of EDWARD BAXTER, of the 23d Regiment, N. Y., who was killed in the late battle of Fredericksburg, reported the following, which were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, It has pressed the All-Wise Ruler of the Universe to remove from us by death our respected brother, Edward Baxter, while as a patriot soldier he was fighting for our Government and country therefore,

Resolved, That while we mourn our loss, we are in some measure consoled by the consideration that our deceased brother's name is inscribed on the honored roll of those who have nobly fought and died, that we and our posterity may have secured to us the blessings of free, republican institutions; that while the stigma of perjury and treason will forever attach to those who are openly and covertly attempting to overthrow the Government, established through the blood and sufferings of our patriotic forefathers, the name of our brother, Edward Baxter, will be cherished and revered by future generations as one of the saviors of our country.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the widowed mother, the brother and sisters, and other relatives of the deceased, in their severe bereavement, trusting that He who has seen meet to afflict will also console and succor them.

Resolved, That in token of respect to the memory of our deceased brother, the Charter and Emblems of the Order be draped in mourning the space of three months.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be entered on the minutes, that a copy of them be presented to the family of the deceased, and to Company C, 23d Regiment, N. Y., that they be also published in The Press, of Philadelphia, and the Journal & Gazette, of Wilmington, Delaware.
